ASHBURNHAM, MASS., Jan. 15, 1886.

I have been very sick over two years, They all gave me up as past cure I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and bowels would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I should never die in peace till I had tried Hop Bitters When I had taken two bottles they helped me very much indeed. When I had taken two more bottles I was well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they cured me, and they used them and were cured and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.
Yours truly, MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

SPECIMENS OF THE "QUEER."

An Expert in Counterfeit Money—Bogus Gold and Silver Coin.

The laws of the United States provide penalties not only for making, uttering and passing, but for "having in possession" counterfeit money, and when a man can safely come to you and "flash up" a roll of bills as large as your arm in one hundreds, fifties, twenties and so on down, produce from one pocket a handful of glittering "yellow boys" and from the other half a pint of what look like silver coins, all counterfeit, he must be some one quite out of the ordinary.

Such a man is James H. Cables, of New York, an expert in spotting counterfeit money, and an attache of The United States Treasury Counterfeit Detector, who has just made one of his periodical visits to Detroit. Mr. Cables, under a special license from the secretary of the treasury, carries with him about $1,700 in the cleverest of spurious paper, gold and silver currency, every nickel of which would be good with any ordinary person for its equivalent in beer and bologna. He devotes his time and specimens to enlightening the simple as to the dangers of pinchbeck bills and coin, and the necessity of being supplied with a counterfeit detector.

Mr. Cables is a perfect intelligence office as to all matters relating to the "queer," and, although he is the avowed enemy of counterfeiters, regards his choicest specimens of criminal art with something of the pride that a connoisseur in prints feels in displaying an artist's proof of a Rafael or Morgan.

Perhaps he feels a little more joy in exhibiting the almost perfect work of those great masters, Thomas Ballard and Charles Ulrich, than in any other. These are hung on the eye line of his gallery, and have every advantage of light and situation.

Ulrich did long time in the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus, and while there made a portrait of Governor "Foghorn" Allen, which is now the best extant. It was probably not in recognition of this service that he was pardoned in 1876. A number of well meaning ladies, immediately upon his release, established him in the engraving business at Columbus, but this was too slow for him, and in less than a year he was floating a finely executed counterfeit of a $5 bill on a Pennsylvania bank. The plate was run down in 1880, but the bills still travel and are exceedingly dangerous.

Ballard, the other premier, is now doing thirty years at the Albany penitentiary, under sentence imposed in 1875. Another excellent ajet d'art in Mr. Cables' gallery is the magnificent $100 bill made and floated by Smith and Brockaway in 1880. This would easily pass with any one having small change for it, unless he were a real expert.

One valuable suggestion made by Mr. Cables is that any United States treasury note, the number of which is not divisible by four, is a counterfeit.

A fact not generally understood is that the margin of profit in the making of bogus gold coin is very small. The tens and twenties it is almost impossible to make heavy enough to deceive any one but a pure amateur. In $5 pieces Mr. Cables shows one which, with its dingy appearance of very fine lettering, is only distinguishable from the genuine by a slight unevenness of lettering. It will stand the acid test almost perfectly. This coin has an intrinsic value of $4.00, leaving only 8 per cent. to cover the cost of manufacture and the risk of a term in prison.

In silver coins there is now an elegant and complete line of counterfeits. The best of these is a dollar floated since 1879, full weight and true ring, but composed of Babbitt metal thinly coated with silver. This costs twenty-five cents laid down at the factory, and is disposed of to "shovers" for fifty cents, leaving a profit of 100 per cent. to cover risk. A fifty cent piece, of 1872, is also a bad 'un. It is built of antimony, tin and Babbitt metal, is of full size and weight, clean cut and handsome, but has a greasy "feel."

The Canadian bills in Mr. Cables' cabinet are mostly well engraved, but are defective in lathe work and paper. In the case of our own notes the peculiarity of the paper is one of the most difficult points for the counterfeiter to overcome.

Since April, 1886 seventeen new counterfeits of paper money have been discovered.—Detroit Free Press.

Puzzle It Out, If You Can.

"I have been very much bothered lately," said a horse dealer to a reporter, "with a question arising out of a deal which has been to me a source of greater annoyance than the sixteen puzzle. I sold a horse to B. for $80. In a few days he came back with the horse, and I repurchased the animal for $70. I then immediately sold him for $85. The question is: How much did I gain or lose on the transaction? When I bought the horse back for $70 I certainly made $10, and when I sold again for $85 I assuredly lost $5. Now, if I gain $10 and lose $5 my net gain is, it sems to me, $5. But, on the other hand, after my first sale I had no horse and $80, while after my second sale I had no horse and only $75, consequently I must have lost $5. At one time, when I think over the matter, I congratulate myself on having pocketed a 'V' through sharp dealing, while at another like going around behind the barn and kicking myself for having been such a blank fool.—Globe-Democrat.

New York contains 26,500 acres, 12,100 of which are on the island of Manhattan. This is about 41 1-4 square miles. Brooklyn covers 13,337 acres, about 22 square miles.

The idea of taking pictures in profile originated with that talent of Antigonus 330 B. C., who, having but one eye, led to this kind of picture to conceal his physical defect.

Catarrh to Consumption.

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful nostrums.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting so affected as to be useless, the uvula so elongated, the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive cases. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Genuine Civil Service Reform.

A special despatch from Washington to the Manchester Union, the recognized organ in New Hampshire of civil service reform of the Cleveland brand, says that "For some time a systematic search has been in progress by some of the disgruntled democrats in the District of Columbia to discover the number of republicans retained in office under the present administration. They were somewhat surprised to learn that out of the whole number of republicans who were holding over during the first year of Mr. Cleveland's administration, only about one-third of the number are left. Most of the republicans now drawing salaries from the government are clerks in the departments whose places would be very difficult to fill. Throughout the states there are very few republicans holding over. About all the revenue collectorships have changed, and the fourth-class postmasters have been removed at a rate of not less than two hundred per day. Postmaster-General Stevenson says that he hopes to have all the postoffices under his control in the hands of good democrats in the course of a few months. On looking up the removals, resignations and appointments in New Hampshire it is demonstrated that the Granite state has less republicans drawing salaries from Uncle Sam than any other state north of Mason and Dixon's line."

Boxing Exhibition at Dover.

Jem Carney of England, light weight champion boxer of the world, made his debut in American sporting circles on the evening of April 18th in the opera house at Dover. The programme opened with several interesting three-round bouts by local amateur boxers. Then came three-round contests between "Prof." Lon Whitehouse of Dover and George Johnston of Providence; Denny Healey of Lawrence and "Professor" Silver of Boston. The two principal events were the three-round contests between Ike Weir, the featherweight champion of the world, and Patsey Kerrigan of Boston; and the lightweight champion Jem Carney, and Patsey Sheppard of Boston. In the Weir-Kerrigan contest the "Spider" had the best of it. The Carney-Sheppard contest was a great exhibition of skill with the gloves, but Carney did not have to over-exert himself to show the audience his superiority. Many sporting men from Manchester, Portland, Haverhill, Lawrence, Lowell and Portsmouth were present.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner D. K. Ham, Capt. Garland, after discharging a consignment of salt from Boston to Randall & Caswell went up river on Tuesday to load bricks for Boston.

The schooner William G. Lewis had hard luck on the night of the 17th inst. First she ran on the Hedge Fence shoal, and while aground was run into by the schooner Jennie G. Pillsbury and cut down nearly to the water line. The latter schooner then went on the shoal, and both were hauled off next day and towed to New Bedford.

Schooner George S. Marts, from Baltimore for Charleston, S. C., with a general cargo, from some unknown cause blew up and took fire at three o'clock in the morning on the 16th inst., and was destroyed. The mate and one seaman were killed by the explosion; the captain and four men escaped in a boat, and were picked up the same day by steamer Benefactor.

AROUND HOME.

The Ella Hill Burlesque Co., which played one night in Music hall several weeks ago, giving an indifferent show to a very indifferent house, came to the end of dramatic adversity in Maine last week. Two of the company seceded in Lewiston, and pawned their trunks for tickets to Boston. When the others arrived in Gardiner they gave two performances, in desperate effort to raise the money to transport the whole show to the Hub; and then the citizens took pity on them, and subscribed a purse to pay their way out of town.

Rev. Isaac C. White has resigned the pastorate of the Congregational church at Newmarket, to take effect July 1st. He has been pastor there for many years.

A correspondent writing from Ogunquit to a Biddeford paper says: "It is at last settled beyond any doubt that Rev. J. H. Mugridge is to have this place. It is safe to say that no man ever preached so long in this place, and gave such general satisfaction. His popularity has increased each year. He has made an engagement as a home missionary through the Rockingham and Strafford counties of New Hampshire, and is now thinking of moving his family to Newcastle, N. H. He has the best wishes of the whole community, irrespective of whatever church they attend."

Almon E. Gray, who took from her home in South Berwick to Concord, N. H., Miss Mabel E. Cheney, the seventeen-years-old daughter of Alvin Cheney, and there lived with her as his wife, has resided for years in Wells, a few miles from Cheney's home, and they have long been intimate friends. Gray had known the girl from infancy, but there never was any suspicion of improper intimacy between them. Gray's two children live in Wells, but his wife left him not long ago.

The Portland, Me., Advertiser says that William M. Sargent of Portland, who is engaged in preparing for publication the "York Deeds" and "Maine Wills," has had the rare good fortune to find in an old manuscript volume, prepared by a lawyer, a certified copy of the deed or charter of New Hampshire to Capt. John Mason signed by King Charles I in August, 1635. This document cannot be found, and indeed its very existence has been doubted, but Mr. Sargent has been able to prove, so it is claimed, that the paper, long in the possession of the descendants of Lieut.-Gov. John Usher of New Hampshire, is a true copy of the original instrument. From a short abstract of the King Charles charter it does not seem to be so liberal in its provisions as the Massachusetts Bay charter signed six years prior to this. The volume found by Mr. Sargent also contains a copy of the letter from King Charles II to the Massachusetts Bay authorities in 1676, which Mr. Palfrey supposes was destroyed by the mob in Governor Hutchinson's house nearly a century later. Moses A. Safford, Esq., of Kittery, is the present possessor of the book.

The directors of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railway at a recent meeting declared that the lease to the Boston & Lowell was illegal and void, and demanded that the same be surrendered. This is in accordance with the decision of the New Hampshire supreme court in the case of Low and others against the Northern railroad, they allege.

One of the most timely volumes published in recent years is Prof. George L. Vose's work on "Bridge Disasters in America: Their Cause, and the Remedy." Published by Lee & Shepard, Boston, and for sale by M. Goodrich. Prof. Vose is well known as an eminent engineer, president of the Boston Society of Civil Engineers, and the able author of the only work on American railroad construction, a "Manual for Railroad Engineers and Engineering Students," "A Sketch of the Life and Works of George W. Whistler, Civil Engineer," etc. It has been stated on good authority that there are fully forty disasters every year in the United States, caused by the breaking of defective railroad bridges, and that there are still many unsafe bridges over which there is constant railroad transportation. This little book of Prof. Vose points out how bridge catastrophes may be avoided, and is written in plain and unmistakable language, so that any person, whether or not educated in the science of engineering, may be able to understand its counsel and teachings.

—Thomas Bailey Aldrich was seized with stage fright at the reading for the Longfellow memorial fund. He came forward like an awkward school-boy, stood first on one foot and then on another and seemed to suffer considerably with his embarrassment. One bright Boston girl exclaimed in amazement: "To think that he should be afraid of us!"

There is coming from D. Lothrop Company, Boston, "Life Among the Germans," by an American student girl who makes herself so agreeable there that she gets the real inside view of everything; and she writes with a fulness and gladness that take you into every domestic and social scene. We are often amused at foreign notions of us and our country. We imagine we are not so ridiculous! But our knowledge of Europe, whether we travel or not, is apt to be a little more than that of the guide books. A writer that takes us into the life of the people is worth to most of us more than the coveted journey.

P. T. Barnum, the famous showman, is writing a serial story for the "Golden Argosy." The opening chapters will appear in this popular weekly two or three weeks hence, and will no doubt be perused with thrilling interest by thousands of readers, young and old. Three other new serials commenced in the April numbers—"The Last War Trail," a story of the early days of the great west, by Edward S. Ellis; "Ned Newton," a tale of New York street life; and "The Young Acrobat," by the well known writer, Horatio Alger, Jr.

—A bright young teacher in one of the Portland schools the other day explained to her class that the meaning of the word "vicissitude" was change, and asked a boy to give her a sentence in which the word was used. The urchin promptly responded, "My mother sent me to the grocery store for the vicissitude of a five dollar bill."

—Chicago man—"Yes, sir; I have brought suit against him for $500 for defamation of character." "Isn't that very little?" "Not as characters run in Chicago."

A NEW LEASE OF LIFE.

When one has been suffering the agonies of a severe attack of rheumatism, neuralgia or sciatica and relief comes, it seems as if a new lease of life had been granted. Such have been the feelings of thousands who, after trying physicians and numberless remedies, have used Athlophoros and found to their great joy that this medicine really did cure these diseases.

Great Falls, N. H., March 25, 1886.

Some twenty-two years ago while in the U. S. Navy, quartered in New Orleans, I like many other sailors, by constant exposure became afflicted with an attack of rheumatism, for which I was treated by the doctors with all sorts of medicines, liniments, etc., but no matter what I did take the relief was for a few moments only, and the pain, that terrible pain, came on me again worse than ever. Why the pain was so sharp and sudden as to almost fell me to the ground as though I had been struck on the head. I continued in this condition for years, one week in every four. I was confined to the house one day hobbling around when a friend who had been cured of rheumatism by Athlophoros asked me why I did not give the medicine a trial. I had taken so much medicine and got no better I felt sure there was nothing to cure rheumatism, but thought again it could do me no harm and so bought a bottle. The very first dose of Athlophoros took hold of me in such a way I knew it would do me good. I continued until two bottles were used, and my rheumatism of so many years standing, that everything failed to touch, was at last gone, and I have never suffered the least mite since. I tell you Athlophoros will do the work every time. I can't say enough for it.

CHAS. O. V. BAGLEY, Grocer,

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

SUPREME COURT -- APRIL TERM.

TUESDAY, April 19th.

Among the sentences of indicted persons who pleaded guilty yesterday were the following: Thomas Williamson, larceny from Mrs. Hennessey, both of this city, eighteen months in state prison.

Jeremiah Murphy, Jr., alias "Wildy," Portsmouth, aggravated assault on Annie Edwards; plea, guilty of simple assault; fined $20, with costs.

Thomas Philbrook, Portsmouth, assault on an officer, thirty days in jail, fine $1, and costs.

George W. Laskey, Portsmouth, assault on an officer, thirty days in jail, and costs.

George Tuttle, aged seven years, and Charles Tuttle, aged eleven, breaking and entering store of J. E. Holmes in Greenland, three years in industrial school.

Peter Blake, stealing a watch from Alfred R. Goodwin of Portsmouth, four months in jail, fine $1, and costs.

Wm. Hunter, aggravated assault on Capt. John Chandler on a schooner in Portsmouth lower harbor, plea nolo contendere, sentence two months in jail.

This morning Daniel Crowley of Portsmouth was arraigned on an indictment for murdering his wife, and pleaded guilty of manslaughter in the second degree, a plea which Attorney General Barnard advised be accepted. John S. H. Frink, Esq., and Ex-Marshal Entwistle, testified to the ordinary good character of the accused. Judge Bingham accepted the plea, and sentenced Crowley to state prison for eighteen months.

John Blute was put on trial on a second indictment for breaking and entering, and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

TUESDAY, April 19th.

Walter Rowe and George Weeks, for drunkenness, were fined $3, costs $6.90, each. Weeks was arrested the previous evening in a house near the foot of Brewster street, where he had been beating two women, who however did not appear against him.

George A. Alton, vagrant, ninety days at the county farm, costs $6.90.

Charles Hutchings, another vagrant, was allowed to depart on his promise to clear out of the city at once.

THE BENEFIT CONCERT.

The concert complimentary to Miss Mary McCarthy on Tuesday evening at Music hall was attended by a hightly appreciative audience of good numbers, though not so large as the occasion and the entertainment merited, for the house should have been packed. All the performers were well received, the fair beneficiary being complimented with especial warmth of applause. The orchestra did some good work, and shows not only steady but rapid improvement.

Mr. Seymour, the clarionet soloist, played with such precision, expression and purity of tone as deserved the flattering recognition he received; and Miss Fanny P. Hoyt, whose reputation as a violinist has been honestly earned, fairly surpassed herself. This promising young artiste has wonderfully improved in technique since her last public appearance here, and if she continues her evident faithful study cannot fail to achieve professional eminence.

JOHN L. HAYES.

John Lord Hayes, LL. D., whose death in Cambridge, Mass., on the 18th inst., has been announced, was a son of Hon. William Allen Hayes of South Berwick, Me., an eminent lawyer, and for many years judge of probate for York county; his mother, Susan Hayes, was daughter of Gen. John Lord of South Berwick; and he was born in that town on the 13th of April, 1812.

Mr. Hayes was fitted for college at Berwick academy, graduated at Dartmouth in 1831, studied law in his father's office and at the Harvard law school, and was admitted to the bar in 1835, beginning the practice of his profession in this city, where in 1839 he married a daughter of the late Alexander Ladd. In 1841 he was appointed clerk of the United States courts for the district of New Hampshire, a position he resigned in 1846. In the latter year, co-operating with others in this city, he aided in organizing the Katahdin Iron Works of Maine, and was made general manager; but the low tariff of 1846 enabled the British iron masters to crush out all opposition in this country, and the enterprise resulted disastrously to many of its promoters. In 1851 he removed with his family to Washington, to practise his profession, and also engaged to some extent in railroad matters. In 1861 he was appointed chief clerk of the patent office, and ably administered its affairs four years. In 1865 he was elected secretary of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, with an office in Boston, and removed with his family to Cambridge, where he passed the remainder of his life. Dartmouth college bestowed on him the degree of LL. D. in 1876.

In 1840, as a democrat, he took an active part in the Harrison campaign; but he was first brought prominently into public notice politically in 1845, when still a member of the democratic party in New Hampshire, by writing, in conjunction with Amos Tuck, the call for the convention of independent democrats which led to the formation of the independent democratic party and the election of John P. Hale to congress, and which was the first successful movement in the north against the aggressions of the slave power. From this movement subsequently grew the Free Soil party. His speech on February 7th, 1848, in defense of the course of Congressmen Hale, in relation to the annexation of Texas, was also an important factor in those interests which led to the formation of the republican party.

He was an accomplished geologist, and a paper on glacial action read by him before a scientific society in 1843 was pronounced by Lyell and Darwin as being the most important contribution on the subject made up to that time. He was a member of numerous learned societies in this and other countries, and was a personal friend of Jackson, Silliman, Newhall, Lyell, Audubon and other eminent men.

He leaves two sons, the elder, Alexander L. Hayes, distinguished in electrical science; and the younger, William A. Hayes, a well known member of the Suffolk bar, and assistant district attorney.

William E. Walsh, a young man recently in the employ of Charles E. Hodgdon of Newington road, had his right hand badly torn and one side of his face seriously burned a few days ago, through the explosion of a package of gunpowder in his coat pocket. His eyes were injured, but it is hoped the sight may be preserved.

Mr. Gilman Adams and wife, of Newington, who lost three of their five children last December by diphtheria, are again afflicted, their other two children being very ill with the terrible disease.

Rev. Lucius M. Hardy, son of Rev. A. C. Hardy, formerly of this city, has been tendered the position of head master of St. Paul's hall, one of the most noted church schools in New York. He is now principal of the Yates institute at Lancaster, Penn.

The Electric base ball club of this city has organized for the season, and will play a game at Kittery on the 21st inst., which is Fast day in Maine, with the Kittery club.

Spring Medicine

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

Eight Englishwomen, brought to this country under contract to work as velvet finishers at Providence, R. I., were not permitted to land from the Pavonia at Boston on the 16th inst., as it was believed by the collector that the conditions under which they came were contrary to law. It having been shown that there are no persons in this country competent to do the work they are under contract to perform, they were on the 18th allowed to land.

President Cleveland will have the appointment of three more bureau chiefs of the navy department during his administration. These will be the successors to Engineer-in-Chief Loring, Surgeon-General Gunnell and Commodore Schley, chief of the equipment bureau, whose terms expire January 18, 1888, March 27, 1888, and January 9, 1889, respectively. None of them expect reappointment. Commodore Schley is an applicant for the command of the new cruiser Baltimore when his term as bureau chief expires.

At Madrid, Spain, April 16th, Marshal Bazine was dangerously wounded in the head with a poniard in the hands of a Frenchman.

The story is told of Senator Hearst, the new democratic United States senator from California, who has more money than learning, that he was asked one day to settle a dispute between two gentlemen about grammar. One of them stepped up to him and said: "Sir, my friend and I have been having a dispute about a matter of speech. We have agreed to leave it to the next man we meet. Are you a grammarian?" "A what?" asked Senator Hearst. "A grammarian?" was the repeated inquiry. "No, sir. Not by a long sight," was the emphatic response; "I am a Missourian!"

An attempt has been made to burn the balance of St. Augustine, Fla., and several buildings were destroyed; two men were arrested as incendiaries, and threats of lynching are made.

Eugene Conner, an employe of a shoe firm in New York whose men refused to strike when ordered by the Knights of Labor, they having no grievance of their own, cut his throat on the 18th inst. Connor and a few others went out when ordered, but soon returned, the main body of workmen positively refusing to strike. Since then Connor and his wife have been persecuted in the most cowardly manner with anonymous threatening letters, and this so preyed on his mind as to drive him to suicide.

Cardinal Gibbons' pronunciamentoes upon the labor question have won for him the warm encomiums of the English Catholic press.

Mr. Strang Strangely Wins a Fortune.

Joseph Strang, a former Auburnian, living at Smith Falls, Ontario, is the lucky man who drew one-tenth part of the first capital prize of $150,000 in The Louisiana State Lottery, at its last drawing. In a letter he said that he sent money by express to M. A. Dauphin, at New Orleans, for tickets. For the one-tenth ticket, No. 75,967, he paid one dollar. About six days after the drawing he learned that he had drawn $5,000. He came to Auburn and ordered the money sent to the banking house of William H. Seward & Co. The $15,000 was forwarded in gold. He and his wife will reside in this city.—Auburn (N. Y.) Advertiser, March 11.

I was a terrible sufferer with Salt Rheum—preventing death to life. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me.—Chas Owen, Ironville, N. Y. I acknowledge Dr Kennedy's Favorite Remedy to be a cure for Gravel, and, so far as I know, the only cure.—J. M. Allen, Charlotte, N. Y. Send 2 cent stamp to Dr. Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., for a book on Kidney, Liver and Blood disorders. Mention this paper.

A correspondent asks: "Where can we send to get Peck's Patent Ear Drums, an invention for enabling people to hear who are deaf, slightly or otherwise?" Write to F. Hiscox, 853 Broadway, N. Y., stating cause and particulars of your deafness and he will give you all the pain a desired. Read the following from the Medical Record: "A lecturer in one of our hospitals, while illustrating progress in medical science, introduced a deaf patient whose case baffled all medical skill and was considered hopeless. But an invention belonging to F. Hiscox, New York, having been recommended it was used with very satisfactory results, as it fully restored the hearing. It was tested in other cases and found to be more successful than any known device for the relief of deafness, as hearing lost for many years was fully restored by it. This invention is all the more satisfactory as it is out of sight and does not require to be held in position. And while it can be readily removed or inserted by the patients themselves it is what curative in action and comfortable to wear."

It has cured me of several diseases, such as nervousness, sickness at the stomach, monthly troubles, etc. I have not seen a sick day in years, since I took Hop Bitters. All my neighbors use them. MRS. FANNIE GREEN.

ASHBURNHAM, MASS., Jan. 15, 1886.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I should never die in peace till I had tried Hop Bitters. When I had taken two bottles they helped me very much indeed. When I had taken two more bottles I was well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they cured me, and they used them and have gotten well and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.
Yours truly, MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

"Monroe, Mich., Sept. 24th, 1885. SIRS:—I have been taking Hop Bitters for inflammation "of kidneys and bladder. It has done for me "what four physicians failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Bitters seemed like magic to me. W. L. CARTER.

GENTS:—Your Hop Bittery have been of great value to me. I was laid up with typhoid fever for over two months, and could get no relief until I tried your Hop Bitters. To those suffering from debility, or any one in feeble health, I cordially recommend them. J. C. STOETZEL.

A COSTLY WAIF OF THE SEA.

Two sailors entered a wholesale drug store on lower Nassau street the other day, carrying with them a parcel which they handled as carefully as a young mother fondles her infant. They thought they had a piece of ambergris, which is a very costly substance usually found in the belly of a dyspeptic whale.

They were confident they had something worth about $20,000, but upon examination, unfortunately, it was found to be only hardened tallow mixed with dirt and salt—about as valuable as a chattel mortgage on a flock of pigeons. The captain could not believe in the expert's judgment and went out, still clutching his long guarded treasure and expressing his dissatisfaction with a liberal use of profanity. Similar mistakes to the one already described are often made in this city. The proprietor of the store spoke of the history and uses of ambergris as follows:

"Nearly every one is constantly using ambergris. It is every day in the hands of ladies and gentlemen throughout the world, but comparatively few people know anything about it. Its origin is disputed. Even scientists do not agree upon its true source; and, although it enters all houses where civilization reaches and an immensely profitable trade in the commodity is carried on, nine out of ten people whom you meet would not know what you meant if you mentioned its name. It is a slatelike substance, varying in color from dark to light gray, the darker shades, which are also denser in fiber, being the most valuable. A piece weighing from twenty to thirty-five pounds is seen but once in a lifetime. The most of it handled by the dealers is made up of pieces only a few ounces in weight. It is worth to-day about $24 per ounce and during the last few years has sold as high as $40 per ounce in consequence of its scarcity. Finding a piece of it is like finding a $5 note. You are as likely, or unlikely, to find it in one place as in another. There are several theories as to its origin, the generally accepted one being that it is an accumulation of secreted and indigestible matter in the stomach of a sick sperm whale. It is found all over the globe at rare intervals by seafaring men, either floating on the water, cast up on some shore or lodged inside the whale. The greatest source of supply is the Arctic ocean, and also the southern latitudes, the usual cruising ground of the whaling vessels. The commanders are always on the lookout for it, as among the superstitious of the sea it is considered an omen of good luck for the ship ever afterward when her master brings home a piece of ambergris. He is always allowed a portion of the profits. You could put a piece worth $10,000 in your overcoat pocket, and from this you can understand how the toilers of the ocean never cease their vigilance in hunting for it.

"The fact that it is the most efficient known substance in producing the lasting quality in perfumery gives it its enormous commercial value. Civet and musk are used for the same purpose, but are not as powerful. When a perfume is made, white rose, cassia or heliotrope, for example, the odor of the flowers would quickly pass away, as the spirits forming the body of the liquid evaporate. Ambergris, however, prevents this, and is the indispensable bond that holds back the scent for days and weeks upon the handkerchief. When treated with alcohol it divides itself up into an almost infinite number of fine particles, which are mixed in the perfumery and remain on the fabric after the spirits have evaporated, acting as minute reservoirs and holding the pure essence of the flower after the cloth is perfectly dry. One ounce dissolved in a gallon of alcohol will make a strong tincture, and you would be required to use only a single ounce of this tincture in a gallon of perfumery, which conveys an idea of how far a few ounces of ambergris will go. Its production is limited to a few pounds per year, whereas it is the most important factor in the manufacture of millions of gallons of perfumery. When a large piece is found, the news of the discovery is telegraphed to dealers and the markets of the world are affected. In one instance a New York firm, some years ago, bought up a large portion of the existing supply and realized largely on the corner thus produced. Boston is the most influential center, as New Bedford, near at hand, sends out more whaling ships than any other city of any country. The owners of the ships sell the ambergris to the wholesale dealers, and although all drug stores keep a little on hand, it is bought directly from the wholesale men by the perfumery manufacturers."—New York Mail and Express.

Movement of the Air.

The mean atmospheric pressure for the whole earth, as shown by a barometer, is found by Kleiber of St. Petersburg to be 29.91 inches. That for the northern hemisphere is 29.96 inches, and for the southern 29.87. The average northern excess is greatly increased in January, but becomes a deficiency in July, when the southern pressure is slightly the greater, a mass of air sufficient to give a pressure of nearly .24 over a hemisphere appearing to be periodically shifted from one side of the equator to the other by the changing seasons.—Arkansaw Traveler.

Ate Up the Crew.

The tragic seems to verge on the ludicrous once again when we read that a number of Melanesian laborers, who were being taken back to the Solomon islands at the expiration of their contracts, ate up the entire crew of the vessel conveying them. The crew in question consisted of Paratongans and other Polynesians. The shocking event will produce great excitement throughout Oceania.—The Argonaut.

Catarrh to Consumption.

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies and worthless nostrums pretended to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful palliatives.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting so affected as to be useless, the uvula so elongated, the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive cases. It is local and constitutional, instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Each package contains one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and an IMPROVED INHALER, with treatise; price, $1.

LOST.—"I don't know where. I can't tell when, I don't see how—something of great value to me, and for the return of which I shall be truly thankful, viz.: a good appetite."

FOUND.—"Health and strength, pure blood, an appetite like that of a wolf, regular digestion, all by taking that popular and peculiar medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla. I want everybody to try it this season." It is sold by all druggists. One hundred does one dollar.

—A Boston eight-year-old was drawing pictures at school the other day, and drew a pig. After the work of art was completed to his satisfaction the youngster wrote beneath it: "This is a domestic animal; he is called a pig because he is so selfish."

He Is Apparently Displeased.

Col. Donan, a well known if not famous soldier, lawyer and editor of the west, formerly of Missouri and the confederate army, thus remarks on the inter-state commerce law:

Under the close and skillful management of men of ability who have given their whole lives to the business the railways of the country, out of aggregate earnings of nearly $800,000,000 a year, do not average three per cent per annum on the capital invested in them. The railways employ 450,000 men, of whom over 75,000 are trained and skilled in the profession, some 25,000 being expert clerks and accountants. Many of these men are paid salaries of from $10,000 to $25,000 a year. Yet this idotic and preposterous bill requires a committee of five dilapidated, out-of-a-job politicians, with three-thousand-five-hundred-dollars-a-year clerks, to supervise, examine and manage a volume of business which gives constant employment, ten hours a day, to nearly half a million men, tens of thousands of them experts. Think of a congressional mob of pot-house and crossroads politicians, back-woods cow-case lawyers, bar-keepers, ward bummers and tinkers, spruce-gum peddlers from the crags of Vermont and the Adirondack wilds of New York, and ignorant grangers, who, with grass seed in their manes, have just crawled out of the brush pile in southwest Missouri, Arkansas, West Virginia, Indiana, Iowa, Texas and Michigan, seizing and attempting to control, according to their crazy notions, these gigantic institutions and interests. It is another outburst of the old grange rabies that in 1870-72 undertook to run railroads by the legislative enactments of ploughmen and hog drovers, and speedily put nearly half the roads in the Union into receivers' hands, precipitated the panic of 1873 and drove the whole country into bankruptcy and ruin, from which it took years to recover. The nation may well thank God that the latest fools' masterpiece is destined to perish beneath the weight of its own fooleries.

Judging from the above, it may not be too much to assume that Col. Donan does not approve of the inter-state commerce law.

Mr. Taukerville Chamberlayne, owner of the British cutter Arrow, who so boldly challenged any American cutter or sloop to a race for the Queen's cup, has backed down before the Mayflower, he having telegraphed to Mr. Burgess that the "Arrow cannot possibly coscede the great advantage of unrestricted centreboard." This of course ends the negotiations, and is a very cheap back-down for Chamberlayne, who when he issued his challenge was well aware the American crack sloops were all centreboard boats; and the demand that the centreboard should be bolted so that it would be of no service, and that besides, the American boat should be handicapped ten per cent for having a centreboard at all, is a rank "squeal" on the part of the British cutter men, who after having for years insisted that the American type of yacht was inferior to their own, acknowledge that they dare not meet the American boats on anything like equal terms. To even up the conditions, the Americans should insist that no cutter be allowed to contest for the America's cup until she has been built out on both sides to have as much beam as the competing sloop—a condition no more absurd than that imposed on sloops by the British yachtsmen.

In a heavy gale which swept over the Western banks on the 13th and 14th inst., many of the fishing vessels suffered. The George W. Pierce, of Portland, lost an anchor and cable, broke her windlass, and sprung a leak; the Ethel & Addie, of Portland, had bowsprit carried away, hawse pipe torn out and windlass broken; the Commodore Foote, of Gloucester, lost rudder and had deck swept; schooner Zenobia, of Gloucester, lost rudder, jibboom and head gear, anchors, fourteen tubs of trawls, etc.; the D. A. Wilson, of Salem, lost head gear, anchor and cable, had wheel smashed and hawse pipe torn out; the Beatrice, of Yarmouth, lost three dories and had rudder broken. A large number of Nova Scotia schooners also suffered loss of dories, trawls, spars, sails, and anchors and cables. No total losses are reported, and no loss of life.

Base ball at Christian Shore, Wednesday afternoon, 20th inst., between the Southenders, Capt. Gray, and the Northenders, Capt. Cox; score, Southenders 12, Northenders 36.

The Dover Democrat says that Robert McDonald of Portsmouth was arrested in that city on the night of the 18th inst. for being drunk on the street, and next day was assessed $8.76, fine and costs. Having no money, and not wishing to go to jail, he "disclosed" on the United States hotel, and a search warrant being sworn out and executed, a quantity of beer was found. McDonald was discharged, and the proprietor of the hotel summoned to appear in court.

The county commissioners of York county have made the following awards of damages for land taken by the York Harbor & Beach railway; Chas. E. Otis, $300; Caroline D. Locke, $35; James R. Philbrick, $650, with the proviso that if the company shall make a certain specified change in its line the award is to be reduced $150; Mary H. Blanchard, Elizabeth J. Libby and Jennie Kimball, heirs of Joseph Mitchell, $10 each; B. R. Frisbee, $10; S. Fernald, $5; L. P. Foye, $360; J. W. & C. B. Foye, $300; J. T. Wilson, $30; Calentha J. Wilson, $30; Marie L. Rice, $350.

On the evening of the 18th inst. Hon. E. A. Rollins, president of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad, made a demand on W. A. Stowell, superintendent of the Boston & Lowell road, for the surrender of the property of the first-named corporation to its officers—the same demand that was made on the 16th by the directors of the Boston, Concord & Montreal on the officers of the Boston & Lowell. The action of the Boston, Concord & Montreal directors in demanding that the Boston & Lowell relinquish the former road has stirred up a bitter war, and has changed the whole current of northern freight traffic. The Lowell has turned all its business over the Central Vermont to the Cheshire road, and more than 300 cars from the north have passed through Keene, and over the Manchester & Keene division and the Lowell road to Boston, within a few days.

Superintendent Furber of the Boston & Maine railroad, and the chief civil engineer of the road, will to-day go over the proposed route of the York Harbor & Beach railroad, for the purpose of locating the stations of the new road. The secretary of war has given permission for the construction of the line through the government grounds at Fort McClary.

A NEW LEASE OF LIFE.

When one has been suffering the agonies of a severe attack of rheumatism, neuralgia or sciatica and relief comes, it seems as if a new lease of life had been granted. Such have been the feelings of thousands who, after trying physicians and numberless remedies, have used Athlophoros and found to their great joy that this medicine really did cure these diseases.

Great Falls, N. H., March 25, 1886.

Some twenty-two years ago while in the U. S. Navy, quartered at New Orleans, I like many other sailors, by constant exposure became afflicted with an attack of rheumatism, for which I was treated by the doctors with all sorts of medicines, liniments, etc., but no matter what I did take the relief was for a few moments only, and the pain, that terrible pain, came on me again worse than ever. Why the pain was so sharp and sudden as to almost fell me to the ground as though I had been struck on the head. I continued in this condition for years, one week in every four. I was confined to the house one day hobbling around when a friend who had been cured of rheumatism by Athlophoros asked me why I did not give the medicine a trial. I had taken so much medicine and got no better I felt sure there was nothing to cure rheumatism, but thought again it could do me no harm and so bought a bottle. The very first dose of Athlophoros took hold of me in such a way I knew it would do me good. I continued until two bottles were used, and my rheumatism of so many years standing, that everything failed to touch, was at last gone, and I have never suffered the least mite since. I tell you Athlophoros will do the work every time. I can't say enough for it.

CHAS. O. V. BAGLEY, Grocer,

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

THE ISLES OF SHOALS.

The Laighton Brothers came in from Appledore on Wednesday, the 20th inst., and Mr. Cedric went to Boston for his family, who will now go to the island. Cedric finds that effeminate life in Boston developes rheumatism, and he will spend his winters hereafter in the more conservative atmosphere of State street. We shall be glad to welcome within our borders our neighbor of the sea-girt isles.

Speaking of the Shoals reminds us that Charles Dudley Warner in "Their Pilgrimage," a book among whose illustrations is a good view of the office at Appledore on "the arrival of the mail," gives us a very enjoyable picture of life at the Shoals. On the way down the harbor on the steamer the writer goes on to state, "So that medieval structure, all tower, growing out of the rocks, is Stedman's castle—just like him, to let his art spring out of nature in that way,"—but this is but one of the many neat remarks which are constantly being uttered by the summer passers-by of the famous Kelp Rock cottage.

"VACATION."

Next Saturday evening will be seen for the last time in this city, the Dalys in "Vacation," as they shelve the play at the end of the season. The play has been almost entirely reconstructed since last season, and though you may have seen "Vacation" before, you will miss much that is new and pleasing if you do not attend this time. Seats are now on sale at Goodrich's.

SOMEWHAT PUZZLING.

The serving out of "justice" to criminals at the present term of the supreme court is puzzling to some people. One man kicks and stamps on his wife until the unhappy being is mercifully released by death from further brutality, and this is called murder in the second degree, and punished by a sentence of twenty years in state prison. Another man finds his wife drunk, pours kerosene over her and sets her on fire, and burns her to death; this is manslaughter of some kind, to be expiated by eighteen months in state prison. A fourteen-year-old boy breaks into a freight car, and gets six years; hence, to break in a freight car is four times as heinous a crime as to make a bonfire of one's wife. A one-armed peddler who steals a watch gets four months in jail, and a man who stabs another gets two months; hence, it is only half as bad to run a knife into a man as it is to steal his watch. A cowardly and treacherous ruffian of the worst character assaults a woman in her own house at a late hour of the night, drags her from her bed, and dislocates her shoulder; this is a "simple assault," and the venomous scoundrel gets off with a fine of $20! Wonder what constitutes an aggravated assault? Two neglected boys, the elder only fourteen years old, break into a store, and "go up" for three years each; and four miserable creatures who beg for bread, and when they get a quarter fill themselves up on rum, get fifteen months each at hard labor. But two howling ruffians who violently assail police officers when in the execution of their duty, get off with a month each in jail, where they are well fed and comfortably lodged, though one of the officers assaulted was laid up several weeks from the effects of his injuries. Hence, it is thirty-six times as bad to break into a country store, and fifteen times as bad to go around as a vagrant, as it is to maim a policeman when he is endeavoring to protect the public from the aggressions of the criminal classes!

And yet there are people who wonder that our police are not more energetic and efficient than they are. A little encouragement from the law abiding class, and from the administration of the law, might strengthen the hands of the officers.

AN IMPORTANT INDUSTRY.

There have been shipped the present season from Commercial wharf 4600 boxes of fish, by E. Newton & Co., Ed. Jameson and Daniel Clark; of this number E. Newton & Co. shipped 3000 boxes, making a total of 3,000,000 lbs. received by them. They received nine carloads of shooks, in making which into boxes they used five tons of nails. They have used 400 tons of ice in icing the fish, and ten men have been constantly employed by the firm. They have likewise produced 200 bbls. of medicine oil, and fifty bbls. of cutcher's oil, and they have sold to Main & Winchester 300 tons of fish heads and offal, which are used for fertilizing the land.

Newton & Co. have been buying for the past six years. They commenced by buying the first year from five vessels; the present season they bought from sixty-six. A. K. Brown has done the teaming for the different firms, and has kept seven horses and six men employed. The total number of lbs. of fish landed at the different wharves is rising 6,000,000, which were all caught in Ipswich bay, which is about thirteen miles square, nearly all the fish being taken in a space not over three miles square. Fish must be pretty thick at the bottom of Ipswich bay sometimes.

The schooner Franklin S. Schenck, Capt. Jameson, has landed during the winter 400,000 lbs. of fish, stocked $5000, and shared $200.50 to each man, making her high line of the fleet fishing out of this port this season. The Georgia Hagan, Capt. Nathan White of Newcastle, is a close second. Quite a number of vessels are still fishing from this port.

DEATH OF CAPT. GEO. W. TOWLE.

A telegram was received in this city on Wednesday evening from Col. George F. Towle, at Chicago, announcing the death of his father, Capt. George W. Towle, of Newcastle. The remains will be brought here for interment, probably arriving on Saturday.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Norma, of Boston, one of W. B. Keen's fishing fleet, is now fitting for summer fishing in Ipswich bay. She will be commanded by Capt. Frank Garland of North Hampton, who intends to supply the summer hotels and boarding houses along the Rye and Hampton sea front with all the fresh fish they want this season.

Capt. H. T. Evans, of the ship Grandee of this port, who was for some time mate with Capt. B. F. Jacobs on the Grandee, and was promoted to the command a year or two ago when Capt. Jacobs was compelled by sickness to remain ashore, is not now in favor with the owners, having squandered something like $4000 on women and cards in Hong Kong, from which port the ship recently arrived at New York. The Grandee will not be commanded by Capt. Evans on her next voyage.

The schooner Commonwealth arrived from Rockland on the 20th inst., with 1000 bbls. lime to J. Albert Walker.

Personal: Dear Andy: Please return at once; all is forgiven—in fact, we didn't do it. Yours fraternally, J. B.

Rev. Mr. Jaynes of West Newton, Mass., will preach in the Unitarian church on Sunday.

Mrs. John B. Haley of Richards avenue, who has been passing the winter in Rochester and Dover, has returned home.

Mrs. John G. Tompson and Miss Kittie Tompson, of Newtonville, Mass., are visiting Mrs. Tompson's sisters on State street.

Mr. Manning Hodgdon, formerly of this city, now a student at Hartford theological seminary, was examined on the 18th inst. at Boston by the South Suffolk Association of Congregational Ministers, and by that body was licensed to preach the gospel.

Mrs. Tebbetts invites the ladies of this city and vicinity to witness her exhibition of pattern hats and bonnets on Friday and Saturday of this week. The ladies will avail themselves of this opportunity to inspect the beautiful display of stylish goods which Mrs. Tebbetts has secured for the spring trade.

Elvin Newton has purchased of Charles S. Drowne a lot 100 feet square, on Gardner street, and will at once erect a dwelling thereon.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., April 19th.

Mr. William M. Sanborn, formerly of Kittery but for the past eleven years the efficient agent for the B. & M. R. R. Northern Division at South Berwick, where he has resided, will leave there this week to assume a similar but more important position at Peabody, Mass.

We understand that the friends of Mr. Samuel Caban and wife of North Kittery will give them a variety wedding on Thursday evening, the 21st inst.

Mr. William F. Bartlett of North Kittery was the fortunate possessor of ticket No. 184, which drew the second prize at the G. A. R., fair last week; it was a handsome celluloid set presented by Mr. Andrew P. Preston of Portsmouth, and valued at $20.

A lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen is soon to be instituted at the Foreside. With all its orders there yet seems to be room for more. We doubt if there is another town in the state that has so many different organizations as Kittery.

The Grand Army fair was the most successful affair of the kind ever held here; the entertainment was first class in every particular, and the managers can feel justly proud of the results.

Frank E. Donnell has been obliged to give up his engagement with John E. Frost of Berwick, on account of a previous engagement made with his old employer; he left town Saturday last for Durham, N. H., and will work in Dover and vicinity.

Spring Medicine

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N. Y.

Its practical operation is conservative and methodical—its discipline strict and exacting. The luxury of its passenger accommodation is unequaled in the West—unsurpassed in the world.

THE BEST IN THE WORLD

A PROCLAMATION

By his Excellency Moody Currier, Governor, for Arbor Day.

It is becoming a custom in many of the States of this Union to devote one day in each year to the planting and cultivation of trees, both for profit and ornament, and in our own state the practice has been sanctioned by legislative action.

Therefore, by the advice of the Council, I hereby appoint Saturday, the 30th day of April, instant, as Arbor Day, to be devoted to the planting and culture of trees, vines, and ornamental shrubs, in waste places and along the highways, in our public grounds, and in our cemeteries, where they may afford a grateful shade to the weary, a lesson of beauty to the beholder, and a blessed boon to those that may come after us.

I request the fathers and mothers, the men of culture and science, the ministers of the gospel, and teachers in our schools, on that day to instil into the minds of those that look to them for instruction a taste for the beautiful in nature and a love for those things with which God has adorned the earth. For the tree, the bird, and the flower are the living ornaments that glorify and exalt, with fragrance and song, the habitations of man.

I especially desire that our children may be taught to observe and reverence the divine energies which are unfolding themselves in every leaf and flower that sheds a perfume in spring or ripens into a note of beauty in autumn, so that the aspirations of childhood, led by beautiful surroundings, may form higher and broader conceptions of life and humanity; for the teachings of nature lead up from the material and the finite to the infinite and the Eternal.

Given at the Council Chamber in Concord, this 13th day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and eleventh.

MOODY CURRIER.

A. B. THOMPSON, Secretary of State.

In Leavenworth, Kan., at the last election before women voted, the whiskey party elected its mayor and council by 1700 majority. This year, under woman suffrage, the whiskey party claims to have elected its mayor by a bare majority of sixteen votes, while all the members of the council are temperance men. Leavenworth has a large foreign population, and has for years been celebrated for its lawlessness. Every effort was made by the Whiskey Alliance to bring out a full vote from the women who sympathize with them. The result shows clearly that even in large cities, and under the most unpromising circumstances, the great majority of women are on the side of temperance, law, and order.

Things Worth Knowing.

That dyspepsia comes from torpid liver and costiveness.

That you cannot digest your food well unless your bowels and liver act properly.

That your bowels require thorough cleansing when they do not do their duty by your digestion.

That your torpid liver needs stimulating in order that it may act as nature intended it should.

That Brandreth's Pills taken in doses of one or two at night for, say, ten days, will regulate the bowels, stimulate the liver, improve the digestion and drive away dyspepsia.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. I was affected with kidney and urinary Trouble—
"For twelve years!"
After trying all the doctors and patent medicines I could hear of, I used two bottles of Hop Bitters;
And I am perfectly cured. I keep it "All the time!"
Respectfully, B. F. BOOTH, Saulsbury, Tenn. May 4, 1883.

BRADFORD, PA., May 8, 1885.

It has cured me of several diseases, such as nervousness, sickness at the stomach, monthly troubles, etc. I have not seen a sick day in years, since I took Hop Bitters. All my neighbors use them. MRS. FANNIE GREEN.

ASHBURNHAM, MASS., Jan. 15, 1886.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the word part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I should never die in peace till I had tried Hop Bitters. When I had taken two bottles they helped me very much indeed. When I had taken two more bottles I was well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they cured me, and they used them and were cured and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.

Yours truly, MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

$3,000 Lost.

"Luddington, Mich., Feb. 2, 1885. I have sold Hop Bitters for ten years, and there" is no medicine that equals them for bilious attacks, kidney complaints, and all diseases incident to this malarial climate. H. T. ALEXANDER.

"Monroe, Mich., Sept. 2'th, 1885. SIRS:—I have been taking Hop Bitters for inflammation "of kidneys and bladder. It has done for me "what four physicians failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Bitters seemed like magic to me. W. L. CARTER.

GENTS:—Your Hop Bitters have been of great value to me. I was laid up with typhoid fever for over two months, and could get no relief until I tried your Hop Bitters. To those suffering from debility, or any one in feeble health, I cordially recommend them. J. C. STOETZEL.

THE STREETS OF MEXICO.

The Dudes and the Ladies—A California Terror—Showy Costumes.

At certain hours of the day and in certain portions of the more fashionably frequented streets the way is lined with a variety of sidewalk statues, who, for smartness of attire and vapidity of countenance, will compare not unfavorably with the glorious American dude. They are known among the discerning Mexicans—who are masters of the art of terse and graphic classification with regard to salient points—as lagartijos, or lizards, from the tenacity with which they hug the walls along the narrow sidewalks, while they ogle the ladies going to or from church or the promenades. These "lizards" have an amiable habit of making, with the utmost composure, in a perfectly audible voice, highly complimentary observations concerning such members of the fair sex as may be fortunate enough to meet with their critical approbation. "Sweetness!" "What a dear darling!" "How I love you precious blonde!" "Come here, pretty thing, and kiss me!" Such are more of the refined and chivalric modes of address practiced by these young—and not always young—dandies.

Also, if they can muster a few words of English, they are fond of delivering them for the benefit of women of foreign appearance—at a severe penalty, as will be seen. These amenities are called, in the expressive language of the country, "throwing flowers." The mianikins really mean no offense by the habit, but rather consider it a delicate attention and a tribute due to the presumptive charm of the fair, the custom being another disagreeable relic surviving from the objectionable phases of the Spanish regime. The usage is, happily, lessening, and no doubt will soon be obsolete.

It is curious and characteristic to observe how differently the habit is regarded by the ladies of different nations. The Spanish women resident in Mexico complain that these gallantries are not sufficiently pronounced, and declare that Mexican men are cold blooded reptiles, "perfect sticks," in short, with the very tamest ideas as to making their attentions impressive and acceptable to ladies; the Mexican women endure the impertinences as an affliction, offensive and lowering to their dignity, but one which they are impotent to avoid, thanks to the submissive attitude of femininity in the country. American women in Mexico often do not understand enough Spanish to know the import of these speeches, but when they do understand it, it goes hard with the offender. He is sure to receive some token of resentment, if only a scowl.

Two cases are on record of irate damsels—one, it goes without saying, was a strong minded Bostonian lass—who, in the might of their righteous indignation at what they deemed deliberate result, laid across the faces of the culprits a succession of vigorous whacks with a parasol. But perhaps the most effective extinguisher is that employed by a California young lady. She knows Spanish like a native, and when she hears observations from the dandies directed toward herself, she walks up to the nearest policeman, points out the delinquent and says: "It is against the police regulations to permit insult to foreigners. You will have the goodness to take that man in charge." And she stays near to see that the gendarme complies. She has made herself considerable of a terror to the lagartijos, and the Mexican ladies commend her course, realizing that such treatment goes far to correct the abuse. Pobres lagartijos! their type must be extinct ere many years.

The streets of Mexico borrow much of gayety, picturesqueness—yes, and of elegance—from the rich charro suits, properly a riding dress, but sometimes worn when on foot. It comprises trousers closed down the outer seams, with double rows of large silver buttons linked together with chains; short roundabout jackets, with elaborate silver clasps, and broad hats braided and embroidered with silver; showy scrapes to be strapped behind the saddle. Formerly the priesthood was conspicuous on the streets of Mexico, but they make little figure since the enactment of the reform laws, one of whose provisions forbids the wearing of clerical vestments on the public streets. This prohibition is not rigidly carried out in the interior, but it is enforced somewhat rigorously in the capital. Most priests wear a large wide cloak, which is sufficiently distinctive, while it is not exclusively clerical in usage, and therefore does not violate the law.

Some months ago the bishop of Rochester (Episcopalian) visited Mexico, and appearing on the streets in his robes of office, he was accosted by a gendarme, who respectfully but firmly informed him that the public display of the lawn sleeves, etc., was an infraction of the law, and must be discontinued. His worship was so disgusted by the intimation that he left at the end of two days, instead of remaining a fortnight, as he had contemplated. Not the least striking of the street sights in this city is the naïvete and good faith with which people march to the baths through the streets, carrying towels, etc., frankly confessed in a shawl strapped bundle; and a very pretty feature is the return of the ladies from the baths with loose flowing hair streaming over the shawl or mantilla worn on unceremonious occasions.—Y. H. Addis in San Francisco Chronicle.

SKIN & SCALP

For cleansing the Skin and Scalp of Disfiguring Humors, for allaying Itching, Burning and Inflammation, for curing the first symptoms of Eczema, Psoriasis, Milk Crust, Scaly Head, Scrofula, and other inherited Skin and Blood Diseases, CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, are infallible.

A COMPLETE CURE.

I have suffered all my life with skin diseases of different kinds and have never found permanent relief until, by the advice of a lady friend, I used your valuable CUTICURA REMEDIES. I gave them a thorough trial, using six bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and seven cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and the result was just what I had been told it would be—a complete cure. SALT RHEUM CURED.

I was troubled with Salt Rheum for a number of years, so that the skin entirely came off one of my hands from the finger tips to the wrist. Catarrh to Consumption.

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful palliatives.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting so affected as to be useless, the uvula so elongated, the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive cases. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Federal Officials and State Laws.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller, being interviewed by a Washington newspaper man in regard to what the department would do in the case of Deputy Collector Murphy of Maine, replied: "We will stick to him to the end. He has done the proper thing, and so has Collector Redman; in fact both are acting under instructions from Washington. We cannot turn our books, and business and officers over to the local authorities for their local cases. If we do this they would be pulled round the country promiscuously, and their usefulness to us destroyed. We have had lots of cases of this kind before, but they have never been settled so as to furnish a precedent. Now we propose to go to the root of the whole question, fight every point, and settle it once for all. Prohibitory laws are spreading so rapidly that many other cases are likely to come up, and a precedent is necessary. We might as well make a thorough test of the Augusta case as any."

A Set of Curs All Around.

Knights of Labor at Gardiner, Me., have been guilty of a most unchivalric deed. Because Miss Nellie Newell, an employe of the shoe factory there, declined to join the labor organization, to pay an assessment or to leave the shop, the whole crew struck. The result of a conference between the superintendent and the strikers has been an agreement that the men should return to work, and that Miss Newell should be discharged. It is a triumph which should cause shame in every man concerned if he has a particle of manliness in him—and this includes the superintendent who allowed the tyrannical cowards to carry their point.

Experiences of a Man with a Garden.

BOSTON, April 21.—Every year gardening is becoming more and more of a popular amusement among all classes, in city and country. Both ladies and gentlemen find it a healthful pastime. An amusing illustrated article on the experience of a family with a small garden will be among the contents of the next Boston Sunday Globe. It is warranted to make everybody laugh.

The Boston Globe commends the appointment of Edward Augustus Mosely of Newburyport as secretary of the board of interstate commerce commissioners, because he is a partisan democrat. It is not claimed that he possesses, either by training or ability, other qualification for the office. Some subordinate will do the work. Mosely will convince the mugwamps of Massachusetts that the doctrine of the victors and spoils is in future to be regarded by the administration. This appointment, and that of Sigourney Butler of Quincy as second comptroller of treasury, are said to have been brought about in spite of, rather than through consultation with, Secretary of War Edicott. There is evidently a fresh hand at the bellows.

HORSE THIEF.

Deputy Sheriff Stephen Chick, of Strafford county, on Thursday brought to this city a man arrested at Great Falls, and turned him over to the Portsmouth police. His name is Charles Wentworth, and he hails from Rochester. Some days ago he hired a team of Beacham & Son of this city, to go to a town in York county; on the road he sold the blanket for fifty cents, and tried at a number of places to sell the team, but failed. He is a hard looking citizen.

A NEW LEASE OF LIFE.

When one has been suffering the agonies of a severe attack of rheumatism, neuralgia or sciatica and relief comes, it seems as if a new lease of life had been granted. Such have been the feelings of thousands who after trying physicians and numberless remedies, have used Athlophoros and found to their great joy that this medicine really did cure these diseases.

Great Falls, N. H., March 25, 1886.

Some twenty-two years ago while in the U. S. Navy, quartered at New Orleans, I like many other sailors, by constant exposure became afflicted with an attack of rheumatism, for which I was treated by the doctors with all sorts of medicines, liniments, etc., but no matter what I did take the relief was for a few moments only, and the pain, that terrible pain, came on me again worse than ever. Why the pain was so sharp and sudden as to almost fell me to the ground as though I had been struck on the head. I continued in this condition for years, one week in every four. I was confined to the house one day hobbling around when a friend who had been cured of rheumatism by Athlophoros asked me why I did not give the medicine a trial. I had taken so much medicine and got no better I felt sure there was nothing to cure rheumatism, but thought again it could do me no harm and so bought a bottle. The very first dose of Athlophoros took hold of me in such a way I knew it would do me good. I continued until two bottles were used, and my rheumatism of so many years standing, that everything failed to touch, was at last gone, and I have never suffered the least mite since. I tell you Athlophoros will do the work every time. I can't say enough for it.

CHAS. O. V. BAGLEY, Grocer,

WOULD PREFER NO SCHOOL.

Editors of Chronicle: A school is to be established in the wardroom building on Elm street. It is an unfit place for the purpose—and I make this as an assertion, and not a surmise. The building stands on a portion of the old burying ground, a part of which is ten or twelve feet above the sills of the structure; and the soil must be charged to the full with inodorous poison gases. Closets have been erected outside the building, so as to encroach further on the spot where lie the remains of so many men eminent in the history of the town, the state and the nation; this I do not like much more than I do the idea of the children having to use the railroad tracks or the graveyard for a playground; but my principal objection is on the score of health. Others may send their little ones to school there if they choose; mine shall not enter a building which from its situation must be unfit for a schoolroom, if they never have another day of schooling in their lives.

A PARENT.

"SOMEWHAT PUZZLING," IS IT.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st.

Messrs. Editors: The above heading to a timely article in your paper of this morning is far from expressing the amazement of (let us hope) the larger and better portion of the public at the late sentence of a murderer at our supreme court.

Eighteen months in state prison, it seems, is the penalty for one of the most brutal crimes ever committed. What a farce; what a mockery of justice; what encouragement and aid to the criminal class, which is already large enough to give the greatest alarm and discouragement to all except candidates for, or inhabitants of, Pandemonium. And this sentence from the supreme court of New Hampshire is to a criminal who pleaded guilty in the second degree to an atrociously barbarous murder!

The day previous, another criminal arraigned for a similar crime under circumstances of apparently less atrocity, and who also pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree, was sentenced to twenty years!

How beautifully even the scales of justice hang—as thus exemplified by the supreme court of New Hampshire.

CITY.

THAT COURT BUSINESS.

The Times of the 20th inst., speaking of the surprising results of the criminal business of the April term of the supreme court at Exeter, remarks: "It is said that the prosecuting officers of the county made but very slight attempts to secure convictions in criminal cases this term, and all the prisoners got off with comparatively light sentences. For this there may or may not be good and sufficient reasons, but at any rate the county is, financially, better off by several thousand dollars than it would have been in case that each case had been tried, and the present term of court made much longer."

Just what "good and sufficient reasons" could possibly exist to palliate the failure of public officers to do the duty they are sworn to perform, we cannot see; if the prosecuting officers of this county did, as the Times intimates is alleged, make but slight attempts to secure conviction of dangerous criminals, they deserve the severest censure. And the saving of a few thousand dollars in court expenses may not be a paying speculation either, as encouragement of the criminal classes through a failure of justice is sometimes a very costly proceeding in the end.

We cannot perceive that political motives could have anything to do with the strange performances at Exeter in the name of the law. The prosecuting officers are republicans; but the persons who were charged with serious crimes are democrats to a man, all their lawyers are democrats, and the presiding judge, who served out the sentences after the prisoners had pleaded guilty, is of the same political faith.

CAPT. EVANS' MISDOING.

The following is given us as a correct statement of the ill proceedings of Capt. H. T. Evans of the Portsmouth ship Grandee, already referred to:

When the Grandee arrived in port at New York after a fine passage of ninety-four days from Hong Kong, she found an anchorage near Governor's island. Early on the following morning a passing boatman was called to the ship's side, and got the job of setting ashore a woman who had been a part of the ship's company, though her name does not appear on any of the ship's papers. The woman was landed at a Red Hook wharf, on the Brooklyn side, but Capt. Evans landed at the Battery, where he met Capt. Jacobs and the agent of the vessel, and was ordered to dock her at Pier 47, East river.

After her arrival there the business of the voyage was about to be settled, when Capt. Evans astounded all hands by a confession that he could not explain his accounts nor face the owners. He admitted that he had spreed it pretty heavily in Hong Kong, and estimated that in his accounts of expenses and disbursements at that port nearly $4,000 were overcharges that he had squandered. He professed the most sincere repentance, and offered to make every effort to assist in straightening out the ship's accounts, and to make any other reparation he could. On the following Saturday the crew were to be paid off and the accounts fixed.

Capt. Jacobs arrived on board the ship at the appointed time, but Capt. Evans had gone. He had packed up his dunnage and disappeared. His flight was also at the expense of the ship, for he had money in his possession to pay the men and to pay bills, which will bring his defalcation up to about $5,000. It is supposed that he went to Europe, as he disappeared on steamer day; and it is also supposed that the woman he brought from China is the companion of his flight. The sailors all knew her as a public woman in Hong Kong, and say that the captain became infatuated with her while on a spree. He told them on board that she was his wife. She is a German woman about thirty years old, and rather good looking.

CAPT. GEORGE W. TOWLE.

The death of Capt. George W. Towle, which took place at Chicago on the morning of the 20th inst., was unexpected to his friends here, although it was known that he was ill. Up to a very recent period he bore his years well, his form being erect, his senses perfect, his mind clear and active as ever, and his interest in life and affairs undiminished; but on his recent return to this city from Chicago with the body of his wife, his intimate friends could not fail to see that the loss of his life partner had been a terrible blow, and that the burden of sorrow was rapidly doing what weight of years had failed to do.

He was a son of Gen. Joseph Towle of Epping, and was born in that town on the 12th of September, 1810. He was in business in Lee and Newmarket in early life, but when Gen. Towle was appointed high sheriff of Rockingham county in 1835, Capt. Towle was appointed deputy sheriff and jailer, and came to Portsmouth to reside at the jail as keeper. In 1839 he opened an auction and commission store at No. 3 Bow street, where he was in business several years, subsequently removing to Congress block. He held the office of deputy sheriff until 1856, when John S. Brown having been appointed sheriff, Hon. Joseph P. Morse and the late Hon. Joseph B. Adams were made deputies for Portsmouth. Capt. Towle was also for several years United States deputy marshal.

As a young man he took great interest in military affairs, and was captain of the old Portsmouth artillery when that organization made its last public parade, and fired a national salute and escorted the procession on the first Return of the Sons of Portsmouth in 1853. On the 22d of September, 1862, he left for the seat of war as captain of Co. G, 10th Reg't N. H. Volunteers, and served through the war with great bravery.

Since the war he has lived in Newcastle, where he bought a house and grounds which his taste gradually transformed into one of the most attractive estates along our riverside. He took an active and intelligent interest in the affairs of the town, and as chairman of its board of selectmen for many years most ably and successfully directed its business, improving the roads, public buildings, schools, etc., to a noticeable degree. His loss will be greatly felt in that town.

As a companion he was unusually agreeable, being intelligent and well informed, and of a social disposition. He was active in Masonry, at the time of his death being a member of De Witt Clinton Commandery of this city; and at the anniversary celebration of St. John's Lodge on the 24th of last June he marched the entire route of the procession, notwithstanding his near seventy-six years.

Capt. Towle leaves one son, Col. Geo. F. Towle, U. S. A., now on the staff of Gen. Terry at Chicago. Also two brothers, Charles D. Towle and J. Warren Towle, Esq., both of Exeter.

The funeral of Capt Towle will take place from Masonic hall, under conduct of the Knights Templar, on Saturday or Sunday.

The ladies of the social circle connected with the Universalist society in this city will give a May festival at the vestry on the evening of May 5th. There will be refreshments, and musical and other entertainments, and the great success which always attends the efforts of this popular society to amuse their patrons warrants the prediction that it will be an enjoyable occasion.

Spring Medicine

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

For upward of fifty years I have used Brandreth's Pills. I am now nearly eighty years old and in good health. That my faculties are still intact is due to this fact, and this only, that I have almost relied on Brandreth's Pills to the exclusion of stronger medicines to restore me to health whenever either seriously indisposed or in great suffering from colds, back-ache, &c., and am deeply grateful, next to my Maker, to the blessed man who originated and placed within reach of his fellow-beings so simple and efficacious a remedy. For bilious derangements and kidney disturbances, their usefulness, in my experience, is particularly noticeable. MRS. PAYETTE DIXON.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as pass cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the seat of my disease. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I should never die in peace till I had tried Hop Bitters. When I had taken two bottles they helped me very much indeed. When I had taken two more bottles I was well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they cured me, and they used them and were cured and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.

A SAILOR'S SUCCESSFUL RUSE.

The Cook in a Fit—Was the Man Shamming?—His Discharge.

During the passage a circumstance occurred which will illustrate to the reader the extreme to which some men will resort in order to secure a discharge from naval service. One bright Sunday morning our ship, under steam and easy sail, was forging ahead and making from seven to eight knots with a fair wind. The crew were assembled at quarters and the ceremony of inspection having been performed the retreat was sounded and the men dismissed from their stations. Suddenly a blood curdling shriek was heard, and the assistant ship's cook fell to the deck writhing in agony and frothing at the mouth. The surgeon followed by his assistants hurriedly repaired to the spot, and the cook was ordered to be at once conveyed to the sick bay or hospital. Here the surgeon worked for hours, lancing the man's temples, applying leeches and performing other surgical operations deemed necessary in the present case.

Strange to relate, the cook was found to have entirely lost his speech, and, although able to hear, could make no response to the inquiries of the surgeon as to the state of his feelings. Lee, the cook, was a native of New York, and one of the most determined lookers on I ever remember to have met. He was now kindly cared for by Lieut. De Long, who, at his own expense, furnished the cook with meals from the ward room mess. The latter was furnished with a slate and pencil and assigned a position on the starboard side of the main deck, where he was constantly in view of the ship's officers, many of whom openly declared their belief that the man was shamming. All manner of tests were applied in the latter's case, such as firing a pistol behind his ear, striking him a violent blow without provocation, and similar performances indulged in for the purpose of causing Lee to, in an unguarded moment, betray the fact that he was shamming. But the fellow remained silent throughout, and would frequently be detected weeping over his misfortune.

Finally he begged the doctor to perform any operation the latter might deem proper in order to restore the organs of speech, which request more than ever confirmed the surgeon in his belief that the man was the victim of some baffling cerebral disorder, and trepanning was suggested. The ship, however, had by this time sighted Key West light, and it was decided to postpone the operation until after the vessel had come to anchor. Arriving at Key West, it was found that the Colorado was homeward bound, and, after undergoing a thorough medical examination, Lee was condemned and sent north. For a period of six months the fellow was never heard to utter a syllable, and eventually procured his discharge.

The Brooklyn was now ordered to repair to Norfolk, in order to refit for a cruise, and my request for discharge being granted, I entered the cavalry service and in due time reached St. Louis. One of the first men I encountered was the cook Lee, who had enlisted at Boston some months previous. Dumb? No more than I am. The fellow simply desired to leave the navy, and, not wishing to desert, had chewed a piece of soap on the Sunday morning in question and purposely shrieked in order to attract attention as he fell to the deck. He subsequently explained to me that he would not for the world attempt a repetition of the fraud, having been rendered well nigh insane by his effort to remain awake in order to prevent being surprised into speaking.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Habits of Sharks.

Of the large sharks one of the commonest is the "fox shark" or "thrasher." It is found on the British and on the Mediterranean and Atlantic coast, as also on the coasts of California and New Zealand. The "thrasher" reaches a length of fifteen feet, of which the tail takes more than one-half and is quite harmless to man. It follows the shoals of herrings, pilchards and sprats in their migrations, destroying incredible numbers. Its methods of attack gives it its name, as in feeding it uses the long tail for splashing the surface of the water, while it swims in gradually decreasing circles around a shoal of fishes which are thus kept so crowded together as to fall an easy prey to their enemy. Gunther does not credit the statements that it has been seen to attack whales and other large cetaceans, and thinks they rest upon erroneous observations.

The "basking shark" is the largest of the North Atlantic sharks, growing to a length of more than thirty feet. On the west coast of Ireland it is chased for the oil, which is extracted from the liver, one fish yielding from a ton to a ton and a half. It derives its name from the fact that many specimens may be seen in calm weather lying together motionless, with the upper part of the back raised above the surface of the water.—American Angler.

Children in Cairo.

It is the poor little children here that most move me to pity and make me lose sight of the wonderfully varied and picturesque scenes of Cairo. The poor little things, borne astride the shoulder of their mothers, often seem more dead than alive, and the little hand clutching so feebly, yet confidently, to her head-gear is a sight most pitiful. It is said that 78 per cent. of the children die here in infancy. I have seen several funerals of children. They are borne along the streets in an open wooden box with a gay pall thrown over it, a motley crowd bearing the box and others following chanting a song with not the least degree of feeling or solemnity. Neither the mother nor any woman is ever allowed to follow, and at the grave the child is taken out of the box, and, scarcely wrapped at all, is dropped into the sand.

Catarrh to Consumption.

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful nostrums.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting so affected as to be useless, the uvula so elongated, the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive cases. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Labor Troubles.

On the afternoon of the 20th inst. a notice was posted in every silverware manufactory in the country where as many as six journeymen are employed, to the effect that from and after that date no Knight of Labor or union man would be employed, or kept in employ if he refused to renounce his connection with the trades union. On the 21st, about 250 of the silver workers employed by Tiffany & Co. of New York went out, but fifty of them soon returned. The immediate cause of the lockout was a strike in the Whiting manufactory at Providence, R. I., on account of the firm refusing to dismiss six apprentices on the order of the union. The manufacturers say the plan of the union was to have only one shop strike at a time, and as many of the workmen make $30, $40 or even $50 a week, the non-striking shops could easily ruin the one manufacturer whose men had struck in case he refused to accede to the terms demanded, however oppressive those terms might be. So they have formed a manufacturers' union, and declare that they will close every shop in the country for a year, rather submit to further interference from the Knights or the union.

The union men in the employ of the Standard Oil Co. at New York, who "went out" on the order of District Assembly 49 during the longshoremen's strike, say they have been unjustly discriminated against since their return to work, all their active leaders having been one by one discharged; there are 1500 union workmen employed by the company, and they threaten a strike unless their old leaders are reinstated.

There is prospect of serious trouble between the great flour manufacturers of Minneapolis, Minn., and the Knights of Labor coopers, who charge that the prices of barrels are kept so low that living wages cannot be made. The mill owners have agreed to fight the Knights to the end, and the latter threaten a boycott on any mill using "scab" barrels.

Six hundred employes of the Victory cotton mills at Victory village, near Saratoga, N. Y., have been thrown out of work by the strike of twenty-five mule boys.

A Generous Offer.

Lord Salisbury, on behalf of the British government, offers the United States the privilege of continuing the fishery provisions of the treaty of Washington for ten years, without the payment of the $5,500,000 out of which we were swindled before. That is, American fishermen will be granted a privilege they do not want, and also their rights under the treaty of 1818 and the laws of nations, if America will give Canada our markets for her fish, a privilege worth $2,000,000 or more per year to her. We shall be surprised if British Minister Bayard does not strongly advocate the acceptance of this magnanimous offer.

MARITIME NOTES.

The gondola Hard Chance, Capt. Cheney, came down the river on Thursday with a load of bricks for the Eldredge Brewing Co., and went up river again on Friday for another load.

The schooner Mary E. Wherf, Grove master, arrived at this port on the 21st inst. from the Rappahannock river, Va., with a cargo of oysters for W. Freeman.

Capt. Ephraim Anderson, well known to the seamen of the Piscataqua river brick fleet, is this season sailing as mate with Capt. Frank P. Coleman of the schooner Emily C. Dennison, in the brick trade between Saco and Boston.

The Riverside boat club have got their large rowboat overboard at the Spring market, and will make their first down-river excursion in about a week, weather proving favorable. She has been thoroughly repaired and repainted since being hauled up last fall.

Great anxiety is felt in Rockland, Maine, for the safety of the schooner Cora Etta of that port, Capt. James Fales, a vessel that has brought numerous cargoes of lime from Rockland to this port during a number of years past. She sailed from Rockland for New York on the 31st of March, lime laden, and had not been from up to the 21st inst. Her crew numbered six men, all told.

The Canadian cruiser Vigilant, while chasing the American fishing schooner Hattie Maud near Grand Menan on the 12th inst., carried away her foretopmast. She then fired a shot or two at the Hattie Maud to make her heave to, but she paid no attention to the summons, and soon distanced the cruiser.

The American schooner Nellie Blanche arrived at Key West on the 21st inst. from Cozumel, Mexico, having on board a Mexican inspector of customs who was put on board at Cozumel to compel the vessel to go to Progreso, 240 miles out of her course, to clear for Key West, but whose orders the American captain disregarded as soon as he was clear of the land. The action of the Mexican authorities is stigmatised as a high-handed outrage.

Ocean steam freights are very low at New York, a fact which is attributed in great part to the interstate commerce law, the railroads engaging through freights taking most of it for the local tariff, and leaving little for the ocean tariff.

Hard Luck.

The Newburyport News relates the following: "The Athletics of Newburyport went to Byfield yesterday afternoon to play the Dummers a game of base ball, and met with hard luck. They were defeated by the Dummers. Their wagon broke a wheel off coming home, and three of the club had to walk most of the way back. The others were taken for tramps, the farmers threatening to let the dogs loose on them, and when the umpire arrived at his place of business the boss told him he had no further use for his services."

The interstate law has struck the Massachusetts legislature. The house of representatives has refused by a large majority to pass the bill allowing the Boston & Maine and Eastern railroads to consolidate.

It is announced that Hon. James F. Briggs of Manchester will be a candidate for United States senator at the coming session of the General Court. This is proper. Concord will have two candidates in the field, and the French settlement never allows herself in anything to be behind the Penacook hamlet if she knows it.

Mr. Dos Passos has published a book of 125 pages on the Interstate Commerce Act. He does not inform us how to obtain "dos passes." The conclusion which one reaches, after reading what Mr. Dos Passos has said on this extraordinary act, is that law-making bodies in this world have rarely enacted measures so difficult of construction, interfering so greatly with established rules, customs, and methods of commerce, and with so little attempt to comprehend the nature of the changes contemplated.

A NEW LEASE OF LIFE.

When one has been suffering the agonies of a severe attack of rheumatism, neuralgia or sciatica and relief comes, it seems as if a new lease of life had been granted. Such have been the feelings of thousands who, after trying physicians and numberless remedies, have used Athlophoros and found to their great joy that this medicine really did cure these diseases.

Greet Falls, N. H., March 25, 1886.

Some twenty-two years ago while in the U. S. Navy, quartered at New Orleans, I like many other sailors, by constant exposure became afflicted with an attack of rheumatism, for which I was treated by the doctors with all sorts of medicines, liniments, etc., but no matter what I did take the relief was for a few moments only, and the pain, that terrible pain, came on me again worse than ever. Why the pain was so sharp and sudden as to almost fell me to the ground as though I had been struck on the head. I continued in this condition for years, one week in every four. I was confined to the house one day hobbling around when a friend who had been cured of rheumatism by Athlophoros asked me why I did not give the medicine a trial. I had taken so much medicine and got no better I felt sure there was nothing to cure rheumatism, but thought again it could do me no harm and so bought a bottle. The very first dose of Athlophoros took hold of me in such a way I knew it would do me good. I continued until two bottles were used, and my rheumatism of so many years standing, that everything failed to touch, was at last gone, and I have never suffered the least mite since. I tell you Athlophoros will do the work every time. I can't say enough for it.

CHAS. O. V. BAGLEY, Grocer,

Of the Dalys' play which is to be given in Music hall this evening, the Lowell Times says:

"Vacation" is the same skeleton as of yore, but upon its bones have been hung since last season an entirely new collection of songs and medleys, and some new dialogue. The new music is excellent in its selection, and well rendered.

The Boston Herald speaks of it as follows:

The popular vehicle for the fun of these lively brothers has been changed somewhat since it was last presented here, but the alterations have all added to its value as a mirth producer. The new music is catchy and tuneful, the new lines laughable, and the new business very funny and rich in surprises. The piece was well staged, and it is hardly necessary to say that the company acted with spirit and all that snap which is so necessary to the complete success of a piece of this character.

THE TRUE TEMPERANCE PARTY.

Our democratic neighbor, the Times, has a leader based on a communication from Gen. Neal Dow to the Portland Argus, in which he denounces the republicans of Maine because the liquor law is not fully enforced, and concludes as follows:

The habitual violation of the law in Maine, in cities under republican rule, is the great obstacle in the way of the speedy adoption of prohibition throughout the Union and the English speaking world. There is no possible hope of the beginning of any improvement in this respect in the life time of the republican party, the complete and final extinguishment of which in 1888 is plainly indicated by all the signs of the times. The party in the nation and in every state is as thoroughly committed to the defence of the liquor traffic as it is in Maine, notwithstanding its loud profession here of devotion to prohibition.

The inference to be drawn from this is, of course, that after Gen. Dow has wiped the republican party from the face of the earth in 1888, the true temperance party, namely, the democratic, which the general did all he could to aid at the late state election in Maine, will enforce prohibition to the letter. The general roundly denounces the republican administration of Portland, but does not mention democratic Biddeford, where at the late election one rumseller stepped from a six months term in jail to a seat in the city councils, and several others at the time of their election had indictments hanging over them for selling liquor. When denouncing the republican party for not enforcing the liquor law, and urging that the only way to secure such enforcement is to give the democratic party power everywhere, he undoubtedly had in his mind's eye our goodly city of Portsmouth, where the most prominent democratic leaders are famed for their prohibition principles, and where two or three years of a unanimously democratic city government have sufficed to so utterly destroy the liquor traffic that for more than a year past the police have been unable to discover a single violation of the liquor law.

HORATIO G. BROOKS.

Horatio G. Brooks, president of the well-known Brooks Locomotive Works, died of apoplexy at Dunkirk, N. Y., April 20th. He had worked himself up from the lower grades of railroading to be the head of an unusually large and profitable enterprise. He was twice elected mayor of Dunkirk, and was one of the strong personal figures of the extreme western part of New York state.

Mr. Brooks was born in this city on October 30th, 1828. In 1838 his parents moved to Dover, where for six years he picked up what education he could in the public schools. In 1844, much to his delight, he was allowed to enter the shops of his cousins, Isaac and Seth Adams, at South Boston, as a machinist's apprentice. His tastes ran strongly toward locomotive building, and in 1846, with the consent of his employers, he went into the shops of the Boston & Maine railroad, then at Andover, Mass. In 1848, when but twenty years old, he was sent out to learn the road as a fireman, and in 1849 he was made a regular engineer.

Mr. Brooks was subsequently master mechanic of the Erie and the Ohio & Mississippi railroads, under his old friend Chas. Minot, formerly superintendent of the Boston & Maine road. Later on he organized a locomotive building company, and amassed a large fortune. He frequently spent part of his summers at the New Hampshire home of his boyhood.

The funeral of the late Capt. George W. Towle will take place on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, from Masonic hall.

All the surviving members of Co. G, 10th Reg't, N. H. Vols., are requested to assemble at G. A. R. hall, Sunday, April 24th, at one o'clock sharp, to attend the obsequies of our loved commander Capt. Geo. W. Towle, at Masonic hall.

PER ORDER.

The frogs were gaily singing at the southerly portion of the city on Thursday evening. Our large staff of French chefs de cuisine will now be on the qui vive.

Messrs. Jenness & Dowd are making a monument for Rev. C. P. Smith, formerly of this city, to be placed over the grave of his wife in the south cemetery. They are also making for Mrs. Annie Wyatt, widow of Charles W. Wyatt, formerly conductor on the Concord & Portsmouth railroad, a very handsome carved tablet to be placed on her husband's grave in the same cemetery.

The sub-committee of the general committee on soldiers' and sailors' monument had a meeting in the city rooms on Friday evening. It was stated that the total subscriptions amounted to about $4300, and the several reports made were of the most encouraging character.

Crowds of ladies witnessed the exhibition of pattern hats and bonnets at Mrs. Tebbett's millinery establishment on Friday, and were unanimously of the opinion that the display was magnificent. The "opening" will include to-day, when the inspection by the ladies of the various styles of bonnets and hats, laces, flowers, ribbons, feathers, fancy ornaments, etc., which have been selected by Mrs. Tebbetts, will be continued.

The barbers of this city are already making arrangements for a grand picnic when the weather becomes warm enough, to be on a much more extensive scale than any previous one. There is talk of having Revees' American band, of Providence, R. I., to enliven the occasion.

Mr. Charles M. Marston, employed at chopping wood on the Langdon farm, South road, a few days ago chopped off about half the forefinger of his left hand, and has not chopped any wood since.

The Portsmouth Machine Co. have recently had a gang of men at work in Waterborough, Me., putting steam heating apparatus into the extensive car shops at that place. The work done is acknowleged to be the best ever done in that vicinity.

Mr. Daniel Mason is putting up a building of considerable size on the made ground on the easterly side of the Vaughan street extension, near the Raynes shipyard. It is intended for the storage of lumber sawed at his mill.

Postmaster Varrell of York was in town on Thursday last.

The Sagamore Camping & Hunting club have elected officers as follows: President, John McCarthy; vice president, Arthur Freeman; treasurer, Calvin D. Lear; secretary, Samuel Gardner, Jr.; janitor, Henry Spinney. The finances of the club are reported to be in a satisfactory condition. It has been voted to increase the membership to twenty, for which increase there are plenty of applicants. Only four of the original members remain.

The classical concert by the Nowell Brothers, appointed to be given in Music hall on Wednesday evening, the 27th inst. has been postponed on acount of the Nompareil Associates' ball in Franklin hall being set down for the same date. The Nowell Brothers it is said have given notice that half the proceeds of the concert will be donated to the monument fund.

Comdr. John F. McGlensey has been ordered to the Portsmouth navy yard as equipment officer.

A fire at three o'clock in the morning on the 21st inst. destroyed the old town farm buildings in Stratham, owned by B. F. Folsom and occupied by Charles Gove. All the personal property, carriages and farming tools were destroyed. Loss on house about $1000, and same on personal property. No insurance on either.

Passed Asst. Surgeon A. C. Heffenger has been ordered to superintend the improvements at Widow's island, Maine.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Rev. J. C. Jaynes of West Newton, Mass., will preach in the Unitarian church to-morrow.

The subject of the sermon at the Universalist church to-morrow is "Truthfulness." No evening service.

Rev. L. H. Fisher will speak from the Court street pulpit at 2:45 to-morrow afternoon; subject, "Letter and Spirit."

Rev. W. A. McGinley will preach in the North church to-morrow evening at 7:30 o'clock, to young men; subject, "The Battle of Life."

Sudden Death.

Mrs. Mercy M. Moulton, wife of Mr. Sylvester Moulton, of Eliot, died suddenly on Thursday evening, 21st inst. She had attended a concert at the East Eliot Methodist Church, accompanied by her son. After the concert she left the church and walked to the Methodist parsonage, where she intended to get into her carriage to return home. On arriving at the parsonage, she complained of being tired, and went in and sat down upon the sofa, and died within fifteen minutes. She had been troubled with heart complaint, and that was doubtless the cause of her death. Her age was 65 years and one month. She was a member of the Methodist church, and highly esteemed in the society and by a large circle of acquaintances.

Mr. John Paine is putting up a cottage on Brattle street, Great Works, South Berwick.

Mr. Wm. D. Carpenter, late of the firm of Hale & Carpenter, known as the York Woollen mills, South Berwick, has started business in the old place, and it will soon be in full operation.

Those wool worsted suitings in plain and mixed colorings, are the very best. No. 6 Market street. J. W. Moses.

OPENING!

MRS. TEBBETTS

Cordially Invites the Ladies of Portsmouth and Vicinity to Her Exhibition of

Pattern Hats and Bonnets,

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY,

April 22d and 23d.

14 MARKET STREET.

The death is announced at Winchester, Mass., on the 20th inst., of Mrs. Mary Ann Bridge, formerly of Hampton Falls, where her husband, the late Rev. A. M. Bridge, was for a number of years the Unitarian minister.

The general manager of the New England Telphome Co. has consolidated the management of Portsmouth, Great Falls, Exeter and Dover. Instead of four managers there will be only one in future, and that official will be D. F. Smith of Hartford, Conn., one of the most experienced electricians in the country. Thos. Varrell, late night operator at Dover, has been transferred to this city, and will be probably succeeded in Dover by Mr. Perkins, a former night operator there.

The tickets for the annual ball of the Nonpareil Associates in Franklin hall next Wednesday evening, the net proceeds of which will go to the monument fund, are selling rapidly, and like the previous affairs of the kind under the management of the Associates, this one will be a great success. The $100 voted by the association to the monument fund is entirely independent of what may be secured from the ball.

That Tired Feeling

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." H. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N. Y.

THE BEST IN THE WORLD

Newspapers in 1887.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co., of New York, will issue on Monday, May 2nd, the nineteenth annual edition of their standard publication, the "American Newspaper Directory."

The new volume contains an exhaustive list of all class publications so admirably arranged that any one of the three thousand papers represented there can be readily referred to, and all important facts concerning it, together with its circulation rating, easily obtained.

The Newspaper Directory will be used principally by publishers, advertisers and advertising agents, but the vast fund of information it contains makes it valuable to persons of almost every trade and profession. As a gazetteer alone it is worth the price charged, $5.00, for it fully describes every town in which a newspaper is issued, and few people care to know about any place where one is not.

The number of papers published in the United States, territories (including Alaska) and Canada is put at 15,420; an increase of 581 in one year.

The growth of newspapers in some of the western states would be a matter of wonder, if it were not that this year is no exception to the rule. In Kansas the increase is eighty-nine, and in Nebraska sixty-four; while the Keystone state shows a smaller advance of thirty-five, and the Buckeye state of thirty. Pennsylvania exhibits the largest increase in dailies, seventeen; Kansas in weeklies, eighty-one, and New York in monthlies, forty-two. Seven states show decrease: the most prominent instances being New Hampshire and Virginia, six each. The whole volume shows that great care has been taken to sustain its reputation as the most comprehensive work of the kind yet published, and to insure accuracy in every detail. Any thing less than a complete compendium of American newspapers and periodicals would surprise those who are familiar with the former efforts of this firm, who are so well known as the oldest, largest and best known of all the American advertising agencies.

The supreme court has set aside the jury verdict of $6500 recently given to Mrs. Julia Coffey of Nashua, administratrix, in her suit against the Nashua & Worcester railroad, and fixed the sum at $5000.

Whiskey marked as vinegar, and on which the duty if imported as whiskey would have been $15,000 more than it paid as vinegar, has been seized at Montreal. It was imported from the United States by a Quebec firm.

Queen Kapeolani, of the Hawaiian kingdom, arrived at San Francisco from Honolulu on the steamer Australia. She was accompanied by Princess Lilliuokalani and a number of high officials of the Hawaiian government. She is on her way to Queen Victoria's jubilee celebration in London in June.

The New York yacht club will build a yacht to contest for the honor of defending the America's cup.

Story of a Postal Card.

I was affected with kidney and urinary Trouble—
"For twelve years!"
After trying all the doctors and patent medicines I could hear of, I used two bottles of Hop "Bitters;"
And I am perfectly cured. I keep it "all the time."
Respectfully, B. F. BOOTH, Saulsbury, Tenn. May 4, 1881.

BRADFORD, PA., May 8, 1885.

It has cured me of several diseases, such as nervousness, sickness at the stomach, monthly troubles, etc. I have not seen a sick day in years, since I took Hop Bitters. All my neighbors use them. MRS. FANNIE GREEN.

ASHBURNHAM, MASS., Jan. 15, 1880.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I should never die in peace till I had tried Hop Bitters. When I had taken two bottles they helped me very much indeed. When I had taken two more bottles I was well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they cured me, and they used them and were cured and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.

Yours truly, MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

"Monroe, Mich., Sept. 2'th, 1885. SIRS:—I have been taking Hop Bitters for inflammation of kidneys and bladder. It has done for me "what four physicians failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Bitters seemed like magic to me. W. L. CARTER.

GENTS:—Your Hop Bittery have been of great value to me. I was laid up with typhoid fever for over two months, and could get no relief until I tried your Hop Bitters. To these suffering from debility, or any one in feeble health, I cordially recommend them. J. C. STORTZEL.

Can You Answer This?

Is there a person living who ever saw a case of ague, biliousness, nervousness or neuralgia, or any disease of the stomach, liver or kidneys that Hop Bitters will not cure?

NEW WORDS TO AULD LANG SYNE.

Come bring the soul filled beaker now,
We'll drink to other years,
To friendships hallowed by "lang syne,"
And loves embalmed in tears.
To loves embalmed in tears, my friend,
Where only smiles once shone,
We'll drink the loves of other days
And call them "still our own."

We'll think upon the grass bid mounds
The silent, sacred spots
Where o'er the heads of cherished ones,
Bloom blue "forget-me-nots."
We'll drink to the dead and absent ones;
To friends we used to know;
To many a hand that clasped our own
Beloved of long ago.

We know not which shall fall asleep
The first: whose call the first shall be
Whether my tears for you shall fall,
Or you bend over me;
We only know that each can say
Here sleeps a heart truth called its own.
God keep it pure and happy still,

PICK DAVIS' MAGNETIC TABLE.

A Piece of Furniture on Which the Owner Won Thousands.

For ten years past there has stood in the corner of the billiard room of the principal hotel in this town a rickety old card table. Its worthlessness caused it to remain in the place during the changes of the hotel's many proprietorships. It was a round table covered with an old gray army blanket, tacked to the edge through a long strip of leather. At regular distances were four pieces of tin clumsily nailed down for the players to lay their lighted cigars on. In late years its four rudely made legs were so shaky that no one cared to teeter his chips on the table, and it was chiefly used by the guests to throw their coats and hats on when they went to their meals. For a long time the present proprietor always said when he looked at the table that he "intended to clear it out to-morrow and get a new one," but somehow this was not done until lately; perhaps then only because people began to tear their coats on the nails, and their impromptu remarks on the subject tended to complicate matters.

It was after a double barrel explosion of this kind the other day that the proprietor told his bartender to cut the cover off the table and make kindling wood of the unused thing. The bartender whipped out his wife and began to carve the blanket. He had just made one savage slash and had started a second when his knife struck against something metallic. He then ripped the cover off and found a steel plate nine inches long and six inches wide, which was set flush into the table. The plate was about a foot from the edge and pierced with a dozen holes. Every one wondered what it was for, and an old townsman remembered that the table had been brought there from Virginia City years ago, and presumed it was used in the early days to play some kind of cribbage. When the table began to be chopped up a light was thrown on the character of the table; for underneath the top, concealed on a little shelf by one of the legs, were a small battery, coils of wire and some complicated machinery connected with one of the tin plates. These were covered with rust and dust.

Then the old townsman woke up and remembered seeing in days gone by a man named Pick Davis win $7,000 at dice on that very table, from a cattle man, in about fifteen seconds, besides picking up sundry thousands and hundreds at other times from those who were generally inclined. Two drinks also caused the old townsman to suddenly recollect that Davis came down to Muscel Slough—as Hanford was called then—from Virginia City with a big reputation as a "dip chucker," and the boys came in from far and near to buck him. It was said that Davis had won over $100,000 at dice in the mines, where he was called "Lucky Pick." As he was not found out in his play he is alive to-day, but he has changed his name and owns a big ranch in the San Joaquin valley. So it is seen that one way to wealth and respectability has been for a "sure thing man," in the discovery of a magnetic outfit to do up people with dice, and not to get caught because he got in his work single handed.—Hanford (Cal.) Cor. New York Sun.

Endurance of Railroad Ties.

The supply of railroad ties is a matter of growing importance for the New England farmer, and certain experiments made at the suggestion of Professor Sargent by the Boston and Providence railroad have an important bearing on it. Fifty-two ties were laid in December, 1878, on a track in Boston where the traffic is very heavy, having an average of sixty-five trains daily. Ten kinds of wood were tried, five in the natural state and five creosoted. None of the ties rotted, except one of the ailantus; the others that had to be removed had been injured by the hammering of the trains. Spruce, hemlock, larch and southern pine have all suffered badly in this way. White oak lasted well, but it holds the spikes so firmly that they cannot be drawn when the rails have to be shifted. Creosoted elm and birch did well, and are to be recommended. Chestnut was, unfortunately, not included in the experiment, although it is considered one of the best woods for ties. The behavior of the catalpa was one of the most interesting features of the case; it has been highly spoken of for ties on account of its practical indestructibility when placed in the soil, and all the ties of this wood here tried are still sound, except just under the rails, where they are crushed nearly to pulp, so as to be of no service whatever for roads of heavy traffic.—Science.

Catarrh to Consumption.

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with the fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Impotent remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful palliatives.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and conquered with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting are affected as to be useless, the uvula so elongated, the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive cases. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Each package contains one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and an IMPROVED INHALER, with treatise; price, $1.

The Atlanta Constitution, the leading democratic paper of Georgia, says: "Among thinking men everywhere the opinion is growing that the interstate commerce law is one of the rawest and rashest experiments that congress has ever made. Thus far it has helped nobody, and the possibility is that, if the commission were to permit it to go into effect, its operations would create as much confusion and disaster—as much loss and suffering—as a financial panic. The Constitution was opposed to the Reagan bill on the ground that it was a piece of paternalism that democrats could not afford to father, but the present affair is infinitely worse than the Reagan bill would have been."

MARITIME NOTES.

Among the charters reported last week were a schooner from Baltimore to Boston with 200 tons coal, at $1.10 per ton; one from Baltimore to Portsmouth with 800 tons, at $1; one from Perth Amboy to Boston with 300 tons, and another with 500 tons, at ninety cents; one from Perth Amboy to Portsmouth with 600 tons, at ninety-five cents.

Work was commenced on Friday of last week at making whatever repairs were needed on the floating stage and brow for the steamboat landing at Appledore; and on Saturday the work of getting the steamer Appledore in thorough trim for commencing the season's business was begun. Warren Keen is superintending the operations.

The brick carrying schooners have got fairly down to their work, and if grass gathers on their bottoms it will not be because they are not kept moving. The Hattie J. The Hattie Lewis and Chilion arrived from Boston on the 20th, and on the 23d were ready to sail again, loaded. The Triton arrived from Boston on the 21st, and the Clara B. Kennard on the 22d; and the D. K. Ham, which arrived early in the week from Boston with a consignment of salt to Randall & Caswell, sailed for Boston with a load of bricks on the 22d.

President Cleveland says he does not wish to take any chances of being a candidate for re-election, and the mugwumps may as well be satisfied with his acts. This will save our experienced brother of the Times the trouble of administering any further political rebukes to Joshua Foster, who is inclined at times to be obstreperous. Now, Joshua, take your seat and behave yourself.

The subject in the Universalist church yesterday was "Truthfulness;" the text, John 8:32, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." Truth, in speech, or in written form, is the correspondence of a statement with the fact it covers. If one is in possession of a fact, and by statement or writing covers that fact, he spreads the truth. Truthfulness is the correspondence of your statement with your idea, or conception of the fact. Truthfulness is a perfect unison between the deepest convictions of one's mind, and his utterances. Truth is the sovereign good of human nature. God has so made man that only in accordance with truth can he live. That which is governed by falsehood is not life. It is slavery to a monster that God's universe cannot long tolerate. It is unnatural. It must die. It will wither under the full light of God's presence. Lord Bacon says: "The first creature of God was the light of the sense, the last was the light of reason, and his Sabbath work ever since is the illumination of his spirit." So truth is not only expressed in speech, but in action. Every action to be truthful must stand the eternal illumination of God's spirit.

does not refer possible purchasers to his victims. The Athlophoros Co. gladly refers sufferers from rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, nervous or sick headache, kidney and liver complaints to those who have been cured of these diseases by Athlophoros, and will furnish names and addresses of many such persons to those desiring them. Athlophoros is the only remedy for these diseases that can stand such a test.

Hinsdale, N. H., May 18, 1886.

Of all medicines that claim to cure rheumatism there is only one that will or can do it and that one is Athlophoros. I have for years been troubled with muscular rheumatism, at times so severe as to keep me in bed for 14 or 15 weeks at a time, taking all kinds of medicine, none of which would give me more than temporary relief. The last time I was down I commenced to use Athlophoros; the first bottle got me out of bed in quick order. I was then able to get around on crutches, a second bottle I am happy to say laid away the crutches, and I shall never need them again, for in case I should ever be troubled again with rheumatism I can get a cure in Athlophoros. NORMAN HOWE.

Amesbury, Mass., March 3, 1886.

After suffering with inflammatory rheumatism for six years, and having tried everything with no result, I was one day induced to try Athlophoros; it was a last resort; in three hours after the first dose there was such a change for the better, that my friends were surprised; in all I took two bottles, and to-day I am hale and hearty, no sign of rheumatism about me. With such a simple and effective cure, the day must soon come when that dread disease will be a thing of the past.

J. F. MAHONEY.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athiophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

SUPREME COURT--APRIL TERM.

SATURDAY, 23d; Bingham J.

In case Cate vs. Northwood, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff.

In Jenkins vs. Newmarket, begun on Friday, the evidence had not concluded at the adjournment on Saturday. Trial to be resumed Monday morning, 25th.

DeRochemont of Newington vs. Boston & Maine railroad, suit for damages claimed by reason of filling bridge between the plaintiff's land and the river, is to be tried on Tuesday.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

FRIDAY, April 22d.

Harry Wentworth of Rochester was arraigned upon charge of larceny of a horse and buggy belonging to R. H. Beacham & Son of this city. From Wentworth's story it appeared that he hired the horse and buggy of Beacham, and drove about Strafford county trying to sell the team. As it appeared that there was stronger evidence of a felonious conversion in Strafford than in Rockingham, counsel for the prosecution asked for a continuance until the Strafford county officers were consulted with. The case was continued to Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, Wentworth being held in custody.

SATURDAY, April 23d.

Harry Wentworth, larceny of horse, carriage and harness from R. H. Beacham & Son, had his case again continued, to Monday afternoon.

A RAILROAD MOVE.

Col. Charles A. Sinclair of this city has taken the option of a purchase of a majority of the shares of the Manchester & Lawrence railroad, at an advance of the market price. The move is not made at the instance of any railroad corporation. Col. Sinclair as the administrator of the estate of the late J. W. Johnson is a large holder, and he has taken the right to purchase of the estate of the late Asa Fowler and of E. A. Abbot of Concord, and also of leading stockholders in Manchester, including Hon. S. N. Bell and George B. Chandler, and the larger holders in this city and Exeter, for reasons of his own. The Manchester & Lawrence is operated by the Concord railroad, under a business contract, the supreme court having decided that a lease to the Concord was illegal.

OBITUARY.

Mr. John Hennessey, who died in this city on the 22d inst. at the age of thirty-eight years and nine months, was a native of Portsmouth, having been born in a house on Vaughan street. In 1868 he left Portsmouth, and travelled through Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Canada, being absent about ten years. After his return he was a stevedore on the Concord railroad wharf for six years. He was elected a member of the police force in 1885, and assigned to the north-end beat in company with Officer Watkins. During his term of service he was a popular officer, and accomplished his duty satisfactorily; though a strong partisan he never hesitated to perform whatever acts his official position demanded. He was compelled to resign from the force some time ago through illness, having been stricken with consumption, which disease caused his death. His funeral took place on Sunday and was very numerously attended, a large and beautiful floral cross being contributed by the coal handlers with whom he formerly worked.

Mrs. Dorcas Caswell, who died in Rye on Monday, April 18th, at the advanced age of ninety-three years and five months, was the oldest person in the town. She was the widow of Michael Caswell, and had lived for many years in a small cottage near Foss' beach. She had good health and was very active and industrious, attending to all her household duties until within a few days of her death, when she was stricken with paralysis. She was very proficient in the old-fashioned art of spinning, and the hum of the wheel was often heard in her quiet home. This spinning of yarn from rolls of wool was not only a source of income to her, but an attractive curiosity to many of her visitors, of whom during the summer seasons, when the hotels and boarding houses were full, she has for years had large numbers. She has left one daughter and three sons, and other descendants down to the fifth generation. Although she has lived alone most of the time of late years, her children have always had a watchful care for her comfort and welfare. Her daughter, Mrs. Bird, who resides in Chelsea, Mass., had many times kindly insisted that her mother should come and live with her, but the old lady preferred her humble home, surrounded by kind neighbors and friends whom she had always known. Her funeral on Thursday, the 21st, was largely attended by friends and relatives, Rev. L. W. Phillips officiating. Thus has passed away one who has left many pleasant memories, and whose blameless and useful life extended over nearly a century. E.

The remains of the late Capt. George W. Towle arrived in this city Saturday forenoon, accompanied by his son, Col. George F. Towle. The funeral services took place Sunday afternoon in Masonic hall, the obsequies being conducted by De Witt Clinton Commandery of Knights Templar. Capt. Towle in 1843 was worshipful master of St. John's lodge of Masons, withdrawing some years later to become a charter member of St. Andrew's lodge, and both lodges were numerously represented at the funeral, which was also attended by New Hampshire lodge of Odd Fellows, of which he was a member, and by survivors in this city and vicinity of Co. G, 10th N. H. Vols., which Capt. Towle commanded during the war. Masonic hall was packed with those desirous of paying their tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased.

This was the first funeral that ever took place in this city from Masonic hall, and all Masonic observances were duly carried out. The beautiful and impressive burial service of the Knights Templar was performed in the hall, and at its close the procession, consisting of De Witt Clinton commandry, St. Andrew's and St. John's lodges combined, New Hampshire lodge of Odd Fellows, and the war veterans of Co. G, escorted the remains to the south cemetery, where the body was laid. The funeral was conducted in accordance with express written instructions of Capt. Towle, made but a few weeks prior to his decease. On Sunday forenoon, and up to the hour set for the funeral, hundreds of brethren of the mystic tie visited the hall to look for the last time on the features of one who for half a century had been prominent and active in the order.

On the casket laid a wreath contributed by the survivors of Co. G, with "Co. G." worked in raised letters in immortelles; a square and compass of evergreen and Mayflowers, sent by J. W. Eaton of Seabrook; and another wreath contributed by the Odd Fellows.

The following surviving members of Co. G, 10th Regt. N. N. Vols., were present at the funeral: Simon R. Marston, Meshech Bell, John H. Carlton, Richard Fitzgeasld, Walter Gray, Charles L. Hoyt, B. Stowe Laskey, Charles H. Muchmore, Edward B. Prime and Edwin O. Randall.

Bro. John Christie, 33°, who instituted St. Andrew's lodge, officiated as chaplain at the funeral of Bro. Towle, who was the last surviving charter member of St. Andrew's lodge.

W. K. Hill, manager of the Rockingham, arrived home on Saturday morning, having been summoned by telegraph on account of the serious illness of his daughter. Mr. Hill's many friends will be pleased to know that the child's sickness has taken a favorable turn, and that her recovery is probable.

Dr. Jeremiah F. Hall and wife arrived home on Saturday from a winter's sojourn in Colorado.

There was a very large audience at Music hall on Saturday evening to see the Dalys in "Vacation," it being impossible to get a seat down stairs after eight o'clock.

On Saturday evening Capt. M. T. Betton was elected chief marshal for Memorial day.

Col. Charles A. Sinclair is the sixth subscriber of $100 to the $1000 fund for the soldiers' and sailors' monument, conditional on the basis that ten subscriptions of $100 each be given to the fund, the other five subscribers being as follows: A lady, Islington street; Dr. Frederick E. Potter; J. W. P. and friend; Kansas City Investment Co.; and Nonpareil Associates.

The public library, after an interregnum of several weeks, opened for the issue of books on Wednesday, April 20th, in the new quarters at Congress hall. The call for books was unusually large, and the comments on the change of location were very favorable for the present one.

It is reported that Mr. Levi W. Marden, formerly a police officer and recently driver of one of the city teams, has become insane.

The steamer James Sampson will commence her trips for the summer season between this city and Kittery Point, by way of Newcastle, on the 1st of May.

The Portsmouth correspondent of the Boston Record tells the following story: "Recently a son of the Emerald isle came up for naturalization in the circuit court at Portsmouth. It appeared that for several years after his advent to New Hampshire he had been employed by Harry Bingham of Littleton, the widely known New Hampshire expounder of democracy. District Judge Clark endeavored to ascertain how much the candidate knew concerning the government he was about to make oath to support. 'Why do you wish to become a citizen of the United States instead of any other country?' inquired the judge. 'So I can vote the dimmeracratic ticket,' quoth the coming citizen. 'Well,' said the judge, 'I don't care what ticket you vote. I want to find what you know about our form of government.' It was suggested that a man who had lived with Harry Bingham, on coming into the country, would doubtless acquire a fat more certain knowledge as to which ticket he should vote than of the constitution and laws under which he purposed to live. He was admitted to citizenship."

Capt. Joseph Brown, who died at Kensington April 18th at the age of eighty-six, was of the fifth generation in direct line of the descendants of John Brown, one of the settlers of Hampton, who removed to that town from Lynn or Salem, Mass., in 1638.

Spring Medicine

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

I had the rheumatism in my left shoulder for two years, and in three days after using Athlophoros the pain was gone. I had the sciatica in my right leg all winter, and the medicine has driven that pain away also. Chas. Metcalf, North Adams, Mass.

The May number of the "Eclectic" offers, as the opening article, a highly readable presentation of the labor question, by W. H. Mallock, under the name "Wealth and the Working Classes." "The Effects of Civilization on Women," from the National Review, is a paper full of meat. "Home Rule and Imperial Unity," by Lord Thwing, treats the subject, so hot now in English legislation, from the point of view opposed to Parnellism. The account of Emin Pasha, to rescue whom Stanley has gone on his last African expedition, is germane to the times. The Marquis of Lorne discusses the fisheries dispute. Several interesting literary articles are found in the number. An account of Cyril Tourneur, by Algernon Charles Swinburne; "Leon Gozlan," by Evelyn Jerrold, and a study of Rossetti, by William Sharp, the latter of which is specially readable. A very powerful story of Russian life and nihilism, by Andre Hope, "A Terrible Night," will attract comment. Among the poems of the number the Earl of Rosslyn pays a tribute to the queen on the occasion of her jubilee year, under the title of "Love that Lasts for Aye." Other papers are: "The Joy of Living," by Grant Allen, and "Transylvania People," by E. Gerard. Among the interesting short papers are: 'The Genesis of the Elements," "The True Story of 'Pickwick'," and "The Conduct of Age." The number is thoroughly a good one, and packed with the most instructive and entertaining matter. Published by E. R. Pelton, 25 Bond street, New York.

Cured of a Diseased Spine.

T. J. Gilson, a leading druggist of Olean, N. Y., was cured of a diseased spine that had troubled him for some years by using eight Allcock's Porous Plasters. He says:

I take pleasure in recommending them to all afflicted, for they not only cured me, but I have known them to cure many of my customers of rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney difficulties, pulmonary troubles, and local pains arising from bruises, colds or congestions.

Bob Ford, the slayer of Jesse James, has spent all the money that he may have received for doing the deed and also all that he may have made by exhibiting himself in dime museums, and is now a waiter in a restaurant at Sante Fe, New Mexico.

John P. Sweetser,

The Dover Times of last week remarks: "Daniel Crowley of Portsmouth sometime ago emptied a kerosene oil can upon his wife, and touched her off with a match. In consequence of this novel and slightly harsh treatment, Mrs. Crowley died, and her husband was arrested on a charge of murder. Arraigned in court at Exeter the other day, Mr. Crowley pleaded guilty of manslaughter, but asked that the court deal gently with him, considering the fact that although he burned his wife in form and manner alleged, the woman was really good for little else but burning, having been for years an inveterate and outrageously indecent drunkard. Citizens of Portsmouth joined in the petition for clemency, and the judge, taking a view of the case of which we prefer not to express an opinion lest we be guilty of contempt of court, sentenced the man to eighteen months imprisonment at Concord."

Indigestion, Acute and Atonic Dyspepsia, Chronic and Gastro-Intestinal Catarrh, Vomiting in Pregnancy, Cholera Infantum, and in convalescence from Acute Diseases.

Over 5,000 physicians have sent to us the most flattering opinions upon Digestylin as a remedy for all diseases arising from improper diet-tion.

For 20 years we have manufactured the Digestive Ferments expressly for PHYSICIANS' use, and for the past year DIGESTYLIN has been by them extensively prescribed, and to-day it stands without a rival as a digestive agent. It is not a secret remedy but a scientific preparation, the formula of which is plainly printed on each bottle. Its great DIGESTIVE POWER is created by a careful and proper treatment of the ferments in manufacture. It is very agreeable to the taste, and acceptable to the most delicate stomach. Story of a Postal Card.

"For twelve years!"
After trying all the doctors and patent medicines I could hear of, I used two bottles of Hop "Bitters;"
And I am perfectly cured. I keep it "All the time!"
Respectfully, B. F. BOOTH, Saulsbury, Tenn.
May 4, 1885.

BRADFORD, PA., May 8, 1885.

It has cured me of several diseases, such as nervousness, sickness at the stomach, monthly troubles, etc. I have not seen a sick day in years, since I took Hop Bitters. All my neighbors use them. MRS. FANNIE GREEN.

ASHBURNHAM, MASS., Jan. 15, 1886.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I should never die in peace till I had tried Hop Bitters. When I had taken two bottles they helped me very much indeed. When I had taken two more bottles I was well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they cured me, and they used them and were cured and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.

Yours truly, MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

$3,000 Cost.

"A tour to Europe that cost me $3,000, done less "good than one bottle of Hop Bitters; they also "cured my wife of fifteen years' nervous weakness, sleeplessness and dyspepsia."—Mr. R. M., Auburn, N. Y.

Baby Saved.

We are so thankful to say that our nursing baby was permanently cured of a dangerous and protracted constipation and irregularity of the bowels by the use of Hop Bitters by its nursing mother, which at the same time restored her to perfect health and strength.—The Parents, Rochester, N. Y.

☞ Unhealthy or inactive kidneys cause gravel, "Bright's disease, rheumatism and a horde of other serious and fatal diseases, which can be prevented with Hop Bitters," if taken in time.

"Ludlington, Mich., Feb. 2, 1885. I have sold Hop Bitters for ten years, and there" is no medicine that equals them for bilious attacks, kidney complaints, and all diseases incident to this malarial climate. H. T. ALEXANDER.

"Monroe, Mich., Sept. 24th, 1885. SIRS:—I have been taking Hop Bitters for inflammation of kidneys and bladder. It has done for me "what four physicians failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Bitters seemed like magic to me. W. L. CARTER.

GENTS:—Your Hop Bittery have been of great value to me. I was laid up with typhoid fever for over two months, and could get no relief until I used your Hop Bitters. To those suffering from debility, or any one in feeble health, I cordially recommend them. J. C. STOETZEL.
635 Fulton street, Chicago, Ill.

Can You Answer This?

Is there a person living who ever saw a case of ague, biliousness, nervousness or neuralgia, or any disease of the stomach, liver or kidneys that Hop Bitters will not cure?

"My Mother says Hop Bitters is the only thing that will keep her from severe attacks of paralysis and headache.—Ed. Oswego Sun.

"My little sickly, puny baby, was changed into a great bouncing boy, and I was raised from a sick bed by using Hop Bitters a short time." A YOUNG MOTHER.

The Making of Mirrors.

There are three kinds of mirrors known to commerce—the French plate, the German plate and the common American glass, usually called "shocks." The latter can be told by their tendency to plant the nose well around toward the ear, or a more or less successful effort to get both eyes in the same place. The German plate is imported in regular sizes, already silvered. It is a very thin but generally perfect glass, and comes about one-fifth cheaper than the French plate, which is used altogether for first class mirrors. The difference can be told by pressing the finger on the face of the glass, by which the thickness can readily be perceived. There are three factories in the United States manufacturing plate glass, but none of them has yet succeeded in securing the necessary whiteness and freedom from bubbles. Imperfections that are not noticeable in clear plate become very prominent when silvered. "Silvering quality" glass, as it is known, is carefully selected by the French manufacturers and sold for that purpose, commanding a higher price than the balance of the product.

There are two different processes of silvering, mercury being used for one and nitrate of silver for the other. The latter are known as "patent backs," although not patented, and are generally replacing mercury on account of the greatly decreased risk in handling. In the former process a sheet of tinfoil, somewhat larger than the mirror wanted, is placed upon a level table, the bed of which is of glass or marble, and which must be absolutely clean and free from even the slightest scratch. Strips of glass are then placed on the edges of the foil to prevent the mercury from running off. As much mercury as the inclosure will hold is then poured over the foil, after which the plate is floated on and entirely covered with heavy iron weights. The table is then tilted and the surplus mercury drains off, after which they are stood on edge to dry, which requires from one to two weeks. In making a "patent back" the glass is laid on a table, underneath which is a steam coil. The nitrate of silver in solution is then poured on, a gentle heat applied and the silver precipitated. The back is then painted and the mirror is complete. Either process requires a great amount of skill and care. Absolute cleanliness is imperatively necessary in every part of the work. Distilled water is used in cleaning the plate preparatory to silvering, and a drop of perspiration or dust spoils the work.—Globe-Democrat.

Dutch Care of Birds.

The worthy Dutchmen who settled on the banks of the Hudson were more hospitable to birds than their descendants have shown themselves to be. They not only let the birds alone, but encouraged them to build their nests about the houses. These wise settlers knew that the birds would pay for their protection by feeding on the insects that swarm in a new country.

Each large Dutch house had a portico, floored like a room, open at the sides, with seats all around. Above a slight roof, painted like an awning, or a covering of lattice work, over which a transplanted wild grape vine spread its luxuriant leaves.

Here hundreds of little birds domesticated, occupying a small shelf built round the portico, where they were as sacred as the household gods of the Romans. Children and slaves were taught to regard them as the good genii of the family, who were to be cherished, but not disturbed.

In clearing the ground for a house a tree was always left in the middle of the backyard for the use of the birds. The negroes, quick to imitate their masters, used old hats to form asylums for their little feathered friends. The deal fences were also utilized by the negroes to furnish homes for the birds. On the stakes, to which the deals were nailed, were stuck the skeleton heads of horses and cattle, the jaws being fixed in the poles so that the skulls should be uppermost.

In those days there were no pot hunters. The small birds were so tame that when the family were breakfasting or drinking tea in the air portico—a summer custom—they constantly glided over the table with some insect to feed their young chirping above.—Youth's Companion.

What a Woman Can Do.

There is no doubt that woman can, if she will, qualify herself to do anything that a man can do; for no "physiologist will question the possibility of developing by appropriate stimuli, exercise and food, any particular part or parts of an organism in such a manner as to make it respond to the demand of its environment;" and it must, therefore, be theoretically possible that the woman shall be developed in respect to any one or more of her organic potentialities to a level with the male. But she must do so at the expense of some other power, and this is usually at the sacrifice of some function that makes her valuable as a woman. The real question in the matter is whether it is worth while to pay so great a price for the privilege.—London Lancet.

A Remedy in Old Age.

A swell English tourist, who last summer was making a trip down the Hudson in a day steamer to New York, was evidently induced by two hooded society young men of that city to make the river trip, as they hoped to impress him with the beautiful scenery of that picturesque stream. When passing through the Highlands his attention was called to the romantic location of West Point. "Aw, that's vewy nice, but not remawkable." "Have you seen Niagara-falls?" inquired one of the gentlemen. "I saw the cataract of Niagara last week," answered the Englishman. "How did that impress you?" asked the young New Yorker. "Vewy fine, but it might be improved, you know. Age will do that; this is a young country, you know."—Exchange.

LOST PUBLIC MEN.

What the Death of So Many Great Men Means—Are We As a Nation in Danger?

"America is losing its prominent men very fast," was the remark of a well known Englishman who is now visiting this country, and he was right. Sumner Wilson, Phillips, Washburn, Carpenter and a host of others have departed, and John A. Logan has just passed away. But has it never occurred to the reader that the cause of the deaths of these public men was in every case the same? And has it occurred to you that Manning, Butler, Blaine and a host of others are treading the same sad road? The great American scourge, to-day, is kidney disease and it is by no means confined to public men. Thousands of men whom we see every day have inherited it from their parents and do not know it. Innumerable women who are AMERICA'S LOSS, delicate are afflicted with it at this moment, and think it is simply "weakness." Little children whose kidneys have been injured by scarlet fever are suffering from it, usually unknown to their parents. Its symptoms are a tired feeling and a desire to sleep; a pale complexion; uncertain appetite; faintness at the pit of the stomach; shifting pains, sometimes in the back, sometimes in the limbs, and again in the head; plentiful or scanty urine, with a scum on top or a sediment and brick dust in the bottom; a burning sensation in passing and skin hot at times and clammy at others. Any one of these things indicate disordered kidneys, which are the first stage of Bright's disease. They must be checked.

Capt. Greenwood, of the steamer Kanawha, had these troubles in an aggravated form; he used Hunt's Remedy and is in perfect health to-day.

Rev. Charles Pike, of Waterbury, Ct., was greatly reduced in the same manner and "suffered severely." He used Hunt's Remedy and was cured.

Mrs. Alexander L. Nichols, of Phenix, R. I., after passing through all the suffering which any woman is ever called upon to endure, was cured by Hunt's Remedy. CAPT. GREENWOOD.

The son of Cornelius B. Smith, of the State Department at Albany, N. Y., was given up to die by no less than four physicians, but was cured by Hunt's Remedy. These instances could be prolonged indefinitely.

Two things are certain. First—kidney troubles, which always end in Bright's disease unless checked, are fearfully prevalent. Second—They can be cured by using the remedy above named. With these truths in view, why men and women will be so heedless and allow symptoms to run along until they end in agony or death we cannot understand. We certainly advise all to think carefully on this subject and act without delay.

Don't Get Caught

This spring with your blood full of impurities, your digestion impaired, your appetite poor, kidneys and liver torpid, and whole system liable to be prostrated by disease—but get yourself into good condition, and ready for the changing and warmer weather, by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It stands unequalled for purifying the blood, giving an appetite, and for a general spring medicine.

Capt. Ben Richardson, who owns about half of Harlem, and is several times a millionaire, has been swindled to the tune of $10,000 by the "gold brick" trick. The gilded copper bars which he thought were worth $10,000, are now at the assay office on exhibition. The eccentric captain is much chagrined at his mishap. The swindlers have not been traced.

Mr. Cleveland's Second Term.

The latest position of the president upon the question of a re-nomination appears to be that he will pose as a Barkis willing to have greatness thrust upon him. His attitude reminds us of a story of a democratic official who many years ago ran one of the towns in the remote part of the county. He proceeded on one occasion to draw a juror, to attend what was known in those days as the Court of Common Pleas. The first name drawn was that of A—. "Well," said the official, "he can't go; he's got a sick wife," and he threw the paper on the floor. The next drawn was B—. "Good gracious," asserted the purveyor for the palladium of our liberties, "he can't go down to Portsmouth; he's got to stay at home and take care of his mortgage," and he was out of the question. The third name drawn was that of the functionary himself. "Well," said he, "I'm drawn. I suppose I shall have to serve!"

The Perils of the Canvassed.

George Washington, when a youngster, surveying Fairfax county, canvassed as a book agent. Daniel Webster earned one term's tuition at Dartmouth as a book agent in Merrimac county for "Tocqueville's America." Gen. Grant tried Irving's Columbus after he first left the army. R. B. Hayes was engaged in the pious labor of disposing of Baxter's "Lives of the Saints." Mr. Blaine canvassed Washington county, Penn., to sell the life of "Henry Clay, the millboy of the Slashes." Bismarck at Heidleburg became hard up for funds, and went around as canvasser for one of Blumenbach's hand books. We had commonly regarded the conventional book canvasser as a bore, who consumed valuable time and often took its equivalent, money, after a protracted word-contest in which the party attacked was compelled to yield. But when we consider that the polite but persevering canvasser who is only too happy to explain why the publication he represents is so indispensible to our future happiness, nay, existence, may prove a coming Cleveland, it puts a new aspect upon the relation. How the mind reverts to the precious hour, robbed from us by the persistent canvasser,—the polite but politic bore who never could appreciate a hint, or at least never did, that we were never so busy as when he called.

Perhaps the most dangerous, to one's pocket, of this genus, is the attractive and accomplished young lady who starts out to canvass for some worthless publication, and begins her raid by a call on a prominent citizen, or a wealthy or literary man, or possibly an editor. It is important to have a good name at the head of the list. She is not unmindful of her early scriptural lesson by which she was taught that "a good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." The canvasser comes clad in correct costume, her hat in taste, her gloves new or at least clean, and well fitting. As she enters the presence of the first victim he becomes aware of a pleasant aroma which fills the surrounding air. A pretty mouth opens after a sweet smile, displaying perfect work either by nature or the dentist as the case may be, and the complimentary cozening commences. In vain the canvassee resists, offers excuses, attempts to compromise by giving the difference between the subscription and the cost price, or essays the many supposed ways out of his dilemma. "I want your name," says the fair pleader. In fact the name of a person to head the list is required to induce others to sign. If he is a literary man or a clergyman of slender means, and pleads poverty, sometimes a compromise as to the price is stipulated. But that he is wanted for bait is painfully apparent. A literary man or a well informed editor of course knows just what the character of the book is, or will be if it is not yet published, and he hesitates to lend his name. He fences with the female.

But if "the woman that deliberates is lost," the man who undertakes to debate with a canvasser of the opposite sex meets a similar fate. His time is valuable, either to himself or his employer. Already he has expended much of this and achieved nothing. The tempter is still in the field, working with unabated energy, with a reserve of unexpended eloquence and pathetic appeals to his soft side. He yields. Forth stalks the victor, armed with the captive's autograph, to make new conquests. Later some fellow citizen meets him, and is inclined to berate him because he has been induced to subscribe for an inferior book for which he had no possible use, from the reason founded upon the argument adduced by the fair solicitor, that Mr. So-and-So had subscribed, and there could be no gainsaying the value of the work. He sighs as he estimates the mischief which his want of resolution has caused, and resolves that for the future he will steel his heart against the blandishments of the canny canvasser.

does not refer possible purchasers to his victims. The Athlophoros Co. gladly refers sufferers from rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, nervous or sick headache, kidney and liver complaints to those who have been cured of these diseases by Athlophoros, and will furnish names and addresses of many such persons to those desiring them. Athlophoros is the only remedy for these diseases that can stand such a test.

Hinsdale, N. H., May 18, 1886.

Of all medicines that claim to cure rheumatism there is only one that will or can do it and that one is Athlophoros. I have for years been troubled with muscular rheumatism, at times so severe as to keep me in bed for 14 or 15 weeks at a time, taking all kinds of medicine, none of which would give me more than temporary relief. The last time I was down I commenced to use Athlophoros; the first bottle got me out of bed in quick order. I was then able to get around on crutches, a second bottle I am happy to say laid away the crutches, and I shall never need them again, for in case I should ever be troubled again with rheumatism I can get a cure in Athlophoros. NORMAN HOWE.

Amesbury, Mass., March 3, 1886.

After suffering with inflammatory rheumatism for six years, and having tried everything with no result, I was one day induced to try Athlophoros; it was a last resort; in three hours after the first dose there was such a change for the better, that my friends were surprised; in all I took two bottles, and to-day I am hale and hearty, no sign of rheumatism about me. With such a simple and effective cure, the day must soon come when that dread disease will be a thing of the past.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

MONDAY, April 25th.

THE NOWELL BROTHERS' CONCERT.

The concert by the Nowell Brothers, Willis and George, which was postponed from Wednesday evening, the 27th inst., on account of the Nonpareil Associates' ball occurring on that date, will be given on Monday evening, May 2d, in Music hall. This will be the first public appearance in their native city of these popular musicians since their return from their extended course of musical studies in Europe, and we bespeak for them, with the choice entertainment which they are certain to give, and their liberal donation of half the proceeds of the concert to the monument fund, the most generous patronage of our citizens.

PARISH MEETING.

The annual meeting of the South parish was held in the church on Monday afternoon, and was quite largely attended. Messrs. William W. Cotton, J. W. Parsons, Wm. H. Sise, Justin V. Hanscom and A. Coburn Hoyt, the wardens of last year, were re-elected. Mr. Charles A. Hutchins was continued as sexton, and the amount appropriated for music was the same as usual. The pastor requested leave of absence for four months from the 1st of June; it was voted to grant the leave asked, with two months additional should the pastor desire the extension.

HAVERLY'S MINSTRELS.

The Chicago Times has the following in regard to Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels:

The Chicago opera house was filled to the doors last night, and would be again and again with the same mirthful and musical attraction. It is but reflecting the popular verdict to say that Mr. J. H. Haverly is furnishing the public with the most admirable minstrel and specialty entertainment that has been upon the boards at any time. The ensemble is superb. The minstrel features are fresh and catchy, the gags new and spicy, the changes alert and the music pleasing. Mr. Haverly could but enjoy the ovation paid his performance, while the hearty congratulations of his host of personal friends here must have delighted him. The afterpiece now performed by Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels, entitled The King of the Fijis, is not the usual cheaply costumed and vulgar burlesque so common to minstrel entertainments. Instead of that, it is a grand spectacular operetta, abounding in new and sprightly music, costly and beautiful costumes, and humorous situations.

At Music hall on Thursday evening, 28th inst.; tickets now on sale at Goodrich's.

PORTSMOUTH MAN CRUSHED.

The Nashua correspondent of the Manchester Union, under date of April 24th says:

A frightful accident took place this morning. The section men of the Concord railroad, who were passing over the line of track, discovered a man lying beside the track about two miles above the city. He was in a terrible condition; his left leg was crushed from the knee downward almost to the ankle, and a portion of the heel of his right foot was a mass of bruised flesh and blood. The man was alive, and was picked up and brought to this city. He was taken in charge by Officer Ballou, who at once notified the proper authorities. Dr. Dearborn was called, and the city authorities carried the injured man to the residence of Mrs. Thompson on Amherst street, the accommodations at the city hall not being fit for a man in his mangled condition. During the forenoon his leg was amputated, and to-night he is doing well as could be expected. His name is Geo. A. Weeks. He belongs in Portsmouth, and is a son of George Weeks. How the accident happened is a mystery to him as well as the writer. He claims that he went to sleep last night in a freight car at the Concord station, and that the car was attached to an outgoing freight train and he fell from the train and was run over and injured. Another story is that he came from Manchester on one of the early night freights, and fell from between the cars and was injured. His sufferings were too horrible to relate, and he begged for water and cried for help, until he was nearly exhausted when found. He will recover, and says he shall go to his home in Portsmouth on Monday.

MARITIME NOTES.

The Rockland, Me., schooner Cora Etta, Fales master, before reported as missing on the trip from Rockland for New York, has been discovered sunk in eight fathoms of water about four miles east by south from Sankety head, Nantucket. She is supposed to have struck on Bass Rip shoal in a gale on the night of April 4th, and beat over it. All hands, seven in number, no doubt perished.

The schooner Golden Gate, while being berthed at a north end wharf Saturday morning, collided with a brow at E. F. Sise & Co.'s wharf, and damaged it to the amount of $4.76.

The question of the next yacht race for the America's cup will be whether the Scotch shipwrights can build a vessel on the American model to beat one built here.

Schooners Emma W. Brown, Nellie N. Rowe and John G. Whittier of Gloucester, Mass., and Margaret Smith of Portland, Me., arrived at New York on Monday with small trips of fresh mackeral of small size.

He was appointed a railway postal clerk in 1861, and from that date to 1885 was in the railway mail service, excepting the time he was in the union army as a member of Co. I, 11th Reg't N. H. Frank Jones, a young son of George T. Jones of Kennebunk, met with a painful accident last Friday afternoon. While out gunning he slipped on a log, and the gun falling was discharged, and the charge, which was composed of about forty slugs, made by cutting strips of sheet lead and rolling them up, passed through the thick portion of one thigh, back of the body of the os femoris. Luckily the bone escaped harm, and the patient is doing well considering the extent of his injuries. The boy walked a mile and a half after the accident, he being alone at the time.

Spring Medicine

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." B. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N. Y.

Arrested for Arson.

At the time the immense hotel del Monte at Monterey, Cal., was burned, the night clerk and others who discovered and attempted to extinguish the fire asserted that the extensive and powerful water works of the hotel had been tampered with, so that they were worthless. On the 24th inst. the manager of the hotel, E. T. M. Simmons, was arrested on a charge of having fired the building.

It has been known for a long time that Simmons lived far beyond his salary. The fact now comes to light that he was a defaulter in the east, and that he was tried, convicted and sentenced to five years in state prison. He served two years of his term, and was pardoned by the governor of his state. Shortly afterwards he went to California and secured a position as head book-keeper at the hotel del Monte. He held this place for two years, and when the former manager retired Simmons was made manager of the del Monte. As whoever set fire to the building imperilled the lives of 300 guests, who escaped with only their night clothes on, Simmons if convicted will suffer heavily.

The democrats of Florida, on the twenty-sixth ballot, nominated Governor Edward A. Perry as candidate for United States senator.

Monday night of last week the Methodist parsonage and stable at Maryland ridge, Wells, were consumed by fire. Rev. Albra Cook lost all his furniture, also a very valuable horse. The buildings were fully insured, but Mr. Cook had no insurance on his property.

There is considerable excitement in Sanford, Me., and adjacent towns in York county, over the frequent occurrence of incendiary fires.

A $15,000 Prize.

At the recent drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, held March 15th, 1887, one of our citizens was made happy by the announcement of ticket No. 69,551 drawing the First Capital Prize of $150,000. Thomas Falvey, of this place, was the lucky man who held a one-tenth ticket of that number, the official announcement of which he received a few days after the drawing took place. His portion of the prize was $15,000, which amount was promptly forwarded to Mr. Falvey upon the receipt of his ticket. Last Saturday the money was paid to Mr. Falvey through the First National Bank of Columbia. Mr. Falvey has been a boatman for many years past, and has been untiring in his zeal to gain a livlihood.

Mr. Falvey is now nearly seventy years of age, and at this stage of life, the handsome gift he has just received will no doubt place him in comfortable circumstances. He received many congratulations from his numerous friends.—Wrightsville (Pa.) Star, April 8th.

The lucky man's letter to the editor of the Boston Pilot:

Wrightsville, Pa., April 5.

Editor of the Pilot: Thirty-five years ago the Pensylvania canal boatmen would boat all summer on the canals, and steamboat on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers in the winter. I never thought then, when I boated between Pittsburg and New Orleans, that I would draw from the Louisiana State Lottery $15,000. God is good. I thank Him for the great favor. I also thank the officers of the Louisiana State Lottery for sending me the lucky ticket, No. 69,551. It only took five days from the day I sent my ticket until I got the money, and only cost me $25 to collect. The drawing took place on March 15th. Yours with very great respect. THOMAS FALVEY.

James McLaughlin of Manchester, aged twenty-eight years, is a funny fellow who has for some time past been showing off his wit by squirting water on people at night, or hitting them with pellets from a putty blower. Last Sunday night he treated Joseph L. Bowers, over sixty years old, to a pint of water, and was caught by the old gentlemen, who not only gave him a sound thrashing with a cane, but had him arrested for assault.

How Some Maine Fishermen Were Punished.

The holding of one tenth of ticket 73,887 in The Louisiana State Lottery, Marston, Jordan and others of this city, makes the second time that the capital prize ($150,000) has come to Portland within the past year. The good luck of the first syndicate who drew $15 000 induced Marston and his friends to form a combination and purchased ten one-dollar, or one tenth tickets. One of these tickets drew $ 5,000. Six or seven of the Marston syndicate are fishermen or laborers in needy circumstances and the money comes very opportunely to them.—Portland (Me.) Express, March 3.

BRADFORD, PA., May 8, 1885.

It has cured me of several diseases, such as nervousness, sickness at the stomach, monthly troubles, etc. I have not seen a sick day in years, since I took Hop Bitters. All my neighbors use them. MRS. FANNIE GREEN.

ASHBURNHAM, MASS., Jan. 15, 1886.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I should never die in peace till I had tried Hop Bitters. When I had taken two bottles they helped me very much indeed. When I had taken two more bottles I was well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they cured me, and they used them and were cured and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.

Yours truly, MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

GENTS:—Your Hop Bittery have been of great value to me. I was laid up with typhoid fever for over two months, and could get no relief until I tried your Hop Bitters. To those suffering from debility, or any one in feeble health, I cordially recommend them. J. C. STOETZEL.

How Stage Snow is Made.

I lately heard some curious facts respecting stage snow, as used in the Paris theatres. Formerly, the head property man of each theatre caused his subordinates to manufacture it by cutting white paper into little bits, but of late years the papermakers have supplied it in large sacks, and cut up fine by a mechanical chopper. The snow thus prepared is so condensed that it has to be crumbled between the fingers before it can be used. Of late the theatres that are illuminated by the electric light have given up the use of paper snow, as the particles as they descend are attracted by the flame and might catch fire; moreover, under the intense white light it was scarcely visible and produced no effect. Various substitutes for paper have been tried. Whalebone shavings did very well and were inexpensive, costing only sixty cents a sack. But the best of all possible imitations of snow is found to be the shavings and clippings of kid left over from cutting out gloves. They float in the air, descending with very realistic slowness, and they cling visibly to the garments of the actors. These clippings are furnished to the Grand Opera by several of the leading glove houses of Paris, and cost $3 a sack.—Paris Letter.

What is the Normal Pulse?

It is strange how very few people know what their normal pulse is. They know that the average pulse is about seventy, and imagine that they are well or otherwise as their pulse approaches or departs from this standard. It is true that an average of all pulses would give a result of about seventy beats, but in no other physical peculiarity is there such wide individual variation. I had two students in my office at the same time, both very strong and remarkably healthy young men. The normal pulse of one was forty-seven and the other ninety-three. This difference is unusual, few pulses falling below sixty or rising above eighty in a healthy subject, but an unusually slow or rapid pulse is no indication whatever of disease, as is popularly supposed to be the case. Most people overestimate their pulse, as they often count its beats when talking about the matter, and it is a fact well known to physicians that the excitement of conversation will quicken the pulse from five to twenty beats. The best time to arrive at the true normal is shortly after waking in the morning, when the nerves are unexcited.—Globe Democrat.

A Romance of the Custer Massacre.

Another romance originating in the Custer massacre has been discovered in connection with the gold watch worn by Lieut. Crittenden, who also perished by the vengeful bullets and knives of Sitting Bull's people. The watch was a present which his father, Gen. Crittenden, had purchased in England some time before. It became the booty of a Sioux warrior, who, in due season, after crossing the line, sold it to a Canadian rancher or farmer. The purchaser, suspecting there must be some history connected with it, wrote to the maker in England, describing the watch and stating its number. The maker wrote back that the watch had been sold originally to Gen. Crittenden, of the United States army. Thereupon the Canadian communicated with the general, who promptly repurchased the watch, and it now hangs in his bedroom in New York City, a sad memorial of the fate that befell his brave boy.—Kansas City Journal.

A Cabinet Officer's Home Life.

The observations of the wife of one of the present ministers showing that the life of a cabinet officer is not an altogether pleasant one are interesting. The glamour of position scarcely atones for the hard work and worry of the actual situation.

"Hardly ever see my husband to talk with him save at breakfast in the morning and a few minutes before and after dinner, when he reads his newspapers and before he goes up stairs to his room, where a table full of official papers await him. He sleeps alone, so as to get all the rest possible, with a lamp by his side all night, and when he is wakeful he turns up the light and reads until he becomes drowsy. Some nights he spends with the president until very late. Then the salary is not more than enough to pay the rent of an establishment suitable for entertainments such as the people expect of a cabinet official. It is no use objecting. There ought to be government homes for the cabinet and their families to live in. Soon as a man is appointed he must sit right down to office work, and has no time for hunting a house for his family."—Washington Letter.

The Deer's Valet.

Where there are few deers a big stag is generally accompanied by a small one who acts as his slave. The duties of the latter are to watch on a hillock while his master lies in a snug hole out of the wind, and to go in front when there is some prospect of danger. Any negligence is quickly punished by the horns or forefeet of his lord. One evening Lord Loval severely wounded a good stag, when another good stag galloped back to keep him company in his misfortune. A bullet finished the wounded beast, but still the devoted friend kept close by and would not leave the spot. His lordship had not the heart to shoot the poor beast after he had given proof of such wonderful fidelity, and at last had almost to drive him away.—Montreal Star.

Trichine in Beef.

In his earlier years the late Professor E. L. Youmans was very fond of rare roast beef; but on one occasion Professor Agassiz told him that trichinæ were as liable to be found in beef as in pork, and that the only way to avoid the risk of eating them was to have one's meat thoroughly cooked. Always afterward Professor Youmans insisted upon having his beef "well done."—Public Opinion.

Catarrh to Consumption.

Catarrh is its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with a fearful disease should not make it the object their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful palliatives.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting so affected as to be useless, the uvula so elongated, the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive cases. It is local and constitutional, and its first action is to relieve, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Each package contains one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and an IMPROVED INHALER, with treatise; price, $1.

The particulars of a late duel between two officers of the Mexican army are given as follows: Lieutenant-Colonel Tunox of the Eighth battalion, and M. M. Savalla, musical director attached to the command, quarrelled in a saloon in San Louise Potosi, where they were stationed, and the challenge was accepted at once. The two officers, accompanied only by a captain of the regiment, were driven to Ladrillera, and at the word both fired at once, and both fell dead. Two fools; which one got "satisfaction?"

What They Aim At.

A despatch from Keene says the interstate commerce law has had an unfortunate effect upon the stone quarries at Marlboro. Six thousand tons of paving blocks are standing beside the railroad tracks waiting for some modification in the law. The quarries have been running with a hundred men, but relief is essential to the continuance of the business. Large contracts had been made for paving blocks to be shipped to Cincinnati at a former profit of fifteen cents per yard; the new tariff to Cincinnati increases the rate fifty cents per yard, involving a net loss of thirty-five cents per yard. Recently an order for a thousand cars, or sixty thousand tons, was necessarily refused under the increased rates.

There is absolutely nothing in the provisions of the interstate commerce law to oblige this great raising of freight rates on long hauls; but the railroads, which have ruled the country and the individual states so long, do not now mean to be ruled by the nation, and are willing to lose millions in making the new law offensive and burdensome, so as to assure its early repeal.

Congressman Reed's Standing.

A writer in the New York Tribune says: One of the biggest men in Congress, physically and mentally, is "Tom" Reed, of Maine. His ability is conceded everywhere, and he is the acknowledged leader of the republicans of that body. Besides this, he has a very keen sense of humor. A few days ago there was published in a New York paper a series of outline sketches of the legs of prominent members of Congress. Mr. Reed's big limbs came in for illustration. He was in New York on business the past week, and some one downtown thrust a copy of this paper under his nose. "Oh, yes, I have seen that," was Mr. Reed's remark, "and the first thing I did was to cut it out and send a copy of it to my tailor up in Maine. I can imagine that the poor fellow nearly tore his hair, for he prides himself on being the best trousers-maker outside of Gotham. They are a pretty good pair of legs, after all," he concluded, reflectively; "I have found that they held me up pretty well under all circumstances."

Naval Intelligence.

The hazing of Naval Cadet J. R. Edie by Naval Cadet Potter some time since at the naval academy was followed by the prompt arraignment of the offending cadet before a court-martial, with the result, equally gratifying, that Cadet Potter has been dismissed from the academy and from the naval service. The secretary of the navy having approved the findings of the court, young Potter has once more become a civilian. The law which provides punishment for hazing at the naval academy contains a proviso that if dismissed by sentence of a duly constituted court for this offence, the cadet so punished shall be ever after ineligible for renomination and entry, the assumption being that no gentleman will be guilty of such a cowardly and contemptible "amusement."

During the last fourteen months of his administration President Cleveland will have the nomination of incumbents to three important bureaus in the navy department. The first of these vacancies to occur is that of the chief of the bureau of steam engineering, the commission of the present Engineer-in-Chief, C. H. Loring, expiring on January 18th, 1888. Surgeon-General Grinnell retires from the bureau of medicine and surgery on March 27th, 1888, and the bureau of equipment and recruiting becomes vacant by expiration of commission January 9th, 1889. The present head of this latter bureau, Commander W. S. Schley, of the Greely relief expedition, it is said will request assignment to one of the new steel cruisers. These officers are all available for renomination. Now that the secretary of the navy has decided not to repair the old Hartford, it is suggested that it would be a good idea to transfer the name to one of the new ships soon to be evolved, provided their class and tonnage fall within the terms of the law naming vessels for towns and cities. The law provides that steamships of forty guns or more shall be classed as first-rates, those of twenty guns and under forty as second-rates, and all those of less than twenty guns as third-rates. The vessels of the navy shall be named by the secretary of the navy, under the direction of the president, according to the following rule: Steamships of the first-class shall be named after the states of the Union; those of the second-class after the rivers and principal cities and towns; and those of the third-class as the president may direct.

A SWINDLER

does not refer possible purchasers to his victims. The Athlophoros Co. gladly refers sufferers from rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, nervous or sick headache, kidney and liver complaints to those who have been cured of these diseases by Athlophoros, and will furnish names and addresses of many such persons to those desiring them. Athlophoros is the only remedy for these diseases that can stand such a test.

Hinsdale, N. H., May 18, 1886.

Of all medicines that claim to cure rheumatism there is only one that will or can do it and that one is Athlophoros. I have for years been troubled with muscular rheumatism, at times so severe as to keep me in bed for 11 or 13 weeks at a time, taking all kinds of medicine, none of which would give me more than temporary relief. The last time I was down I commenced to use Athlophoros; the first bottle got me out of bed into my work order. I was then able to get around on crutches, a second bottle I am happy to say laid away the crutches, and I shall never need them again, for in case I should ever be troubled again with rheumatism I can get a cure in Athlophoros. NORMAN HOWE.

Amesbury, Mass., March 3, 1886.

After suffering with inflammatory rheumatism for six years, and having tried everything with no result, I was one day induced to try Athlophoros; it was a last resort; in three hours after the first dose there was such a change for the better, that my friends were surprised; in all I took two bottles, and to-day I am hale and hearty, no sign of rheumatism about me. With such a simple and effective cure, the day must soon come when that dread disease will be a thing of the past.

T. F. MAHONEY.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

HAVERLY'S MINSTRELS.

At Music hall to-morrow evening will appear Haverly's Original Mastodon minstrels in a select and refined programme. Messrs. Harley, Curran and Malcolm will sing, assisted by the celebrated Quaker City quartet who are making for themselves a famous record with the organization. In the attributes of refinement as well as magnitude, the great Haverly minstrel troupe stands higher than any other in the minstrel line.

The gondola Hard Chance, Capt. Cheney, on Monday came in from the Shoals, where she had put out a cargo of coal taken from this city. With a strong southeast wind she made a fine run in, quite badly beating the steamer Pinafore, which got under weigh from the islands at the same time.

Weeks, the Portsmouth tramp who was mangled under the wheels of a train near Nashua, is likely to recover, but will not be able to be moved for several weeks, when he will probably become a charge on Rockingham county. Four were under sentence to the State Industrial school at Manchester, namely: Geo. and Charles Tuttle of Greenland, three years each for breaking and entering; George E. That Tired Feeling

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N. Y.

Mason & Hamlin Pianos.

Mason & Hamlin bid fair to become as famous for their pianos as they have long been for their world-renowned organs. The distinguishing feature about the Mason & Hamlin piano is an important improvement in the method of holding the strings. They are secured by metallic fastenings, instead of by the friction of pins set in wood, as has been the case, and the advantages resulting are highly important. Wonderful beauty and musical quality of tone; far less liability of getting out of tune; greater reliability in trying climates; and greater solidity of construction and durability are secured.

Those Pimples and Blotches which annoy you so much are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood-purifier, SULPHUR BITTERS. Why suffer with Boils, Carbuncles, Scrofula, Rheumatism? Why buy salves to rub on that boil or carbuncle? Why pay big bills for worthless medicines? Headache? Why take Quinine and Opiates? Your nerves are all unstrung, and a little wine makes you tremble so! Your system is all out of order, and you need a good tonic to build you up. Sulphur Bitters is not a cheap Rum or poor whiskey compound, which your system has been cursed with before, but is a pure, old, standard medicine, which will positively do what we claim. Letter From the Ex-Sheriff of Chautauqua County, New York.

Mayville, N. Y., Dec. 2, 1885.

I am glad to say, from a long personal experience with Allcock's Porous Plasters, that I am able to endorse all the good things that have ever been said about them, and supplement these by saying that I frankly believe their value cannot estimated. Their breadth of usefulness is unlimited, and for prompt and sure relief to almost every ache and pain that flesh is heir to, no other remedy, in my opinion, either external or internal, equals them in certainity and rapidity. I have used them at one time for rheumatism, another for backache, again for bronchitis, always with the same result—a speedy cure. L. T. HALLENGTON.

The tendency of ship building on the great lakes is to build large vessels. Twenty years ago a propeller that would carry 50,000 bushels of grain or 1000 tons of coal was considered a monster, but there are now many in the trade between Buffalo and Chicago, and Cleveland and Duluth, that carry over 100,000 bushels of grain in a single cargo.

Give Ely's Cream Balm a trial. This justly celebrated remedy for the cure of catarrh, hay fever, cold in the head, &c., can be obtained of any reputable druggists and may be relied upon as a safe and pleasant remedy for the above complaints and will give immediate relief. It is not a liquid, snuff or powder, has no offensive odor and can be used at any time with good results, as thousands can testify, among them some of the attaches of this office.—Spirit of the Times, May 29th, 1886.

—Lawyer—"I shall have to charge you $50 for my services in this case." Client—"But the amount involved is only $40." Lawyer—"Well, make it $40, then. I'm always ready to do the fair thing."

—Child—"Grandpa, how old are you?" Grandpa—"I am eighty-seven years old, my little dear." "Then you were born eighty years before I was." "Yes, my little girl." "What a long, long time you had alone waiting for me."

Story of a Postal Card.

I was affected with kidney and urinary Trouble—

BRADFORD, PA., May 8, 1885.

It has cured me of several diseases, such as nervousness, sickness at the stomach, monthly troubles, etc. I have not seen a sick day in years, since I took Hop Bitters. All my neighbors use them. MRS. FANNIE GREEN.

ASHBURNHAM, MASS., Jan. 15, 1886.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the seat of my trouble. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very sore. I told my children I should never die in peace till I had tried Hop Bitters. When I had taken two bottles they helped me very much indeed. When I had taken two more bottles I was well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they cured me, and they used them and were cured and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.
Yours truly, MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

$3,000 Lost.

"Luddington, Mich., Feb. 2, 1885. I have sold Hop Bitters for six years, and there is no medicine that equals them for bilious attacks, kidney complaints, and all diseases incident to this malarial climate. H. T. ALEXANDER.

"MONROE, Mich., Sept. 24th, 1885. SIRS:—I have been taking Hop Bitters for inflammation of kidneys and bladder. It has done for me "what four physicians failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Bitters seemed like magic to me. W. L. CARTER.

GENTS:—Your Hop Bittery have been of great value to me. I was laid up with typhoid fever for over two months, and could get no relief until I tried your Hop Bitters. To those suffering from debility, or any one in feeble health, I cordially recommend them. J. C. STOELTZEL

A Sailor's Compliment.

A compliment, true and genuine, was paid by a sailor who was sent by his captain to carry a letter to the lady of his love. The sailor, having delivered his message, stood gazing in silent admiration upon the lady, for she was very beautiful.

"Well, my good man," she said, "for what do you wait? There is no answer to be returned."

"Lady," replied the sailor with humble deference, "if you please, I would like to know your name."

"Did you not see it on the letter?"

"Pardon, lady—I never learned to read. Mine has been a hard, rough life."

"And for what reason, my good man, would you know my name?"

"Because," answered the old tar, looking up honestly, "in a storm at sea, with danger afore me, I would like to call the name of the brightest thing I'd ever seen in my life. There'd be sunshine in it even in the darkness."—Chicago Tribune.

Shrewd New York Judge.

The man declared that the watch was his, and the woman was mistaken in identifying it as hers. Suddenly the judge asked, "Where's the key?"

The prisoner fumbled in his pockets and said he must have left it at home.

The judge asked him if he had wound the watch frequently with the key and he said "Yes."

Then a key was procured, watch and key were handed the prisoner, and he was told to wind the watch. He opened the case, but could not find any place to use the key, because the watch was a stemwinder.

The sentence was five years and a half.—Youth's Companion.

A Beaver's Instinct.

An old hunter living in the Crazy mountains caught a young beaver soon after its birth and carried it to his cabin, where he gradually made a great pet of it. As the youngster approached maturity he got to building dams, and each morning the hunter found his cabin floor divided by a dam that reached from wall to wall, the component parts of which were firewood, boots, articles of clothing and other movable articles in the house that could be reached or transported. To add to the confusion, a basin or bucket of water, if possible, was capsized and flooded over the floor. This little animal, who had never seen a stream or a dam to know either, was busily at work engaged in doing what his forefathers had done a thousand years before him.—San Francisco Call.

Clothing of the Coreans.

In the matter of clothing Corea is unique. The prevailing color is what is supposed to be white. A man starting out in the morning arrayed in freshly laundered clothing presents a remarkably fresh appearance, but on his return at night he may not be spotless. The articles of clothing worn are first, a hat, or rather two, or even three, are worn at one time; a tunic, loose and reaching to the waist; loose baggy white trousers, supported by a girdle; white leggings, white stockings, shoes of various kinds, and over all a coat, the sleeves of which are very flowing and reach down to the hips or lower, and are sewed up from the bottom to the wrist, so as to form very capacious pockets, where merchants often carry goods in astonishing quantities. In these pockets the petty official carries his fan, his handkerchiefs, his tablets for writing and sundry little articles. Not to be forgotten are the purses for coins and knife, and the tobacco pouch and pipe suspended from the girdle, without which no Corean is dressed. In the case of men of high rank, however, these latter articles are carried by his servants, a great retinue of whom attend him.

Of all lands in the world, Corea is the land of hats. There is some variety, but no change of style. The fashion once set, everybody follows it and sticks to it. With the exception of the forests of the Amazon, where hats, like umbrellas, are worn to shed the snakes which rain down from the dense overhanging branches, Corea leads the world in the superficial area of headgear. They may be seen there measuring two feet from the rim to the crown. The stockings and shoes are also very peculiar.—London Figaro.

The Rabbit Pest in Australia.

The extent of the rabbit Pest in Victoria may be comprehended from a recent report of the United States consul general. At least 12,000,000 acres have been rendered almost useless and uninhabitable through the damage caused by the rodent. In one section, where 700,000 sheep were fed in 1875, less than 100,000 found good grass to eat in 1889, and the loss here, in various ways in the last five years, has been at least £800,000. The government has spent about £30,000 in efforts to rid the country of the pest, the principal means used being poisoned food, such as phosphorized oats and wheat, bran and chaff charged with arsenic and bisulphide of carbon. There has also been offered a bonus of three pence a dozen on all skins brought in to certain officers. The figures show that 1,884,000 rabbits have been paid for under this offer.—Boston Transcript.

Preliminary tests have shown that iron cooled while a strong current of electricity was passing through it was increased fully one half in tensile strength and ductility.

Dr. Rush declares his conviction that the German people are largely indebted for their exemption from pulmonary diseases to the strength and volume which their lungs acquire in the practice of vocal music, which is well nigh universal among the people, extending from childhood to old age. He thinks the education of the voice and the practice of singing, involving, as it does, the proper exercise of the organs of the throat and the lungs, should form a part of our physical education.—Boston Budget.

SKIN & SCALP

Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

For cleansing the Skin and Scalp of Disfiguring Humors, for allaying Itching, Burning and Inflammation, for curing the first symptoms of Eczema, Psoriasis, Milk Crust, Scaly Head, Scrofula, and other Inherited Skin and Blood Diseases, CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, are infallible.

A COMPLETE CURE.

I have suffered all my life with skin diseases of different kinds and have never found permanent relief, until, by the advice of a lady friend, I used your valuable CUTICURA REMEDIES. I gave them a thorough trial, using six bottles of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA and seven cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and the result was just what I had been told it would be—a complete cure. BELLE WADE, Richmond, Va.
Reference, G. W. Latimer, Druggist, Richmond, Va.

SALT RHEUM CURED.

I was troubled with Salt Rheum for a number of years, so that the skin entirely came off one of my hands from the finger tips to the wrist. I tried remedies and doctors' prescriptions to no purpose until I commenced taking CUTICURA REMEDIES, and now I am entirely cured.
E. T. PARKER, 379 Northampton St., Boston.

DRUGGISTS ENDORSE THEM.

Have sold a quantity of your Cuticura Remedies. One of my customers, Mrs. Henry Kintz, who had rather on her hands to such an extent as to cause the skin to peel off, and for eight years she suffered greatly, was completely cured by the use of your medicines.
C. N. NYE, Druggist, Canton, Ohio.

ITCHING, SCALY, PIMPLY.

For the last year I have had a species of itching, scaly and pimply humors on my face to which I have applied a great many methods of treatment without success, and which was speedily and entirely cured by CUTICURA.
MRS. ISAAC PHELPS, Ravenna, O.

NO MEDICINE LIKE THEM.

We have sold your CUTICURA REMEDIES for the last six years, and no medicines on our shelves give better satisfaction.
C. F. ATHERTON, Druggist, Albany, N. Y.

Catarrh to Consumption.

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with a fearful disease should not make it the object their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful palliatives.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting are affected as to both sides the uvula so elongated, the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive case. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Before the Interstate Act Went Into Effect.

The Boston & Maine railroad management have arranged for a fast limited express train between Boston and Mount Desert Ferry, composed exclusively of Pullman palace and baggage cars. The run will be made leaving Boston at 9:00 A. M. and reaching the ferry at 6:00 P. M. The new train in the way of appointments, comfort and speed will be in excess of any train ever run east of Boston, and will show the capacity of the road for the increasing summer traffic. ——Owing to the disjointed relations between the Boston & Lowell and the Concord railroads it is expected that a larger portion than ever of the White Mountain travel will go over the Boston & Maine and lines operated by it, during the coming summer. A large business will come over the Worcester & Nashua to Rochester, going to Fabyan's over the Conway branch, while quick trains from Boston over the Eastern division will land passengers in the White Mountain Notch two hours in advance of other lines. Palatial cars are in readiness for the trains to be made up for this traffic.

After the Interstate Went Into Operation.

The Interstate Commission will be asked to regulate the exorbitant charges made by the Pullman Car Co. on the Eastern division of the Boston & Maine railroad between Portland and Boston. If a passenger desires to ride in the stuffy, close, ill-odorous and ancient boxes which the Pullman Co. send over this line, the rate is sixty cents for a parlor seat. But if a master boat-builder from Seabrook desires to return from this city to the land of trailing arbutus, sixteen miles distant, he is assessed fifty cents! for the short haul,—just the price of a chair from Boston to Greenfield, a distance of 105 miles, on the Fitchburg railroad. If there is any reason why the Pullman Co. should allow passengers to ride in their cars between Boston & Portland for sixty cents, and charge fifty cents for a seat between Portsmouth and way stations west, it is for the Interstate Commission to enquire. The P. P. C. C. pays no state or other tax in New Hampshire; it acknowledges no power of the state or its board of railway commissioners to regulate in any way its rates. It asserts that it runs cars only for the wealthy, who never have smaller denomination of coin in their purses than fifty cents for the company and a like sum for the porter, while the conductor will be satisfied with a twenty-cent Victoria reine. This is in part true, and no one would care to ride in Pullman cars if the overgrown management of the Boston & Maine were able to give a little attention to details in the matter of comfort to the passengers over the Eastern division; but where there have been so many cases of pneumonia during the past season, traceable to the careless omission of the train men to close either door of the passenger car during the sometimes protracted waits at stations, often in a cold east wind, whereby the temperature of a heated car has frequently descended twenty degrees in five minutes, it will be seen that were it not for the grasping rates of the Pullman Co. their cars would be largely patronized by passengers who dislike to be compelled at every station to leave their seats and close car doors. The train men of this road should some day be treated to a run over the Boston & Albany or the New York & New England road, to see how admirably these little details are regarded. It is just what was predicted, that when the Eastern went out from the management of its former direction and ceased to be a competing line, the comforts of its patrons would be neglected. It is consoling to think that in a few years we shall be able to make our journeys by means of aerial navigation, a mode which will be free from all draughts save the cost of a ticket.

HAMPTON JOTTINGS.

Mr. Abbott L. Joplin, of the firm of Yeaton & Joplin, proprietors of the old popular and much-missed Ocean house, is adding to his cottages for summer residences a new and larger one on the north side of the old hostelry site. It has a beautiful frontage on the brink of the ocean.

The recent decease of Mr. Edwin B. Batchelder, a successful, popular, well known young business man has made a profound impression of sympathy and sorrow in the entire community.

Mr. Wright, family and friends of Boston, former summer guests at De Lancey place, are in town for a brief enjoyment of our sea breezes, and as his house was not in readiness, at the request of Mr. Curtis De Lancey they are hospitably entertained by Mrs. Leavitt at the popular Elm Tree house.

The new four-story shoe factory, 40x80, with an ell, is covered in, and it looms up on its prominent location, "larger than life," if not "a thing of beauty" to be "a joy forever."

Mrs. Brewster (widow of Dr. Brewster of Portsmouth or Greenland) gave the Ladies' Circle of the Methodist church a bountiful and elegant entertainment last Wednesday afternoon and evening. Her large, beautiful, cheerful suite of rooms, specially the two front parlors, were unique in adornment with antique historical furniture, old costly China, English stone ware, bric a brac, and beautiful shells imported from foreign lands and the islands of the Pacific ocean. The walls of the drawing room were ornamented with hundreds of China plates, hung as pictures, in bewildering variety, and the tables were packed with fine old pieces from eastern lands, almost fragrant still of aristocratic tea drinking of colonial times. Among the well preserved furniture of the olden time were three of Governor Wentworth's chairs, more than two centuries old, imported from England long before the revolutionary war. One of them is still covered with its original rich yellow damask, retaining its pristine brightness and beauty. A special attraction was a centre table, or "light stand" of the generations gone, inlaid, and covered, even the pedestal and feet (legs, if you please) down to the floor, with thousands of rare shells of countless variety and color, arranged with marvellous taste and skill, showing the nice instincts of culture, education and refinement. The Ladies' Circle, to which this pleasant entertainment was generously proffered, has purchased two sets of furniture for the home of their pastor, to the care, furnishing and repair of which they gave their special attention.

Your correspondent enjoyed the delightful social hour, having been honored by a kindly and courteous invitation which the pastor was so good and fraternal as to come and give me in person. It seemed a survival of other days (being the first invitation of the kind here in Hampton,) erst the interregnum of the civil war, when such courtesies were oftener received than could be accepted, in the pressure of professional duties, but of which we have a lingering memory still as friendly, loving echoes, coming back from Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington and New Orleans—the "lingering tones that memory loves."

Rev. Mr. Copp closed his three years of successful pastorate usefulness on Sabbath last, with impressive and instructive sermons, and he moves now to Londonderry for a year or two of rest and recuperation on his farm. He will attend the conference this week at Nashua.

does not refer possible purchasers to his victims. The Athlophoros Co. gladly refers sufferers from rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, nervous or sick headache, kidney and liver complaints to those who have been cured of these diseases by Athlophoros, and will furnish names and addresses of many such persons to those desiring them. Athlophoros is the only remedy for these diseases that can stand such a test.

Hinsdale, N. H., May 18, 1886.

Of all medicines that claim to cure rheumatism there is only one that will or can do it and that one is Athlophoros. I have for years been troubled with muscular rheumatism, at times so severe as to keep me in bed for 14 or 15 weeks at a time, taking all kinds of medicine, none of which would give me more than temporary relief. The last time I was down I commenced to use Athlophoros; the first bottle got me out of bed in quick order. I was then able to get around on crutches, a second bottle I am happy to say laid away the crutches, and I shall never need them again, for in case I should ever be troubled again with rheumatism I can get a cure in Athlophoros. NORMAN HOWE.

Amesbury, Mass., March 3, 1886.

After suffering with inflammatory rheumatism for six years, and having tried everything with no result, I was one day induced to try Athlophoros; it was a last resort; in three hours after the first dose there was such a change for the better, that my friends were surprised; in all I took two bottles, and to-day I am hale and hearty, no sign of rheumatism about me. With such a simple and effective cure, the day must soon come when that dread disease will be a thing of the past.

J. F. MAHONEY.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athiophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

HAVERLY'S MINSTRELS.

This evening, at Music hall, the minstrel event of the year will take place, in the shape of an entertainment by Haverly's Mastodon minstrels. The street parade that Haverly's minstrels make is said to be the finest thing of the kind on the road. In addition to a superb brass band there is a drum corps that is an especially fine feature. The parade will be made from Music hall at 11:30 o'clock this forenoon, and will be an earnest of the excellence of the show to be given tonight. Tickets at Goodrich's.

FRANK JONES IN THE FIELD.

We get it from sources which we consider reliable that, under certain contingencies, Frank Jones of Portsmouth will try to be elected senator from New Hampshire next June. Frank Jones is the only man in New Hampshire who has an income of more than $25,000 a year, and the idea that underlies his hope of being senator is that enough republican be induced to bolt the caucus nomination to elect him.

Brother Jones is a very agreeable and pleasant companion. The Record likes him as such, but it would see with very little complacency any chance of his being elected United States senator. We do not think there is any, but New Hampshire republicans had better make up their minds to one thing, and that is, to go into a caucus, nominate a senator, and then go into the legislature and elect him. The republicans of Massachusetts have learned some lessons in this matter by which they will profit hereafter, and the republicans of New Hampshire had best take no wrong steps.—Boston Record.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

WEDNESDAY, April 27th.

John Farrell, James McCarthy, Lawrence Stardy and Albert Ham were each assessed $9.90 for drunkenness, and all ordered to Brentwood for nonpayment thereof. The first-named two are tramps, and hard looking ones at that, and they and a worthy mate were on the previous evening engaged in a free fight on the railroad tracks near the roundhouse; the third bummer escaped the officers.

THE DELIGHTS OF COURTING.

The jury in the case of Louis DeRochemont of Newington vs. the Boston & Maine railroad, claim for damages to the amount of $2200 for obstructing navigation in a creek on his farm by the filling in of a trestle on the Portsmouth & Dover railroad, visited the premises on Tuesday, 26th inst., going to Dover from Exeter by the Boston & Maine road, and from Dover to the point of view by the Portsmouth & Dover line. They were accompanied by Judge Bingham, by Charles C. Conner, Esq., clerk of the court, by the counsel on both sides, and by a deputy sheriff. As the train started out of the station at Dover for Newington it was discovered that one juror had gone adrift; the train was stopped while the deputy sheriff skirmished around and towed in the derelict juror, when the trip was continued. The party returned to Dover from Newington in the afternoon by a special train, and had dinner at the American house before continuing on to Exeter.

On Wednesday the case was taken from the jury, and sent to the full bench on questions of law presented.

ART NOTES.

The cottage of Mr. Thomas Nell on Middle street has received a new coat of paint, changing the former color to a warmer shade.

The stately Peirce mansion on Haymarket square has a new color, spread by Sampson & Co. The same artists have repainted the residence of T. M. Ball, Esq., on Court street. These decorators are quite busy at this time.

The eighth assembly of the Nonpareil Associates, in Franklin hall on the evening of the 27th inst., was attended by a hall full of pleasure seekers, and must have netted a handsome sum for the monument fund. There were fourteen numbers on the programme, exclusive of the round dances; and on the floor all the dancers that could find room to move around. Mr. T. Mahoney was floor director, with W. Kelly, P. C. Lindley, Wm. Hennessey, Cornelius Quinn, T. Masterson, D. J. Holland, D. Donovan, P. Corcoran and Wm. Shields as aids.

Mrs. Eliza Morse of this city, widow of Edgar T. Morse, has been granted a pension.

Mr. Geo. B. French has purchased of Rev. James DeNormandie a vacant lot of land on Sheafe street, opposite the estate of the late Wm. Jones.

An immense shoe has been placed above the tower of the Portsmouth Shoe Factory building, to serve as a vane. The triple-chime whistle at the factory is now in operation.

A flagstaff will be erected on top of the DeNormandie house on State street, now owned by the Laighton brothers, so that during the winter months, when direct communication between the Isles of Shoals and the main land is not always practicable, messages can be exchanged by means of signal flags.

The new boiler for the portable sawmill in Dennett's woods, Kittery, was hauled from this city to that place on Tuesday of this week.

Messrs. Randall & Caswell have put in a new boiler at their lobster warehouse on Long wharf. It was supplied by the Portsmouth Machine Co.

Among the reductions of fares between places on the Boston & Maine railroad, taking effect May 1st, are the following: Between Boston and Dover, reduced from $1.90 to $1.85; Boston and Kennebunk, $2.52 to $2.47; Boston and Biddeford or Saco, $2.75 to $2.68; Salem and Biddeford, $2.40 to $2.33; Portsmouth and Dover, $0.40 to $0.32; Dover and North Conway, $2.25 to $2.08; Conway Junction and North Conway, $2.30 to $2.15; Centre Harbor and North Conway, $2.70 to $2.46; Wolfeboro' and North Conway, $1.95 to $1.71.

Harry Wentworth, who hired a team of Beacham & Son of this city, tried to sell it in Strafford county, and did sell the robe and whip, was discharged by the Great Falls court because Beacham & Son refused to appear against him, satisfactory pecuniary restitution having been made by the thief.

The Boston & Maine railroad will build a double track between Exeter and Dover this year. Between Exeter and Dover are fully five miles of side tracks, which can be easily converted into main tracks, as their use now is only for trains passing each other. Only two bridges will have to be rebuilt. They are the Dimond bridge at Newmarket, and the Arch bridge at Dover.

"John W. Caswell, Lafayette Farm," is the inscription on a new tip-cart which Ex-Alderman Caswell runs between his broad acres on Lafayette road and the city proper. John combines lots of work with his every day experience, and farms largely just for the fun of it.

Mr. Andrew P. Wendell, of the hardware firm of A. P. Wendell & Co., sails on May 5th for Africa in charge of an assorted cargo shipped hence by his brother, Mr. A. Q. Wendell of Boston. Mr. Wendell makes this trip principally for his health, and expects to return home in about four months.

The brick schooners Clara B. Kennard, Triton, Estella, J. Chester Wood and G. W. Raitt sailed for Boston on Tuesday, the 26th inst., and the D. K. Ham and Satellite arrived from Boston on the 27th and proceeded up river to load.

WHY THIS DISTINCTION?

The Portsmouth correspondent of a Boston paper writes as follows: "An illustration of Rockingham county justice comes from the county house of correction at Brentwood. If a man and a woman, for some petty offence, drunkenness say, are brought before the local police court, they will be treated impartially as to fine and costs; and if they do not pay their respective $9.90 assessments, will be committed to Brentwood, which will put an additional $5 on the bill of each. So far there is equality between the sexes, but as soon as the man arrives at the county farm his bill commences to diminish at the rate of $3 a week, which lets him out at the end of thirty-seven days; while the woman, who was regarded as his equal for the purposes of trying and fining, is allowed but $1 a week for her work, so that she has to serve nearly four months for the same offence and the same fine which causes the man's confinement for only five weeks. There may be some justice in this discrimination, but it is not obtrusively apparent. If a drunken woman is three times as drunk as a drunken man the fact should be taken cognizance of when sentence is imposed; if she is no drunker than he, she should not be given three times the punishment. It is said there is no statute regulating this matter, and the injustice is due to a ruling of the county commissioners; if so, the sooner that ruling is changed the better, for there is no sense, after the magistrate has sentenced a man and woman alike for getting drunk, to allow the commissioners to triple the woman's punishment because she has no money and is a woman."

Now is the Time.

BOSTON, April 27.—The elegant new building of the Boston Daily Globe will be occupied by that newspaper next Monday, and the occasion will be one of great interest. The Globe will appear in new type. (As it is the beginning of a month, and of the occupation of the new building, the event will be a new era of prosperity on the part of the Globe, making it a very favorable time for people to begin taking the Globe who do not usually read it.) We hear of thousands of people who will do this. The Globe is especially the favorite paper of the ladies and young children.

That Tired Feeling

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

The Navarro flats, a set of elegant apartment houses facing Central park in New York, cost five millions of dollars. They were built by Mr. Jose de Navarro, and Mr McComb wants to foreclose a little mortgage for two millions and a trifle more, which the property that was called the "Central Park Building Co. Limited" owes him. The buildings are sumptuous and lofty. In fact they come high, but New York must have them and many more similar buildings.

The New York Sun is asking this question, which is causing some nervousness among the democrats: "If the 68,000 votes which Henry George received in New York city are given to a labor candidate for president, whereabouts in the race will Grover Cleveland show up? Or any other democratic nominee, for that matter?"

The Dover Republican says: "The builder of the toboggan slide, Mr. Coleman, says that the slide can be taken apart with comparatively little injury to the lumber. The slide will be taken down in a few days, and it will be a grand chance for some one to secure 20,000 feet of lumber at a bargain." The toboggan craze set in with such virulence that it was evident it could not last long, but that it should run itself out in a single winter was hardly to have been expected.

Warren Billings of Dover, a war veteran, disappeared six weeks or more ago, and his whereabouts have not since been known. On the night of April 26th one of his family, while looking over some school books, discovered a letter which said: "I am sick and tired of living. My wife is also sick, and when this is found I shall be amongst the missing." He was as near as can be ascertained, last seen at the Portsmouth & Dover railroad station in this city on the evening of the day he left Dover, and boarded a train for the latter place, but never arrived there. It is supposed he jumped off the train while it was crossing the Dover Point bridge, into the river.

Most of the sardine factories in Eastport, Lubec and Robinston, Me., have been ready to receive fish for the last two weeks, but thus far not a single fish has been packed. Factory owners are almost discouraged, and the prospect for the spring catch, which has always furnished the bulk of Maine sardines, is exceedingly slim. The chances are that the pack will be much lighter than that of any previous year.

Give Ely's Cream Balm a trial. This justly celebrated remedy for the cure of catarrh, hay fever, cold in the head, &c., can be obtained of any reputable druggists and may be relied upon as a safe and pleasant remedy for the above complaints and will give immediate relief. It is not a liquid, snuff or powder, has no offensive odor and can be used at any time with good results, as thousands can testify, among them some of the attaches of this office.—Spirit of the Times, May 29th, 1886.

The clerks in the navy department are chuckling over a funny incident which transpired there a short time ago. It seems that an irritable but strictly business-like old man called to see the secretary on an important matter. He was told the secretary had gone to a paper hunt. "Gone where?" he asked with some surprise. "To a paper hunt," was the reply of the clerk. "Now what in ——is that?" yelled the old man. When the latest fashionable fad was explained to him he became very angry, and jamming his hat over his ears, he fired a volley of old-time profanity, winding up with something that sounded like "better hunt the papers now on his desk waiting action," and left the department in high dudgeon.—Capital.

ASHBURNHAM, MASS., Jan. 15, 1886.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I should never die in peace till I had tried Hop Bitters. When I had taken two bottles they helped me very much indeed. When I had taken two more bottles I was well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they cured me, and they used them and were cured and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.

Yours truly, MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

Private Police in Russia.

A few years ago there also existed in Russia a sort of private police system which was so peculiar in organization and conduct that a description of it may be interesting. It was called the "Holy League." The death of Czar Alexander II terrified the people no less than the courts. The Holy league was an association of loyal people to protect the young czar, who might well have exclaimed with Henry IV: "May the Lord deliver me from my friends; I can take care of my enemies myself." The idea of the association was to protect the young czar from the fate of his father. The Holy league (Loiataja druzina) was a secret order, or brotherhood. The members, among them many of the nobility, formed a sort of unpaid volunteer police corps. The founders of the league had the idea that they must fight the Nihilists with their own weapons, and so everything was conducted with ominous secrecy. One scheme was to offer rewards to workmen and peasants for information about revolutionists or their affairs. This led only to futile endeavors to follow up false scents.

The folly of the heads of the league went so far as to attempt to imitate the Nihilists in secret associations and warnings—even to send men to Switzerland and England to put out of the way living Nihilists. Like every novel proposition, however foolish, the plan found numerous enthusiastic supporters among the loyal people. It was received with joyful applause. Many, among them the Jews, contributed money to the undertaking with great ostentation, in order to show their loyalty. But the league was a mere fiasco. They captured few Nihilists, and indeed more police officers. On the other hand, many of the so called Nihilists arrested by the policemen were shown to be members of the Holy league. So the league brought confusion into the conduct of the government and died after a year of spasmodic life. The amount of contributions was about $225,000, which was so skillfully managed by the gracious premier, who acted as treasurer, that there was nothing left in the treasury at the end of the year.—Frederick Owen in Kansas City Times.

Work Done in a Mine.

A gentleman in St. Louis said recently: "People talk of the old Comstock mine, but they have little idea what it was, or what an immense amount of work was done there. Take the Consolidated California and Virginia. Every month for nearly four years 3,000,000 feet of lumber was used there for timbering—enough to build a large city three times over. The amount of hoisting done was simply wonderful. Eight hundred men were raised and lowered three times in the twenty-four hours, the tools were several times a day brought to the surface for sharpening, 5,000 tons of ice were lowered for daily use, and 2,000 tons of ore raised to the surface. Men coming out of the mines on the hottest day of the summer were chilled on striking the surface air, the change was so great. You can get some idea of the immensity of the works from the fly wheel at the Union shaft, it alone weighing 105 tons. There is a great deal of work done on all paying mines, but this one was a great institution. I am sometimes asked if there ever will be such a mining excitement as there was in those days in San Francisco. I don't see why there shouldn't be, and I think there may be sometime, but another Comstock will have to be discovered first. This is the only thing necessary."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Queer Fish in the Social Swim.

It is impossible to glance at the lists of people who are present at some of the entertainments given by the new rich in New York without feeling that some awfully queer fish come to the surface in this so called society pond. It is not democracy that rules in these circles, but a desire for notoriety—to see their names in the newspapers—that induces both men and women to make this splurge, but which has no more real social distinction than the down stairs festivities of one's domestics. People of no social nor artistic standing drift into these houses, and, being well dressed, they pass muster among the guests. Third rate artists, in the elated reporter's vision, lend brilliancy to these gatherings, and shady titles stir him to enthusiasm over the beauty and splendor of the occasion. Perhaps it is a musicale, perhaps a reception—it makes no odds if there is only a jam, a fine supper and plenty of champagne. But to those who chance to know who is who the glowing descriptions read like a chapter of Thackeray's "Book of Snobs."—Boston Herald.

Edison and the Electric Light.

Professor Barker of the Pennsylvania university, by accident, set Edison's mind at work upon the electric light. Barker some years ago was invited to witness a large dynamo built by Wallace of Ansonia, Conn., and asked Edison to go with him. Edison was then busy with his telephone and phonograph, and had thought of the electric light only as hints of it, with a thousand other hints, came to him while in his laboratory. But as he stood with Barker watching this big wheel in Wallace's factory, he saw something which suggested to him the divisibility of the light. Barker says it was as cool as a play to watch Edison that day. He returned to his workshop, put his other schemes aside, and proposed to give five years, if necessary, to working out his discovery. He did it in less time.—New York Sun.

Catarrh to Consumption.

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make the objects their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful palliatives.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting are affected as to be useless, the uvula so elongated, the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive cases. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, sure, pleasant and never-failing.

Another Grasp by the Boston & Maine.

Belief in the current rumor that the Providence & Worcester railroad is soon to become a part of the Boston & Maine system is daily gaining converts. The opinion is based on the fact that the stock of the Providence & Worcester has recently gone from 145 to 162, with a number of sales; that Superintendent Howard came from the Maine road and is a close friend of Col. C. A. Sinclair, who looks after the Boston & Maine interests in the Worcester & Nashua road; and that the Boston & Maine would reap substantial advantage by being able to run trains through from Portland, Me., to Providence, R. I.

By this means, travel from Portland and the east would save nothing in mileage, but might obviate the delay and expense of the passage through Boston. The distance from Boston to Portland is 108 miles by the eastern, and 115 by the western division of the Boston & Maine road; and from Boston to Providence is forty miles. The distance from Portland to Worcester is 147 miles, so that the new line would be available probably for freight purposes. It would relieve the other divisions, and save the cost of sending New York freight from the termini of the Boston & Maine in Boston to the New York roads.

Gathering Them In.

The directors of the Northern railroad have leased that corporation for ninety-nine years to the Boston & Maine, through the Boston & Lowell, subject to the approval of the stockholders. The terms of the lease are five per cent for ten years, and six per cent for eighty-nine years. The legislature will be asked to remove the obstacles to the proposed lease created by the decision of the supreme court of this state in the case of Dow vs. Northern railroad. The lease of the Boston & Lowell to the Boston & Maine was signed by the directors of both corporations in Boston on April 27th.

A SWINDLER does not refer possible purchasers to his victims. The Athlophoros Co. gladly refers sufferers from rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, nervous or sick headache, kidney and liver complaints to those who have been cured of these diseases by Athlophoros, and will furnish names and addresses of many such persons to those doubting them. Athlophoros is the only remedy for these diseases that can stand such a test.

Hinsdale, N. H., May 18, 1886.

Of all medicines that claim to cure rheumatism there is only one that will or can do it and that one is Athlophoros. I have for years been troubled with muscular rheumatism, at times so severe as to keep me in bed for 14 or 15 weeks at a time, taking all kinds of medicine, none of which would give me more than temporary relief. The last time I was down I commenced to use Athlophoros; the first bottle got me out of bed in quick order. I was then able to get around on crutches, a second bottle I am happy to say laid away the crutches, and I shall never need them again, for in case I should ever be troubled again with rheumatism I can get a cure in Athlophoros. NORMAN HOWE.

Amesbury, Mass., March 3, 1886.

After suffering with inflammatory rheumatism for six years, and having tried everything with no result, I was one day induced to try Athlophoros; it was a last resort; in three hours after the first dose there was such a change for the better, that my friends were surprised; in all I took two bottles, and to-day I am hale and hearty, no sign of rheumatism about me. With such a simple and effective cure, the day must soon come when that dread disease will be a thing of the past.

J. F. MAHONEY.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

Passed under suspension of the rules. The house is to contain twelve rooms, and accommodate 500 scholars. The yeas and nays were called, and Ald. Billings voted in the negative.

FRANKLIN HALL TO-NIGHT.

Musical and literary entertainment, supper, and sale of useful and fancy articles, in upper Franklin hall this evening, in aid of the monument fund; admission ten cents. Many tickets have been sold, and a large number and variety of articles for the sale tables, e.c., have been donated, by Pryor & Matthews, H. C. Hewitt, A. P. Wendell & Co., George B. French, M. M. Collis, John S. Rand, J. S. Whidden, John Griffin, H. C. Locke, Albert E. Rand, Globe Grocery Co., Ayers & Locke, L. E. Staples, Richard I. Walden, and Sheldon Brothers. Others desiring to contribute to the worthy object can send their gifts to the hall this afternoon. Mr. Stavers generously gives the use of the hall, and the Athletic club loan their fine piano, free; so the receipts will be almost wholly a contribution to the monument fund. The managers of the affair are all young people, and we hope their enterprising efforts will be properly recognized.

MARITIME NOTES.

From Wareham, Mass., April 26th, a despatch was sent as follows: "Schooner War Eagle, Philpot master, from New York for Wareham, went on the rocks at Four Buoys, entrance to Wareham harbor, Buzzard's bay, yesterday, and sprung aleak. She was eased off the rocks in the night, and is out of danger and leaking, but not badly. The captain attempted to pilot his craft where he was unfamiliar, to save pilotage, and went on the rocks in broad daylight."

The schooner G. B. Ferguson, Ferguson master, arrived at this port on Thursday, the 25th inst., with 1575 bbls. of cement to J. Albert Walker.

A despatch of April 26th from Nantucket, Mass., said: "Schooner Active, Frisbee, from Newburyport, bound to New York with paving stones, lies at anchor off the east of the island leaking badly, with sails blown away. Steamer Martha's Vineyard will go to her tomorrow and tow her into Vineyard Haven."

The British schooner Clotilde, owned in St. John, New Brunswick, and bound from that port to New York, was seen off Boon island just before the great gale of April 2d, and since then nothing had been heard from or of her until April 27th, when Capt. Brewer of the schooner Martha L., which arrived in Gloucester that day, reported having passed on the 7th of April, about thirty miles east of Cape Cod light, a schooner named Clotilde, dismasted, bottom up, stern post broken, and hull otherwise badly damaged. Nothing is known as to the fate of her crew.

SUPREME COURT -- BINGHAM J.

In case 120, Ned F. Senter vs. George E. Smith, action for damages for an alleged deceit in the sale of a horse, the jury at eight o'clock, Wednesday evening, April 27th, returned a verdict for the plaintiff, damages $175. Defendant's counsel moved to set aside the verdict, for the reason that the sum found was in excess of what the damage could have been, according to the evidence; in other words, because the jury "chalked" to reach the sum, instead of taking the difference proved to have been allowed in the horse trade. Marston & Eastman for plff.; Page and Drury for deft.

TRIALS OF A THEOSOPHIST.

Dr. Elliott Coues, formerly of this city, and for a long time past known to naturalists all over the civilized world as the brilliant ornithologist of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, has for several years been a member of the faculty of the Columbian university in that city. Of late, however, the doctor has become impregnated with the doctrine of the theosophists. Although these beliefs are supposed to give even greater consolation than the Christian religion, the doctor has had nothing but trouble ever since he accepted them. First, he was court-martialled and lost his commission in the army; then his wife got a divorce from him; now he is compelled to retire from the faculty of the Columbian university, because the management will not permit him to teach theosophy to the students. He delivered an address before them a few weeks ago, which, according to precedent, should have been printed in the college publication with those of the rest of the faculty, but was not. The president, Dr. Welling, refused to print it because of the doctrines it taught, and forbade any further discussion of the subject before the students; whereupon the doctor wrote an indignant letter resigning his chair. Last of all, he has tendered his resignation as lecturer on anatomy at the National Medical college.

Being asked by a reporter of the Washington Critic for his reasons for taking the latter step, Dr. Coues said:

It seems that my views on religious intolerance, scientific insolence and social tyranny are too liberal to find favor with the old-fashioned conservatism of a Baptist college. The college faculty passed a resolution not to publish the addresses delivered this year, for fear of offending the religious prejudices which I had satirized in my address. But I had already arranged for the publication of the address in book form, and it is now issuing from the press. In maintaining my position it is necessary that I should relieve my colleagues of all embarrassment by resigning.

Dr. Coues' letter to the faculty forms the preface of his book, and is spicy reading.

AVERY PLUMER.

The Boston Journal has the following appreciative notice of the late Avery Plumer, who died in Boston on Wednesday, April 27th:

He was born in Portsmouth, N. H., May 6th, 1813, and came to Boston in 1832, and for the past fifty years has been engaged in active business. The accumulation of large wealth was never a leading motive of his career, for while a man of marked application to business, his inclinations led him to appreciate charitable and philanthropic work, and to perform, when called by his fellow citizens, such share of the responsibilities of public duties as he felt able to discharge. How large an amount of work of this kind he has performed is known to our citizens, who have on many occasions invited him to positions of public and private trust. He was a prominent citizen of the old west end and represented that section in the common council in 1850 and 1851. In 1865, '66, '67 and '69 he was a member of the state legislature, and in the house he won the confidence of the members, and was an influential advocate of many prominent measures. He served on committee on railways and on the special committee on the usury laws, where his business experience proved of great use. In 1871 he was a member of the board of aldermen under Mayor Gaston. He carried into the discharge of his duties at city hall the same methodical views which characterized all his transactions, and which enabled him to perform a very large amount of excellent work. His examination of a measure was so sure to be the result of conscientious investigation that a report from him was never questioned. As the treasurer of the Old South church for many years, there was an exactness of accountability which indicated the care and attention which marked all his positions of trust. To the Old Woman's Home he gave more than a full measure of service, and his untiring zeal in the promotion of many charitable objects brought forth the most gratifying results. He was a director of the Bank of the Republic, and for some time its president. In the departure of Deacon Plumer the city, the church and society loses a member who without ostentation performed his mission with all the energy of a Christian gentleman, and with all the meekness of a true servant of God.

The general superintendent of the life-saving service is now advertising for sealed proposals for the construction of a life-saving station at Jerry's point, Newcastle, at the mouth of this harbor. The proposals must be in by May 10th. So far as the saving of life is concerned, a better location for the station would be at Portsmouth bridge; as an attraction for summer visitors, perhaps Market square would be a better place.

The wardens of St. John's church have re-engaged Miss Hill as organist for the ensuing year; also the same choir as last year, which will be re-enforced on the first Sunday of each month and on other special church days, by the choir chapter which added so materially to the music on Easter Sunday.

That Tired Feeling

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

The May number of the "Atlantic Monthly" contains the "Courting of Sister Wisby," a New England study drawn to life, by Miss Jewett; a long and notable poem on an episode in French history, by Thomas Bailey Aldrich, and a paper by Mr. J. Elliot Cabot, "A Glimpse of Emerson's Boyhood," which his preparation for the forthcoming biography of Emerson has specially fitted him to write. Dr. Holmes' interesting recital of his foreign experiences, "Our Hundred Days in Europe," and also the two serials, "The Second Son" and "Paul Patoff," are continued as usual; and Mr. Hamerton adds another instalment to his "French and English" series. In "China and the United States" some popular fallacies about our diplomatic, business, and missionary standing with the Chinese are discussed by A. A. Hayes; and a study of Italian politics is contributed by Rev. Wm. Chauncy Langdon, in the form of a sketch of the statesman Morco Minghetti. "The Shakespeare-Shapleigh Entanglement" is an ingenious Shakespearian pleasantry, and an able article on "The Decline of Duty," by George Frederic Parsons, discusses the indications of the prevailing want of conscientiousness in the working of labor, politics and theology. "Flutterbudget" by Olive Thorne Miller; and poetry by Wm. C. Lawton, Clinton Scollard and Andrew Hedbrooke, reviews of Browning's and Tennyson's new volumes, etc., and the usual departments, conclude a number which is of unusual value.

General M. C. Wentworth, proprietor of that splendid summer resort, Wentworth Hall, at Jackson, N. H., leaves Washington for that place to-morrow. General Wentworth has spent the winter in Washington. He is said to have the largest acquaintance among wealthy and fashionable people of any hotel proprietor in the United States.—Washington Capital.

The general is to open his series of hotels at Wentworth Hall on June first. There is no better kept or more pleasantly situated mountain resort in New Hampshire than Wentworth Hall.

Two storehouses in Lucena owned by L. B. Berrill and the Pitman Manufacturing company were destroyed by fire April 29th, with 300 barrels of flour, $8000 worth of knitting machinery, and $3000 worth of canned goods, salt, etc. Total loss about $15,000, nearly covered by insurance. Give Ely's Cream Balm a trial. This justly celebrated remedy for the cure of catarrh, hay fever, cold in the head, &c., can be obtained of any reputable druggists and may be relied upon as a safe and pleasant remedy for the above complaints and will give immediate relief. It is not a liquid, snuff or powder, has no offensive odor and can be used at any time with good results, as thousands can testify, among them some of the attaches of this office.—Spirit of the Times, May 29th, 1886.

The former stockholders of the New York Academy of Music have bought it again, and will continue to run it as a place of amusement.

Murdered by Prejudice.

Thousands of men die every day who might be saved. Prejudice has murdered many a man and woman. If it were believed that the sum of disease codfil be reduced by physic much would be gained. The nightmare of death would not frighten us as it does. In our modern civilization we ought reasonably to expect disease to sometimes settle upon us because we do so much to attract it; because we so often and so steadily expose ourselves to it. At the same time we all ought to understand, as a part of our rudimentary education, that to save ourselves from the effects of such exposure some kind of fortification should be built around our vital forces lest the enemy carry us, as it were, by a sudden onslaught. For many years the unprejudiced have used Brandreth's Pills in this way and they have proved a most effective wall against the approach of disease. Stop the daily murders—we had almost said suicides—by using these Pills. They speak for themselves—as they act. When everything else has failed Brandreth's Pills have saved lives. They are to be had at every drug store.

Story of a Postal Card.

"For twelve years!"
After trying all the doctors and patent medicines I could hear of, I used two bottles of Hop "Bitters;"
And I am perfectly cured. I Keep it "All the time."
Respectfully, B. F. BOOTH, Saulsbury, Tenn. May 4, 1883.

BRADFORD, PA., May 8, 1885.

It has cured me of several diseases, such as nervousness, sickness at the stomach, monthly troubles, etc. I have not been a sick day in years, since I took Hop Bitters. All my neighbors use them. MRS. FANNIE GREEN.

ASHBURNHAM, MASS., Jan. 15, 1886.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I should never die in peace till I had tried Hop Bitters. When I had taken two bottles they helped me very much indeed. When I had taken two more bottles I was well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they cured me, and they used them and were cured and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.
Yours truly, MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

Baby Saved.

We are so thankful to say that our nursing baby was permanently cured of a dangerous and protracted constipation and irregularity of the bowels by the use of Hop Bitters by its nursing mother, which at the same time restored her to perfect health and strength.—The Parents, Rochester, N. Y.

☞ Unhealthy or inactive kidneys cause gravel, "Bright's disease, rheumatism and a horde of other serious and fatal diseases, which can be prevented with Hop Bitters." If taken in time.

"Luddington, Mich., Feb. 2, 1885. I have sold Hop Bitters for ten years, and there is no medicine that equals them for bilious attacks, kidney complaints, and all diseases incident to this malarial climate. H. T. ALEXANDER.

"Monroe, Mich., Sept. 25th, 1885. SIRS:—I have been taking Hop Bitters for inflammation of the kidneys and bladder. It has done for me what four physicians failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Bitters seemed like magic to me. W. L. CARTER.

GENTS:—Your Hop Bitters have been of great value to me. I was laid up with typhoid fever for over two months, and could get no relief until I tried your Hop Bitters. To those suffering from debility, or any one in feeble health, I cordially recommend them. J. C. STOETZEL.

Can You Answer This?

London Public Houses.

In London taprooms, the quantity of liquor served in the glass ranges according to the pennies paid. "A two" of whisky or gin is equal to four cents' worth—about a small sized sherry glass full. "Neat" is without water. "Cold" is with cold water added, or "hot water," as you prefer. Brandy is sold from three to six pence worth. Sixpence (twelve American cents) is the limit. But of course there is nothing—as police magistrates know to their sorrow—to prevent an encore of quantity. In the cockney slang gin is called "white satin," and "half a go o' white satin" translated means three pence worth of gin. A "B. & S." of course means "a glass of brandy and soda," a form of dissipation considerably introduced into America by the festive English actor. "The boy" is the "pub" slang for champagne. Often some sprig of a clerk will be heard to ask for "a drop of the boy, my dear," of the cheeling barmaid. Then, coming down to the great beverage of England, ale, a glass of "old and bitter" refers to the old ale and the lighter bitter ale mixed. The names of "pubs" are often very odd. "The Swan with Two Necks," "The Hen and Chickens," "The Dapple Grey," "The Cat and Fiddle," "The Bull and Mouth," "The Nun's Head," "The Royal Oak," "The Dun Cow," "The Green Man," etc. Most of these names come from the old coaching days of England, and have along with them some strange, fanciful, often romantic traditions.—Cor. Philadelphia Record.

The Cowardly Chinese Pirate.

Although as the Chinese pirate is, as a rule, the most abject coward where Europeans are concerned, he is, at least, capable of striking terror into the hearts of his countrymen; and a couple of pirate junks, mounting but a single two pounder gun between them, have been known to blockade a port of 4,000 inhabitants and to plunder every ship that passed. In another case a pirate gang of 500, who had yielded to a rush of twenty or thirty blue jackets, had previously defied a native force of 1,500 troops and forty war junks. Directly, however, a small gunboat, manned by Europeans, appeared upon the scene, their career was at an end.

Chinese piracy is at times almost a business. A pirate merchant, in the wholesale way, will infest certain villages on the seaboard or islands. He will keep fifteen or twenty junks, with a corresponding retinue of ruffians, and when he has secured his plunder, he stores it in safety. A pirate in a small way of business, having once made a good haul, will divide the spoil, and then his followers immediately disperse, for fear of an attack from another gang. The old saying of "dog eat dog" applies with striking force to the transactions of the plunderers of the China sea.—All the Year Round.

Gen. Sheridan's Ambulance.

"If Phil Sheridan purchases a summer residence on the South Shore," said a military man this morning, as he looked over his paper, "I suppose he will bring his ambulance along with him, and drive up and down the beach in his old superb style. I suppose you know that Sheridan, if he can help it, never rides in any other carriage than an army ambulance? Before his marriage, when his headquarters were at Chicago, his ambulance, neatly painted and varnished and comfortably upholstered, drawn by four of the handsomest and sprightliest mules in the United States, groomed until they shone, and driven by a soldier in uniform, was one of the most familiar objects on the streets. Everybody knew it and greatly admired it.

"When he married he had to get a coupe, of course, and people all pitied him when they saw him in it, he looked so completely lost. But he kept the ambulance and rattled over the pavement in it whenever Mrs. Sheridan did not care to go out. It went to Washington with him."—Boston Transcript.

Rusty Oranges.

The name "orange" is derived from the Latin aurantium (from aurum, gold) and the idea of an orange of any other than a golden color is like that of a leopard without spots. But while the Mediterranean orange is almost always of a bright golden yellow, a large proportion of the oranges grown in Florida are covered with a brown rust which much depreciates their market value, even though it does not impair their sweetness and flavor.

Some who have looked for the cause of this unfortunate discoloration declare that it is produced by minute fungous plants, similar to those which form mildew, smut, mould, etc. Others assert that this rusty appearance is caused by the oxidized sap which exudes from the rind through punctures made in it by microscopic mites like spiders, and the latter is the prevailing theory at present.—New York Market Journal.

To Quicken the Lazy Blood.

"If I had my way," said an old friend of Gen. Logan, "I would inaugurate a campaign for the revival of patriotism, operating just as Mr. Moody works in his revival meetings. I would preach patriotism at every street corner and in every school and in every church. I would have more national music, and I would adopt some measure to quicken the lazy blood of the rising generation. I have seen the time when the music of a brass band would rouse 10,000 tired and footsore soldiers to a state of screaming enthusiasm. I look for the time to come when the descendants of those men will be stirred every time they hear the national airs. I am a brass band man from the ground up."—Inter Ocean.

Catarrh to Consumption.

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful antidotes.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting are affected as to be useless, the uvula so elongated, the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive cases. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

An express train bound west for Tucson, Arizona, was robbed at Papago station on the night of April 27th. The engineer was stopped by a red lantern, and pulled from his engine. Railroads and Politics.

The Boston Record says: "The absorption by the Boston & Maine railroad of the New Hampshire system means a good deal in the politics of that state. It means in the first place a big fight in the legislature next June with the Concord railroad, the employment of a big lobby and the general demoralization of the legislature. This is only one of the results that always follow a big railroad contest at Concord. It means a great deal more than that. The men who represent the Boston & Maine railroad interests in New Hampshire are Frank Jones, Charles A. Sinclair and A. W. Sulloway. All of them happen to be democrats, and if they should choose, after the Boston & Maine gets control of these New Hampshire roads, to use the immense power thus gained politically, it will make a very great difference in certain cases in the results of the elections in that state. Indeed, with that accomplished, Frank Jones will be in every respect the most powerful man in New Hampshire politics, and considering the narrow margin by which the republicans have elected their ticket lately this suggests a good many political possibilities. Frank Jones may come up for senator in 1889, and if he does he will give the republicans a pretty close call unless they are on the lookout."

If the republican members of the legislature make the mistake of electing an obnoxious politician as senator in June it does not require much of a prophet to predict that the senator chosen in 1889, if we are to wait so long for the election, will probably be a democrat.

It is possible that the managers of the Concord road may recover sufficiently from their obtuseness and obstinacy to put their property in shape by making a lease of their line to the coming railway power. The prediction of the Record seems to be founded on the fact that Mr. Jones owns the state; at present he owns only the democratic party in the state, but he has pecuniary and sanitary plans which are of far more intent to him than political places. True, Mr. Jones may come up for senator, but we think he has not the bee half as much as the Record appears to imagine he has.

Financial Standing of the Counties.

	Debt.	Surplus.	Inc.	Dec.
Rockingham	$ 6,698.77	....	....	$7,361.87
Strafford	54,246.77	....	....	9,979.26
Belknap	21,148.32	....	....	....
Carroll	94,068.42	....	....	8,265.80
Merrimack	65,664.47	....	....	4,228.50
Hillsboro'	95,166.38	....	....	4,136.15
Cheshire	40,048.47	....	$ 650.36	....
Sullivan	....	$2,307.69	477.65	....
Grafton	19,021.46	....	5,885.10	....
Coos	9,207.01	....	....	128.49

The liabilities given above are net, that is, the figures are less cash and what are considered cash assets. Belknap county in 1885 had a surplus of $127.33, so the debt of that county is wholly an increase. Rockingham county makes far the best showing of any county, with the exception of Sullivan, which has a surplus of nearly $8000.

Insurance Statistics of New Hampshire.

From advance sheets of the eighteenth annual report of Hon. Oliver Pillsbury, state insurance commissioner, the following facts are taken, covering the business of the year 1886:

The fire insurance companies organized under the laws of this state consist of eight stock companies, and seventeen state and twenty-one town mutuals.

The home fire companies assumed risks in this state last year as follows: Stock companies, $31,936,240; state mutuals, $15,530,194; town mutuals (total risks,) $2,609,924; total, $50,076,358.

The amount at risk in the state at the close of last year was carried as follows: Home companies, $60,000,000; retired companies, $26,549,958; manufacturers' mutuals, $35,047,729. Total $121,597,687.

Cash premiums were received by home companies in 1886 to the amount of $555,924.35, showing an average charge of 1. 11 per cent on the amount insured.

The following losses were paid, although the outside agency companies doing the most business in the state are not included herein; Home companies, $112,030.01; retired companies, $155,487.06; manufacturers' mutuals, $387.77; town mutuals, $2071.98; outside agency companies, $12,560.37. Total, $282,537.19.

Of the state mutuals only two adhere to the primitive method of taking a nominal cash premium and relying upon assessments.

A despatch from Perth, the capital of Western Australia, says: "A hurricane swept the northeast coast on April 22d. The pearl fishing fleet, numbering forty boats, was destroyed, and 550 persons perished. "A despatch from Cooktown, Australia, announces that the steamer Benton of Singapore was sunk in a collision with a bark off the island of Formosa, and that 150 persons were drowned. No Europeans were lost.

A Baffled Englishman.

In the new "Life of Channing," says a correspondent, an Englishman who misplaced his h's is said to have "disturbed the fastidiousness of his hearers" at an important meeting. They are very particular about their h's in America, and one rarely detects one out of place. It was, however, my lot once, and only once, though I listened carefully for it at every church, theatre and meeting that I attended. It was on this wise: I went to the museum in Washington where the "trophies" of the great war are collected. We were shown over by an excellent guide, a compound of clerk and porter. After looking at a great number of things, unattractive to me, I confess, our man came to us with a flag in his hand. "You are English, gentlemen," he said, "and this will interest you; this was taken on the Halabama." I saw at once that my opportunity had come, and, clasping his arm I said: "Where do you come from, my man?" "From Halfreron, in Derbyshire, sir," he said. So I was baffled again.—St. James' Gazette.

Lunatics in Russia.

Dr. Kovalevfski, a very wise Russian doctor, tells frightful stories of the number of lunatics in his country. There is room for only 10,000 in the asylums and there they are brutally treated. About 90,000 roam about at large without any care. They are to be met on all the country roads and they avenge ill usage by maiming little children.—Chicago Tribune.

Less Doctor and More Cook.

The culinary art, says Careme, is the escort of European diplomacy. Your diplomat is the most refined appreciator of a good dinner. A great diplomat sincerely desirous of serving his country should have a renowned cook and keep up a good house; he should therefore be highly paid by his government, for embassies are the universities in which our youthful nobility study diplomacy and gastronomy. He was at daggers drawn with doctors in general. A good cook is the best physician, said he, and so the doctor is always speaking ill of the cook, that he may maintain his own influence over the wealthy patient, who, if he leads a loose life, should trust to the skill of his cook rather than to the false words of his interested physician, who prolongs his illness through speculation.—Saturday Review.

WHY IS IT

That rheumatism and neuralgia are so prevalent? This question has not been satisfactorily answered, but it is certain that these diseases are not only the most painful but among the most common, and some member of nearly every family in the land is the victim of one of these dread tormentors. Ladies seem to be peculiarly liable to neuralgic attacks, which, in the form of neuralgic headache, pain in the back, or nervous pains are of constant occurrence. Not until the discovery of Athlophoros had any remedy been found for either rheumatism, neuralgia or nervous headache, and they were generally conceded to be incurable, but Athlophoros has been proven to be not only a certain cure for these diseases, in all their varied forms, but a safe remedy. If, in the use of Athlophoros, the bowels are kept freely open, its success is certain, and to aid this, Athlophoros Pills are recommended, which, while providing the necessary cathartic, will be found to be a valuable aid to the action of the medicine. Athlophoros is no experiment, it has been tested and has proved its wonderful efficacy.

The Athlophoros Pills were originally prepared as a remedy for use in connection with Athlophoros, for rheumatism and neuralgia and kindred complaints. Used in connection with that remedy, they are a certain cure for either of these grey common and distressing diseases. They have also been found to be an invaluable remedy for any and all diseases arising from vitiated blood or general debility. They are especially valuable for nervous debility, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, distress after eating, headache, constipation, loss of appetite, and all stomach or liver troubles. For diseases of women they are invaluable. These pills are perfectly harmless and may be safely used by adults or children.

Testimonials of those who have been cured will be sent free on application.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist, the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

MONDAY EVENING'S CONCERT.

The concert by Messrs. Willis and George Nowell, assisted by Mrs. E. Humphrey Allen, at Music hall on Monday evening, will be a rare treat to lovers of fine music, and should suffice to fill the hall, independently of the fact that one-half the proceeds of the concert are to go to the monument fund. The Nowell brothers, since leaving this city, have prosecuted their musical studies under the best masters of this country and Europe, and since their return from abroad have received flattering acknowledgements of merits from the leading artistes and critics of Boston, New York and other great musical centres. The violin performance of Willis in New York recently, when he was supported by the famous Thomas orchestra, was regarded as a musical event worthy of marked note. Mrs. Allen enjoys the highest popularity as a vocalist, and will aid in making the concert a great artistic success. Tickets can be procured at Goodrich's.

HUNTED DOWN.

Calvin Graves, the murderer of the two game wardens at Fletcher Brook, Me., passed through this city on the Bangor express train, Wednesday of this week, and was lodged in jail at Bangor that night. He says the stories told of his escaping through Bangor in female attire, after the murder, are all false; that after separating from McFarland, who was with him at the time of the shooting, he "got a boat and rowed for three nights, lying quiet by day, until he reached Fox island, twenty miles from Rockland. There he found several vessels loaded for sea, and went on board, intending to ship, but finding room on a vessel had a good chance to stow himself away. While the crew were away he carried food to this hiding place, and remained in hiding for several days. In the meantime the vessel had gone to Portsmouth, N. H., where he left her and made his way to California, stopping off several days en route." This part of his story is probably true, the keeper of a Market street saloon having shortly after the escape of Graves recognized his picture as being that of a man who was in the saloon one evening, and who said he came from Rockland on a lime schooner, and was bound for California. Graves insists that he killed the wardens in self defence; unfortunately for him the positive statements of the boy who saw the acts, and of McFarland, flatly contradict this, and all the circumstances of the case tend to discredit the story. While in California, Graves obtained an appointment as constable at Anaheim, and when arrested had in his pocket a warrant for the arrest of a man named Springer for the murder of his wife, and for whom the Oakland police were then looking.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Active, of this port, Frisbee master, before reported as anchored off Nantucket in distress on April 26th, made sail for Hyannis on the 27th, and arrived there the same day. She will repair damages, and proceed

Late as it is in the season, considerable quantities of fresh fish continues to arrive at this port from Ipswich bay. Thirty boxes, aggregating over seven tons, were sent away by rail on Wednesday of this week, and that day about 20,000 lbs. of fish were landed on Commercial wharf, and bought by E. Newton & Co. and Edw. Jameson. The sloop John W. Caswell, lowering two dories, a few days ago brought in a fare of 8000 lbs. A number of the gill-netting schooners which have been fishing out of this port are hauling off, and fitting out for trawling in Ipswich bay with fresh bait, alewives being now in receipt. Fish are reported as very plentiful in the bay.

The schooner Martha Jane, of Gloucester, Capt. Simeon McLeod, which has been fishing out of this port during the winter with gill-nets, has been sold to parties in Scituate, Mass.

Capt. Aleck McLeod of Gloucester, master of the fishing schooner Northern Eagle, was in this city on Thursday, April 27th, to purchase the cables of the schooner Flying Dart, wrecked on Rye beach last fall.

The gondola Hard Chance, Capt. Cheney, started on Thursday last for the Isles of Shoals with a second load of coal from J. Albert Walker. Capt. Cheney takes out fifty tons at a load, and will make six trips in all.

Mr. D. Clark has bought of Mr. James Deverson of Newcastle the two-masted whaleboat "Sally-Come-Up," and will use her this season for shore fishing. Mr. Deverson has bought a whaleboat of Mr. Joseph Jameson, for service in the same business. Capt. Samuel Lolley has bought a whaleboat, to be used in running to the lower harbor, or outside, to purchase from vessels fresh fish for the local market.

The schooner Yankee, belonging to the contractor for the removal of Gangway rock, on Thursday last was at Union wharf, taking on board the drill platform, tide breaker and other apparatus used in the work, preparatory to a start being made at the excavation of the ledge. Mr. George E. Fernald, who for several years past has been government inspector of the work, has again been appointed to the position.

James Haley and Charles Robinson, at Duck island, Isles of Shoals, are working 130 lobster pots in the vicinity of the islands, and taking about 800 lobsters a week. The lobsters are of very good size, full meated and heavy—of better quality than for a number of years past.

On Wednesday afternoon of this week, about one o'clock, a young whirlwind, or cyclone, or waterspout in embryo, arose in the narrows and went down river, skirting Seavey's island and passing over Clark's island, causing a good deal of dismay to the men on board a number of fishing schooners and whaleboats which were coming up river at the time. It moved with considerable speed and a loud roar, and lifted the water from the river in tons. It barely cleared the jibboom of one fishing schooner near the ledge of evil name, and after passing over Clark's island struck the jib of a coaster, carrying away a piece of it fifteen or twenty feet square, and leaving not much else of it but the bolt ropes.

Congressman-elect McKinney recently was heard to promulgate his sentiments on the consolidation of railways in New Hampshire, and to express the desire not to live in New Hampshire if the state was to be run by one railway corporation. The political novitiate was soon afterward pretty distinctly informed that the powers that put him into office had different views upon this question, and that as Mr. Pearson did not reside in his district, and a more potent manager in New Hampshire politics was his constituent, a discreet silence upon subjects which did not concern him had better be observed. The hint will be taken.

The proposed military company in Newmarket is a failure, and the project has been abandoned. A large number of eligible young men signed the provisional roll, but not over fifteen could be got together for drill.

The new militia company of Dover has chosen John H. Ingraham for captain, Edward D. Smith for first lieutenant, and Bion I. Browne for second lieutenant. The officers have all had experience in the national guard of the state.

Rear Admiral Thos. T. Craven has returned to this city after a brief visit to New York state.

Mr. Safford of the Pepperell house, Kittery Point, has more engagements for rooms for the coming season than ever before at this time of the year.

Rev. L. W. Philips of Rye is soon to move from the Centre to the south part of the town, and will occupy the house owned by Mr. Job Jenness.

The schools of Rye will commence the spring term on Monday, May 2d, except in the west school, where Miss Dudley of Brentwood has been teaching for the past four weeks.

The ladies of the Universalist Social Circle will hold a May festival in the church vestry next Thursday evening, when the "milkmaids' drill" will be performed, and ices, cake, confectionery and coffee will be served at tables presided over by fair milkmaids in fancy costume.

The Mizpah club connected with the North church will give an entertainment and supper at the chapel on Middle street next Tuesday evening, to which all are invited; small admission fee; proceeds to be devoted to the Creek mission school.

Another small lot of those all wool double-width Dress Goods at only 29cts. per yard, have been received by Lewis E. Staples. They will not last long.

At the urgent solicitation of a number of my patrons I shall continue for a few months after May 1st to make those fine Cabinet Photos for $2.00 a dozen.

COOK, 5 Congress St., Portsmouth.

Those wool worsted suitings in plain and mixed colorings, are the very best. No. 6 Market street. J. W. Moses.

A number of American fishing vessels put into Halifax, N. S., April 28th, having been started leaking, had sails split or spars sprung, or lost ground tackle, in a heavy gale on the 26th.

A large number of lobster fishermen are reported to have lost their lives on April 26th and 27th in the vicinity of Tusket islands, Nova Scotia, owing to the sudden rising of a furious gale.

Don't Miss That Souvenir Number.

BOSTON, April 29th.—The Boston Daily Globe will occupy its new building on Washington street, next Monday, May 2d. A souvenir number of the Globe, handsomely illustrated, will be issued on Monday. Be sure and buy it.

"A Woman's Foe," a charming new French story, will be begun in the Boston Daily Globe next Monday, May 2d.

On Wednesday night of this week an Eliot man, in attempting to board his wherry at a north end wharf to go home, made a misstep, owing to some obliquity of vision, and went plump into the dock. The water was only about knee deep, but his objection to water is such that he was scared almost to death, and instead of scrambling out he stood still and yelled "Help" and "Man overboard" for some time, till people within hearing came to the rescue and assisted him ashore. On Thursday evening a man walked off the wharf in the rear of Garrett's store on Market street, but managed to crawl upon a timber of the wharf, where he remained for quite a while before he could be persuaded to allow himself to be pulled upon the wharf. These gentlemen should be careful how they mix their rum with so much water.

To-day being a legal holiday, the banks of the city will be closed.

Amount of Live Stock at Market: Cattle, 1093; Sheep and Lambs, 3,989; Calves, 1,385; Horses, 258; Swine, 17,224.

Prices of Market Beef—A few choice, $7 00 @ $7 50; extra, $6 50 @ $6 75; first quality, $6 00 @ $ 25; second quality, $5 00 @ $5 50; third quality, $4 00 @ $4 50.

Prices of Store Cattle—Working oxen ⅌ pair, from $160 @ $175; farrow cows, $15 @ $32; fancy cows, $35 @ $80; milch cows and calves, $25 @ $48; yearlings, $8 @ $13; two years old, $14 @ $28; three years old, $18 @ $40.

Prices of Sheep and Lambs—In lots, $2 50, $3 00 @ $4 50 each; extra, $4 75 @ $7 50, or from 2½ @ 3½c ⅌ lb; spring lambs, $6 @ $10 each.

Veal Calves, 2½ @ 3½c ⅌ lb.

Prices of Hides, Tallow and Skins—Brighton hides, 7c ⅌ lb; brighton tallow, 2½ @ 3c ⅌ lb; country hides, 6 @ 6½c ⅌ lb; country tallow, 1½ @ 2c ⅌ lb; calf skins, 7c ⅌ lb; pelts, $1 35 @ $1 75 each; dairy skins, 10c each.

The supply of northern best cattle was light, and prices generally sustained. There were plenty of western steers on hoof on the market of good quality, and sales indicate no visible change, although they cost a shade higher in the west. The country cattle ran largely into more cattle, for which there is a growing demand.

Milch Cows and Store Cattle—It seems like old times to notice this kind of stock on stock on sale. Milch cows in good supply, with a fair demand. Sales mostly from $25 @ $50 ⅌ head.

The Sheep Cell—A heavy run at the yards. The prime cause of there being so many was attributed to the fact that speculators in the country who bought their flocks from one to two months ago could not make the farmers hold them for a longer time, the reason they were obliged to ship to market. The large run was the cause of a decline in value of ¼ @ ½c ⅌ lb on many of the flocks. The difference between wool and sheared sheep is 1c ⅌ lb for same quality.

Fat Hogs—Take dressed weights is the outside price on northern. Western live hold steady.

A CHILD'S SKIN

MY little son, aged eight years, has been afflicted with Eczema of the scalp, and at times a great portion of the body, ever since he was two years old. It began in his ears, and extended to his scalp, which became covered with scabs and sores, and from which a sticky fluid poured out, causing intense itching and disease, and leaving his hair matted and lifeless. Underneath these scabs the skin was red, like a piece of beefsteak. Gradually the hair came out, and was destroyed, until but a small patch was left at the back of the head. My friends in Peabody know how my little boy has suffered. At night he would scratch in a fond sleep, until his pillow was covered with blood. I used to tie his hands behind him, and in many ways tried to prevent his scratching; but it was no use, he would scratch. I took him to the hospital and to the best physicians in Peabody without success. About this time, some friends, who had been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, prevailed upon me to try them. I began to use them on the 15th of January last. In seven months every particle of the disease was removed. Not a spot or scab remains on his scalp to tell the story of his suffering. His hair has returned, and is thick and strong, and his scalp as sweet and clean as any child's in the world. I cannot say enough to express my gratitude for this wonderful cure by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and wish all similarly afflicted to know that statement is true and without exaggeration. CHARLES MCKAY,
Oct. 6, 1885. Peabody, Mass.

I have seen Mr McKay's boy when badly affected with the Eczema. He was a mild sight to look at. I know that he has tried our best physicians, and tell all a father could do for a suffering child, but failed nothing. I know that the statements he has made you as regards the curing of his boy by your CUTICURA REMEDIES are true in every particular.
WILLIAM J. MCCARTHY,
22 Foster S., Peabody, Mass.

I do not know of any instance in which the Cuticura Remedies have failed to give such satisfactory results. I believe I have sold more of them than of any other skin remedies I have ever handled during the thirty-three years of my experience as a druggist.

A Word About Catarrh.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages. Dry Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammelling the power of speech, deadening the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assails the membranous lining and envelops the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and ulcers. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all specialists and simply proprietary sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, by Inhalation and by Internal administration, has never failed, even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease entirely driven out."

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.00.

To Dislodge the Enemy,

When it takes the form of disease of the kidneys or bladder, is a task well nigh impossible of accomplishment. Renal and vesical maladies are more obstinate than any others. Counteract, therefore, the earliest indications of inactivity of the many organs with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which possesses, among other excellent qualities, those of an efficient diuretic. The degree of stimulation apparent from its use reaches, but never goes beyond the bounds of safety. It invigorates always, never irritates. Bright's disease, diabetes, catarrh of the bladder, are diseases successfully combatted in their incipiency with this benign medicinal stimulant and tonic. Besides reinforcing and regulating the kidneys and bladder, the Bitters is a specific for fever and ague, constipation and dyspepsia.

Story of a Postal Card.

"For twelve years!"

After trying all the doctors and patent medicines I could hear of, I used two bottles of Hop "Bitters;"

And I am perfectly cured. I keep it "All the time!"

Respectfully, B. F. BOOTH, Saulsbury, Tenn. May 4, 1885.

BRADFORD, PA., May 8, 1885.

It has cured me of several diseases, such as nervousness, sickness at the stomach, monthly troubles, etc. I have not seen a sick day in years, since I took Hop Bitters. All my neighbors use them. MRS. FANNIE GREEN.

ASHBURNHAM, MASS., Jan. 15, 1886.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I should never die in peace till I had tried Hop Bitters. When I had taken two bottles they helped me very much indeed. When I had taken two more bottles I was well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they cured me, and they used them and were cured and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.

Yours truly, MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

$3,000 Lost.

"A tour to Europe that cost me $3,000, done less good than one bottle of Hop Bitters; the latter also "cured my wife of fifteen years' nervous weakness, sleeplessness and dyspepsia."—Mr. R. M., Auburn, N. Y.

Baby Saved.

We are so thankful to say that our nursing baby was permanently cured of a dangerous and protracted constipation and irregularity of the bowels by the use of Hop Bitters by his nursing mother, which at the same time restored her to perfect health and strength.—The Parents, Rochester, N. Y.

☞Unhealthy or inactive kidneys cause gravel, "Bright's disease, rheumatism and a horde of other serious and fatal diseases, which can be prevented with Hop Bitters," if taken in time.

"Luddington, Mich., Feb. 2, 1885. I have sold Hop Bitters for ten years, and there is no medicine that equals them for bilious attacks, kidney complaints, and all diseases incident to this malarial climate. H. T. ALEXANDER.

"Monroe, Mich., Sept. 2'th, 1885. SIRS:—I have been taking Hop Bitters for inflammation of kidneys and bladder. It has done me more good than physicians failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Bitters seemed like magic to me. W. L. CARTER.

GENTS:—Your Hop Bitters have been of great value to me. I was laid up with typhoid fever for over two months, and could get no relief until I tried your Hop Bitters. To those suffering from debility, or any one in feeble health, I cordially recommend them. J. C. STORTZEL

638 Fulton street, Chicago, Ill.

Can You Answer This?

Is there a person living who ever saw a case of ague, biliousness, nervousness or neuralgia, or any disease of the stomach, liver or kidneys that Hop Bitters will not cure?

"My Mother says Hop Bitters is the only thing that will keep her from severe attacks of paralysis and headache.—Ed. Owego Sun.

"My little sickly, puny baby, was changed into a great, bouncing boy, and I was so well from a sick bed by using Hop Bitters a short time." A YOUNG MOTHER.

MONARCHS OF THE PLAINS.

A Determined Fight for the Mastery Between Two Buffalo Bulls.

The most remarkable incident in my buffalo experience was a fight between two buffalo bulls over on the Cannonball river in Dakota, and of which I was the sole and lucky witness. I was riding slowly up a knoll thinking of any thing but buffaloes, when I heard the most awful bellowing and crashing just ahead, as if all pandemonium had turned loose to scare me out of my five senses. My horse reared and plunged, but quickly dismounting I lariated my steed, and between creeping and crawling managed to secure a safe observatory from which I could view the circus then in progress. Two powerful buffalo bulls were going it hammer and tongs in furious efforts to butt each other's brains out. They had a little arena all to themselves, the rest of the herd forming a circle around, watching but not interfering, but waiting to drive the vanquished from the field in disgrace. Talk about your bullfights in Spain, your 1,000 pound bulls battling with little matadors. No arena of ancient Spain, or Rome, or modern Mexico ever had two such fierce combatants face to face, nor has the tug of war and the fight for mastery ever been so determined and fierce as between those two monarchs of the plains on the Cannonball river. There had only been one crash before I took my reserved seat, but the concussion and crack of the blow might have been heard a mile. The fun had only just begun. After the first whack the two champions sort of backed and eyed each other for a second crash. Then they lowered their heads, pawed the ground viciously for a few seconds, and came back at each other like a pair of freight trains coming from opposite directions on the same track. When the heads came together this time it was with a dull thump which led me to believe one or both craniums had been cracked on the first round. There they stuck—the two heads—and then both bulls began to push with all their might. The dogged, stubborn pushing lasted some minutes, until the white froth began to drop in long, tenacious strings from their lips, and the red eyes to glare through what appeared to be clots of blood. Somebody was hurt, for the crimson was dyeing the white froth as it fell to the ground. This dead set of strength could not last long. The tendons were standing out like ropes across the thighs and along the thick necks, and every moment was telling upon the short wind and straining of both antagonists. Although much of a size, I could see that one of the bulls was an old crusader, while the other was a youngster, and evidently trying to drive the old man out of the herd.

The old fellow's foot slipped, and the intelligence of the slight disaster seemed to burst upon his antagonist quicker than a flash of lightning. No gladiator ever urged his advantage more quickly. There was a sudden relaxation on the part of the young one, then a rush and a slipping of horns upon each other, followed by a raking, upward stroke, and the horn of the younger bull had torn the flank of the older fellow from the leg along the neck to the chin. It was not a fatal stroke but an exceedingly damaging one. Every time he was attacked the patriarch of the herd presented his war and weather beaten head, but the youthful bison caught him again and again behind the shoulder until the blood was pouring in a perfect stream from the wound. With the agony of defeat in his eye, and growing weaker from the loss of blood, still the old fellow refused to be conquered. At last, with tongue hanging out and panting for breath, he stood at bay, defeated and conquered, but still disdaining to retreat. The young bull pushed and gored him, but he made no attempt to protect his flanks. The rest of the herd drew in closer, snorted and shook their heads, while the cows, who had always regarded him as the head of the family, spitefully butted him in the ribs and walked away. Some of the young bulls gave him a contemptuous dig, until I thought the poor fellow must have received a thousand wounds.

He stood dogged and defiant, whipped, but still obstinate, and gradually the herd wandered farther away and left him to himself. It was a sentence of banishment and the sentence read: "To go and live as long as he could alone and fight his last fight with coyotes and wolves and die." He watched the herd grow fainter as it wandered farther away and then turned his gaze in the opposite direction. Feeling his defeat keenly, without a friend in the world, covered with blood and disgrace, the poor old brute limped slowly and sadly from the spot. He dared not return to the herd—for the cows will gore a defeated bull to death—so he wandered sorrowfully across the plains alone and disgraced, a beaten champion, sorely wounded and about to die, until he was lost to view in the distance and dust of the prairie.—San Francisco Call.

Life on Bennett's Yacht.

Ever live on a yacht? No! Well, listen to the way James Gordon Bennett entertains on the Namouna: A French cook furnishes the finest eating and an Alderney cow is carried in a nine stall on the boat, so that the choicest of fresh milk can be had at every meal. The daily life is an inspiration. In the morning coffee and fruit are served in the staterooms before the people arise. Then a bath, where a servant is furnished who rubs the guests down with the choicest Turkish towels. Then marmalade and sweets and about 1 o'clock breakfast in elegant shape. Dinner in the evening, with all the surroundings that would tend to make a man satisfied with his lot.—New York Mail and Express.

A CHILD'S SKIN

MY little son, aged eight years, has been afflicted with Eczema of the scalp, and at times a great portion of the body, ever since he was two years old. It began in his ears, and extended to his scalp, which became covered with scabs and sores, and from which a sticky fluid oozed out, causing intense itching and distress, and saving his hair matted and lifeless. Underneath these scabs the skin was raw, like a piece of beefsteak. Gradually the hair came out and was destroyed, until but a small patch was left at the back of the head. My friends in Peabody know how my little boy has suffered. At night he would scratch his head until his pillow was covered with blood. I used to tie his hands behind him, and in many ways tried to prevent his scratching; but it was no use, he would so stick. I took him to the hospital and to the best physicians in Peabody without success. About this time, some friends, who had been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, prevailed upon me to try them. I began to use them on the 15th of January last. In seven months every particle of the disease was removed. Not a spot or scab remains on his scalp to tell the story of his suffering. His hair has returned, and is thick and strong, and his scalp as sweet and clean as any child's in the world. I cannot say enough to express my gratitude for this wonderful cure by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and wish all similarly afflicted to know that statement is true and without exaggeration. CHARLES MCKAY,

Oct. 6, 1885. Peabody, Mass.

I have seen Mr McKay's boy when badly affected with the Eczema. He was a pitiful sight to look at. I know that he has tried our best physicians, and did all a father could do for a suffering child, but availed nothing. I know that the statements he has made you as regards the curing of his boy by your CUTICURA REMEDIES are true in every particular.

WILLIAM J. MCCARTHY,
35 Foster St., Peabody, Mass.

I do not know of any instance in which the Cuticura Remedies have failed to produce satisfactory results. I believe I have sold more of them than of any other skin remedies I have ever handled during the thirty-three years of my experience as a druggist.

A Word About Catarrh.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammelling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelops the bones, soften and ulcerate the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives and simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, by Inhalation and by Internal administration, has never failed; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out."

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.00.

Development of the Steamship.

The Boston Post, in an article commenting on Commander Chadwick's article on "The Development of the Steamship" in the May number of Scribner's Magazine, closes as follows:

The study of steamship development impresses upon the reader one unfortunate conclusion, and that is, to use the words of Commander Chadwick, "that laws dealing with shipping which had their birth in England in 1652 are not necessarily suited for America in 1887." Add to this the fact that while in 1860 the steam tonnage of the United States was double that of Great Britain, while in 1885 it was about one-third as great, and we have a striking testimony to the inefficiency and folly of our navigation laws. Perhaps if they were different, our own share in the development of the steamship might be greater than it is.

The Post is a free trade paper, and believes in "free ships"—that is, that the proper way to increase our steam tonnage is to hand over our coasting trade, the most important in the world, to the owners of the British tramp steamers, poorly built of inferior iron by underpaid workmen, and sailed by poorly compensated and worse fed seamen. We don't. But we do believe, with the Post, that a change in the attitude of this country toward its ocean shipping interests would be beneficial, and we commend to its attention the following despach from London, of the same date as the Post from which we quote above, April 29th:

In the house of lords to-night, the Earl of Harrowby asked for information respecting the decision of the government on the proposal of the Canadian government to establish a line of mail steamers between Vancouver City and China. The Earl of Onslow, parliamentary secretary of the colonial office, replied that the committee to which the matter was referred had declined to recommend a subsidy of £100,000 for the proposed service of a steamer every three weeks, but was considering the advisability of granting a subsidy of £60,000 for a monthly service, Canada to contribute also. Lord Carnarvon urged that a subsidy be granted. He said that if England did not assist the enterprise the advantages of the route would pass into the hands of another power.

This policy of giving government aid to private maritime enterprises which promised to be of general benefit to the country, has been steadily and consistently followed by England from the earliest days of steam navigation; and as the Post will observe, it is not yet abandoned, even though Great Britain's steam tonnage is three times that of the United States. With all her steamships, she is ready to give $300,000 a year in aid of a new monthly service between British Columbia and China; but when $400,000 is appropriated by the American Congress to aid in the maintenance of lines actually in operation between this country and countries with which we should be bound in the closest ties of commerce, by paying such lines fair prices for services rendered, a democratic postmaster-general declines to expend the money, and sends the mails by whatever means are cheapest, from a British tramp steamer to an old tub of a brig. And this, too, when the continuance of the lines Congress proposed to encourage would have been a powerful factor in securing to our manufacturers control of some of the most important markets of the world, and which from their location should naturally give to our manufacturers special advantages.

We believe with the Post that change would be sensible, proper and profitable; we dissent only from its idea as to what the change should be.

Labor Troubles.

The executive board of District Assembly 91, Knights of Labor, of New York city, were on the 29th ult. held for trial on two charges of conspiracy, in ordering a strike at a shoe factory, and in ordering strikes in any factory where O. B. Hart, a foreman obnoxious to the Knights of Labor, should find employment. The executive board numbers six persons, and the examining magistrate held that the evidence produced, unless overthrown, would convict them of criminal conspiracy on both charges. Five other union men were held in $500 each for trial on a charge of conspiracy in causing a strike in two shoe factories.

The Chicago association of master masons and builders last week resolved not to recognize the union of hod carriers and masons' helpers under any circumstances, and not to increase wages at this time. The union ordered all its men to personally demand a raise, on Saturday, and decided that those employed by contractors who refused the raid should be ordered out on Monday, the 2d inst. The plasterers' union on Friday passed resolutions prohibiting its members from handling work done for them by non-union laborers, meaning that the plasterers would refuse to work with men who, in case of a strike, might take the places of union hod-carriers. A great strike and lockout is feared.

OUR NEW YORK FASHION LETTER.

THE PICTORIAL—COQUETRY IN COSTUMES —COMMENCEMENT DRESSES—MAY NOTES.

The pictorial was never more studied or more effectively displayed than in summer dress. For this, the prominence of color is a leading cause; color both in plain goods and various fancy patterns, while combinations in costumes being revived with all the ardor of a first love, one can see that of unitings there may be no end. Variety in material also contributes largely, to say nothing of fabrics often the most diverse placed together. What can be farther apart than lace and velvet, yet the two are constantly together; notably where a velvet basque gives finish to a lace skirt. Then come in as special features, not only in picturesqueness but in comfort and economy, the loose blouse waists of the season, prettily gotten up of surah and other goods, not the least effective being those of Roman sash ribbon. An overskirt to match can be added, and the lace skirt presents that contrast considered so great an element of beauty. Other

CHARMINGLY COQUETTISH

Dresses are of plaided silk and lace. Pompadour silks dotted with sprays, or in bolder designs of stripes and flowers, are made up with striped silks to match; white wools are offsets to gay India silks, and with all, additions of parti-colored ribbons or different colored ribbons placed together, afford fancy touches. Many of these gay outfits are made Pompadour or V-neck with elbow sleeves. More modest costumes are of barege, also of wool batiste, trimmed with Fedora lace and ribbon. Dresses of cashmere and silk touch minor chords comparatively, but are none the less attractive, and fill a special place. Brightness in dress must always be subordinate to gravity, because a quiet costume is on many occasions most suitable, and therefore the supply of unpretentious wools is proportionate, slightly touched up with some combination at times; while tailor-made dresses, though not in quite such vogue as formerly, have great prestige. Extremely fanciful outfits for country lawns are made of wools and canvas, the latter often diversified by velvet stripes.

WHITE DRESSES

With embroidered stripes are in keeping with the rage for lines, and often show ribbon run in the open work. Lace is in great favor, especially for commencement dresses, and is united in many ways with surah or light wools. Point d'esprit is the leading lace, but plat Val and Fedora are also used, and are often made up over white lawn. Bouffancy prevails, an opposite style being adopted only in case of unusual plumpness, the skirts walking length, sleeves long or to the elbow, round waists, plaited or shirred, with a broad belt and sash at the back; neck high, but occasionally a square or V-shape. Now and then a basque, but most young girls are slender, and full styles become them. Embroidered lawns are used to some extent, but hardly so much so as buntings and other very thin white wools, some with small brocaded satin figures or similar narrow stripes in white. Ribbon is the popular trimming.

MAY NOTES.

Everyone does not know that black bonnets or hats, by the application of Button's Raven Gloss shoe dressing, can be made good as new. For such purpose, as others, this preparation is most satisfactory, since while improving, it also renders more durable the article it touches, because without the biting qualities of other dressings. They injure in polishing, while the softer black of the favorite dressing first named renders the shoe more lasting while improving its looks. Ladies are aware of this, and sales are always increasing. —— Commencement bouquets should be tied with white ribbon; gloves light tan or gray; shoes black, with black hose, bronze with dark brown hose being sometimes seen. An absence of jewelry bespeaks good taste, though some fancy pin in the hair is not unsuitable. LUCY CARTER.

WHY IS IT

That rheumatism and neuralgia are so prevalent? This question has not been satisfactorily answered, but it is certain that these diseases are not only the most painful but among the most common, and some member of nearly every family in the land is the victim of one of these dread tormentors. Ladies seem to be peculiarly liable to neuralgic attacks, which, in the form of neuralgic headache, pain in the back, or nervous pains are of constant occurrence. Not until the discovery of Athlophoros had any remedy been found for either rheumatism, neuralgia or nervous headache, and they were generally conceded to be incurable, but Athlophoros has been proved to be not only a certain cure for these diseases, in all their varied forms, but a safe remedy. If, in the use of Athlophoros, the bowels are kept freely open, its success is certain, and to aid this, Athlophoros Pills are recommended, which, while providing the necessary cathartic, will be found to be a valuable aid to the action of the medicine. Athlophoros is no experiment, it has been tested and has proved its wonderful efficacy.

The Athlophoros Pills were originally prepared as a remedy for use in connection with Athlophoros, for rheumatism and neuralgia and kindred complaints. Used in connection with that remedy, they are a certain cure for either of these very common and distressing diseases. They have also been found to be an invaluable remedy for any and all diseases arising from vitiated blood or general debility. They are especially valuable for nervous debility, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, distress after eating, headache, constipation, loss of appetite, and all stomach or liver troubles. For diseases of women they are invaluable. These pills are perfectly harmless and may be safely used by adults or children.

Testimonials of those who have been cured will be sent free on application.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they can not be bought of the druggist, the Athlophoros Co., (112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

May is here—

THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S ENTERPRISE.

The entertainment and sale of flowers, ice cream, cake and fancy articles in Franklin upper hall on Friday evening, gotten up and managed by a number of young people in aid of the monument fund, was successful much beyond the anticipations of its promoters, the hall being packed, and all the refreshments and other articles offered for sale disposed of. The literary and musical exercises were greatly enjoyed, and the only drawback was that the refreshments gave out too soon, the stormy weather during the day having caused the managers to expect and provide for a much smaller gathering than attended. The proceeds of the entertainment were $76.13.

ARBOR DAY.

Saturday, April 30th, by proclamation of Gov. Currier was Arbor day, and by act of the legislature was a legal holiday. The banks observed it by doing no business, but otherwise it was almost unnoticed in this city. The graduating class of the high school planted a class tree on the school grounds, Master Benjamin Cheever giving an address, Miss Bertha Hodgdon reading an original poem, and the class singing in chorus a selection. The tree planted is a thrifty looking young maple. The pupils of the Jones school also planted a tree, and had appropriate exercises in the school yard, Saturday forenoon.

THE CONCERT TO-NIGHT.

This evening our music loving citizens will have an opportunity to enjoy a concert of a class we are rarely favored with, by Willis Nowell, violinist, George Nowell, pianist, and Mrs. E. Humphrey Allen, vocalist. The young gentlemen should receive in their native city at least as warm a welcome as has been accorded them in other New England cities and in New York, where their high merit as musicians has been flatteringly acknowledged. A musical feast will be provided, at moderate cost. Tickets at Goodrich's.

SUPREME COURT -- BINGHAM J.

SATURDAY, April 30th.

Harvey vs. Watson, action against a deputy of the sheriff, for taking certain goods claimed to be owned by the plaintiff. A brother of the plaintiff was in business in northern New York, and became insolvent. His creditors on going to his place of business found that a large part of his stock had been sent away, and it was traced to Nottingham in this county. The creditors ordered the deputy sheriff to attach the goods, (which the plff. had in a store in Nottingham,) as the property of their debtor. Harvey claimed that he owned the goods, which his brother had turned over to him in payment of a debt; but they were sold at auction by the defendant, and something over $600 was realized from the sale. Harvey then sued the officer, and the case was tried in Portsmouth in October, 1885, and resulted in the disagreement of the jury. On the present trial a verdict was found for the plaintiff, and damages assessed as something over $1,100. Fuller for plff.; Frink: Drury for deft.

A minor case, for damages for an assault, was tried, and given to the jury in the afternoon, the court then adjourning for two weeks, when Judge Bingham will return to try cases without a jury. The jury in the assault case were out all night without being able to reach an agreement.

THE REASON WHY.

The subject at the Universalist church on Sunday was, "Why I am a Universalist and not a Unitarian," the text being I Thessalonians, 5:21; "Prove all things, hold fast that which is good."

The speaker was led to choose this subject by two considerations: First, to answer the often repeated question, "What is the difference between Universalists and Unitarians?" second, and the more immediate reason, by observing the report of Rev. M. J. Savage's sermon of the previous Sunday.

To answer the first, the difference between the Universalist and Unitarian churches is an historical, not a doctrinal one. Both churches are trying to make the world see that religion is not a matter of mere opinion, but a matter of truth; that all matters of doctrine that do not conform to man's highest sense of reason, of justice and of love, are worse than useless, because they pervert and destroy those very important attributes of the natural human soul. A man feels justified in committing crimes of which his God is guilty. To establish in the world a new thought, namely, that religion is the science of the highest living, that is, the most comprehensive reason, the most impartial justice, the most perfect love, is the joint aim of these churches. Religion is never to pass away until this is accomplished. Men do differ in the two liberal churches, but the differences are not between the churches, but often between men of the same church. The differences are not co-extensive with the churches. The whole liberal body, as individuals, has a tendency to surrender all to the highest sense of truth yet given to man. Every man looks at Christ, for instance, and gives to the world the honest picture of the Master thus made in his soul. This leads to deep study of Jesus, and the pews never stop to say "does he believe in the divinity of Christ?" if they have any faith in the divinity of the minister, and that it is thus used. Those who contend unduly for the divinity of Christ are not conscious of the divinity of man. Christ once said of eleven men, that they were one with him.

Why am I a Universalist? Because Universalism faced a bitter world with these truths many years before Unitarianism was ever thought of. Because we fought the battle, and bore the old flag of freedom. Because shoulder to shoulder we marched through obloquy and ostracism, and can do it again. Shall I forsake the banner that liberated the religious world, and gained the very ground where the Unitarians built noble structures with perfect ease and luxurious security? God forbid!

By the truth of our name we have changed the face of the Universe. What shall we say of those who desert the old flag of truth? Where is the "Old Guard" that "never surrenders?"

CHRISTENINGS.

Mr. Daniel S. Broderick of New York was in this city on Sunday, leaving for New York on the afternoon train. He came to stand godfather to his nephew, the young son of Mr. Benjamin Atwell, who was baptized in the Church of the Immaculate Conception that day.

At the residence of Mr. Harry G. Tanton on Deer street, Sunday evening, Harry Tanton Wendell, son of Mr. Henry Wendell and grandson of Mr. Tanton, was christened by Rev. Henry E. Hovey, rector of St. John's church. The families of the parents were present, and Capt. Hanscom of the Lowell (Mass.) Times was godfather to the child. The christening robe worn by the boy was the same in which his mother was christened, and was brought from Calcutta by the late Capt. Henry Libby, brother of Mrs. Harry G. Tanton, on one of his voyages many years ago. The boy was born in the house where he was christened, and his mother and grandmother were both born and both married in the same house.

In spring styles of boots and shoes, J. C. Carr has received a large and fine assortment of superior quality, from New York manufacturers.

The Children's Sewing Class of the Episcopal guild will close their work for the season with a sale of fancy and useful articles, to be held at St. John's chapel, State street, on Wednesday afternoon and evening, May 4th, to commence at three o'clock. Singing by the school in the afternoon.

The "Lights o' Loudon" will be played in Music hall next Saturday evening.

Col. Charles R. Littlefield of Kennebunk, and Messrs. John E. Colcord, William A. Ashe and Freeman F. Sanborn of this city, clerks in the office of the general storekeeper at the navy yard, having failed to take advantage of the kind intimation that their resignations would be accepted if handed in before May 1st, were on Saturday afternoon, April 30th, notified that their names would be dropped from the rolls that night, and they needn't come back any more.

In the list of pensions reported as having been granted April 29th is one to "Milton Corson, deceased, original, Kittery, Me." What good the pension will be to the man after he is dead, is hard to perceive; it would have been of more use to him while he was living.

Capt. Coffin is decorating Mr. T. M. Ball's house on Court street, and not W. J. Sampson & Co., as we stated in our art notes a few days ago. People might infer, from a perusal of the "city book in slices" as published by our neighbor the Penny Post, that the gallant captain could have no time to devote to work other than that done for the city, but this is not so, as he finds ample time to decorate in the most artistic manner for all who give him a call.

Mr. Charles V. Carter left Portsmouth on Saturday morning on his return trip to Pasadena, Cal. He will spend a few days with friends in this state and Massachusetts before continuing on the long journey.

The members of the Unitarian society in this city have recently given $215 to the American Unitarian society, and $85 towards the support of Indian schools.

The Bronx Bleaching Co. at Bronxdale, N. Y., had a $70,000 loss by fire on Wednesday of last week. The burned buildings were insured for $40,000. The People's Insurance Co. at Manchester had $1,176, and the Granite State Co. of this city had $1,000 insurance on the property.

GOOD TEMPLARS--NOTICE.

The members of Strawberry Bank and sister lodges are invited to meet at Rechabite hall at 10:30 A. M. this day, Monday, to attend the funeral of their late brother G. W. Frost.

LEE H. FISHER, C. T.
KATIE FRITZ, Sec.

The ladies of the Universalist Social Circle will hold a May festival in the church vestry next Thursday evening, when the "milkmaids' drill" will be performed, and ices, cake, confectionery and coffee will be served at tables presided over by fair milkmaids in fancy costume.

Another small lot of those all wool double-width Dress Goods at only 29cts. per yard, have been received by Lewis E. Staples. They will not last long.

At the urgent solicitation of a number of my patrons I shall continue for a few months after May 1st to make those fine Cabinet Photos for $2.00 a dozen.

COOK, 5 Congress St., Portsmouth.

Those wool worsted suitings in plain and mixed colorings, are the very best. No. 6 Market street. J. W. Moses.

The Times, in a little dispute with the Journal over the latter's criticism of President Cleveland's letter regretting his inability to be present at the recent unveiling of a statue of John C. Calhoun in Charleston, S. C., quotes from Harper's Weekly an article in admiring approval of the letter, and refers to it as being from one of the most widely-read and influential republican papers in the country. Harper's Weekly is earnestly in favor of the British free trade theory; it was one of the strongest advocates of Grover Cleveland's election, and is a thick and thin supporter of President Cleveland's acts; and it is no more a republican paper than is the New York Times or Sun, or the Boston Globe or Transcript.

The death claims paid by the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York during the week ending April 22d amounted to $218,816.87, and the endowments to $10,791.06.

The funeral of the late Hon. Avery Plumer took place from the Old South church in Boston on Saturday, burial being at Mount Auburn.

That Tired Feeling

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." E. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N.Y.

BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO.

Following close upon the failure to convict the murderer of Rev. George C. Hadlock at Sioux City, Iowa, there comes the story of a similar assassination at Haverhill, Ohio. The victim in this case was a physician, Dr. W. T. Northrop, who had made himself obnoxious through his efforts to secure prohibition in the town, and his murderers are a family of liquor dealers. They lay in wait for him on his way to his office, and killed him with shotguns. There is a conflict of statement as to the purely political character of this assassination, some reports representing it to be the outcome of a personal feud. As in the case of Rev. Mr. Hadlock, however, the startling feature of the incident is its occurrence in a strong republican state, under the influence of what is known as temperance legislation. If these bold murders had been committed in the south, or in a community unsanctified in politics and statute morality, an instructive lesson would be drawn from them. Under the circumstances, they are altogether useless in that way, even when happening in the state of John Sherman.—Boston Post.

The Post's attempt to make a little political capital out of the two cold-blooded and cowardly assassinations referred to, might be helped by the statement that in both instances the victims were republicans and all the murderers democrats, one of Dr. Northrop's assassins being the democratic postmaster of Haverhill.

WATERTOWN AND BRIGHTON LIVE STOCK MARKET.

Amount of Live Stock at Market: Cattle, 1003; Sheep and Lambs, 3,963; Calves, 1,385; Horses, 358; Swine, 13,428.

Prices of Store Cattle—Working oxen ⅌ pair, from $160 @ $175; farrow cows, $15 @ $32; fancy cows, $51 @ $80; milch cows and calves, $25 @ $48; yearlings, $8 50 @ $18; two years old, $14 @ $28; three years old, $24 @ $40.

Prices of Sheep and Lambs—In lots, $2 50, $3 00 @ $4 50 each; extra, $4 75 @ $5 50, or from 2½ @ 5½c ⅌ lb; spring lambs, $6 @ $10 each.

Veal Calves, 2½ @ 5½c ⅌ lb.

Prices of Hides, Tallow and Skins—Brighton hides, 7c ⅌ lb; brightton tallow, 2½ @ 3c ⅌ lb; country hides, 6 @ 6½c ⅌ lb; country tallow, 1½ @ 2c ⅌ lb; calf skins, 7c ⅌ lb; pelts, $1 35 @ $1 75 each; dairy skins, 10c each.

The supply of northern beef cattle was light, and prices generally sustained. There were plenty of western steers put upon the market of good quality, and sales indicate no visible change, although they cost a shade higher in the west. The country cattle ran largely into store cattle, for which there is a growing demand.

Milch Cows and Store Cattle—It seems like old times to notice this kind of stock on sale. Milch cows in good supply, with a fair demand. Sales mostly from $25 @ $35 ⅌ head.

The Sheep Call—A heavy run at the yards. The prime cause of there being so many was attributed to the fact that speculators in the country who bought their flocks from one to two months ago could not make the farmers hold them for a longer time, therefore they were obliged to ship to market. The large run was the cause of a decline in values of ¼ @ ½c ⅌ lb on many of the flocks. The difference between wool and sheared sheep is 1c ⅌ lb for same quality.

SCHLOTTERBECK'S

CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT.

A CURE IS GUARANTEED.

The Boston & Maine railroad company are having built at Providence, R. I., a large locomotive which is to be used on the Portland limited express. The locomotive will have extra large driving wheels, and will probably burn hard coal. A number of Pullman cars are being constructed to be used on this train exclusively, which is calculated to make the run from Boston to Portland in 140 minutes, only stopping at the "knownothing" near Newburyport on the way down. This train will undoubtedly be well patronized. Fifteen new-style passenger cars for the summer mountain travel of the Boston & Maine are being hastened to completion at the Wason car works in Worcester, Mass.; and one hundred new coal cars have also been ordered by the road.

We have sold quite a lot of your Athlophoros, and in every case it has given perfect satisfaction. H. F. Wyatt, druggist, Plymouth, N. H. Testimonials to the same effect showing its cures in rheumatism and neuralgia are received by the hundreds.

Two negroes who last week criminally assaulted a young white girl named Jennie Bowman in a Kentucky town, injuring her fatally, were hurried by the sheriff to the jail at Louisville to prevent lynching. On the night of April 28th several unsuccessful attempts were made to force open the Louisville jail, and on the 29th fully 10,000 persons were in the square at the jail; but the mayor issued a proclamation commanding the rioters to disperse, and late in the afternoon 350 state troops with a gatling gun arrived at the jail to aid the police. All danger of a riot is believed to be over, and the ruffians will be hung in course of law.

It is a Curious Fact

That the body is now more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at any other season. Hence the importance of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now, when it will do you the most good. It is really wonderful for purifying and enriching the blood, creating an appetite, and giving a healthy tone to the whole system. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar to itself.

STRENGTH FOR TO-DAY.

Strength for to-day is all that we need,
For there never will be a to-morrow;
For to-morrow will prove but another to-day,
With its measures of joy and sorrow.

HIS OWN PHYSICIAN.

Headache, headache and insomnia. By these Mr. Herbert Barrons was tormented. He not only suffered excruciating physical pain, but his soul was agonized by the dread of the unbalancing of his mind.

When a young man he had inherited a moderate business, unincumbered. His ambition had been to make the house of which he was the head one of the prominent commercial enterprises of the city. Devotion to business had caused his unfortunate physical condition, and now, when the firm of Barrons & Co. was quoted as one of the Al houses of the street, and Herbert's ambition had been seemingly gratified, only splitting headache, insomnia and probable insanity seemed his reward.

A friend advised him to take opium, but he refused to use the seductive drug.

"Better far the visions of the lunatic than the dreams of the opium eater. From lunacy there is but one awakening to sanity. The opium eater wakes daily to the wretched lot, haggard and terror stricken; flees again to the unrealities of the drug."

So he would not follow his friend's advice. They who knew him intimately trembled in helplessness, and for him there seemed no hope.

One day a physician, a bosom friend, said:

"Herbert, I have learned of something that I think will cure you. Will you try it?

"Gladly, but mind, not opium," replied the sufferer.

"Certainly not; something else. I will bring you some of the preparation this evening."

That night Dr. Noble called with the remedy.

"Powders!" exclaimed the patient as he undid one of the tiny packages. "Powders! I have taken enough of such things to kill a rhinoceros."

"Give these a trial," said the physician, departing, "and I think you will find them efficacious."

Herbert took one according to directions, and again one, and a third one, and then came relief.

Never before since, vulturelike, it seized upon his brain had the grim, obdurate pain relaxed its hold; but now, after the third powder, the fierce talons loosened their grip. And did he drink of the waters of Lethe, or was it only anguished nature availing itself of the first moderation in the torture to sink into oblivious sleep—a dead, featureless sleep?

When he awoke he was refreshed, but the pain was again tearing his brain and shrieking through his soul. Another powder according to directions, and again one, and then relief.

Rushing in gratitude to the physician's office, Herbert overwhelmed his benefactor with thanks and the offer of a huge fee. The latter the physician waived with the remark:

"The act was one of friendship, not by any means a professional one. I thrust the medicine upon you. You never asked me to prescribe for you."

"How stupid I was not to do so is evidenced by your successful treatment," Herbert exclaimed, glad of the opportunity to denounce his blindness. "But you must patent this preparation," he continued. "It will make your fortune. Every overworked man and woman in the world will be our debtor."

"Yes, I think I will patent it," the physician replied.

Herbert became well and strong. His headaches and insomnia were kept at bay by an occasional powder and the years went by smoothly. His business increased. The correspondence of the house widened and there was no part of the world to which its credit did not extend.

Then Herbert thought of marrying. He had met in his travels a beautiful child. She was, perhaps, 15 when he first knew her. Two years intervened, and then he again met her. Soon after that meeting the headaches had come upon him and he forgot her. But when he began to grow better and stronger under the influence of the powders his memory would revert to the sprightly and interesting girl. He was constantly recalling her speeches, her poses, and his thoughts were ever busy with her. He dreamed of her, and in his visions she was a queen, regal and beautiful, yet gentle. Her black hair and beaming, sparkling, black eyes were light and the shade to a face rarely equaled for vivacity, strength and tenderness.

As he saw her in his dreams, so was she present before him in his waking hours. Finally, with the reverence of a worshiper approaching a shrine, he sought her and told the story of his thoughts. She had reached the years of womanhood and was a noted society belle. It had been her privilege to decline the heart and hand of many men, handsome, educated, rich and, it may be, good.

When Herbert stood before her with bowed head and related how his thoughts constantly dwelt upon her, and made no further declaration of his love, her heart was touched. It softened, for she was something of a coquette. Her love dominated her, and when he came again, asking for hand and heart, she gave them both.

Herbert was happy beyond any shadow of uneasiness, far removed from doubt, secure in his vigorous health, sustained in his business success and rich beyond the wealth of the world in the possession of a true woman's love. Their wedding was a society event. They departed to Europe on their wedding tour.

"I have brought you some more medicine, and here is the prescription, in case the supply of powders is not sufficient," said Dr. Noble.

Herbert, standing on the deck of the steamer, seized the physician warmly by the hand and exclaimed impetuously:

"To you, old fellow, friend of my youth, I owe it all—all this joy, all this health."

Gratitude often hurls words like a catapult. Herbert's words were deeply wedged in the physician's soul. With only a handshake the friends parted.

Herbert and his bride flitted from city to city, from country to country. The weeks and the months went by without dates for them, save the entries love made in their mental diaries. They in their joy thought that time was asleep while the world went glad.

Paris at last, reserved for the carnival of the honeymoon! They were welcomed eagerly by the American colony, and plunged at once into the gayeties of the great capital. They had each other, and their love, and Herbert had the powders and the prescription. Headaches came to him, but they were soon quieted by a powder, or at most two. When the medicine was exhausted there was the prescription. It lay like a coat of mail over his heart and through it no hostile dart of pain could penetrate and kill the joy of his health and the ecstasy of his honeymoon.

One day the powders were exhausted. A ball the night before had kept Herbert and his wife up until the morning. He awoke in the middle of the day with an unusually violent headache. He took a powder, the last one he had, but experienced no relief. So he slipped quietly out of the room and went to a pharmacy with the prescription.

The pharmacist shrugged his shoulders and smiled.

"You forgot the penalty," he said.

"The penalty?" Herbert queried.

"Oui, monsieur, that is opium."

"Opium!" Herbert fairly shrieked, as he threw himself headlong across the counter and lay there limp. "Opium," he groaned. "My wife—my bride. God pity her!"

The druggist assisted him to a seat and then compassionately offered him a small quantity of the drug. Herbert refused to accept it.

"Never again," he moaned. "I will never take it again. But my wife, how shall I tell her? My poor wife, the bride of an opium eater!"

He refused again the drug proffered by the sympathizing pharmacist, and tottered into the street.

"An opium eater, and I did not know it. Betrayed by a friend!" Again and again he repeated the words, as he wandered aimlessly through the streets. His look grew wild and he felt that he was attracting attention. His strange mutterings and eccentric ways might lead to his arrest. So he called a cab and was driven to his hotel.

The knowledge that he was nearing his wife, and the resolution to disclose to her the truth, gave his look firmness and his face the determined expression of one steadfast in purpose. His wife was waiting for him to breakfast with her. She wore a morning robe in which heretofore she had appeared surpassingly beautiful. Strange to say, the dress seemed positively ugly, and his wife's face had lost much of its charm.

"Only the vision of an opium eater," he moaned, as he threw himself into a chair by a table and buried his face in his arms.

His wife hastened to him, and asked if he were ill, but he heard another voice sweeter far than that whose heretofore had been more dulcet music to him. His wife's tones were harsh and discordant while those of the tempter were soft, persuasive and harmonious with his desires.

"My God, what a revelation it is," he cried out in anguish. "All the happiness of the past months only the dreams of an opium eater!"

Then he rose, and with eyes fixed on her anxious face he, with stern resolution, and heedless of the tempter's pleadings to resort to the drug for escape from his woes, told the whole story to his frightened wife.

"Believe me, Eleanor, when I asked you to become my wife, when I led you to the altar, and there pledged anew my fidelity for you, and avowed again my love for you, even when I bade the traitor friend adieu on the deck of the steamer, even then I did not know I was an opium eater. Nor did I know it at any time until the druggist this morning revealed to me the horrible truth. Do you believe me, Eleanor?"

He advanced and seized her hand. Somehow the action and his fierce look seemed to mean, "If you do not, I will go back to the drug."

But it was easy for her to declare faith in his words. She knew he told the truth and convinced him that she did not dissemble.

"Thank you, dear, for your trust. Now will you help me break the coils of this habit?"

"Yes, my husband. I will be to you a real woman, the wife of your actual life, and not a vision of the drug, fanciful, mayhap beautiful, but nevertheless distorted. I would much prefer you to consider me the homeliest woman on earth, if I can be to you the companion and the solace of this your great trial."

"Then get ready at once to go home. Say nothing to any one of the reason of your departure."

She interrupted:

"My departure? Do you not go, too?"

"Yes, but by a slower way. I shall take a sailing vessel."

"Then I, too, take passage in the sailer."

"No! I must be alone. This fight is between me and the craving for opium, which even now is gnawing as if it would tear out my vitals. You will obey me in this?"

"I am your wife. You are the unconscious victim of a terrible habit. My place is by your side while you strive to overcome it."

"No, not so, Eleanor. I do not want to fall in love with my nurse, but I want to come to you a sane man and see with unbiased eyes the woman I married. Until then I release you from your obligation. If I get well I will come back again, and then, if I love you and admire you, we will be remarried; provided, of course, you still love me."

"Oh! Herbert, you are certainly insane now—you talk so wildly." She burst into tears; hysterically she wept. He grimly began to pack her trunks.

"You need not do that," she said. "I will call my maid."

That brought him face to face with his great need. He understood the impulse that led him to the strange action.

"You see, Eleanor, that I must flee—that I must be alone and far from the possibility of getting opium."

In a few short, quick sentences he unfolded his plans. He would leave at once for the wharves and find a sailing vessel bound for America. Upon it he would embark. She had better remain and state that he had been called away upon important business. When he was cured he would return to her or meet her in New York. She protested and wept, but in vain. Leaving her abundantly provided with money and an order on his house for more, he hastened to Havre and there secured passage on a ship about to sail for South America. His wife, chagrined, broken hearted, remained in Paris and informed her friends of the facts, but asked them to maintain silence. They humanely obeyed her request, and the sudden departure of Herbert Barrons to South America was tributed to urgent business. No one knew that he had embarked in a tardy sailer—as lazy a ship as ever ventured into the deep.

Dyspepsia and Torpid Liver.

Insurance Department,
Albany, N. Y., May 14, 1885.

I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia, water brash, acid stomach and constipation for the last fifteen months. Some time ago I read in one of Brandreth's calendars the case of a gentleman in Albany who was cured of a similar affliction by using Allcock's Porous Plasters. Knowing these gentlemen referred to in said calendar, I purchased three—one I wore on the pit of the stomach and two on my right side. I wore them a week, then took a bath and removed the plasters. I washed the places with cologne, rubbed them dry and then applied fresh Allcock's Porous Plasters. I found my appetite and digestion much improved in two weeks; in three weeks my bowels became regular, and now, after using the plasters for four weeks, I find myself entirely cured.

The McGlynn Controversy.

It is announced, apparently on good authority, that Archbishop Corrigan of New York has concluded not to make any statement in regard to the existing controversy between Dr. McGlynn, Henry George and others, and the Catholic church, in view of the fact that an encyclical letter from Pope Leo XII, bearing upon the land theory, is expected daily. From private sources it has been ascertained that the George theories have been subjected to a critical examination at Rome, and that the final report thereon is most unfavorable. In this case the controversy will be ended at a single blow. The condemnation of the doctrines of Henry George by the Holy See will make it heresy to teach them. In this case all who do so will suffer excommunication. Dr. McGlynn will then either have to recant or to abide by the consequences of his action. It is thought that Dr. McGlynn will not surrender his convictions.

Another Palatial Boat for the Fall River Line.

The directors of the Old Colony Steamboat company have voted to add another floating palace to their already well appointed fleet, and she is to be named the Puritan. The name is no new idea with the company; neither was that of the Pilgrim, for they were first selected for the famous twin boats, the Providence and Bristol, when they were projected. Why they were changed before completion does not appear. The companion boat to the magnificent Pilgrim has been long contemplated, and she will be built on the same general principles, with a double hull of iron, though larger and with more recent improvements; in fact, the new boat will be provided with every new feature that will be found conducive to the convenience and the luxury of patrons. She will have compound engines of great capacity and of the most approved construction, and will be provided with feathering paddle wheels. These features are all that have thus far been determined upon. No contract has been made, but the preliminaries are in the hands of Captain George Peirce of Newport, the construction agent of the company. Two years will probably be required to complete the Puritan.

The body was not recovered. Bissom leaves a family.

Mr. JOHN W. FURBUSH,
An Army Veteran,

who has probably suffered more than any man or woman in America to-day. Taken sick while in the Army, he has endured untold agonies since. Describing his first symptoms he said, "My head ached and my appetite was poor. I felt a faintness at the pit of the stomach, and a bad taste in my mouth, while my skin was sometimes hot and sometimes cold. I next felt pains in my back and around the lower portion of my body, and noticed a peculiar odor and color in the water I passed, which was scanty at one time and free at others. Sometimes it pained me to void it, and again it was almost impossible to do so at all. Finally I began to pass clear blood accompanied with the greatest strain and agony."

No less than 20 eminent physicians attended Mr. Furbush at various times, but not one of them could help him. He was near death's door. And yet he says: "I am alive and well to-day, wholly through the wonderful power of Hunt's Remedy, which took me from the verge of the grave."

The Boston Traveller remarks that "The president's personal organs are bestowing a great deal of praise upon him because of his letter in favor of the Oregon settler [who had a dispute with the Northern Pacific railroad in regard to his claim, from which the railroad without a shadow of justice sought to oust him.] When viewed dispassionately, it was simply an open order to members of his cabinet who have been rather leniently inclined toward land-owning corporations, to change their policy. A private note to Mr. Garland or Mr. Lamar would have been as effectual. But the president is a candidate for renomination, which makes a difference."

WHY IS IT

That rheumatism and neuralgia are so prevalent? This question has not been satisfactorily answered, but it is certain that these diseases are not only the most painful but among the most common, and some member of nearly every family in the land is the victim of one of these dread tormentors. Ladies seem to be peculiarly liable to neuralgic attacks, which, in the form of neuralgic headache, pain in the back, or nervous pains are of constant occurrence. Not until the discovery of Athlophoros had any remedy been found for either rheumatism, neuralgia or nervous headache, and they were generally conceded to be incurable, but Athlophoros has been proven to be not only a certain cure for these diseases, in all their varied forms, but a safe remedy. If, in the use of Athlophoros, the bowels are kept freely open, its success is certain, and to aid this, Athlophoros Pills are recommended, which, while providing the necessary cathartic, will be found to be a valuable aid to the action of the medicine. Athlophoros is no experiment, it has been tested and has proved its wonderful efficacy.

The Athlophoros Pills were originally prepared as a remedy for use in connection with Athlophoros, for rheumatism and neuralgia and kindred complaints. Used in connection with that remedy, they are a certain cure for either of these very common and distressing diseases. They have also been found to be an invaluable remedy for any and all diseases arising from vitiated blood or general debility. They are especially valuable for nervous debility, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, distress after eating, headache, constipation, loss of appetite, and all stomach or liver troubles. For diseases of women they are invaluable. These pills are perfectly harmless and may be safely used by adults or children.

THE NOWELL CONCERT.

The concert given in Music hall on Monday evening by the Nowell brothers, assisted by Mrs. E. Humphrey Allen, was fully up to the highest anticipations of those who had expected a splendid and artistic entertainment. It will be useless for us to attempt to add to the commendations the brothers have received from the most noted musical critics in the large cities, but we will say their native city may well be proud of the high positions they have so evidently earned as artistes. The audience, which though it did not fill the hall was of good numbers, was composed of the most refined people of the city, who showed their appreciation of the excellence of the performance by such warmth of applause as is rarely called out by a classical concert in Portsmouth.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

The 12th annual session of the Rockingham County Sunday School association will be held in the Methodist church at Epping on Tuesday, May 17th, commencing at 9:30 A. M. with devotional exercises. The present officers of the association are as follows: President, B. R. Jewell, Esq., of South Hampton; vice presidents, Rev. Charles Tenney of Chester, Rev. J. W. Adams of Exeter; secretary and treasurer, Dea. F. R. Drake of North Hampton; executive committee, Rev. C. M. Dinsmore of South Newmarket, Rev. E. B. Pike of Brentwood, Rev. A. B. Peabody of Candia, Rev. C. D. Hainer and Rev. W. A. McGinley of this city. Among the topics assigned are "The teacher's week-day influence," to be presented by Supt. Chandler M. Hayford of the Methodist Sunday school, and "The advantages of graded Sunday schools," to be presented by Supt. John H. Hutchinson of the Congregational Sunday school, of this city. The convention will be held on the day named, rain or shine, and all Sunday school workers are cordially invited to attend, and take part in the discussions of the several topics. Basket collation; tea and coffee furnished by the people of Epping. Gospel Hymns consolidated will be used to sing from.

MAY FESTIVAL.

The Ladies of the Universalist Social Circle will hold a May Festival in their vestry on Thursday evening, May 5th. The entertainment will include the Dairymaids' Drill, which will be performed in costume with musical accompaniment. Refreshments, flowers, confectionery and fancy articles will be offered for sale. Doors open at seven o'clock. Admission —adults 20 cts., children 10 cts.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR THE LINE.

By order of Secretary Whitney, the captains of navy yards have assumed and will hereafter exercise the same relations to the bureau of yards and docks as is now held by the heads of other departments of the yards to their respective bureaus. The civil engineer of the yard is to be regarded as the assistant to the captain in all duties under control of the bureau of yards and docks, and in the absence of the captain will have charge of the department of yards and docks of the yard.

This reduces the civil engineer to the status of a recording clerk to the captain of the yard, and is in accord with the old scheme for entirely eliminating civilian control from the management of the navy yards, and giving the line officers of the navy absolute power in all departments—a scheme which Secretary Whitney has forwarded with his whole heart from the day he entered the cabinet. The contest between the civil engineers of the navy, appointed and paid to do the civil engineering at the navy yards, and presumably capable of fulfilling their duties, and the line officers who proposed to have all operations conducted according to their notions, has been going on for many years, and has resulted in some of the yards being left entirely without a civil engineer, while in others that official has been reduced to a nonentity so far as influence in his own department was concerned. The consequence has been some of the most fearful and wonderful civil engineering ever known, and the throwing away of many thousands of dollars upon schemes which were scientifically and practically impossible of accomplishment. There is no need of going any further than the Portsmouth navy yard for an illustration of this.

I. O. G. T.

The second quarterly session of Strafford District Lodge, I. O. G. T., was held on Monday with Cocheco lodge of Dover, D. T. Frank E. H. Marden of Portsmouth presiding. The attendance was quite large, and the third degree was conferred upon all who were duly qualified. Rocking and Strawberry Bank lodges of Portsmouth were well represented by regularly elected delegates. G. C. T. George A. Bailey of Manchester was present to assist in the work, and a very agreeable and harmonious session was held, the visiting members receiving a hospitable reception from Cocheco lodge. The next meeting will be at East Rochester on the 1st Monday in September. H.

The board of assessors of taxes on Saturday evening discussed the propriety and advisability of taxing the surplus capital of the national banks; the taxation of the entire surplus this year is probable, in which case there will be a fight.

The monthly test of the electric fire alarm was made on Monday forenoon, and the apparatus was found to work all right.

The work of widening Water street between the south millbridge and Newcastle avenue was commenced on Monday morning, the 2d inst.

A locomotive and several lumber-loaded cars went off the rails at Agamenticus station (formerly South Berwick junction) on Saturday night, and a wrecking train went from this city on Sunday to replace them on the track. The derailed engine is one of the heaviest on the line, and it took two other engines to haul it back on the iron.

You can go out now and catch a dish of New Hampshire brook trout; that is, there is no law to prevent you doing so if you can, the close term having ended with April.

The Journal says: "Eldress Mary A. Gillespie of the Shaker society at Alfred, Me., died in that place on the 15th of April, of pneumonia. She was a native of this city, whence she was taken at an early age to the Canterbury Shakers, and so grew up in their belief."

Rev. Henry E. Hovey left on Monday afternoon for a two weeks' absence in New York city.

Gov. Bodwell of Maine, accompanied by several military men of that state, passed through this city on Monday afternoon en route to Gettysburg.

Mr. Robert Anderson, who as watchman at the navy landing at the foot of Daniel street for many years past has spent most of his days in keeping the peace and tending the navy yard steamer's lines, and a good part of his nights in fishing drunken men out of the neighboring docks with a boathook, had his family increased by the addition of a fine boy on Wednesday of last week. Mr. Anderson's record in the naval service is a most honorable one, and no man could better than he fill the position he has held of late years; but if he thinks he is going to be boss around his house about two years from now, he's a mistaken man, that's all. We know how it is.

The new primary school room in Newcastle was occupied by the school on Monday for the first time, about thirty children being present.

A gong has been placed outside the Haven school building, in such manner that it can be sounded from the inside by the teacher when it is time for the pupils to enter. It is a great improvement over the old hand-bell.

The street sprinklers were out Monday afternoon. The need of them is about as great now as it will be during the summer.

The services in Newcastle on Sunday in memory of the late Capt. George W. Towle were very interesting, and were attended by a large congregation, including nine members of the company commanded by Capt. Towle during the war, and a number of his former friends from this city. The address by Rev. Wm. A. McGinley was earnest and impressive, and dwelt strongly on the patriotism and the lasting public spirit of the deceased. The music selected for the occasion was appropriate and well rendered.

The ninth conditional $100 subscription of the ten desired to the monument fund, was made on Monday by "Cabot street and friend," and the tenth one is not likely to be wanting. This subscription, like most of the other "conditional" ones, will be paid over whether the full number of ten is secured or not.

The Mizpah club of the North church will give an entertainment at the chapel on Middle street this afternoon and evening, the doors opening at five o'clock; admission, for adults 15 cts., for children 10 cts. There will be literary and musical exercises, and sale of refreshments, Mayflowers, and fancy articles. The proceeds will go to the fund in aid of the Creek mission school.

During the base ball season the result of the games played by the National and New England league clubs will be posted every evening in Clark's saloon on the corner of Penhallow and Daniel streets, arrangements having been made for their reception by telgraph.

Another small lot of those all wool double-width Dress Goods at only 29cts. per yard, have been received by Lewis E. Staples. They will not last long.

At the urgent solicitation of a number of my patrons I shall continue for a few months after May 1st to make those fine Cabinet Photos for $2.00 a dozen.

That Tired Feeling

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." E. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Mo.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N.Y.

MATTERS IN YORK.

YORK CORNER, ME., May 2d.

A splendid morning this.

News "scarce." Mr. Lemuel Mitchell is getting along nicely—will go out doors to-day.

Willard Titcomb is still alive, and a great sufferer. Hypodermic injections of morphia are given at intervals to allay, in some measure, his sufferings. Dr. C. P. Gerrish of South Berwick is his medical attendant.

Dr. Hazen is engaged now in curing what another physician called cancers. In one case the man had given up and taken to his bed, and was, as he thought, in the coils of the grim monster. Hazen was called and found the primary cause to be ulcerated teeth. He pulled out two teeth and cut a hole in the man's face, and now the "cancer" is growing beautifully less, and in a short time "Richard" will be "himself again." And so the doctors disagree. A wide, wide world indeed.

Mr. Eastman is evidently getting better. He has been tapped ten times, and over one hundred and thirty pounds of water taken from him. When Dr. Hazen went to tap him on the regular day last week, there was nothing to draw. He goes out of doors now when pleasant. It will be almost a miracle if he does recover, and certainly the indications are that way.

R. Doucette has removed his shoemaking and repairing business to the village, in the shop with Barrett, "the harness man."

Dr. Ryder of your city will be at Dr. Stewart's office during this week, for the purpose of "yanking teeth" and attending to other branches of dentistry. This affords an excellent opportunity for those of our people who need the services of a good dental surgeon.

J. P. Norton is a little under the weather by reason of a bronchial difficulty; but will be stay in the house? No; he is right after business, and has got lots of it on hand. P.

P. S. O! Plaisted has heard from his advertisements, and his rush of trade rather astonishes the man himself. He is about fitting up his drug department, by additions and re-arrangement of goods, and intends making a good display. He is now a full-fledged registered apothecary, and ready for business as usual. P.

C. H. Gray of Ellsworth Falls, Me., was severly injured in a railroad accident on the Northern Pacific last Saturday.

Will be found an excellent remedy for sick headache. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

Graves was taken to Machias, Me., last Saturday, and lodged in jail. His trial will begin May 9th.

If you are tired taking the large old-fashioned griping pills, and are satisfied that purging yourself till you are weak and sick is not good commonsense, then try Carter's Little Liver Pills and learn how easy it is to be free from Biliousness, Headache, Constipation, and all Liver troubles. These little pills are smaller, easier to take and give quicker relief than any pill in use. One a dose. Price 25 cents.

To Dislodge the Enemy,

When it takes the form of disease of the kidneys or bladder, is a task well nigh impossible of accomplishment. Renal and vesical maladies are more obstinate than any others. Counteract, therefore, the earliest indications of inactivity of the many organs with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which possesses, among other excellent qualities, those of an efficient diuretic. The degree of stimulation apparent from its use reaches, but never goes beyond the bounds of safety. It invigorates always, never irritates. Bright's disease, diabetes, catarrh of the bladder, are diseases successfully combatted in their incipiency with this benign medicinal stimulant and tonic. Besides reinforcing and regulating the kidneys and bladder, the Bitters is a specific for fever and ague, constipation and dyspepsia.

A naval retiring board, composed of Commodores Greer and Weaver, Medical Directors Brown and Greene, and Commander Sigsby, has been ordered to meet at the navy department on Thursday, May 5th. The officers to be examined are Lieutenant-Commanders Hubbard, Amory and Thomas, and Lieutenants Bridge and Townby.

Story of a Postal Card.

I was affected with kidney and urinary Trouble—
"For twelve years!"
After trying all the doctors and patent medicines I could hear of, I used two bottles of Hop "Bitters;"
And I am perfectly cured. I keep it "all the time!"
Respectfully, B. F. BOOTH, Salisbury, Tenn. May 4, 1883.

BRADFORD, PA., May 8, 1885.

It has cured me of several diseases, such as nervousness, sickness at the stomach, monthly troubles, etc. I have not seen a sick day in years, since I took Hop Bitters. All my neighbors use them. MRS. FANNIE GREEN.

ASHBURNHAM, MASS., Jan. 15, 1886.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the wo.st part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I should never die in peace till I had tried Hop Bitters. When I had taken two bottles they helped me very much indeed. When I had taken two more bottles I was well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they cured me, and they used them and were cured and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.
Yours truly, MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

$3,000 Lost.

"A tour to Europe that cost me $3,000, done less "good than one bottle of Hop Bitters; they also "cured my wife of fifteen years' nervous weakness, sleeplessness and dyspepsia."—Mr. R. M., Auburn, N. Y.

Baby Saved.

We are so thankful to say that our nursing baby was permanently cured of a dangerous and protracted constipation and irregularity of the bowels by the use of Hop Bitters by its nursing mother, which at the same time restored her to perfect health and strength.—The Parents, Rochester, N. Y.

☞Unhealthy or inactive kidneys cause gravel, "Bright's disease, rheumatism and a horde of other serious and fatal diseases, which can be prevented with Hop Bitters," if taken in time.

"Luddington, Mich., Feb. 2, 1885. I have sold Hop Bitters for ten years, and there" is no medicine that equals them for bilious attacks, kidney complaints, and all diseases incident to this malarial climate. H. T. ALEXANDER.

"Monroe, Mich., Sept. 24th, 1885. SIRS:—I have been taking Hop Bitters for inflammation "of kidneys and bladder. It has done for me "what four physicians failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Bitters seemed like magic to me.
W. L. CARTER.

GENTS:—Your Hop Bittery have been of great value to me. I was laid up with typhoid fever for over two months, and could get no relief until I tried your Hop Bitters. To those suffering from debility, or any one in feeble health, I cordially recommend them. J. C. STOETZEL.

Can You Answer This?

Is there a person living who ever saw a case of ague, biliousness, nervousness or neuralgia, or any disease of the stomach, liver or kidneys that Hop Bitters will not cure?

"My Mother says Hop Bitters is the only thing that will keep her from severe attacks of paralysis and headache.—Ed. Owego Sun.

"My little sickly, puny baby, was changed into a great bouncing boy, and I was raised from a sick bed by using Hop Bitters a short time."

STRENGTH FOR TO-DAY.

Strength for to-day is all that we need,
For there never will be a to-morrow;
For to-morrow will prove but another to-day,
With its measures of joy and sorrow.

HIS OWN PHYSICIAN.

The horrors of that long voyage, while he did duty before the mast, for the purpose of fixing his mind upon something real, and distracting it from the craving for opium, cannot be related here. Every person who has been the slave of opium knows the torturing desire for it that constantly racks one in moments of abstemiousness, the fierce hunger that clamors to be fed on substance. No! on delirium and its shadows—on a waking sleep and its visions.

Herbert whistled for a wind. In a calm he scratched the mast. When a storm raged, and the slow ship rushed before the winds, he alone knew no fear. Then it was that he stood at the wheel and held the laboring vessel before the storm. Savage was his delight in the groaning of the timbers, the shivering of the masts, the shrieks of the wind rent canvas.

His mates regarded him as a storm demon, and when again the winds let go their hold upon the ship, and retired to the caves whence they came, and the waves fell and the sun shone again upon the ocean, they believed he had saved the vessel, and they hailed him. But he was morose. The sea was calm again, and the ship was lazier than ever, and the blessed opium for which he hungered, so far off as before the coming of the storm. So he sulked, and only whistled for a wind, or scratched the mast, and the sailors pitied him.

But, at last New York—home!

The ship dropped anchor in the bay and the captain reluctantly dismissed Herbert from the crew. The ship's yawl landed him at the Battery, and his mates bade him a sad farewell. Straight to a drug store he went, and asked for opium. The druggist, a shrewd man, conducted Herbert behind the screen and seated him. Then he made a few inquiries, which Herbert answered impatiently, while his eyes sought for the opium among the bottles.

"You have your life in your hand. If you eat opium now, you will never again abstain from it. You will soon become a mad man. I will not sell you the drug."

Herbert was within reach of the magician that could free him from torture of mind and body, for the headaches, which were not violent when he was on the sea, had come upon him with redoubled force. These he complained of, and begged for the opium as a relief from the agony. The druggist gave him a somnolent, and it eased the pain, advising him at the same time to put himself in charge of a muscular servant, under orders to keep the doors of their habitation locked, and his master a prisoner, until the craving for opium should be conquered. The druggist found such a servant; and with this servant Herbert departed to take up his monastic life.

The pharmacist kept his secret, and it was not known that Herbert Barrons was in the city. His wife was there and managing with success the affairs of the house of Barrons & Co. This Herbert learned from an item in a commercial journal. The story of the sufferings on the sea was repeated on the land; added to them were his headaches, unrelieved by the excitement of an occasional storm.

One day Herbert slipped out of the area gate, and, leaping into a passing cab, was driven to a gunshop. There he bought a revolver. Then he instructed the cabman to drive to Dr. Noble's address. On the way he loaded the pistol. When the cab stopped at the curb he sprang out and ran lightly up the steps to Dr. Noble's residence. He noticed that crape hung from the knob as he pulled the bell. He was confident, and smiled.

A servant opened the door. Herbert inquired for the physician. The servant pointed to the crape.

Herbert smilingly handed him the pistol and said: "I meant this for him, and then for myself; but now that he is dead I will live."

He left the astounded servant, leaped into the cab, and was driven quickly away. He had turned the critical point. With his servant he sailed that day on a long voyage, and was absent many months. From Asia he wrote to his wife:

"Here I am amid the opium eaters. I watch them daily. I learn their visions and their dreams of fair women. I compose these with my fancies in regard to you, when I was under the influence of the drug, and then these fancies are placed side by side with my remembrance of you during my convalescence. Now I am well. Here where the poppy grows, and where the baneful drug is made in its strength and purity, I am well, without desire to eat again of the opium. From here I write to you, as once I told you, the story of my thoughts of you. They hold you before me in a vision dearer, more beatific far than any revelation of you which the opium could possibly give. The halo of truth encircles your head, and the light of wifely pity—neither divine nor human, but strongly akin to both—suffuses your eyes, illumines your forehead, while your lips speak to me the words of self abnegation that you so generously and honestly uttered. This is the story of my thoughts. I tell it you. May I come and tell you my love. HERBERT."

"Yes, my love, yes," was borne to him by the fleet footed lightning—the Hermes of commerce, carrying with its burdens of business and sorrow, messages of great joy and consolation.—Arthur Merrick in The Epoch.

A CHILD'S SKIN

MY little son, aged eight years, has been afflicted with Eczema of the scalp, and at times a great portion of the body, ever since he was two years old. It began in his ears, and extended to his head, which became covered with scabs and sores, and from which a sticky fluid poured out, causing intense itching and distress, and leaving his hair matted and lifeless. Underneath these scabs the skin was raw, like a piece of beefsteak. Gradually the hair came out and was destroyed, until his a small patch was left at the back of the head. My friends in Peabody know how my little boy has suffered. At night he would scratch his head until his pillow was covered with blood. I used to tie his hands behind him, and in many ways tried to prevent his scratching; but it was no use, he would scratch. I took him to the hospital and to the best physicians in Peabody without success. About this time, some friends, who had been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, prevailed upon me to try them. I began to use them on the 15th of January last. In seven months every particle of the disease was removed. Not a spot or scab remains on his scalp to tell the story of his suffering. His hair has returned, and is thick and strong, and his scalp as sweet and clean as any child's in the world. I cannot say enough to express my gratitude for this wonderful cure by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and wish all similarly afflicted to know that statements are true and without exaggeration. CHARLES MCKAY,
Oct. 6, 1885. Peabody, Mass.

I have seen Mr McKay's boy when badly affected with the Eczema. He was a pitiful sight to look at. I know that he has tried our best physicians, and did all a father could do for a suffering child, but availed nothing. I know that the statements he has made you as regards the curing of his boy by your CUTICURA REMEDIES are true in every particular.
WILLIAM J. MCCARTHY,
35 Foster St., Peabody, Mass.

I do not know of any instance in which the Cuticura Remedies have failed to produce satisfactory results. I believe I have sold more of them than of any other skin remedies I have ever handled during the thirty-three years of my experience as a druggist.

A Word About Catarrh.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, transmuting the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping or from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelops the bones, eating through the delicate cartilage and causing inflammation, coughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives and simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, by Inhalation and by Internal administration, has never failed; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out."

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.00.

A Great Battle

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

HAMPTON JOTTINGS.

HAMPTON, May 2d.

On Arbor day several kinds of trees were set out in different parts of the town. Mr. Curtis De Lancey set a dozen chestnut trees on the roadside near his dwelling. The weather not being favorable, many ladies who designed doing much for ornament were deprived of the privilege, but will improve the first opportunity.

Mr. Freeman Williams is thoroughly renovating his dwelling at the center; doubtless will make it an ornament to that locality.

The remains of Mr. Joseph Plummer were sent to Newburyport from Hampton depot this morning, for interment.

Again the roads have been put in order; not as much money as usual has been expended at this time, the town having voted to use a part of the tax in the winter.

On Sunday there was much travel, everyone wishing to get out to enjoy the May day, and two churches being closed; the Methodist pastor has moved, and the Congregational society are without a minister. The latter society expected to hire a certain minister; his wife came and spent the Sabbath, and on Monday evening a sociable was held for the purpose of becoming acquainted with the pastor's wife; a good number assembled, but the lady took French leave that afternoon.

May flowers are not very abundant, the trailing arbutus being found only in one locality; the boys look out for them to sell, some of them doing quite a business at it.

"JAMES AND THE LITTLE ONES."

Under the above heading the Aurora (Ill.) Blade discourses as follows concerning a trait of Hon. James Shaw, formerly of this city and associate editor of this paper, and of an occurrence which took place in his household a few days ago:

Probably there is no man in this town who is so fond of children as James Shaw, librarian, and clerk of the city court. Ordinarially, Shaw is one of the most sedate and decorous men in the place. You can find him about his business, looking as solemn as a judge, and, when he is drawn into a conversation, he is most vivacious when discussing such works as Hamilton's Metaphysics, Whately's Logic, or McCosh's ponderous works. His spirits also lighten up when he can sit down with some gray-haired lawyer and talk of mandamuses, or writs, and replevins.

In this connection, we have only referred to James Shaw in the ordinary, down-town walk of life—when he has his business-look on, in his business place. But, if you wish to see a transformation that will do your heard good—a bursting of sunlight through the laden clouds that have been overcasting the sky since day before yesterday—when you wish to observe our hero in his softest and most gentle mood, you must see him when a child comes into the room. He looks up, drops his pen, shoves the monstrous record book from before him, ths hard lines on his face soften, his eyes twinkle, and that kid, or kidess, is drawn toward him with an irresistable impulse. Children, by some subtle intuition, know their true friends, and no hypocritical smile can lure them.

It isn't more than about four minutes before Shaw has scraped up a thorough acquaintance with his little friend, and the child has never been so happy and amused before in its life. The fellow who is writing at a desk on the opposite side of the room hears a mocking bird—he looks about and discovers it is Shaw whistling to the little one; he hears a long whispered conversation, and then a peal of laughter, and a clapping of hands—Shaw has been telling one of the most wonderful stories the juvenile has ever listened to; in fact, this clerk hears so much noise and laughter over in the direction of the two that he can't keep his mind on a single thing.

We don't know of any man in this section who has as much pure and unadulterated love for children as Jim Shaw, and when we heard there was a sweet little baby up at his house, we knew that a jubilee season had opened up in that home that would be a protracted affair. It is perhaps best, all things considered, that the new-comer is a girl, for she will, when she grows older, be more under the influence of her good mother. Had it been a boy, as soon as it was large enough for mischief the indulgent James would not hesitate a moment before giving him his pencil to draw a cat on the wall, or his knife to whittle a table leg.

Messrs. Editors: In passing through Kittery my attention was attracted to the spoiling of the most beautiful place in the town, the residence of the late Rufus Remick. I thought, "why should the York railroad company be allowed a charter to destroy so picturesque a place, —oak and fruit trees felled, with a general cutting up of the place?" I was told by a number of the townspeople that the railroad could have been run lower down in the field, or through Rice's hollow, with less injury to the family, but the company would not go to the expense of paying a flagman, or it was less cost to them in other ways. WHY IS IT

That rheumatism and neuralgia are so prevalent? This question has not been satisfactorily answered, but it is certain that these diseases are not only the most painful but among the most common, and some member of nearly every family in the land is the victim of one of these dread tormentors. Ladies seem to be peculiarly liable to neuralgic attacks, which, in the form of neuralgic headache, pain in the back, or nervous pains are of constant occurrence. Not until the discovery of Athlophoros had any remedy been found for either rheumatism, neuralgia or nervous headache, and they were generally conceded to be incurable, but Athlophoros has been proven to be not only a certain cure for these diseases, in all their varied forms, but a safe remedy. If, in the use of Athlophoros, the bowels are kept freely open, its success is certain, and to aid this, Athlophoros Pills are recommended, which, while providing the necessary cathartic, will be found to be a valuable aid to the action of the medicine. Athlophoros is no experiment, it has been tested and has proved its wonderful efficacy.

The Athlophoros Pills were originally prepared as a remedy for use in connection with Athlophoros, for rheumatism and neuralgia and kindred complaints. Used in connection with that remedy, they are a certain cure for either of these very common and distressing diseases. They have also been found to be an invaluable remedy for any and all diseases arising from vitiated blood or general debility. They are especially valuable for nervous debility, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, distress after eating, headache, constipation, loss of appetite, and all stomach or liver troubles. For diseases of women they are invaluable. These pills are perfectly harmless and may be safely used by adults or children.

Testimonials of those who have been cured will be sent free on application.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist, the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

SEWING CLASS FAIR TO-DAY.

The Children's Sewing Class of the Episcopal guild will close their work for the season with a sale of fancy and useful articles, to be held at St. John's chapel, State St., this (Wednesday) afternoon and evening, May 4th, to commence at three o'clock. Singing by the school in the afternoon.

RAILROAD MEETING.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire was held in the Boston & Maine railroad station in this city on Tuesday, May 3d. John Sise, Esq., of this city, was appointed a committee to receive, sort and count the votes, all of which were for Moody Currier, Dexter Richards, Samuel C. Eastman, Edward A. Abbot, William H. Goodwin and Frank A. Philbrick for directors, and they were declared elected. At a meeting of the directors held after the adjournment of the stockholders' meeting, Hon. Moody Currier was re-elected president, and Col. William H. Hackett clerk.

THE "LIGHTS O' LONDON."

At Music hall next Saturday evening will be presented the well known and well liked drama of variegated life, the "Lights o' London," which is unquestionably one of the most popular plays upon the boards. One of the prime factors in its success may be attributed to the fact of its containing so many character parts, all of which are clearly outlined personations. Then again its situations are not strained or affected. Each climax is succeeded by one superior to its predecessor. Additionally, the dialogue is clean and pure, the action brisk and thoroughly dramatic, while the moral of its simple yet interesting story appeals to every heart. The company to portray the play here is said to be composed of most excellent material. They bring their own scenery, all of which is from the brush of the celebrated scenic artist Marston, and is said to outshine all his previous efforts.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

The regular meeting of the Board of Instruction was held Tuesday evening, May 3d; present, Messrs. Batchelder, Garrett, Hodgdon, Gooding, Page and Goodrich.

In the absence of the mayor, Charles E. Batchelder, Esq., was called to the chair.

Bills to the amount of $64.95 were ordered to be paid. Bill of Mr. Fernald, $20, for three months' service as janitor, was laid on the table; as was also Beacham & Son's bill for a team.

The secretary reported the temporary school in the Elm street ward room to be very pleasantly situated. Also that fifty-three cases of truancy had been investigated since the last report.

There was some discussion as to the reason of the small number of pupils in the Plains school, the number being stated by one person as nine, and by another as thirteen.

Adjourned.

ELIOT & KITTERY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO.

At the annual meeting of the Eliot and Kittery Mutual Fire Insurance Company, held at Kittery, on the 2d inst., Warrington Paul, president, presiding, the following were elected directors for the ensuing year: Warrington Paul, Pascal M. Langton, John Wentworth, of Kittery, John D. Frost, Timothy Dame, of Eliot; Joseph H. Moody and Josiah D. Bragdon of York. At a subsequent meeting of the directors, Warrington Paul was elected president, Samuel Clark of Eliot, treasurer, and Alexander Junkins of Eliot, secretary.

A PROPHET WITH HONOR IN HIS OWN COUNTRY.

The generous appreciative applause which was showered upon the Nowell brothers in Music hall on Monday evening was extremely gratifying. First, because it showed that the audience knew a good thing when they heard it; and second, because there was a laudable pride at the great success of these young men, Portsmouth born, educated in our schools, and whose early taste for music was developed in our old town. Thus when, after a vociferous recall, Mr. Willis Nowell appeared and paid the audience a graceful compliment by playing in a touching and exquisite manner "Home, Sweet Home," there went through the audience a thrill of pleasurable emotion which only those who were present and enjoyed the rare entertainment could appreciate.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner John J. Hanson, with 982 tons of coal, the Martie A. Holmes with 912 tons, and the Unison with 177 tons, all to J. Albert Walker, arrived at this port on the 3d inst.

The schooner Lizzie J. Call, of this port, Call master, was at Hallowell, Me., May 2d, with coal. Capt. Call reports that he waited at Bath two weeks for the ice to go down; went up the river April 29th, found the water ten feet over the wharf, and had to watch night and day to keep the schooner from going on the wharf. On the 2d inst. the water had gone down so much that it was only four feet deep over the wharf. The Lizzie J. Call is chartered to carry a cargo of stone to Brooklyn, as soon as the freshet will admit of her putting out her cargo of coal and taking on the stone.

The steamer James Sampson on Tuesday towed down to Newcastle material for making a landing-stage at her wharf there.

The schooner Karen Happuch, of York, arrived at this port on Sunday, and is being supplied with new standing rigging of wire, furnished by Rider & Cotton and fitted by Capt. Joseph C. Muchmore.

A despatch was received in this city on Tuesday forenoon, the 3d inst., from Capt. Seaward of the schooner Grace K. Green, of this port, announcing that the schooner grounded on an anchor the previous night in the Schuylkill river near Philadelphia, to which place she was bound with a load of ice from North Boothbay, Me., and filled, settling on the bottom in shoal water. It was expected she would be easily pumped out, and the damage cannot be very great.

Mrs. N. H. Knox, state president of the W. C. T. U., will give a lecture in the Methodist church this evening at 7:45 o'clock, under the auspices of the Woman's Temperance League of this city. All are invited. A collection will be taken to defray expenses.

The exhibitions of glass blowing now being given every afternoon and evening at No. 40 Market street, next door to Kimball's drug store, are very interesting and liberally patronized. Children especially should be taken there, as they have a chance not likely to soon recur to learn a little of the mysteries of the art. This evening a case of glass-work valued at $10 will be presented to the handsomest lady present; and Friday evening a pipe will be given to the homliest man. The handsomest baby in the city under five years of age is to receive a case of work valued at $50, to be allotted by vote of all the patrons of the show during the week. See advertisement.

J. Albert Walker, who has spent a portion of the winter in Boston, has purchased an elegant span of coach horses, and will make the journey home by driving the pair over the road between Boston and Portsmouth, travelling in the same manner as did the merchant princes of Portsmouth in the early part of the century.

Hon. Dexter Richards went to his cottage at Straw's point, Rye, on Tuesday. Mr. Richards will not occupy the cottage this season, as Mrs. Richards goes to Europe in June with her son, a student at Harvard, to be absent three months. The establishment will be rented to a lady of Cambridge, Mass.

Capt. David R. Grogan, keeper of White island light-station, and Capt. David Burke, assistant keeper of Boon island, arrived in from their respective stations on Monday afternoon, for a brief stop on shore.

Jenness & Dowd are making for Rev. Joseph W. White, an elaborately carved tablet to be placed on the grave of his daughter Lizzie May, who died when nineteen years old and was buried in the south cemetery.

The attention of our lady readers is called to the new advertisement in our paper this morning, by Mrs. Tebbetts, the fashionable and popular milliner.

Mr. James M. Ricker has been renominated for collector of Boston by Mayor O'Brien.

Mr. Walter Costello, accompanied by Mrs. Costello and their youngest child, started on Tuesday morning for Michigan, to visit Mrs. Costello's brother, whom she has not seen for the past thirty-four years.

At the late session of the New Hampshire Methodist conference, held in Nashua, Rev. William A. Loyne, formerly of this city, was assigned to the pastorate at East Haverhill.

During the base ball season the result of the games played by the National and New England league clubs will be posted every evening in Clark's saloon on the corner of Penhallow and Daniel streets, arrangements having been made for their reception by telgraph.

Have you heard the latest? Well, the latest piece of really good news is that Foye is selling fast black hosiery for ladies and children. Pleasant, isn't it? Read the advertisement.

Another small lot of those all wool double-width Dress Goods at only 29cts. per yard, have been received by Lewis E. Stapples. They will not last long.

At the urgent solicitation of a number of my patrons I shall continue for a few months after May 1st to make those fine Cabinet Photos for $2.00 a dozen.
COOK, 5 Congress St., Portsmouth.

Those wool worsted suitings in plain and mixed colorings, are the very best. No. 6 Market street. J. W. Moses.

The Athletic club entertainment in aid of the monument fund will be given in Music hall on Thursday evening, May 12th; tickets on sale at Goodrich's bookstore on and after Thursday morning, nay 5th—and, if you want seats anywhere within spy-glass distance of the stage, an early call for tickets is advisable. Judging from the manner in which the pasteboards were bought up in advance of the previous entertainment given by the club, very few seats will remain to select from forty-eight hours after the sale commences.

Gideon H. Rundlett, Esq., had a little Arbor day of his own on Tuesday, when he set out in front of his residence on Court street some half dozen handsome and thrifty young maples, to take the places of old wrecks of trees which were badly used by the ice storm of two years ago, and were lately removed.

Governor Currier and Governor-elect Sawyer were in town on Tuesday. John M. Mitchell of Concord, and Col. Gaffney, speaker of the third house, were in town the same day.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Combines, in a proportion peculiar to itself, the active medicinal properties of the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. It will positively cure—when in the power of medicine—Spring Debility, Headache, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, and all Diseases caused by a low state of the blood.

"I suffered three years with blood poison. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and think I am cured." MRS. M. J. DAVIS, Brockport, N. Y.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

Is so vastly superior to any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier, that one has well said: "Its health-giving effects upon the blood and entire human organism, are as much more positive than the remedies of a quarter or a century ago, as the steam-power of to-day is in advance of the slow and laborious drudgery of years ago."

"While suffering from a severe bilious attack in March, 1883, a friend in Peoria, Ill., recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried the remedy, and was permanently cured." J. A. SHEPARD, travelling agent for Devoe & Co., Fulton Street, N. Y.

Purifies the Blood

"I tried a dozen articles to cleanse my blood, but never found anything that did me any good till I began using Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. H. PEER, Rochester, N. Y.

"My wife was troubled with dizziness and constipation, and her blood has been in a bad order—in fact she has been all run down. Hood's Sarsaparilla is doing her a wonderful amount of good." F. M. BALDWIN, druggist, Blanchester, Ohio.

"I was for five years a sufferer with boils, all run down, and was at one time obliged to give up work. Before taking all of two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, was entirely cured." E. M. LANE, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

DANIEL LITTLEFIELD,
13 Green Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

The schooner Lizzie Guptill, Smith master, got under weigh from Rockland, Me., at five o'clock Sunday morning, May 1st, and arrived in Portsmouth lower harbor at ten o'clock Monday forenoon, the 2d; and is now discharging at the Concord railroad wharf 800 barrels of lime, of which 300 barrels are taken by John H. Broughton, the remainder being carried into the country by the Concord road. The captain reports the sea smooth on the passage around, winds moderate, and sometimes a dead calm. In Rockland when he left, the streets were almost impassable from mud, they being made of limestone chips; in this city he finds the highways not only dry, but dusty. Capt. Smith made trips continually all winter, and spends about as much time in this city as in Rockland; some of his friends advise him to make his residence here, which he is half inclined to do. The captain saw the sea-serpent off Cape Nedeick on one of his trips last year, but neglected to make fast to the creature, thereby losing a fortune; he says he will not let another such opportunity slip, but thus far this season he has not seen the big snake. Of course not; the season of summer travel has not yet opened.

The Biddeford Times says: "Graves thinks California a good state to live in, and declares that he means to return there shortly. Considering the expense and trouble this state has taken to bring him back from his first transcontinental tour, and one or two other things that transpired last fall at Fletcher Brook, it seems reasonably doubtful if Mr. Graves will travel further than Thomaston during the remainder of his natural life."

How Crimes are Punished in Maine.

There are thirteen other crimes beside willful murder, the punishment for which, under the laws of Maine may be the same as that for murder, viz: Murder in the second degree; arson of dwelling in the night time; arson of dwelling in the day time, if a person is therein; treason; obstructing railroad, if life is destroyed; robbery, with arms or with a confederate; abduction; rape; arson, endangering dwelling; burglary; forgery, and altering public securities. For the last seven crimes, the court may sentence the convict for life or for a term of years.

"Zury: the Meanest Man in Spring County." This title suggests that the story Major Joseph Kirland has written is intensely realistic. As a matter of fact the story is somewhat realistic, since it is a narrative of the actual experience of the early settlers in Illinois, their trials, hardships, prosperity, manners, and speech. It is necessarily a story of rather rough folks, and of the stern life they lived in the pioneer days of what is now the home of millions of enterprising, intelligent, prosperous people. But a thread of gold runs through it, love sweetens and ennobles it; and the story is told with such power that it is sure of a reading. Published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and for sale at M. Goodrich's bookstore, price $1.50.

At a recent blast in East Providence, R. I., one rock thrown out was found to be sixteen feet long, 11 1-2 feet wide and 10 1-2 feet high, weighing about 160 tons—probably the largest stone ever blasted out in that section of the country. The rock was bluestone.

The court at Berrien Springs, Mich., has awarded Mrs. Douglas Taylor $2,875 against one Messenger, a saloon keeper, for felling liquor to her husband in October, when the latter was killed in a quarrel.

I had spells of neuralgia and suffered so that many times I have wished death would end my agony. I employed doctors but could get no benefit from them. Since taking Athlophoros I have had only two spells in over a year. Mrs. C. N. Paige, Boltonville, Vt.

It is probable that there may be two "Boston Ideals" in the field next season. Mlle. de Lussan will head one, while the old standbys, Karl, Barnabee, etc., will form the other.

A Generous Firm.

We are informed that the proprietors, Messrs. A. P. Ordway & Co., recently sent three dozen bottle of their reliable medicine, Sulphur Bitters, to the Catholic Home for the Aged, which is highly appreciated by the directors and inmates. "As ye sow, so shall ye reap."—Editor Catholic Union.

Charles A. Gibbs and James D. Wesley, doing business as partners in shoe manufacturing at Glassboro, N. J., recently disappeared, to the wonderment of their friends. It turns out that they not only carried off considerable of other people's money, but were accompanied by two handsome young girls of respectable families, who had worked in their mill. Both men left families behind them.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? people who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

Deputy Collector Murphy of the internal revenue department of Maine was released from the Augusta jail last Saturday afternoon.

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, biliousness or constipation, you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable; small and easy to take. Don't forget this.

Abe Littlejohn, a rich farmer, living near Clinton, Ala., and his wife, were recently burned in their dwelling. An investigation indicates that the aged couple were murdered, and the dwelling fired to conceal the crimes.

Why Stokes Will Never Deal Faro Again.

John W. D. Stokes sent $2 for the purchase of a ticket in The Louisiana State Lottery in the February drawings. He received a fifth of No. 43,191, and when he learned that it called for part of the $50,000 prize he resigned as dealer in a prominent gambling house. The money arrived by express. He is now enjoying a season of rest, and is hoping his wife, who is nearly blind, treated for her affliction. Stokes says he will never deal faro again.—Detroit (Mich.) Tribune, Feb. 27th.

Miss May J. Dunn resigned from the choir of the Catholic church of the Sacred Heart in Newark, N. J., recently, to accept an offer to sing in the choir of the North Reformed church. She was to have sung there on the 1st inst., but during the previous week her father received a note from Monsignor Doane informing him that a strict rule of the Catholic church was violated by any one taking part in a Protestant service. Excommunication was threatened, and Miss Dunn, yielding to her father's persuasion, gave up the engagement. On a previous occasion, it is said, Miss Dunn was prevented from accepting an $1100 position in a New York Baptist church through Monsignor Doane's interference.

"Outing" Growing Popular.

To take an "outing" is English, you know, and the thing is growing popular over here. Small parties now go for a tramp of a Sunday, or go boating, or bicycling, or fishing as regularly as if it were part of the weekly life. So it is a part, and a good part. It ought to be encouraged. Whenever overcome by faintness or dizziness in your trips take a few of Brandreth's Pills. They keep the blood in good order, the head clear and steady, and the nerves under mental control.

ASHBURNHAM, MASS., Jan. 15, 1886.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I should never die in peace till I had tried Hop Bitters. When I had taken two bottles they helped me very much indeed. When I had taken two more bottles I was well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they cured me, and they used them and were cured and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.
Yours truly, MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

Baby Saved.

We are so thankful to say that our nursing baby was permanently cured of a dangerous and protracted constipation and irregularity of the bowels by the use of Hop Bitters by its nursing mother, which at the same time restored her to perfect health and strength.—The Parents, Rochester, N. Y.

☞ Unhealthy or inactive kidneys cause gravel, "Bright's disease, rheumatism and a horde of other serious and fatal diseases, which can be prevented with Hop Bitters," if taken in time.

"Luddington, Mich., Feb. 2, 1885. I have sold Hop Bitters for ten years, and there" is no medicine that equals them for bilious attacks, kidney complaints, and all diseases incident to this malarial climate. H. T. ALEXANDER.

"Monroe, Mich., Sept. 24th, 1885. SIRS:—I have been taking Hop Bitters for inflammation "of kidneys and bladder. It has done for me "what four physicians failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Bitters seemed like magic to me. W. L. CARTER.

GENTS:—Your Hop Bittery have been of great value to me. I was laid up with typhoid fever for over two months, and could get no relief until I tried your Hop Bitters. To those suffering from debility, or any one in feeble health, I cordially recommend them. J. C. STOETZEL.

Can You Answer This?

Is there a person living who ever saw a case of ague, biliousness, nervousness or neuralgia, or any disease of the stomach, liver or kidneys that Hop Bitters will not cure?

"My Mother says Hop Bitters is the only thing that will keep her from severe attacks of paralysis and headache.—Ed. Oswego Sun.

"My little sickly, puny baby, was changed into a great bouncing boy, and I was raised from a sick bed by using Hop Bitters a short time." A YOUNG MOTHER.

STREET TYPES IN ROME.

A Bareheaded Beauty—Two Contadina Women—A Roman Cowboy.

Let us take a stroll through the streets, selecting not the Corso or the spick and span thoroughfares of the foreign quarter, but let us turn into a side street and then walk on into the heart of Rome. The first person to attract our attention is a young women, neatly and decently dressed, but with this peculiarity, that she wears neither bonnet nor hat. Her only headdress is her own beautiful hair, which is neatly brushed and as often as not done up in the latest fashion. This young woman belongs to the minenti class, a name given to the girls and women who never wear head covering. These women are for the most part the wives or daughters of well to do tradesmen. As a class they are most respectable, and a certain proportion represent in their dress and the valuable jewelry which they wear on festive occasions the prosperity of the family income, which is often much larger than that of the class above them, who do wear bonnets.

But no matter what the weather, however glaring the sun or intense the cold or pitiless the rain, the minenti never put on hat or bonnet. Many of these women have fair hair and skin and blue eyes, thus doing away with the universal impression that Italian women all have black hair and dark complexions.

Strolling on, we hear a kind of muffled cry, something between a chant and a wail, and while we are wondering whence it comes, an old man, bent and decrepit, with his clothes a series of darns and patches, comes trotting round the corner. He it is droning out the chant which has caught our attention, and, as he sings, he holds aloft a tray of sweetmeats with dried and glace fruits. As he moves rapidly along he glances up at all the windows, and although his face is old and wrinkled, it is clean, and there is a merry twinkle in his eyes when the children call to him and he stops before a doorway.

Coming out into a square, we find ourselves before one of the 365 churches with which Rome is blessed, and resting on the steps where they have laid their burdens are two genuine contadina women, a type becoming every year rarer, for the Roman peasant woman, like many of her sisters in other parts of Italy, is getting tired of her beautiful and picturesque costume, and now, especially on Sundays and fete days, often arrays herself in tawdry finery and tortures herself in a town dress. But here are two in their own costume, and while the old mother is rearranging the heavy bundles which they poise so gracefully on their heads, let us take a look at the daughter, a splendid specimen of her kind.

Dark, liquid eyes, straight, delicately formed nose and well cut mouth, the parted lips showing the white and even teeth, are framed in the traditional headdress of white linen, the zuccatoro, beneath which is seen the glossy black hair, in striking contrast to the olive complexion with its ruddy undertints, a tint made only by mother nature with the Campagna breezes for her brush and the sun for a color box. As the girl rises from the steps and stands erect to receive her bundle, her fine figure is displayed to good advantage. A moment later she and her mother have started at a good, swinging pace, to their home on the Campagna or up among the mountains, a distance perhaps of twenty or thirty miles.

We now turn into a very narrow street and suddenly move out of the way, to avoid being ran down by a peasant mounted on a scraggy, undersized horse, who goes trotting swiftly by. The horse's mane and tail are unkempt, his coat rough, and he has never been groomed in his life, but he has a bright eye and a game look, as if he could trot or gallop for many a mile without faltering. The peasant on his back is rough, like the horse. On his head is a conical shaped hat, rather the worse for wear; but the cloak around his shoulders is a good and serviceable one, and he wears stout leather leggings. In his right hand our peasant poises a long pole tipped with iron, while with the other he manages the horse, always obedient to the slightest movement of his wrist. The horseman is a Roman cowboy from the Campagna, and here called a buttero. He had large droves of the wild Campagna horses under his care, but his duties engage him principally in the morning and evening, so meantime he has trotted into Rome for a leisurely chat with some friends and a glass of good wine at an osteria. Rome's nearest equivalent to a public bar. If not as picturesque looking as the American cowboy, the Roman buttero is much less dangerous. He is only a good natured peasant, but with a quick eye, a ready hand with the lasso and a frame inured to every kind of weather and privation. It may be that somewhere in the folds of his garments is hidden a knife, but in this he is only like all other Romans, to whom a knife seems as necessary as food and drink.—Cor. Boston Transcript.

The Russian Army's Weakness.

The constitution of the corps of officers is said to be the weak point in the Russian army. The czar has endeavored to remedy this weakness by replacing the military gymnasiums by schools of cadets, which will create a better spirit and make more rapid progress possible. Birth, fortune, social position have had much to do with the assigning of officers to the best garrisons. The others have been in small cities or remote villages, where there was little to be learned, and they became demoralized. To remedy this defect the command of regiments becoming vacant is to be open to competition to the extent of 80 per cent. The remaining 20 per cent. are reserved to the guard and general staff. This is mere like the Napoleonic principle of promotion. An Austrian lieutenant is paid 600 florins ($240) a year; the Russian lieutenant even less. It has been his small pay and slowness of promotion that have caused the spread of Nihilism among the junior officers.

A CHILD'S SKIN

Ears and Scalp Covered with Eczematous Scabs and Sores Cured by Cuticura.

MY little son, aged eight years, has been afflicted with Eczema of the scalp, and at times a great portion of the body, ever since he was two years old. It began in his ears, and extended to his scalp, which became covered with scabs and sores, and from which a sticky fluid poured out, causing intense itching and distress, and leaving his hair matted and lifeless. Underneath these scabs the skin was raw, like a piece of beefsteak. Gradually the hair came out and was destroyed, until but a small patch was left at the back of the head. My friends in Peabody know how my little boy has suffered. At night he would scratch his head until his pillow was covered with blood. I used to tie his hands behind him, and in many ways tried to prevent his scratching; but it was no use, he would scratch. I took him to the hospital and to the best physicians in Peabody without success. About this time, some friends, who had been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, prevailed upon me to try them. I began to use them on the 13th of January last. In seven months every particle of the disease was removed. Not a spot or scab remains on his scalp to tell the story of his suffering. His hair has returned, and is thick and strong, and his scalp as sweet and clean as any child's in the world. I cannot say enough to express my gratitude for this wonderful cure by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and wish all similarly afflicted to know that statement is true and without exaggeration. CHARLES McKAY,
Oct. 6, 1885. Peabody, Mass.

I have seen Mr McKay's boy when badly affected with the Eczema. He was a pitiful sight to look at. I know that he has tried our best physicians, and did all a father could do for a suffering child, but availed nothing. I know that the statements he has made you as regards the curing of his boy by your CUTICURA REMEDIES are true in every particular.
WILLIAM J. MCCARTHY,
33 Foster St., Peabody, Mass.

I do not know of any instance in which the Cuticura Remedies have failed to produce satisfactory results. I believe I have sold more of them than of any other skin remedies I have ever handled during the thirty-three years of my experience as a druggist.

A Word About Catarrh.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease. Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, that destroys the sense of hearing, trammelling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, taxiting the breath, and killing the refined pleasure of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelope the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of radical eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives and simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, by Inhalation and by Internal administration, has never failed; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out."

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one Box CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.00.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., May 3d.

Mr. James Richardson has accepted a position in Boston as chief engineer of a large steam-heating plant, with a salary of $900 a year. Mr. Richardson was formerly engaged with the Portsmouth Machine Co., and would still have been with them but for a serious accident which happened to him some time ago, rendering him unable to resume the duties required of him there. Mr. Richardson received a very flattering recommendation from the superintendent of the machine company.

Dr. Geo. L. Peirce of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting his sister, Mrs. Dennis M. Shapleigh.

There were no services in the 1st and 2d churches on Sunday last, in consequence of the pastor being absent, attending the Methodist conference at Waterville.

The X. L. C. R. dramatic club of the 2d Methodist society will give a drama entitled "Our Folks" at Trefethen hall on Friday evening, the 6th inst.; admission twenty cents, supper fifteen cents.

Much good work has been done on the Post road during the past week, and some more is needed. The frost has left many bad holes and miry places, and considerable care has to be exercised to shun them, to avoid twisting and breaking a vehicle in pieces. As soon as practicable the road machine will be put to work, which will round up and level off the surface of the road, and make it passable for another year.

We understand that the new lodge of A. O. U. W. will be instituted on Tuesday evening, the 10th inst.

One of the York stages got mired in a bad place in the road near C. A. Todd's residence on Monday morning, and the services of a yoke of oxen belonging to Mr. Lyman Moulton of Beech Ridge, who happened to be near with a load of hay, were called into requisition to pull it out. The place where the stage "broke through" is the worst one on the road, and should be looked after at once, or the town will be called on to pay a bill of damages.

Mr. Albert S. Wilson last week lost a valuable horse from colic; he has also recently lost a valuable cow.

Charles H. Grant of this town, formerly 1st officer of the steamer Westernland of the Red Star line, has been promoted to be captain of one of the company's steamers.

Dr. Peirce is making some necessary repairs on his farm buildings at North Kittery, after which he will let the farm to some good tenant. The farm is quite large and in a good state of cultivation, and is a good place for the right man.

The rain Friday evening last prevented Rockingham lodge of Good Templars, of Portsmouth, from visiting Morrill lodge of North Kittery. Fate seems to be against them, as this was the second time they had attempted it; however, the members of Rockingham lodge are not the least faint-hearted, and we understand they are to try it again next Friday evening, we hope with better results.

One of our most enterprising young townsmen, Mr. Harry F. Stimson, son of Mr. Melvin Stimson, has formed a partnership with Charles H. Clark of Portsmouth, and will carry on the provision business at the old stand of Henry M. Clark.

For several years past Mr. Chandler Brooks has been aware that a swarm of bees had taken up their abode on the inside of his house, under the eaves, and access to them was impossible without tearing away a portion of the finish on the inside. This spring it was noticed that the bees did not make their appearance as usual, and Mr. Brooks engaged Geo. Leach and Joseph Keen to investigate matters; they cut away a part of the finish on one corner, and found all the space for some distance completely filled with honey in the comb; they took out fifty pounds of fine honey, and quite a lot was wasted in getting it. The bees were all dead; probably they were frozen during the past winter. SUB ROSA.

The English Sparrow Must Go---But He Won't.

The forthcoming report of the department of agriculture on the English sparrow will be a very interesting document. It will contain about 400 printed pages, in which will appear the experiences of about 3200 people with this destructive little rascal. It is doubtful if there is another bird in the world so unanimously condemned as a nuisance, as this alien.

Dr. Merriam, the ornithologist of the department, who has charge of the preparation of the report, says the indictment against the sparrow is a terrible one. He has scarcely a friend in the whole country. In California he is hated as cordially as the Chinese; but, while it is admitted that the Mongolian may be made a useful citizen, there is not even a monopolistic employer of coolie labor who can see the slightest use in the sparrow. He is accused of doing frightful damage to the vineyards of the Pacific slope. He always selects the most luscious bunches of grapes, and he invariably sticks his bill into the very best berries on the bunch.

Farmers who devote their time to the cultivation of grain report that the sparrows, wherever they are thick, do frightful damage to cereals. Market gardeners and the raisers of small fruits, in the vicinity of cities, say that since the sparrows began to multiply, the profits of market gardening have almost vanished.

The only known use for the pest is as a substitute for reed birds. One man in Albany, N. Y., reports that he sells hundreds of dozens of sparrows every month to the restaurants in that city, where they are served up to the New York legislators as the toothsome little thief of the southern rice fields. Sparrows make excellent table birds, and it is thought that the only effectual method of curtailing their increase will be to induce the small boys to catch them for food purposes.

The Boston Record maintains that the car-ticket scheme of the Daily Globe will not answer to repeat, as the guileless conductors bought the papers at wholesale rates, clipped the coupons, and turned them in to the company at five cents each, making a handsome day's profit.

The crew of the schooner Lonie O'Neill, all of whom were reported lost in Lake Erie, have arrived safely at Cleveland. They escaped in a yawl when their vessel went down.

The new sloop yacht Shamrock was launched in New York on the 2d inst. and is regarded as the possible defender of the America's cup.

The American Bridge Works at Chicago were burned May 2d; loss $400,000.

WHY IS IT

That rheumatism and neuralgia are so prevalent? This question has not been satisfactorily answered, but it is certain that these diseases are not only the most painful but among the most common, and some member of nearly every family in the land is the victim of one of these dread tormentors. Ladies seem to be peculiarly liable to neuralgic attacks, which, in the form of neuralgic headache, pain in the back, or nervous pains are of constant occurrence. Not until the discovery of Athlophoros had any remedy been found for either rheumatism, neuralgia or nervous headache, and they were generally conceded to be incurable, but Athlophoros has been proved to be not only a certain cure for these diseases, in all their varied forms, but a safe remedy. If, in the use of Athlophoros, the bowels are kept freely open, its success is certain, and to aid this, Athlophoros Pills are recommended, which, while providing the necessary cathartic, will be found to be a valuable aid to the action of the medicine. Athlophoros is no experiment, it has been tested and has proved its wonderful efficacy.

The Athlophoros Pills were originally prepared as a remedy for use in connection with Athlophoros, for rheumatism and neuralgia and kindred complaints. Used in connection with that remedy, they are a certain cure for either of these very common and distressing diseases. They have also been found to be an invaluable remedy for any and all diseases arising from vitiated blood or general debility. They are especially valuable for nervous debility, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, distress after eating, headache, constipation, loss of appetite, and all stomach or liver troubles. For diseases of women they are invaluable. These pills are perfectly harmless and may be safely used by adults or children.

Testimonials of those who have been cured will be sent free on application.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist, the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

DEATH OF REV. DR. ADAMS.

Rev. John G. Adams, D. D., an eminent Universalist minister, died in Melrose Highlands, Mass., May 4th. He was born in Portsmouth on the 10th of July, 1810, and was educated in the public schools of the town. Having fitted himself for the ministry he was ordained at Rumney in 1833, and was subsequently pastor at Claremont, at Malden and Worcester, Mass., Providence, R. I., and Cincinnati. While in New Hampshire he edited the "Star of the East," a Universalist paper, and in Massachusetts edited the "Gospel Teacher," a Sunday school advocate. He also wrote several books in advocacy of moral and humane reforms, a volume of "Hymns for Christian Devotion," and fifteen other volumes, chiefly Universalist literature. He was twice married, and leaves a wife, two sons and a daughter.

THE "LIGHTS O' LONDON."

The scenery used in the "Lights o' London" is of an expensive and elaborate character, and in magnitue exceeds what is carried by most other combinations. The drama is a strong one, with an interesting plot and numerous good situations, and is performed in a manner very near perfection by the company which will present it at Music hall next Saturday evening.

MARITIME NOTES.

A despatch from Hyannis, Mass., says: "Thomas H. Rider, one of the owners of schooner Active, which recently lost her sails off Nantucket and was brought into Hyannis, has settled with the wreckers for about $200; they wanted $500. The Active is loaded with paving stones from Rockport, Mass."

The barque Harvard, Capt. Samuel Pray, arrived at Philadelphia on the 3d inst., to load for a port in the China seas.

Preparations were made at the navy yard on Wednesday, 4th inst., for putting the U. S. S. Swatara out of the dry dock to-day.

The weather has interferred very much with the movements of the brick fleet lately, but on the 3d inst. the Chillon, Satellite, Clara B. Kennard, Triton and D. K. Ham arrived from Boston, and went up river to load. On the same date the schooner Gurnet, which last year was in the brick-carrying trade between the Piscataqua and Boston, was in the lower harbor, bound from Boston to the Kennebec.

Capt. Charles H. Grant of Kittery, late chief officer of the Belgian steamship Westernland, has been assigned to the command of the steamship Vaterland, belonging to the same line, and will leave Antwerp for New York in that vessel on the 18th inst.

This evening the ladies of the Universalist Social Society will give in the vestry of their church one of the delightful entertainments for which they have become noted through successes in the past. The attractions that will be presented are noted in another column.

The worm-eaten piles of the portion of the Noble's island bridge near the draw, pronounced by the diver who examined them to be honeycombed, have not yet been removed. There may be a fall there yet.

The street commissioner's men were on Wednesday of this week engaged in giving Congress street its annual spring cleaning.

The afternoon and evening receptions of the Bohemian glass-blowers at No. 40 Market street continue to be largely attended; the price of admission is but a trifle, and there is a good deal of interest to see. To-morrow evening the homliest man present will recive a glass pipe valued at $8 as a reward of merit; and on Saturday evening award will be made of the valuable case of glass-work to be given to the baby of Portsmouth under five years of age receiving the most votes as being the handsomest one in the city. Every visitor to the exhibition receives a present, and has a vote on the baby. See advertisement.

Mr. David W. Faulkner, switchman at Green street, while endeavoring on the 4th inst. to catch the crank used in hoisting the draw of the Noble's island bridge as it was rapidly revolving, was struck by it on the right arm and quite severely hurt. Noah could not remember when that draw was designed.

The Nowell brothers have very generously donated the entire proceeds of their recent splendid concert in Music hall to the monument fund.

Mr. H. M. Kennedy, accompanied by Mrs. Kennedy (daughter of City Treasurer Treadwell) and child, arrived in this city oh the evening of the 3d inst. from Calabassas, New Mexico.

Tickets for the Athletic club's entertainment in Music hall go on sale at Goodrich's to-day; there will be hentracks all over the plan of the house before night. A word to the wise, etc.

The largest and by far the handsomest monument in Greenland has just been finished and set up in the town cemetery for Rev. J. A. W. Chapman, by Hon. John S. Treat of this city. It is a finely proportioned piece of work of granite, the letters on the base (Chapman) being raised and polished, as is also the polished work on the die; the base is 4 ft. 6 in. square, and 1 ft. 4 in. high; the plinth 4 ft. square and 1 ft. 2 in. high; the die is 3 ft. square and 3 ft. high; the cap, 1 ft. high, is surmounted by the tapering spire, which is 1 ft. 6 in. square at the bottom and 11 ft. high, making the whole height of the monument 17 feet 6 inches. Mr. Treat also furnished four marble tablets to designate the graves, and four granite posts for the corners of the lot.

The Athletic base ball nine went to Exeter in Stoddard's barge, on Wednesday, the 4th inst., to play the Phillips academy nine. The Athletics were defeated.

The Devil's Auction company, which played in Music hall one night last fall, has been performing through West Virginia of late, but used only the scenery and "properties" found at the theatres in which the piece was presented, the railroads declining, under the interstate commerce law, to give special rates for the transportation of the scenery required in the proper presentation of the play. A spectacular extravaganza without special scenery and mechanical effects must be a good deal like the tragedy of Hamlet with the part of Hamlet eliminated.

Arbor day was celebrated on Tuesday night, 3d inst., by Mr. Walter L. Brown of Broad street, by setting four young and thrifty maples in front of his residence. With his aquarium and new aviary Walter is doing his best to beautify a public thoroughfare. The city officials were also there on that day to locate the new street light granted recently. It would not be amiss for the street commissioner to take a trip through the lower end of Broad street just now, as that street is the most direct route for people wishing to reach the west end when coming from South road.

The Electric base ball club of this city will visit Dover on Saturday, to play the high school club of that city.

In the "Account of the expenses of the town of Eliot," printed by Sherburne & Laighton of this city in 1845, the name of Cole is quite prominent, among the items being the following: "Ichabod Cole, teaching, $56.50;" "Ichabod Cole, for services as one of the superintending school committee, $7.00;" "Ichabod Cole, for three cwt. of fish for the poor, $7.11;" "Ichabod Cole, for stationery (miscellaneous,) $2.13;" "Ichabod Cole, two days' services (expense of committees,) $2.00." The report was signed by James Goodwin, William Fogg and Ichabod Cole, selectmen of Eliot. Ichabod has been very prominent ever since.

The annual session of the York county association of Congregational ministers was held at the parsonage of the Second Congregational church in Biddeford on the 3d inst., the pastors of sixteen churches being present, including Rev. James Lade of Eliot, (who on this occasion united with the association,) Rev. D. B. Sewall of York, Rev. George L. Lewis of South Berwick, Rev. Alpha Morton of Wells, Rev. C. H. Gates of Limington, Rev. G. E. Chapin of Lyman, and Rev. Collins Chapman of Kennebunkport, the latter delivering an essay on the question "Does death end probation?" Three new members united with the association.

BIG STRIKE ON SOUTH ROAD.

The Nautical Farmer repaired his fence yesterday. Instead of striking the nail on its head he struck his thumb on the nail, and immediately announced his intention of quitting the knights of labor.

Another small lot of those all wool double-width Dress Goods at only 29cts. per yard, have been received by Lewis E. Staples. They will not last long.

At the urgent solicitation of a number of my patrons I shall continue for a few months after May 1st to make those fine Cabinet Photos for $2.00 a dozen.

COOK, 5 Congress St., Portsmouth.

Those wool worsted suitings in plain and mixed colorings, are the very best. No. 6 Market street. J. W. Moses.

Hon. John L. Kelly of Manchester died May 1st, in his seventy-sixth year. He had been three times mayor of the city, and had held various other important offices. He went to war with the Fourth New Hampshire regiment, and rose to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He leaves a wife.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Combines, in a proportion peculiar to itself, the active medicinal properties of the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. It will positively cure—when in the power of medicine—Spring Debility, Headache, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, and all Diseases caused by a low state of the blood.

"I suffered three years with blood poison. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and think I am cured." MRS. M. J. DAVIS, Brockport, N. Y.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

Is so vastly superior to any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier, that one has well said: "Its health-giving effects upon the blood and entire human organism, are as much more positive than the remedies of a quarter of a century ago, as the steam-power of to-day is in advance of the slow and laborious drudgery of years ago."

"While suffering from a severe bilious attack in March, 1882, a friend in Peoria, Ill., recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried the remedy, and was permanently cured." J. A. SHEPARD, travelling agent for Devoe & Co., Fulton Street, N. Y.

Purifies the Blood

"I tried a dozen articles to cleanse my blood, but never found anything that did me any good till I began using Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. H. PEER, Rochester, N. Y.

"My wife was troubled with dizziness and constipation, and her blood has been in a bad order—in fact she has been all run down. Hood's Sarsaparilla is doing her a wonderful amount of good." F. M. BALDWIN, druggist, Blanchester, Ohio.

"I was for five years a sufferer with boils, all run down, and was at one time obliged to give up work. Before taking all of two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, was entirely cured." R. M. LANE, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

DANIEL LITTLEFIELD,
13 Green Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

—The best thing on record is the deed of a corner lot.

—"My young friend," he said solemnly, "do you ever attend a place of worship?" "Yes, sir, regularly every Sunday night," replied the youth; "I'm on my way to see her now."

—Chicago money lenders do not all have hearts of stone. One of them who had a mortgage of $100 on a widow's sewing machine, let her off after she had paid interest amounting to $173.

—"Edith," said a stern senator to his daughter, "is that young man, who pays you so much attention lately, a man of brains?" "I've not had an opportunity to find out, papa," replied Edith demurely; "I've only met him in society."

—"How is your son getting on in college?" Second Omaha dame—"Splendidly, but I am afraid he studies too hard. I got a private note from his room-mate advising me to send for my son, as he was beginning to toss around nights and see snakes."

—A Boston eight-year-old was drawing pictures at school the other day, and drew a pig. After the work of art was completed to his satisfaction the youngster wrote beneath it: "This is a domestic animal; he is called a pig because he is so selfish."

—Omaha burglar: "Wot did you leave Chicago for?" Chicago burglar: "Too much intemperance among them Chicago perlicemen." "Does that make any difference?" "Yes, sir. Some uv them Chicago perlicemen are dangerous when they are drunk."

—Brevity produces some very remarkable specimens of what the philosophers call nominalism. A man went into a store to inquire for Dr. Abercrombie's works, "The Intellectual Faculties" and "The Philosophy of the Moral Feelings." When he asked for them the bookseller, after looking about, solemnly replied, "I know I haven't any Moral Feelings, and I doubt whether I have any Intellectual Faculties."

Will be found an excellent remedy for sick headache. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

William Goss of Epsom died May 2d, aged sixty-eight years. He was prominent in political circles, a representative to the legislature, and had held many town offices. He was instrumental in building the town of Gossville, which was named in his honor. He left a large landed estate, and a wife and four children.

Lost and Found.

Lost—that feeling of soreness and tightness of the lungs. Apply Hop Plasters to the chest and between the shoulder blades. They prevent colds and protect the system from numerous ills. Twenty-five cents.

A Seabrook man asked the selectmen to pay him $2 for hens killed by a dog, but they have decided that a hen is not an animal, and hence the dog law does not apply.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? people who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

Six prisoners escaped from the county jail at Worcester, Mass., on the night of May 2d.

WATERTOWN AND BRIGHTON LIVE STOCK MARKET.

For week ending Tuesday, April 26th.

Amount of Live Stock at Market: Cattle, 1008; Sheep and Lambs, 3,989; Calves, 1,585; Horses, 338; Swine, 13,420.

Prices of Market Beef—A few choice, $7 00 @ $7 50; extra, $6 50 @ $6 75; first quality, $6 00 @ $6 25; second quality, $5 00 @ $5 50; third quality, $4 00 @ $4 50.

Prices of Store Cattle—Working oxen ⅌ pair, from $100 @ $175; farrow cows, $15 @ $32; fancy cows, $50 @ $80; milch cows and calves, $25 @ $48; yearlings, $8 50 @ $18; two years old, $14 @ $28; three years old, $24 @ $40.

Prices of Sheep and Lambs—In lots, $2 50, $3 00 @ $4 50 each; extra, $4 75 @ $5 50, or from 2½ @ 5½c ⅌ lb; spring lambs, $6 @ $10 each.

Veal Calves, 2½ @ 5¼c ⅌ lb.

Prices of Hides, Tallow and Skins—Brighton hides, 7c ⅌ lb; Brighton tallow, 2½ @ 3c ⅌ lb; country hides, 6 @ 6½c ⅌ lb; country tallow, 1½ @ 2c ⅌ lb; calf skins, 7c ⅌ lb; pelts, $1 35 @ $1 75 each; dairy skins, 10c each.

The supply of northern beef cattle was light, and prices generally sustained. There were plenty of western steers put upon the market of good quality, and sales indicate no visible change, although they cost a shade higher in the west. The country cattle ran largely into store cattle, for which there is a growing demand.

Milch Cows and Store Cattle—It seems like old times to notice this kind of stock on stock on sale. Milch cows in good supply, with a fair demand. Sales mostly from $25 @ $50 ⅌ head.

The Sheep Call—A heavy run at the yards. The prime cause of there being so many was attributed to the fact that speculators in the country who bought their flocks from one to two months ago could not make the farmers hold them for a longer time, therefore they were obliged to ship to market. The large run was the cause of a decline in values of ¼ @ ½c ⅌ lb on many of the flocks. The difference between wool and sheared sheep is 1c ⅌ lb for same quality.

Live Poultry—Receipts 400 lbs, at 10 @ 12c ⅌ lb.

I was a terrible sufferer with Salt Rheum—preferring death to life. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me.—Chas. Owen, Ironville, N. Y. To Dislodge the Enemy,

When it takes the form of disease of the kidneys or bladder, is a task well nigh impossible of accomplishment. Renal and vesical maladies are more obstinate than any others. Counteract, therefore, the earliest indications of inactivity of the many organs with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which possesses, among other excellent qualities, those of an efficient diuretic. The degree of stimulation apparent from its use reaches, but never goes beyond the bounds of safety. It invigorates always, never irritates. Bright's disease, diabetes, catarrh of the bladder, are diseases successfully combatted in their incipiency with this benign medicinal stimulant and tonic. Besides reinforcing and regulating the kidneys and bladder, the Bitters is a specific for fever and ague, constipation and dyspepsia.

United States Marshal Mead of Arizona has in charge James Barrock and two other men named Swan and McCusick, arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the recent Papago station train robbery. Barrock was formerly a railroad man, but lately has been a saloon keeper and gambler. McCusick is Barrock's partner. Swan is a discharged fireman, formerly employed on the Southern Pacific road. All were arrested near Fort Bowie, where Barrock and McCusick kept asaloon.

At Last.—A sure cure for dyspepsia and indigestion, "Digestylin." It is palatable and has tonic action. Try a bottle and you will be convinced. Sold by all druggists, or Wm. F. Kidder & Co., 83 John street, New York.

Story of a Postal Card.

I was affected with kidney and urinary Trouble—
"For twelve years!"
After trying all the doctors and patent medicines I could hear of, I used two bottles of Hop Bitters;—
And I am perfectly cured. I keep it
"All the time!"
Respectfully, B. F. BOOTH, Saulsbury, Tenn. May 4, 1885.

BRADFORD, PA., May 8, 1885.

It has cured me of several diseases, such as nervousness, sickness at the stomach, monthly troubles, etc. I have not seen a sick day in years, since I took Hop Bitters. All my neighbors use them. MRS. FANNIE GREEN.

ASHBURNHAM, MASS., Jan. 15, 1886.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I should never die in peace till I had tried Hop Bitters. When I had taken two bottles they helped me very much indeed. When I had taken two more bottles I was well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they cured me, and they used them and were cured and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.
Yours truly, MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

$3,000 Lost.

"A tour to Europe that cost me $3,000, done less "good than one bottle of Hop Bitters; they also "cured my wife of fifteen years' nervous weakness, sleeplessness and dyspepsia."—Mr. R. M., Auburn, N. Y.

Baby Saved.

We are so thankful to say that our nursing baby was permanently cured of a dangerous and protracted constipation and irregularity of the bowels by the use of Hop Bitters by its nursing mother, which at the same time restored her to perfect health and strength.—The Parents, Rochester, N. Y.

☞ Unhealthy or inactive kidneys cause gravel, "Bright's disease, rheumatism and a horde of other serious and fatal diseases, which can be prevented with Hop Bitters," if taken in time.

"Luddington, Mich., Feb. 2, 1885. I have sold Hop Bitters for ten years, and there" is no medicine that equals them for bilious attacks, kidney complaints, and all diseases incident to this malarial climate. H. T. ALEXANDER.

"Monroe, Mich., Sept. 24th, 1885. SIRS:—I have been taking Hop Bitters for inflammation "of kidneys and bladder. It has done for me "what four physicians failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Bitters seemed like magic to me. W. L. CARTER.

GENTS:—Your Hop Bittery have been of great value to me. I was laid up with typhoid fever for over two months, and could get no relief until I tried your Hop Bitters. To those suffering from debility, or any one in feeble health, I cordially recommend them. J. C. STOETZEL.
635 Fulton street, Chicago, Ill.

Can You Answer This?

Is there a person living who ever saw a case of ague, biliousness, nervousness or neuralgia, or any disease of the stomach, liver or kidneys that Hop Bitters will not cure?

"My Mother says Hop Bitters is the only thing that will keep her from severe attacks of paralysis and headache.—Ed. Omego Sun.

"My little sickly, puny baby, was changed into a great bouncing boy, and I was raised from a sick bed by using Hop Bitters a short time."

MENTAL POWERS OF IDIOTS.

Extraordinary Precocity of Mind in Certain Directions—Wonderful Memory.

It is a strange but well known fact that in many persons who are idiotic or but little removed from the mental condition of idiots certain powers of the mind may be developed to an extraordinary degree. Remarkable precocity in the power of arithmetical calculations is frequently combined with a positive deficiency in other directions. In institutions devoted to the care of feeble minded children such examples are nearly always present. Deficient in some faculties, others are developed to excess. Some such can carve and draw with great skill. Extraordinary memory is often met with, associated with very great defect of reasoning. One boy, in reading Gibbon's "Rise and Fall of the Roman Empire," skipped a line on the third page at his first perusal. Ever after, when reciting from memory the stately periods of Gibbon, he would, on coming to the third page, skip the line and retrace his steps, just as when he first recommitted the passage to memory.

Often memory takes the form of remembering dates and past events. One boy never failed to tell correctly the name and address of every confectioner's shop he visited in London, and could as readily tell the date of every visit. The faculty of number is usually slightly developed in feeble minded children, while memory is fairly well developed; yet occasionally the power of mental arithmetic has been well developed. Improvisation is an occasional faculty. Memory of tune is a very common faculty among the feeble minded; they readily acquire simple airs, and rarely forget them.

In none of the cases of idiot savants has there been any history of the possession of a similar faculty by the parents or sisters or brothers. In one case a necropsy is reported by Dr. J. L. Down, of London. The boy had a remarkable, indeed, perfect, appreciation of past or passing time. There was no difference from an ordinary brain, with the exception that there were two well marked and distinct soft commissures. Dr. Down's explanation of the phenomenon was that, as every movement of the house was absolutely punctual, he had data from which he could estimate the time by accurate appreciation of its flux.

Every form of mental deviation may be met with in the congenital feeble minded. They may become the subjects of acute and chronic mania, or acute and chronic melancholia and dementia. Occasionally, under the influence of acute mania, the feeble intellect of youth becomes fanned into a brighter flame. The taciturn may become loquacious; the timid and respectful, proud and defiant; the amiable and tractable, abusive and destructive. Three remarkable instances occurred to Dr. Down of boys who had never been able to speak making use of well formed sentences during the high febrile state of acute pneumonia or scarlatina.

It is of much interest to report all such cases, as they throw great light on the workings of the human mind in health. —Medical and Surgical Reports.

A Needle Through a Cent.

We know that one body is harder than another when it is capable of scratching the latter. A piece of glass scratches marble, a bit of diamond scratches glass; so glass is harder than marble and the diamond is harder than glass. The steel blade of a knife scratches copper; so steel is harder than copper, and it is not impossible to pierce a copper coin with a needle that is much harder than it. The problem at first sight appears insoluble, because if we endeavor to drive a needle into a cent just as we would drive a nail into a board, we never fail to break the needle at every attempt, since steel, although very hard, is very brittle. But if, through some artifice, we succeed in holding the needle straight and rigid over the cent, we can drive it into the copper with a hammer. To do this it is only necessary to introduce the needle into a cork of the same length, when, being held in a true sheath, it will be unable to bend in any direction and can be given a hard blow in the direction of its axis without being broken.

Under such circumstances place the needle and its cork over a cent laid upon a bolt nut or even upon a table that you do not fear to injure, and then take a somewhat heavy locksmith's hammer and strike the cork a hard blow. If the blow straight and a very hard one the needle will pass through the cent, and it will be impossible to remove it. The experiment may be tried with any other piece of money. We should add that success may not attend the first blow, and it will be necessary to make several trials; but the fact is real, and we have on hand a cent thus traversed by a slender needle.—Scientific American.

Latter Day Saints in Ohio.

An interesting revival of Mormonism is going on at Kirtland, O., the place where this curious faith was first promulgated. The old temple is undergoing repairs, and a new community of Latter Day saints is growing up about it. They do not believe in or practice polygamy, and so long as they do not break the laws of Ohio nobody objects to them. In the business of special revelations, however, they are up to their old leaders. Elder Kelley has one every few days in regard to the restoration of the temple, which is to be according to the original design. But it is a little curious that for details he consults the old residents of the neighborhood who remember just how the building looked when it was first finished.—Frank Leslie's.

"Freedom of Action as Citizens."

In New York, on the 4th inst., the amalgamated brass and silver workers decided that the demands of the employers that their men individually leave the Union was unconstitutional, as interfering with their freedom of action as citizens, and the men declared they would not accede to any such terms. This is all very well; but how is it when the Union denounces as "scabs" and drives from employment every working man who refuses to join the Union or submit to Union dictation? Are the members of the trades unions the only persons who have a right to claim "freedom of action as citizens?"

Earthquake in Arizona.

There was a severe shake in Arizona territory about two o'clock in the afternoon on the 3d inst. At Tucson considerable damage was done to buildings, and the entire population took to the streets. The court house swayed like a ship in a seaway, and vast masses of rock and earth were thrown down from Santa Catalina mountain, in sight of Tucson; and the towering peak known as "Old Castle," farther away, totally disappeared. A volcano was reported to have broken out in Total Wreck mountains, about twenty miles south of the city. The shock was very severe at Benson and Tombstone, water and smoke bursting from fissures in what had previously been dry ground, and ponds totally disappearing.

Terrible Mine Disaster.

A despatch from Nanaimo, on the eastern shore of Vancouver island, says a terrible explosion occured in the Victoria Coal company's mine at that place on the night of the 3d inst. One hundred and fifty men are believed to have been in the mine at the time. At midnight several bodies had been recovered, and a few persons seriously burned were rescued at the same time. These numbered twelve in all. There were little hopes of recovering alive any of those still in the mine. A rescuing party went down, but owing to black damp were unable to do anything. S. Hudson, of the rescuing party, died shortly after coming out of the mine. The scene around the shaft was most heartrending. A special train carrying surgeons from Victoria arrived at Nanaimo early on the 4th. When the despatch left Nanaimo the mine was on fire.

MARITIME NOTES.

A despatch of May 4th from Philadelphia said: Tugs will this afternoon pump out the schooner Grace K. Green, sunk at the mouth of the Schuylkill, and tow her to her wharf in the Schuylkill river.

Commander John R. Bartlett, of the naval hydrographic bureau, makes the suggestion that there be an international convention representing the commercial countries, which shall provide means for a sea-patrol to destroy the water-logged wrecks which are drifting about to the peril of navigation, each nation to have the guard of its own coast and a proper proportion of the open seas. The suggestion is an excellent one.

The steamer Pinafore, Capt. Oscar Laighton, made a trip in from the Shoals on Thursday.

NEW SLOOP ON THE RIVER.

Capt. Thomas T. Clarkson of Kittery Point came up on Wednesday morning of this week with his new sloop, which is of a somewhat peculiar model, of his own planning. Her dimensions are: Length, forty feet; beam, fourteen feet; depth of hold, five feet. She has a flat bottom, which enables her to carry a large freight on a light draught of water. She is built wholly of heavy white oak, and strongly fastened; and her stem is protected by a heavy strap of iron. Her lines are good, and she sails well; and her mast is so arranged that it can be lowered by using a broad sheave at its foot, so that she can readily pass under the bridges on the branches of the Piscataqua. Hiram Tobey was the builder. Capt. Clarkson calls her the Fearless, but some of the scoffers around the Concord railroad wharf suggested that she should be named the Noncsuch, there being no other such craft to be seen anywhere along the eastern coast. She passed inside of the Noble's island bridge on Wednesday, and took on a load of lumber from Call's wharf for the point.

The Fearless was up again on Thursday for another load of lumber, this load being for Mrs. Titcomb's new house on Cutts' island, now in course of construction by John H. Sanborn.

AROUND HOME.

Mrs. Frank Williams, soprano, Mr. Thomas Chase, tenor, and Mr. Henry L. Harlow, base and musical director, have been engaged for the Unitarian church choir another year; also Miss Lizzie Davis as organist. Mrs. Ordway, the Newburyport lady who sang alto during the church year just ended, has accepted an engagement elsewhere, and her place is not yet filled.

The notice of the business change just made by Henry M. Clark, meat and provision dealer, appears in another column. Mr. Clark is compelled by the rapidly increasing volume of his business to dispose of the retail branch of his trade, and will now give his entire attention to the wholesale meat business. Charles H. Clark of this city and Harry F. Stimson of Kittery, having formed a co-partnership, will continue the retail meat and provision trade at the old stand of Henry M. Clark, No. 23 Congress street.

The charge for hauling a car-load (ten tons) of granite from Biddeford to this city is now $9, against $6 charged before the interstate commerce law went into effect. It is absurd to pretend that there is anything in the provisions of that law to compel any such advance in freight rates; but the railroads mean to make the interstate law so obnoxious that the people of the whole country will clamor for its repeal, and we guess they will succeed in doing it.

The Exact Number was 294,330.

BOSTON, May 5.—"How many papers did the Boston Daily Globe sell last Monday?" has been the question everybody has asked everybody the past week. The official announcement of the number of Boston Globes printed and sold on that date gives the figures as 294,330, the largest number of copies ever sold by any newspaper published in Boston or New England in one day.

The new Boston Globe building is now open to inspection from basement to roof, and everybody is invited to come and look over the finest newspaper building in New England. Thousands have already availed themselves of the privilege, and only words of praise are heard.

The Boston Globe has entered a new era of prosperity, and new readers are daily adding to its circulation, which is larger than that of any other newspaper published in Boston or New England.

WHY IS IT

That rheumatism and neuralgia are so prevalent? This question has not been satisfactorily answered, but it is certain that these diseases are not only the most painful but among the most common, and some member of nearly every family in the land is the victim of one of these dread tormentors. Ladies seem to be peculiarly liable to neuralgic attacks, which, in the form of neuralgic headache, pain in the back, or nervous pains are of constant occurrence. Not until the discovery of Athlophoros had any remedy been found for either rheumatism, neuralgia or nervous headache, and they were generally conceded to be incurable, but Athlophoros has been proved to be not only a certain cure for these diseases, in all their varied forms, but a safe remedy. If, in the use of Athlophoros, the bowels are kept freely open, its success is certain, and to aid this, Athlophoros Pills are recommended, which, while providing the necessary cathartic, will be found to be a valuable aid to the action of the medicine. Athlophoros is no experiment, it has been tested and has proved its wonderful efficacy.

The Athlophoros Pills were originally prepared as a remedy for use in connection with Athlophoros, for rheumatism and neuralgia and kindred complaints. Used in connection with that remedy, they are a certain cure for either of these very common and distressing diseases. They have also been found to be an invaluable remedy for any and all diseases arising from vitiated blood or general debility. They are especially valuable for nervous debility, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, distress after eating, headache, constipation, loss of appetite, and all stomach or liver troubles. For diseases of women they are invaluable. These pills are perfectly harmless and may be safely used by adults or children.

Testimonials of those who have been cured will be sent free on application.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist, the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

THE "SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL."

Storer Post's committee on the Soldiers' Memorial, the paper to be published for free distribution on and before Memorial day, desire to inform the public, and especially our merchants, that those who advertise in that paper will be furnished with one or as many copies of the paper as they desire; and that one number will be left at each house throughout the city on Saturday, May 28th. The committee also wish to state that every means will be taken to give the paper as wide a circulation as possible in the surrounding towns. The proceeds of the paper, over and above the bare cost of printing and other necessary expenses, will go to replenish the relief fund of the post, which has been so greatly decreased during the past year, and which is being largely drawn upon at the present time.

COAL FREIGHTS.

At a meeting of the board of commissioners of the Vessel Owners' & Captains' National association, held in Boston on the 3d inst., the minimum rates on coal from New York were established as follows: From Rondout, New York, Weehawken and Port Johnson to New Haven and Bridgeport, Rhode Island ports and New Bedford, sixty-five cents per ton; from Elizabethport, Perth Amboy and South Amboy to same ports, seventy cents; Rondout to Boston and Portland, below bridges, $1; to Portsmouth, $1.10; Newburyport, $1.15; from New York, Weekawken, Hoboken and Port Johnson to Boston and Portland, eighty cents; Portsmouth, ninety cents; Newburyport, ninety-five cents; from Elizabethport, Perth Amboy and South Amboy to Boston and Portland, eighty-five cents; Portsmouth, ninety-five cents; Newburyport, $1. Rates from all other ports will remain as before established.

STORER POST--NOTICE.

A special meeting of Storer Post, No. 1, G. A. R., will be held on Saturday evening, May 7th, at 7:30 o'clock.

W. Y. EVANS, Adjutant.

THE GLASS BLOWERS.

Mrs. Willis Hodgon of Deer street was on Wednesday evening, the 4th inst., presented with the case of glass-work valued at ten dollars, as being the handsomest lady who that evening attended the exhibition of the Bohemian glass-blowers at No. 40 Market street. At the close of the entertainment that evening Florence Hill led in the voting for the valuable case of work to be presented to the handsomest baby in the city under five years of age, having 110 votes, Charlie Ray Newton being a close second with 109, and others having from sixty votes down to a half dozen.

This evening the homeliest man will receive a present of a glass pipe valued at $8; and to-morrow evening—the last of the exhibition—the vote on the handsomest baby will be declared. See advertisement.

THE MONUMENT FUND.

The operatives in the Portsmouth shoe factory on Thursday contributed $50 to the soldiers' monument fund, Mrs. John H. Bailey $25, and other subscriptions were received, sufficient to bring the total up to $5073.25. The contributions of the schools of the city, up to Thursday evening, amounted to $213.24, the several donations being as follows: Cabot street school, four rooms, $31.10; Jones school, four rooms, $30.30; Walker, four rooms, $25.64; Manning, one room, $1.75; High, $36.67; Haven, five rooms, $38; Franklin, two rooms, $10; Bartlett, two rooms, $10.55; cash (by M. M. C.,) $4; Woodbury, one room, $4.15; Peabody, two rooms, $10.08; Spalding, two rooms, $11.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, May 5th, Mayor Eldredge in the chair:

Absent Messrs. Sinclair and Russell.

John W. Young was granted permission to hang a sign on a tree near the city building, under supervision of the street commissioner.

John H. Broughton and others asked for a new sidewalk on Middle street; referred to the committee on streets, to report. Same disposition was made of John H. Locke's request for relay of sidewalk in front of his house.

Henry A. Yeaton's request that State street near his property be properly graded, was granted.

Thomas Entwistle's request for an electric light on McDonough street, and request of Daniel Littlefield and others for an electric light on Russell street in lieu of three naptha lights, were referred to the committee on street lights, to report.

Ald. Hodgdon reported that suit is threatened in consequence of the cutting off of a drain from the common near the Creek. Referred to the committee on streets, to report.

The matter in relation to the conduit of the Pleasant street reservoir was referred to the city solicitor, to examine and report.

Further time was granted the committee to report on the claim of John Stickney.

Bills amounting to $1968.97 were ordered to be paid.

Geo. W. Haven and T. Salter Tredick, directors of the Portsmouth academy corporation, called attention to the fact that the fences around the property had been removed, and that this might lead to forfeiture of some of the company's rights after twenty years; referred to the mayor, with power to do anything required in the premises.

The expenditure of the $500 appropriated for setting out trees was entrusted to the committee on burying grounds with Ald. Urch added.

The mayor was added to the committee appointed to procure plans for the new schoolhouse; and it was voted to request the common council to direct their committee on schoolhouses to act in conjunction with the aldermanic committee.

Report was made that the gravel on Wm. S. Willey's farm is unfit for use on roads, being too sandy; and the mayor was authorized to have erected a suitable fence there, to prevent accidents.

Adjourned for two weeks.

A LIVELY CALL FOR TICKETS.

If you have not already secured your seat for the Athletic club's minstrel entertainment and athletic exhibition in Music hall on the evening of Thursday, the 12th inst., you will find it hard work to get any better place than a seat on the back of a chair, all the chances to roost on top of the back fence being already engaged. Nothing in the shape of a rush for tickets was ever known in this city, so far as memory extends, like that at Goodrich's when the sale of tickets for this entertainment opened on Thursday morning last. When the clerk arrived at seven o'clock to open the store he found a dozen persons waiting his arrival, to secure seats for themselves and friends; a lady who sallied forth at ten o'clock to get two seats, being determined, as she said, to be in time on this occasion, was very glad to secure two in the extreme wing; and a gentlemen who at eleven o'clock entered the store to take his pick of seats in the whole house, after one look at the plan considered himself very lucky to get a fair position in the gallery. We do not tell this to discourage anybody, as there is nothing to prevent any one searching the plan for the few seats yet remaining unsold here and there through the house.

A lawn mower was run over the lawn in front of the Rockingham house on Thursday, the 5th inst. This is the first grass cutting we have heard of in this vicinity this season.

The annual meeting of the Universalist society was held on Thursday forenoon, the 5th inst. George M. Ayers was elected moderator for the ensuing year, and the meeting then adjourned to meet in the vestry on Thursday evening, May 14th, when wardens, parish clerk and other officers will be chosen.

Mr. William H. Gardiner of this city, for a number of years past the very efficient chief clerk of the bureau of education at Washington, has been retired by the "reform" administration to make room for a democrat.

Wednesday afternoon some small children were hunting dandelions in the vicinity of the pond in the South cemetery, among whom was the four-year-old son of Oren W. Caswell, who resides at No. 8 Gates street. The little boy while playing about the shore of the pond, at a considerable distance from the other children, fell into the pond head first. His struggles in the water and cries for help attracted the attention of Mrs. H. F. Eldredge who was passing the cemetery in her carriage. She directed her driver, Mr. John S. Wendell, Jr., to make an attempt to save the boy. Mr. Wendell jumped from the box, and, throwing off his coat as he ran, arrived at the pond and unhesitatingly plunged in just in time to catch the little fellow as he was sinking for the last time. The boy was taken out of the water more dead than alive, very pale and almost insensible. Quantities of water flowed from his lungs and blood came from his nostrils, but in a short time he was breathing regularly. Mr. M. J. Griffen, superintendent of the cemetery, now arrived and conveyed the boy to his home as quickly as possible, where he was given good care and is now doing well. The escape from drowning was a very narrow one, for had it not been for the prompt and creditable conduct of Mr. Wendell no one could have possibly arrived in time to have saved the boy's life.—Times.

It is reported that Col. J. Horace Kent has bought the Stearns house on Islington street.

Col. Sise engine company are having new uniforms made by Haley Bros. of Newmarket, to be finished in season for the parade on Memorial day.

Another small lot of those all wool double-width Dress Goods at only 29cts. per yard, have been received by Lewis E. Staples. They will not last long.

At the urgent solicitation of a number of my patrons I shall continue for a few months after May 1st to make those fine Cabinet Photos for $2.00 a dozen.

COOK, 5 Congress St., Portsmouth.

Those wool worsted suitings in plain and mixed colorings, are the very best. No. 6 Market street. J. W. Moses.

"While suffering from a severe bilious attack in March, 1883, a friend in Peoria, Ill., recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried the remedy, and was permanently cured." J. A. SHEPARD, travelling agent for Devoe & Co., Fulton Street, N. Y.

Model Farm of the Sixth Century.

In a chapter devoted to "the age of covenants," the Duke of Argyle gives an interesting picture of a model farm of the Sixth century in Scotland. It is derived from the Abbot Adamnan's "Life of St. Columba" and describes the routine of the monks on the island of Iona. These monkish farmers apparently possessed all the conveniences and comforts that belong to a great and thoroughly equipped plantation. There was a smithy for needed iron work. There was a kiln for drying corn. There was a mill in which the monks ground their own grain into meal. There were cows and a cow house. There were milk pails carried from the pastures to the monastery on horseback. There was a baker, and, for all we know, a candlestick maker. There were wheeled carts for the conveyance of heavy articles. The monks performed their own labor and continued to perform it until the universal sway of tyranny made it possible for them to substitute the services of serfs or bondsmen for monkish toil. But the ordinary tenant farmer from the Sixth to the Sixteenth century was not so fortunate. Argyle assumes that in the earlier stages of society there were no farmers and consequently no tenancies—that all men were fighting men or the attendants upon fighting men. This may have been true, but he has conclusively shown that under King Edgar the men were the serfs of the soil.—Philadelphia Times.

Mexican Laborers on the Farm.

The laborers who work on the farm are well cared for, and although only earning a real and a half—30 cents a day—seem happy and contented. The ordinary farm hand is quite averse to adopting anything that is new, and when several American plows were brought to the place they declared that the machines had too many handles. The plow which they have used for ages consists of a crooked knot of wood with one handle. In front there is a projection, to which the oxen are fastened. Although a very clumsy affair, considerable work can be done with one of them during the day. The laborers are very conscientious and work as well when left to themselves as when under an overseer. When given a bushel or two of grain to plant the owner knows that his orders will be carried out, and that all the seed will be planted instead of being dumped in an old hollow tree, as is often the case on our northern farms.—Jalapa (Mex.) Cor. Chicago Times.

Betting in Former Times.

An illustration of the mania for betting during the reign of George III, one of the Blakes of Galway bet £1,500 that he would get a man who would live twelve hours under water, hired a desperate fellow, and sunk him in a boat by way of experiment! Neither man nor boat was ever heard of again. A few of the bets made then were rather comical. For instance Lords Alvanley and De Ross made a wager over night in the partridge season as to who would make the biggest bag on the morrow, it being part of the bet that each should carry what the other shot. Alvanley, at the close of the day, finding that he had no chance of winning, shot a donkey.—The Argonaut.

Lost and Found.

Lost—that feeling of soreness and tightness of the lungs. Apply Hop Plasters o the chest and between the shoulder blades. They prevent colds and protect the system from numerous ills. Twenty-five cents.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? people who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

Owing to the great catch of herring in the river at Taunton, Mass., prices have been so small that they have hardly paid for salting and sticking. Now the fish are barrelled as soon as caught, and shipped to Boston and other places to mackeral fishermen, who use them for bait, instead of menhaden, which are not yet in season.

Agony is Courted

By persons who, attacked by a mild form of rheumatism, neglect to seek prompt relief. Subsequent torture is prevented by an immediate resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Slight exposure, an occasional draught, will beget this painful malady, where there is a predisposition to it in the blood. It is not difficult to arrest the trouble at the outset, but well nigh impossible to eradicate it when matured. No evidence in relation to this superb blood depurent is more positive than that which establishes its efficacy as a preventive and remedy for rheumatism. Not only is it thorough, but safe, which the vegetable and mineral poisons, often taken as curatives of the disease, are not. Besides expelling the rheumatic virus from the system, it overcomes fever and ague, biliousness, constipation and dyspepsia.

Peter Smith, a New York ruffian who on April 17th, 1885, in company with another scoundrel killed a watchman named John Hannon because the latter endevored to protect property under his charge, was hung in the Tombs prison on Thursday last, dying instantly. This was the first judicial execution which ever took place in that state on a Thursday, or any other day but Friday. Smith went to the gallows calmly and without bravado, having been hopefully converted during his inprisonment. The honest man who was the victim of his crime died unconverted.

Pain In The Back And Hips.

173 Fifth St., Detroit, Mich., Dec. 16, 1885.—A year ago I was taken with severe pain in my back and hips. It continued to grow worse until I had to keep my bed. I tried several remedies that were recommended, without doing me any good. I then put on two Allcock's Porous Plasters. They took the pain away so quick that I was able to be up in less than twenty-four hours, and in a week was entirely recovered. I was also cured of a chronic cough by the use of Allcock's Plasters. ASHBURNHAM, MASS., Jan. 15, 1885.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I should never die in peace till I had tried Hop Bitters. When I had taken two bottles they helped me very much indeed. When I had taken two more bottles I was well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they cured me, and they want them and were cured and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.

Yours truly, MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

Shaved with Sharp Shells.

The South Sea barber is never at a loss for a shop or utensils, nor is one at a loss to find a barber where all alike are capable of perpetrating a shave, hair cut or shampoo, the only difference being that some do it worse than others. His shop is always with him—all he wants is something for a seat—and as in operating he himself stands he does not feel the same lively repugnance that his patient does to resting on a spray of coral. His soap he finds in the large fruit of a vine that grows everywhere in the bush and along shore; broken open and dipped in water—salt or fresh is all one—it produces, when rubbed upon the face, a fine, creamy lather that looks all that could be desired, but which, in fact, is a vain delusion, as it cultivates no intimate acquaintance with the skin or hair.

The shells on the beach afford that against which he cuts when he is not gashing the tender skin of the white man; his shell-a tooth razor is at hand, snugly wrapped in a leaf and stowed in the perforation of one ear, the balance being restored by carrying his tobacco and pipe similarly situated in the other. When the operation is over the lather is swabbed out of the mouth, eyes and other cavities with a wisp of grass, the ashes of another bunch of grass are carefully rubbed over the face to prevent the hemorrhage which seems inevitable to the victim, and finally head and face are washed with a shaddock as big as a cantalope, whereof a half is held in either hand of the operator and the head of the victim between. As an abstract fact in economic botany it may be stated that the juice of this shaddock is not pleasant upon raw flesh.

Sometimes the barber finds that relic that civilization always leaves upon the path over which it has passed, the broken bottle. Then he advances a step forward luxury in shaving, the acme of which is reached when he can use a piece of hoop iron.

There is one good point about him, and that is that he does not talk; yet even this is blunted by the fact that he usually sings monotonously. Some few words of his weird, wild and lonely chants as the hearer succeeds in catching cause chills of the coldest kind to run up and down his back as he reflects that but a few years ago were the days when his barber, instead of shaving, would have cheerfully engaged in dissecting him with a view to settling the question of the dinner hour.—Cor. San Francisco Examiner.

Information About False Teeth.

A young woman had just left a dentist's chair and was adjusting her wrap to leave, with several dollars' worth of gold in one of her incisors, when a reporter entered the office.

"What is the use of people enduring the agony of having their teeth filled when they can have them pulled without pain and then have a set of false teeth which will never trouble them again?" asked the reporter as the young lady gave a sigh of relief and left the office.

"Why, my dear young man, very few people can have a set of artificial teeth which will not trouble them. In nearly every case false teeth are very troublesome."

"It is difficult to get a perfect fit and have it remain so very long, because many mouths are continually changing. A plate that may fit well to-day may become unbearable in six months, and the plate may even break; in fact, they frequently do. I have several patients who must have new plates made every year or two, at the most, because their mouths change so much they cannot use a plate longer than that. Then there are other people who cannot endure a plate in their mouth at all, no matter how perfect the fit. They cannot become accustomed to them even after persistent trials. I have known men after trying a whole year to give up in disgust and resolve to gum it. So you see artificial teeth may be a continual expense and a great annoyance to a person. It is far better to have the natural teeth attended so, if they need a dentist's attention, but it is better still for every one to take proper care of their own teeth and preserve them as long as possible."—Cleveland Plaindealer.

Language for Sacred Truths.

This custom of using an archaic tongue unfamiliar to people is very ancient, and prevails in various religions outside of Christianity throughout the world. There seems to be a deep rooted sentiment in human nature that sacred ceremonies should have a language apart, so that the multitude may not approach and profane that which is beyond and above their comprehension.

Within a few years a remarkable instance of this custom existing among a primitive people has been brought to light in the investigations of Mr. Frank Hamilton Cushing among the Zuni Indians of New Mexico. Mr. Cushing having discovered that the prayers and ceremonials used by the priests are in an ancient tongue which bears a relation to the Zuni of to-day similar to that of Anglo-Saxon to English. The remarkable thing about this is that the ancient language has been preserved orally, the Zuni having no method of writing, but so great is the veneration for the sacred tongue that it has been handed down from generation to generation without the change of a word. This illustrates the conservative value of a priesthood. Nearly, if not quite all, which the lingual science of to-day knows of the tongues of antiquity is due to this practice of preserving them for use in sacred offices.—Boston Herald.

Wagner wrote concerning his friend Schopenhauer's advice to him to drop music and write only poetry, that there was "little occasion to heed the opinion of a man who played the flute and who admired Rossini because he absolutely disregarded the text of his operas."

A CHILD'S SKIN

MY little son, aged eight years, has been afflicted with Eczema of the scalp, and at times a great portion of the body, ever since he was two years old. It began in his ears, and extended to his scalp, which became covered with scabs and sores, and from which a sticky fluid poured out, causing intense itching and distress, and leaving his hair matted and lifeless. Underneath these scabs the skin was raw, like a piece of beefsteak. Gradually the hair came out and was destroyed, until but a small patch was left at the back of the head. My friends in Peabody know how my little boy has suffered. At night he was wont to scratch his head until his pillow was covered with blood. I used to tie his hands behind him, and in many ways tried to prevent his scratching; but it was no use, he would scratch. I took him to the hospital and to the best physicians in Peabody without success. About this time, some friends, who had been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, prevailed upon me to try them. I began to use them on the 15th of January last. In seven months every particle of the disease was removed. Not a spot or scab remains on his scalp to tell the story of his suffering. His hair has returned, and is thick and strong, and his scalp as sweet and clean as any child's in the world. I cannot say enough to express my gratitude for this wonderful cure by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and wish all similarly afflicted to know that statements of true and without exaggeration. CHARLES MCKAY,
Oct. 6, 1885. Peabody, Mass.

I have seen Mr McKay's boy when badly affected with the Eczema. He was a pitiful sight to look at. I know that he has tried our best physicians, and did all a father could do for a suffering child, but availed nothing. I know that the statements he has made you as regards the curing of his boy by your CUTICURA REMEDIES are true in every particular.
WILLIAM J. MCCARTHY,
55 Foster St., Peabody, Mass.

I do not know of any instance in which the Cuticura Remedies have failed to produce satisfactory results. I believe I have sold more of them than of any other skin remedies I have ever handled during the thirty-three years of my experience as a druggist.

A Word About Catarrh.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid tissue which envelops the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammelling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranes lining and envelops the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives are and simply procrastinate the sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, by Inhalation and by Internal administration, has never failed; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out."

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.00.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

The Common Must Go.

There is considerable likelihood that Boston common will be eventually spoiled by the aid of the mugwumps of Beacon street. It will be remembered that certain free trade republicans, under the pretence of being afraid that Mr. Blaine might be too American in his ideas if chosen president, took hold with the democracy, and on a trade Boston was turned over to the rule of the adopted citizens. The city government is managed by men who have no veneration for the traditions of Boston. A speculative railroad scheme seeks to cut up the common. Spaces will be suffered to remain for the frog pond and one or two statues, but the beautiful breathing place for the people to enjoy air and sunshine, green grass and fine trees will by the help of the men whom the mugwumps have placed in power become things of the past. The democrats boast that the mugwumps are part and parcel of the democracy, and never, no, never! will return to the republican camp. This depends entirely on how much control they will be permitted by the democracy to enjoy. They are uncomfortable bed fellows, frequently inclining to turn over and rob their companions of all the clothes.

The International Races.

Secretary York of the Royal Clyde yacht club has written to Ex-Commodore Smith of the New York yacht club, chairman of the America cup committee, a letter in which he states that the Clyde club accepts all the propositions made by the Americans, but insists that the three races shall be sailed on fixed dates between the 6th of September and the 4th of October. Commodore Smith thereupon had a conference with the other members of the committee, and the dates were fixed as follows: Sept. 27th and 29th, and Oct. 1st, and immediately wrote to Secretary York to that effect.

A freight train from the eastward, due in Biddeford at three o'clock P. M. on the 3d inst. over the eastern division of the Boston & Maine railroad, was partially wrecked at that place, the train starting of its own accord after having been left standing on a down grade, and striking the engine, which was engaged in switching, with such force as to derail it and the tender, and smash the cowcatcher against the ties; a lumber-loaded flat car went down the embankment, and the wrecking train from Portland was on duty till night, clearing the track and repairing damages thereto. A similar accident happened at the same place about four o'clock in the morning on the 4th, to the east-bound freight, the cars running away down the West Biddeford grade and striking the engine with such force that two cars were derailed, giving the wrecking train about two hours more work. No person was hurt by either accident.

WHY IS IT

That rheumatism and neuralgia are so prevalent? This question has not been satisfactorily answered, but it is certain that these diseases are not only the most painful but among the most common, and some member of nearly every family in the land is the victim of one of these dread tormentors. Ladies seem to be peculiarly liable to neuralgic attacks, which, in the form of neuralgic headache, pain in the back, or nervous pains are of constant occurrence. Not until the discovery of Athlophoros had any remedy been found for either rheumatism, neuralgia or nervous headache, and they were generally conceded to be incurable, but Athlophoros has been proven to be not only a certain cure for these diseases, in all their varied forms, but a safe remedy. If, in the use of Athlophoros, the bowels are kept freely open, its success is certain, and to aid this, Athlophoros Pills are recommended, which, while providing the necessary cathartic, will be found to be a valuable aid to the action of the medicine. Athlophoros is no experiment, it has been tested and has proved its wonderful efficacy.

The Athlophoros Pills were originally prepared as a remedy for use in connection with Athlophoros, for rheumatism and neuralgia and kindred complaints. Used in connection with that remedy, they are a certain cure for either of these very common and distressing diseases. They have also been found to be an invaluable remedy for any and all diseases arising from vitiated blood or general debility. They are especially valuable for nervous debility, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, distress after eating, headache, constipation, loss of appetite, and all stomach or liver troubles. For diseases of women they are invaluable. These pills are perfectly harmless and may be safely used by adults or children.

Testimonials of those who have been cured will be sent free on application.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist, the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

STORER POST--NOTICE.

A special meeting of Storer Post, No. 1, G. A. R., will be held on Saturday evening, May 7th, at 7:30 o'clock.

W. Y. EVANS, Adjutant.

SUPREME COURT -- BINGHAM J.

The business of the April term will be resumed on Tuesday, May 17th, at ten o'clock A. M.

Cases which were passed on the call of the docket, cases marked "for the court" but not for trial, and cases where motions of the court are pending, will be first disposed of. An assignment of all cases marked "issue to the court" and of all cases for hearing on the equity docket, will then be made.

The first case in order for trial is Starbird vs. Morse, on the civil docket.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Common Council, Friday evening, May 6th, President Crowley in the chair, twelve members being present:

The aldermanic bill providing for raising $30,000 for building a new schoolhouse, and the request of the aldermen that the council's committee on schoolhouses be directed to act in conjunction with the aldermanic committee in the matter, were laid on the table by yea and nay vote, seven to five.

A motion that consideration of the bill be made a special order for the next meeting, was negatived by yea and nay vote, seven to five.

The committee on schoolhouses were instructed to investigate the condition of the several schoolhouses, and report at the next meeting.

A councilman said that none of the council committees had been consulted in any way by the aldermanic committees, in regard to a new schoolhouse or on any other question.

THE GLASS BLOWERS.

The voting on the handsomest baby, at nine o'clock Thursday evening, saw Charlie Ray Newton ahead with 159, Florence Hill having 151, Harry Stott 70, Marguerite Berry 65, and a dozen others from 20 to 45 each.

On Friday evening at the close of the polls Florence Hill had 187 votes, Charlie Ray Newton 179, Harry Stott 93, Marguerite Berry 86, and "the field" of nearly fifty others from one to fifty votes each. The pipe for the homeliest man was on Friday evening awarded to Mr. Edward Watkins, a respected member of the Portsmouth police; thus does true merit sometimes win deserved recognition, though perhaps long delayed; there is no man but can excel on some point, if he will only give his whole mind to it.

This evening, at nine o'clock sharp, the voting on the handsomest baby will close, and the beautiful case of glass-work will be delivered to the representative of the baby having the largest number of votes. The exhibition of glass-blowing also ends with to-day's afternoon and evening sessions.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

FRIDAY, May 6th.

Frederick Tanner and Winnie H. Clark, charged with mutual assault, had their cases continued to Saturday morning at ten o'clock, and were required to personally recognize in $100.

THE "LIGHTS O' LONDON."

This evening, at Music hall, Litt & Moore's dramatic company will present the popular sensational and spectacular drama "The Lights o' London," with their own fine scenery and ingenious mechanical effects, and a cast fully equal to the task of adequately filling the many strong speaking parts of the piece. The play is too well and favorably known to need any extended commendation, and there will no doubt be a very large audience. Tickets can be procured at Goodrich's.

AROUND HOME.

The street commissioner did a neat job Friday when he caused the short Church street between State and Court streets to be put in order. It required but little time, but it resulted in a great improvement in the appearance of the street on the side of the stone church.

Capt. B. F. Jacobs, who has been in New York several weeks looking after the interests of the ship Grandee, arrived home last Thursday.

Willie J. Kehoe, eight years old, son of Policeman James Kehoe, broke one of the bones of his left arm a few days since while playing on one of the Water street wharves, by falling off a post.

The May term of the United States circuit court commences in this city on Monday, the 9th, Judge Colt presiding. One of the cases to be tried is that of the Portsmouth merchant charged with receiving goods unlawfully taken from the marine barracks at the navy yard by Belden, late a sergeant in the marine corps, who will be brought from the Weathersfield, Conn., state prison to give testimony in the case.

Mr. Arthur Kelly, a reputable colored citizen of Portsmouth, on Friday handed in to the monument fund $25, the contribution of the colored people of the city, several of whom have also made individual subscriptions.

The score in the base ball game at Exeter between the Athletics of this city and the Exeter academy nine, in which the Exeters won, was nineteen to five. The Exeters will play the Nonpareil club's nine in this city on the 25th inst.

The Nowell Brothers have handed in to the monument fund their check for $25; the net receipts from their splendid concert in Music hall, after paying all expenses, were but $17.70.

Master Williams, a young English lad of eighteen years, said to be a remarkably effective "all 'round" player at cricket, will take up his residence in this city next month, and is expected to play with the Portsmouth cricket club this season. He will be a great addition to the playing strength of the club.

Hon. John S. Treat, after nearly twenty years of rest from active labor at marble cutting, has put on an apron and gone to work at lettering monuments, and anybody who thinks his long vacation must have caused his hand to lose its cunning would be surprised to see the excellence of the jobs he is doing; in fact, he is himself surprised. The only trouble he has is with his eye glasses; when he strikes a particularly vigorous blow the things fly off, and it takes him a long while to find them, as they invariably get behind a big slab or under a chip of marble, and as he needs them to see with, the search without them is somewhat embarrassing. He should abandon their use, and get a good, sensible pair of spectacles, with clasps to reach way around back of his ears, so that they could not fly off without also taking off the whole top of his head; that's the kind other old fellows wear, and they work first rate.

At Conn's, corner of State and Pleasant streets, can be found genuine maple sugar and syrup from Vermont, and butter from the best dairies in that state and New York, far superior to any creamery product. Mr. Conn has nothing to do with "oleo" or inferior butter. He also deals in cheese, pork, lard, etc., making a specialty of lard. See his advertisement in another column.

Messrs. George W. Randall & Son have received of late 2000 lobsters per week, which are boiled at their establishment as taken from their lobster car at the Spring daily. They are brought from York mostly, the remainder being from the Shoals, Rye and Hampton. Being of medium size and fresh, they are very delicious.

William H. Rollins, Esq., president of the Portsmouth savings bank, is absent upon a business tour to Kansas.

A Maine paper mentions the fact that New Hampshire has a prohibitory law, and that the richest man in the state is a brewer. It does not follow that New Hampshire consumes all the ale brewed within her borders, more than that Maine uses in sherry cobblers in summer all the ice it cuts during the winter months.

Brakeman Judkins gets $2,733.33 from the Maine Central railroad for the loss of a foot. The price of a human life will need be raised above the $5,000 limit to preserve a due proportion. At this rate it is cheaper for railroads to kill people outright than to destroy them piecemeal.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Grace K. Green, of this port, which recently grounded on an anchor at the entrance to the Schuylkill river, was in dry dock at Philadelphia on the 5th inst., undergoing repairs.

The stone-sloop Screamer arrived at this port on Friday from Rockport, Mass., with a cargo of granite for Philbrick's stone yard.

The schooner Franklin S. Seneck, which fished out of this port the past winter, is reported to have landed at Gloucester a few days since a fare of 50,000 lbs., taken in Ipswich bay.

The James Sampson on Friday towed across the river from Union wharf a scow with the Gangway rock drill-stand thereon. The schooner Yankee, belonging to the contractor for excavating the rock, took up her position there on Thursday.

The U. S. S. Swatara was floated out of the dry dock at the navy yard on Thursday, after a stay there of many months; and on Friday the Kearsarge was taken up.

The Mitchell and Harding weirs at the mouth of the harbor have been put down, and are now ready for business as soon as the medhaden, herring or mackeral see fit to commence.

The naval life-boat board, after thorough examination of all models submitted, has made a report to the secretary of the navy, in which it states that no life-boat suitable for use on men-of-war has yet been invented.

Another small lot of those all wool double-width Dress Goods at only 29cts. per yard, have been received by Lewis E. Staples. They will not last long.

At the urgent solicitation of a number of my patrons I shall continue for a few months after May 1st to make those fine Cabinet Photos for $2.00 a dozen.

The total amount of death claims paid by the Mutual Life Insurance Co., of New York, for the week ending April 29th, was $155,427.58; endowments, $27,887.58. For every $1 paid in premiums on these policies, the company returned $2.55.

Mr. H. Percy Hayes left this city on Friday evening with a car-load of fine stock from the herd at the Plains farm, to participate in the cattle show at Madison Square Garden in New York next week. Mr. Charles S. Hayes will follow him a day or two later. Under the new interstate commerce regulations—or the regulations which the railroads allege are due to the interstate commerce law—the freight on this car-load amounts to the snug little sum of $175. "Percy" is the young man who won so much commendation from the Maine Central railroad officials last year for his energetic and judicious handling of a large lot of cattle under his charge on a train which was derailed while going to the Maine state fair at Bangor.

Collector Hanscom went to Saco on Friday.

That Tired Feeling

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N. Y.

JOHN S. TILTON'S

HARNESS DISPENSATORY.

NO. 18 CONGRESS STREET.

The work on the new Maine Central railroad shops at Waterville is progressing rapidly, some twenty-five carpenters and sixty laborers being employed, and a gang of machinists from Cincinnati who are putting in the big machines. A Corliss engine of 150 horse-power has been set up. The transfer table, run by an engine of its own, is said to be a novel thing in Maine. The entire works are steam heated, the apparatus having been furnished and put in by the Portsmouth Machine Co. Probably the works will be lighted by electricity. It looks now as if the shops would be completed about July 1st.

The Canadian Manufacturers' association have adopted a resolution unanimously opposing any treaty between Canada and the United States which would admit American manufactures free of duty.

Will be found an excellent remedy for sick headache. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

Miss Louisa Maurer, a sixteen-year-old daughter of Frank Maurer, leather dealer, of New Haven, Conn., is missing. She is supposed to have run away with an attache of one of the local theatres.

Lost and Found.

Lost—that feeling of soreness and tightness of the lungs. Apply Hop Plasters o the chest and between the shoulder blades. They prevent colds and protect the system from numerous ills. Twenty-five cents.

Charles Lloyd and Cornelius O'Leary were arrested on the night of May 1st, charged with attempting to jump from the Brooklyn bridge, and were fined $12 and sentenced to the penitentiary for ninety days each.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will postively cure it? people who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

The civil service commission on the 5th inst. placed before the president for his approval a revision of the civil service rules and regulations, which place the question of promotion in the several departments of the government upon a basis of excellence, to be determined by a competitive examination which will be conducted by a board of examiners, selected by the commission. If the new rules meet with the approval of the president they will immediately be put in force in the war department, and other departments will be made subject to them as rapidly as boards of examination can be organized.

Rules

for the care of the sick. How to cure disease, its symptoms and causes, and other information of great value will be found in old Dr. Kaufmann's great book; 100 pages, fine colored plates. Send three two-cent stamps to pay postage to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy free.

At a public meeting of the Anti-Poverty society in New York on Sunday evening, May 1st, at which Henry George presided, Rev. Dr. McGlynn, who made the principal speech, is reported as saying in conclusion: "Religion will never be right until we shall see a democratic pope walking down Broadway with a stove-pipe hat on his head, and carrying an umbrella under his arm. In my opinion that man will be the greatest of popes. Instead of having men carry him on their shoulders, he will have the laugh on them, for he will carry them in his heart." What is to hinder Dr. McGlynn from calling himself the Democratic Pope of America, and doing Broadway daily, togged out as he describes?

Sure and Speedy.—Try a bottle of "Digestylin" and you will be convinced that it will positively cure dyspepsia and indigestion. It is palatable and has tonic action. Sold by all druggists, $1.00 per bottle, or Wm. E. Kidder & Co., manufacturing chemists, 83 John street, New York.

The Philadelphia Press thinks that it is a little singular that, when election frauds occur, the public never asks which party is guilty of these outrages. "It is taken as a matter of course that it is the democratic party. In the long list of such crimes perpetrated in New York city, Camden, Cincinnati, Columbus, Indianapolis, Chicago and St. Louis, one party, and one party alone, has participated and profited. The democratic party employs the same methods to capture a city government that it does to capture the presidency and Congress, and nobody is surprised when some of its tricks come to light."

My wife who has been troubled with chronic rheumatism for five years, thinks the Athlophoros the best remedy she has ever used. I have also heard of its good effects upon others in the vicinity. G. H. Twombly, foreman of Gazette office, Exeter, N. H.

It is announced that Secretary Whitney has decided to order the repair of the U. S. S. Hartford, now at the Mare island navy yard, California.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness and give strength and rest. Try them.

Secretary Whitney has designated Tuesday, May 24th, as the date of sale of the condemned and surplus stores and materials at the several navy yards.

Amount of Live Stock at Market: Cattle, 1,224; Sheep and Lambs, 3,304; Hogs, 14,106; Horses, 755; Veals, 2,031.

Prices of Store Cattle—Working oxen ⅌ pair, from $100 @ $175; farrow cows, $15 @ $32; fancy cows, $50 @ $80; milch cows and calves, $25 @ $48; yearlings, $8 50 @ $18; two years old, $14 @ $28; three years old, $24 @ $40.

Prices of Sheep and Lambs—In lots, $2 50, $3 00 @ $4 00 each; extra, $4 50 @ $5 25, or from 2½ @ 5¼c ⅌ lb; spring lambs, $6 @ $10 each.

Veal Calves, 2 @ 5¼c ⅌ lb.

Prices of Hides, Tallow and Skins—Brighton hides, 7c ⅌ lb; Brighton tallow, 2½ @ 3c ⅌ lb; country hides, 6 @ 6½c ⅌ lb; country tallow, 1½ @ 2c ⅌ lb; calf skins, 7c ⅌ lb; pelts, $1 25 @ $1 75 each; dairy skins, 10c each.

Country cattle, especially for beef, are in light supply, and prices in most instances were sustained, and western steers held steady. It is quite probable that western cattle will be lower, or at least present prices slightly shaded. We found some good corn-fed country cattle on sale. The prices effected on fancy fat stock 7 @ 7¾c ⅌ lb, dressed weight.

The Sheep Call—The supply of sheep and lambs from the north figures up strong 3000 head. The market has again declined a full ½c, being ½c lower than three weeks ago. Slim lots are neglected, and nearly 1000 head were not sold at a late hour. From the fact that veal calves are plenty, the effect is noticed on the sheep trade.

Veal Calves—The bulk were sold from 3½ @ 4½c; selected lots, 5 @ 5½c; slim, 2 @ 3c ⅌ lb.

The celebrated Louis Roederer Champagne wines have steadily grown in public favor for more than fifty years. Rich, dry and delicious. They are without a superior in the market.

Agony is Courted

By persons who, attacked by a mild form of rheumatism, neglect to seek prompt relief. Subsequent torture is prevented by an immediate resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Slight exposure, an occasional draught, will beget this painful malady, where there is a predisposition to it in the blood. It is not difficult to arrest the trouble at the outset, but well nigh impossible to eradicate it when matured. No evidence in relation to this superb blood depurent is more positive than that which establishes its efficacy as a preventive and remedy for rheumatism. Not only is it thorough, but safe, which the vegetable and mineral poisons, often taken as curatives of the disease, are not. Besides expelling the rheumatic virus from the system, it overcomes fever and ague, biliousness, constipation and dyspepsia.

—Old gentlemen—"Here, sir! you are a regular fraud. My hair's coming out as bad as ever. This stuff isn't worth a continental." Barber—"I didn't promise that it would keep your hair from coming out. I said it would preserve your scalp. Your scalp's all there, isn't it?"

All disorders caused by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping or discomfort attending their use. Try them.

—She was admiring a big Newfoundland at the dog show, and throwing her arms around his neck said: "You dear old fellow, I love you!" A youth who heard her said: "How I wish I was a dog." The answer came: "Never mind, you'll grow."

—True happiness, my son, consists in finding that you have paid three dollars for an article exactly like that for which your friend had to pay three and a quarter the day before.

I have been using Hop Bitters, and have received great benefit from them; for liver complaint and malarial fever, they are superior to all other medicines.

HOP BITTERS MFG. CO.;

I know Hop Bitters will bear recommendation honestly. All who use them confer upon them the highest encomiums and give them credit for making cures—all the proprietors claim for them. I have kept them since they were first offered to the public. They took high rank from the first, and maintained it, and are more called for than all others combined. So long as they keep up their high reputation for purity and usefulness I shall continue to recommend them—something I have never done before with any patent medicine.

J. J. BABCOCK,

KAHOKA, MO., Feb. 9, 1886.

I purchased five bottles of your Hop Bitters of Bishop & Co. last fall, for my daughter, and am well pleased with the Bitters. They did her more good than all the medicine she has taken for six years. WM. T. McCLURE.

The above is from a very reliable farmer, whose daughter was in poor health for seven or eight years, and could obtain no relief until she used Hop Bitters. She is now in as good health as any person in this country. We have large sales, and they are making remarkable cures. W. H. BISHOP & CO.

INVENTORS AND INVENTIONS.

How Their Practicability and Impracticability are Thoroughly Tested.

"Is this the place where inventors' ideas are put into practical shape?"

"Yes, this is where it is done."

The reporter saw some very queer devices, with workmen in greasy caps and overalls busily at work filing and punching iron and steel, and twisting or chiseling this or that part to make it fit. He came to the conclusion that he had struck the ground floor of inventions that were destined to be either great successes or great failures.

Other men, evidently not connected with the establishment, were standing at the elbows of the workmen watching closely the result of the application of a file or a punch. There was an air of absorbing interest about them, as if the fate of a beloved child hung in the balance. Thought was evidently searching for its materialized body, and it depended largely on the power of the inventor to impart his idea to the workman and on the receptive power of the workman, coupled with the skill to mold and shape the metals, whether success or failure was ahead.

"The vast majority of inventors," said the manager, "are men of good ideas, but possessed of no mechanical knowledge. They come to us with their ideas. Most of them get their patents sometimes without having any working model, and are unable to even test their ideas in the most preliminary way. We look into the ideas, and according as we judge them practical or the reverse, we experiment with them or reject them. I have turned away as many as three new inventions a day because I considered them impracticable, refusing to take the inventors' money to work them out. About one-half of all that come here are impracticable, or if practicable, would be worth nothing to the public. We have had inventors get very angry because we wouldn't let them go on and spend money in trying to work out what we believed, from a practical experience of forty years, could not be a success."

"What is the trouble generally?"

"One great trouble is, that an inventor is not a complete being. He lacks his practical half, and it is not until he finds that other half of him that he goes ahead. Another trouble is that they don't fully explain their invention, for fear somebody will steal it; so the experimenter has to work largely in the dark."

"So men are in waiting to steal other people's brains, are they?"

"Oh, yes. There are so many vacuums that if an idea once gets loose it is gobbled up in a flash. One great trouble with inventors as to the development of their inventions lies in the fact that very few of them have any capital. They need that and a partner of a practical cast of mind."

"How is it when they sell out?"

"Well, an inventor hardly ever gets much for an incomplete invention if sold out plump. If he sells for a royalty he generally gets cheated. No matter how high the firm stands that contracts to pay a royalty, it nets him very little, even when it brings large sums into the firm's coffers. If there is a being upon the earth that deserves sympathy and help it is the poor inventor. If it were not for him mankind would scarcely have clothes to cover them."

"Do you know any that have got rich?"

"Here's one I knew years ago, when he was well off. He is now poor. He has expended all his money. His ideas are good, but so far they have not been largely successful, and he is selling other people's inventions while perfecting his own. I have known a great many that came here poor and have become rich. There, for instance, is Howe. He never succeeded till Singer took hold and made a fortune, and all Howe had out of it was his royalty on the eye of the needle. After he got started and got a practical man with him he made a great fortune. But he went around vainly begging for help for two years. He got his merited success at last, but there is many a man rolling in luxury to-day that was bought with the outcome of stolen brains, while the rightful owner is starving."

"What is your advice to inventors?"

"They must fit a burglar alarm on their ideas. Let them look very sharply at a contract that agrees to the payment of a royalty. They must be sure and find their missing half. They should very carefully consider whether what they are seeking to perfect will be of any special value to the public if it be perfected.—New York Sun Interview.

Fumigation in Mexico.

As to fumigation, when the hektograph waxes more odoriferous than is the delightful wont, or when the old hat dyer and renovator who rents a cubby hole on the ground floor under our lobby (almost without exception the ground floors of houses in Mexico are rented out to artisans, etc.) distills the unearthly perfumes that seem essential to his business, I take down a censer that I bought out at Morelia, and then lay hold upon one of the kitchen women and entreat her so volubly that she brings me a large spoonful of live coals from the cooking range. These deposited upon the ashes that fill the censer, I throw upon them a pinch of what looks like spruce gum in the rough and another of a substance resembling a cross between caramel and gum camphor. It fizzes and sputters, and finally bursts into a blaze, sending up clouds of fragrant, aromatic blue smoke that sweetens and perfumes the rooms. It is quite as efficacious as pastiles; it is far less expensive, and, aside from the material, substantial odor, it effuses another, which is the subtle aroma of the fancy and of association, suggestive of vast vaulted aisles in historic temples, of pealing anthems, and the gorgeous paraphernalia and pomp of church ceremonials.—San Francisco Chronicle.

The Above Picture Represents
Master of the Steamship Kanawha.

About a year ago he observed a strange change in his feelings. He felt tired instead of vigorous; nervous instead of strong. His appetite became poor and his sleep broken. He tried to overcome these feelings, but they would not go. He then noticed pains and irritation in the water channels, and that the fluids passed were often thick and with a scum on top or a brick-dust sediment at the bottom. All these were the sure symptoms of that fearful disease, Catarrh of the Bladder, which has always been considered incurable, and they continued until the Captain was in a terrible condition. But he is the picture of health and vigor to-day, and he owes it entirely to that wonderful medicine, Hunt's Remedy. Capt. Greenwood says: "I am so certain of the great value of Hunt's Remedy, that I always carry a supply on shipboard for the use of my men, and I prescribe it whenever they are ailing. After curing me as it did, and restoring my wife, (whom the best physicians of New York said was dying of tumor,) to perfect health, I can say no less."

This Great Remedy absolutely cures all Kidney Liver and Urinary Diseases.

Hard Luck.

Oscar B. Farnham of Boston made a determined but unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide in a room of the United States hotel in that city on the 6th inst. First he swallowed a big dose of poison, then turned on the gas, and hung himself to a bracket with a necktie; but the necktie broke and let him fall, the smell of unburned gas caused help to arrive, and the laudanum was pumped out of him, so that he is likely to recover. He is a member of a firm of teamsters, and is alleged to have taken about $2000 belonging to the firm.

The Government Grabs It.

A farmer near Boston recently found three $500 United States bonds in a hole in a stone wall on his farm. He presented them at a bank in Boston, and there being some question as to their genuineness, they were sent to the treasury department at Washington, where they were examined by experts and pronounced genuine. The finder was informed that the bonds would be redeemed and a check for their combined face value, with interest, sent him on the production of satisfactory proof of ownership; but he can only prove that he found them, and under a ruling of the first comptroller's office it is held that when government securities that have been found are sent for redemption the government will neither redeem them nor return them to the sender, but will hold them until the loser shall be discovered. The finder cannot recover them even if the original owner never appears. Under this ruling it would seem that the only chance which the finder of government securities has to get even with the government, is to follow the example of the New York Dutchman, who, having become offended with the officers of a certain bank, revenged himself by collecting bills of the bank to the amount of many thousand dollars, and then burning the confounded things.

Talks About Law: A popular statement of what our law is and how it is administered, by Edmund P. Dole. Boston: Houghton, Mifflin & Co. Portsmouth, sold by M. Goodrich.

The author of this work of 557 pages, including a well arranged index, is a member of the Cheshire county bar, a practicing lawyer in Keene, and county solicitor. He does not claim to give a book under the cheap pretence of qualifying every man to be his own lawyer, but the effort is to give the non-professional reader a correct idea of what law is, and its mode of administration, together with such information upon the subject as well-informed persons wish to acquire. It is also expected that it may be of use to law students in the outset of their studies. Certainly there has not been seen in the sixty thousand different volumes devoted to English and American law a more attractive and inviting mode of presenting and treating of the various sub-divisions of the science of the law than Mr. Dole has accomplished in his "Talks About Law." The law is apt to be regarded in many instances as an instrument of oppression by the losing party, but as a means of justice by the successful litigant. Some suitors delight in its controversies, others dread its proceedings as a direful calamity. Everyone, however, whether he will admit it or not, has to a greater or less degree a respect for the law as administered,—we refer of course to the men who obey and not to those who violate the law,—and practical business men, and oftimes women of sense and a desire for knowledge, seek to ascertain in some easy mode how the law affects certain interests with which they may be associated. A careful reading of Mr. Dole's forty-three chapters, in which he treats of courts, law suits, trials and various legal relations and situations, will prove of great service alike to the layman and the lawyer, old and experienced perhaps, but especially to the coming practitioner.

There is no attempt to give a man a smattering of law, that little learning which Mr. Pope informs us is dangerous, as has so frequently been discovered by those who have followed the advice of cheap publications or ignorant practitioners, but there is a fair, intelligible statement of the rule of action relative to numerous subjects which every day come up for discussion and action in business life and in social relations. The style of the book is attractive. It is not dry and wearying, but interesting and inviting reading. The language is not technical, but easily understood by everyone of ordinary comprehension. As a means of instruction concerning well-settled principles of law which have been tested and interpreted by the courts of this country and England, the book will prove of essential value. To gain an insight into certain rules which apply to ordinary questions likely to arise, the reader has not to pore over volumes, but by the aid of the index, which unlike that seen sometimes in books of this character, often even in statute books, gives the desired information of which the reader is in pursuit, and enables him to discover where the subject concerning which he seeks information may be found. Our sister city has been noted in times past for her brilliant legal lights; it is gratifying to note in the present instance that successful authorship has added to the repute which the bar of Cheshire has ever maintained among the profession in New Hampshire.

The schooner Karen Happuch, of York, having completed her repairs at this port, sailed for York on Saturday with a load of lumber. One of her seamen is reported to be worth $30,000, all of his own earning.

Boat "Queen of the Surf," with a crew consisting of Herbert Cate, John Parks, George Bailey and Charles Atherton, started on Sunday morning for a cruise on the upper waters of the Piscataqua, intending to visit Dover and various towns on the other branch of the river, and to be absent most of the present week.

The schooner War Eagle, of this port, Philpot master, which grounded on a ledge of rocks at the entrance to Wareham river, Mass., some days ago, arrived at New York on the 5th inst. from Wood's Hole.

"IT'S AN ILL WIND," ETC.

This has proved a bad season to collect the sap for maple syrup, but when one meets Distiller Ward and enquires the price of empty molasses hogsheads, he will not have far to go to learn that the supply of "pure maple syrup" will be well up to the demand.

A CHILD'S SKIN

MY little son, aged eight years, has been afflicted with Eczema of the scalp, and at times a great portion of the body, ever since he was two years old. It began in his ears, and extended to his scalp, which became covered with scabs and sores, and from which a sticky fluid poured out, causing intense itching and distress, and tearing his hair matted and lifeless. Underneath these scabs the skin was raw, like a piece of beefsteak. Gradually the hair came out and was destroyed, until but a small patch was left at the back of the head. My friends in Peabody know how my little boy has suffered. At night he would scratch his head until his pillow was covered with blood. I used to tie his hands behind him, and in many ways tried to prevent his scratching, but it was no use, he would scratch. I took him to the hospital and to the best physicians in Peabody without success. About this time, some friends, who had been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, prevailed upon me to try them. I began to use them on the 15th of January last. In seven months every particle of the disease was removed. Not a spot or scab remains on his scalp to tell the story of his suffering. His hair has returned, and is thick and strong, and his scalp as sweet and clean as any child's in the world. I cannot say enough to express my gratitude for this wonderful cure by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and wish all similarly afflicted to know that statement is true and without exaggeration. CHARLES McKAY,

Oct. 6, 1885. Peabody, Mass.

I have seen Mr. McKay's boy when badly affected with the Eczema. He was a pitiful sight to look at. I know that he has tried our best physicians, and did all a father could do for a suffering child, but availed nothing. I know that the statements he has made you as regards the curing of his boy by your CUTICURA REMEDIES are true in every particular.

WILLIAM J. McCARTHY,
25 Foster St., Peabody, Mass.

I do not know of any instance in which the Cuticura Remedies have failed to produce satisfactory results. I believe I have sold more of them than of any other skin remedies I have ever handled during the thirty-three years of my experience as a druggist.

ANOTHER SUDDEN DEATH.

Hardly a week passes without the mention by the newspapers of sudden deaths, and of late the alarming frequency of the statement that death was caused by rheumatism or neuralgia of the heart cannot fail to have been noticed. In all probability many deaths attributed to heart disease are caused by these terrible diseases, which are far more dangerous than is generally considered. Is there any positive cure? The best answer to such a question is given by those who have been cured by the use of Athlophoros.

Dover, N. H., March 23, 1886.

I have for years suffered with muscular rheumatism in back of my head, neck and arms; the pain was intense and seemed to grow steadily worse. I used two bottles of Athlophoros and it brought relief almost immediately. I believe Athlophoros to be a pure, honest medicine, and there is no question it will certainly cure rheumatism.

MRS. F. KENNEDY, Orchard Street.

Chicopee, Mass., May 23, 1886.

I have suffered for over five years with muscular rheumatism, being treated by several physicians, besides taking numberless remedies; the doctors could not cure me and the different medicines gave me no relief. There was one remedy I had not tried—Athlophoros. I bought three bottles of it, taking them according to directions. I commenced at night before retiring. The next morning, after a good night's rest, I was perfectly free from pain. My rheumatism went and has never returned. Athlophoros effected a cure in my obstinate case and I believe it will in that of any one suffering with rheumatism or neuralgia.

G. E. LEWIS.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

THE WEATHER.

For New England to-day:—

Sky Clear

SLIGHT FIRE.

The alarm of fire about two o'clock Saturday afternoon was caused by a slight blaze in a chimney closet of house No. 5 Washington street, owned by Mr. B. F. Webster and occupied by several families. The damage done was trifling, the fire being put out with a few buckets of water.

An alarm was pulled in from box nineteen, corner of Water and Court streets; the gong at the Portsmouth brewery responded all right, but the North church bell ceased to sound before the first round was struck half through, and remained silent during the rest of the alarm. This was not the fault of the striking apparatus, which worked all right; but the bell, owing to something in its balancing or to too heavy a rope, canted over out of reach of the hammer almost as soon as it commenced to strike. When the recall was sounded, the gong, which had done so well in giving the alarm, got stuck in some way, and gave one long-continued blast instead of three short ones, while the bell worked as desired. The department turned out, but their services were not needed.

THE GLASS BLOWERS.

On Saturday evening at nine o'clock the very successful two weeks entertainment given by the glass-blowers closed, the attendance having steadily increased from the first day to the last, as the merits of the show became better known day by day. On Saturday the voting on the handsomest baby was exceptionally brisk, and when the polls were declared closed at nine o'clock the vote in favor of the leading two candidates was as follows: Charlie Ray Newton 716, Florence Hill 430,—and Charlie Ray Newton was awarded the $50 case of glass-work as being the handsomest baby in the city under five years of age. The glass workers have gone from here to Haverhill, Mass., opening there this evening.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

MONDAY May 9th.

The circuit court of the United States will begin its May term in this city today. Judge Colt is expected to reach here at three o'clock P. M., when the docket will be called. Jurors are to report on Tuesday at eleven A. M. By reason of lack of appropriation there are no funds in the hands of the marshal with which to pay jurors, save a certain sum left from a former term. This will allow payment for the travel and one day's attendance of the grand jurors, and may permit the petit jury trying one case. The term in consequence of lack of funds, must necessarily be brief.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

SATURDAY, May 7th.

Fred Turner and Winnie H. Clark; continued case, mutual assault; parties having settled their differences outside the court, the cases were nol. pros'd.

INVESTIGATING THE SEA BREEZE.

The New England Meteorological society, with the co-operation of the United States signal service and the Harvard college observatory, will this summer undertake an investigation of the sea breeze, to discover the conditions favorable to the creation of the breeze, to determine where it is most distinctly felt, to measure the distance that it extends inland from the coast, and to learn its effects on the temperature of the districts that it visits. The part of the coast chosen for the work extends from Scituate, south of Boston harbor, to this city. The society desires to have numerous observers to assist, and instructions will be furnished the same by L. G. Schultz of the signal service at Boston.

THE COTTAGE HOSPITAL.

"THE PUNISHMENT OF SIN"

Was the subject in the Universalist church yesterday, the text being, "He that is unholy, let him be made unholy still;" Rev. 22:11.

Is not the work of the Universalist church done? Has it not accomplished the work, and fulfilled the demand which gave it birth? These are questions asked by some, as they listen to the general acceptable preaching of the advanced pulpit. The question resolves itself to this: "Can we reach the sinful masses, and can we feed the religious and spiritual life of the world?" To-day we answer the first part of the question. What is the nerve of the arm of our salvation? How is the world to be saved from its only danger, Sin?

First, the world has got to learn, sooner or later, this great fact, namely, that sin is conceived, born, and resides in, the human soul; that there are all its deplorable effects, and there are all its punishments. That eternal life, and eternal death and eternal punishment, mean soul life, and soul death, and soul punishment, utterly divorced from the idea of time, is clear to anyone who comprehends Jesus Christ. What means all this preaching of "Beyond the shores of time into eternity?" Spiritual life, good or bad, is not quantity, but quality. Now, utterly ignoring that which as punishment is untrue to the nature of the soul, let us teach man that which is true now, and is true of eternity, viz.: However man may flatter himself, he can feel no heaven and no hell, until he is alive to the condition of his soul; until he puts his soul beside Christ's, (now is the judgment,) and makes a sensible, practical comparison. Hell is ignorance of what we are; it is mistake, error, self-delusion, false pleasure; it echoes in the hollow laugh over guilty revelry, and murmurs in the prayers of the hypocrite. An unthinking world may draw pictures of punishments and tortures and infernos, from the poor penal resorts of man, yet the fact remains the same; only that which is spiritual can affect the spiritual. Only a spiritual idea of heaven or hell can at last prevail. Teach the poor sinner the horror of sin; show him the imbecility that arises from a disuse of his faculties; paint to him a hideous moral deformity; take him out of hell. The true heaven or hell is being alone with our character and God, and "knowing as we are known." This will save the masses, and save retraction.

Mr. Albert H. Hanscom, of this city, purser of the steamer Penobscot, of the Boston & Bangor line, was in town on Saturday. Mr. Hanscom is on a few weeks leave of absence, and a few days ago took to himself a chief mate with whom to complete the voyage of life. We wish them pleasant skies and favoring breezes all the voyage.

Hon. Frank Jones arrived home on Saturday from Boston, where he had been on railroad business through the week.

Mr. Jacob Haynes, the affable porter of the Kearsarge house, returned to this city on Saturday from a week's trip to the scenes of his childhood, in an upper portion of this state.

Mr. Oliver P. Haynes, now of the Dover Democrat but formerly employed in this office, passed the Sabbath with friends in this city.

Saturday afternoon at six o'clock there were just a dozen seats in Music hall—two down stairs and ten in the gallery—remaining unsold for the Athletic club's show on the evening of the 12th inst. A good audience is assured.

Mr. John Leavitt of Hampton, for some time past weigher and receiver in the department of construction and repair at the navy yard, has been appointed clerk in that department under the general storekeeper of the yard, in place of John E. Colcord of this city, removed.

A team from Stoddard's stable, in which were two young men, on Sunday afternoon ran away and struck a car with the scenery of the "Lights o' London" company which was standing close to the Green street crossing of the Boston & Maine railroad, throwing out the occupants of the carriage, breaking the whiffletree and springing an axle of the carriage. The horse cleared himself from the carriage, and returned to the stable unharmed.

Mr. Oliver Dennett, the lonely and feeble old man who for years past has spent hours on almost any pleasant week day sitting on the North church steps, and who was recently taken to the insane asylum at Brentwood, died in that institution on Friday last, and his body was brought home on Saturday for interment.

City Clerk Goodrich has greatly improved the outward appearance of his house and grounds on South street, and is now occupying it as a residence. The house on Islington street recently vacated by Mr. Goodrich will be occupied by Mr. Joseph Harlow.

A new fence is being built along the Pleasant street boundary of the Peirce field, so-called, between the Universalist church and the south pond.

Mr. William Philbrook, manager of Hon. Frank Jones' farm, on Friday and Saturday of last week planted fifty bushels of potatoes, on the former part of the city farm now belonging to Mr. Jones. He proposes to put in 150 bushels more of potatoes as seed on that part of the Jones farm.

An old gentleman from North Berwick visited Portsmouth and Kittery last week. He showed a paper with many signatures, enumerating a heap of misfortunes. He is a typical Yankee, and succeeds in obtaining money even from those of the most obdurate heart. He makes occasional visits here, and is almost always successful.

Another small lot of those all wool double-width Dress Goods at only 29cts. per yard, have been received by Lewis E. Staples. They will not last long.

At the urgent solicitation of a number of my patrons I shall continue for a few months after May 1st to make those fine Cabinet Photos for $2.00 a dozen.

COOK, 5 Congress St., Portsmouth.

Those wool worsted suitings in plain and mixed colorings, are the very best. No. 6 Market street. J. W. Moses.

A blade of grass twenty inches high was handed to us on Saturday. It was picked by the side of a fence on Elm street.

Mr. Woodbury L. Place, of Marshaltown, Iowa, is visiting Ephraim C. Spinney, Esq., of Kittery. Mr. Place is a member of the present city government of Marshaltown, and master mechanic of the Atchison, Topeka & Sante Fe railroad.

The 600-pound steel rails on the Boston & Maine railroad between North Berwick and Wells are being taken up, and new ones of 750 pounds weight substituted. The heavier rails are also being put down at other points along the lines of the road.

Several connecting drains between houses on Deer street and the big sewer are being put in by the city, under direction of the street commissioner. On Saturday a bicyclist who was curious as to the cause of the excavation went too near the hole to look down, and went into the hole himself, wheel and all; but no harm was done to him or to the workmen below.

for the care of the sick. How to cure disease, its symptoms and causes, and other information of great value will be found in old Dr. Kaufmann's great book; 100 pages, fine colored plates. Send three two-cent stamps to pay postage to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy free.

—There is a fair prospect that attempts on the life of the czar will in time depopulate Russia, with the sole exception of his majesty.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving way to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them, they will certainly please you.

—Brevity produces some very remarkable specimens of what the philosophers call nominalism. A man went into a store to inquire for Dr. Abercrombie's works, "The intellectual Faculties" and "The Philosophy of the Moral Feelings." When he asked for them the bookseller, after looking about, solemnly replied, "I know I haven't any Moral Feelings, and I doubt whether I have any Intellectual Faculties."

If you had taken two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring you would not have had that coated tongue or bad taste in the mouth this morning. Keep a vial with you for occasional use.

—"How it all comes back to me!" dramatically exclaims the poet, opening a thick parcel of rejected verse.

—Omaha burglar: "Wot did you leave Chicago for?" Chicago burglar: "Too much intemperance among them Chicago perlicemen." "Does that make any difference?" "Yes, sir. Some uv them Chicago perlicemen are dangerous when they are drunk."

James Pyle's Pearline is universally recognized as a family favorite. If you desire to secure feminine smiles and domestic sunbeams, even on wash-day, ask your grocers for Pearline.

—Chicago money lenders do not all have hearts of stone. One of them who had a mortgage of $100 on a widow's sewing machine, let her off after she had paid interest amounting to $173.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders, syringes, astringents, or any similar application, because they are all irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who have for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can afflict, testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm.

—A bank is the place where people put their money so it will be handy when other people want it.

—"How is your son getting on in college?" Second Omaha dame—"Splendidly, but I am afraid he studies too hard. I got a private note from his room-mate advising me to send for my son, as he was beginning to toss around nights and see snakes."

—A Boston eight-year-old was drawing pictures at school the other day, and drew a pig. After the work of art was completed to his satisfaction the youngster wrote beneath it: "This is a domestic animal; he is called a pig because he is so selfish."

I was a terrible sufferer with Salt Rheum—preferring death to suffering. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me.—Chas. Owen, Ironville, N. Y. I acknowledge Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy to be a cure for Gravel, and, so far as I know, the only cure.—J. M. Allen, Charlotte, N. Y. Send 2-cent stamp to Dr. Kennedy, Rondout, N. A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

A Word About Catarrh.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, unmanning the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelops the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives and simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, by Inhalation and other modes of administration, has never failed; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitution, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out."

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.00.

How to Help Your Digestion.

Almost every day we feel the unpleasant sensations of indigestion. Try Allcock's Porous Plasters and be relieved. J. F. Davenport, of Canarsie, New York, writes:

I have been very much troubled with a violent pain below my chest bone. I was told by several physicians that it was rheumatism of the diaphragm. It resulted from cold exposure. I had very little appetite and digested my food with great difficulty. I placed one Allcock's Porous Plaster below the breast bone and two on each side. In the course of twenty-four hours all pain ceased, and I was able to eat and digest a good square meal, something I had not done before in two weeks. I got better constantly, and at the end of seven days found myself entirely well. Since then I have used Allcock's Porous Plasters for colds, coughs and pains in my side, and I have always found them quick and effective.

Prices of Store Cattle—Working oxen ⅋ pair, from $160 @ $175; farrow cows, $15 @ $32; fancy cows, $50 @ $80; milch cows and calves, $25 @ $48; yearlings, $8 50 @ $18; two years old, $14 @ $28; three years old, $24 @ $40.

Prices of Sheep and Lambs—In lots, $2 50, $3 00 @ $4 00 each, or, $4 50 @ $5 25, or from 2¼ @ 5¼c ⅋ lb; spring lambs, $6 @ $10 each.

Veal Calves, 2 @ 5¾c ⅋ lb.

Prices of Hides, Tallow and Skins—Brighton hides, 7c ⅋ lb; Brighton tallow, 2¼ @ 3c ⅋ lb; country hides, 6 @ 6½c ⅋ lb; country tallow, 1½ @ 2c ⅋ lb; calf skins, 7c ⅋ lb; pelts, $1 35 @ $1 75 each; dairy skins, 10c each.

Country cattle, especially for beef, are in light supply, and prices in most instances were sustained, and western steers hold steady. It is quite probable that western cattle will be lower, or at least present prices slightly shaded. We found some good corn-fed country cattle on sale. The prices offered on fancy fat stock 7 @ 7¼c ⅋ lb, dressed weight.

The Sheep Call—The supply of sheep and lambs from the north figures up strong 3000 head. The market has again declined a full ¼c, being ⅛c lower than three weeks ago. Slim lots are neglected, and nearly 1000 head were not sold at a late hour. From the fact that veal calves are plenty, the effect is noticed on the sheep trade.

Veal Calves—The bulk were sold from 3¾ @ 4¾c; selected lots, 5 @ 5¼c; slim, 2 @ 3c ⅋ lb.

Agony is Courted

By persons who, attacked by a mild form of rheumatism, neglect to seek prompt relief. Subsequent torture is prevented by an immediate resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Slight exposure, an occasional draught, will beget this painful malady, where there is a predisposition to it in the blood. It is not difficult to arrest the trouble at the outset, but well nigh impossible to eradicate it when matured. No evidence in relation to this superb blood depurent is more positive than that which establishes its efficacy as a preventive and remedy for rheumatism. Not only is it thorough, but safe, which the vegetable and mineral poisons, often taken as curatives of the disease, are not. Besides expelling the rheumatic virus from the system, it overcomes fever and ague, biliousness, constipation and dyspepsia.

The queen of the Sandwich islands and her suite were guests at the Parker house, Boston, on Sunday.

Louis St. Peter and Frank Paradise, messenger boys of the Quincy house, Boston, have been arrested for stealing numerous letters from guests. They had better change their names.

Return, strong will, to thy deserted throne;
Faith, hope and reason, joy will come and be Loyal prime ministers and aids to thee,
Counselors true, but powerless alone.

Dark doubt and passion their allegiance own
To thy sway only; now, in riot free,
They seek to ruin what is good in me,
And in thy absence what is base condone.

Come thou and quell the revelers; they will cower,
And all their craven followers in thy sight
Will serve as slaves to thy superior power.

Come and defend fair innocence, whose flower
Needs the protection of thy guardian might.

HOW WALES ENJOYS LIFE.

At Sandringham the prince breakfasts with his wife and daughters, but at Marlborough house his habits are less regular, and as often as not his first meal consists of sardine on toast with a cup of coffee, or on occasion—tell it not in Gath—a brandy and soda. This "small and early" is partaken of in the airiest of costumes before the dressing room fire, and during its progress his royal highness sorts and reads his letters. Half the arrangements for the Coliniderie were made or sanctioned in that cozy little room looking out on the Mall between the nibbles and sips of the prince's breakfast.

The next business—always an important item with the Prince of Wales—is the choice of the suit of clothes he means to wear, and the selection is to him a matter of much care. It depends, of course, on the programme for the day. If his diary tells him that he has to open a hospital or attend a "heavy" meeting of learned professors or run down to Windsor to see "mamma," as he still calls her most gracious majesty, the black frock coat with the silk facings, with a pair of quiet unmentionables to follow, is the order given to his trusty valet. Should Sandown, or a little luncheon "somewhere" with Charley Beresford, be down in the day's bill of fare, the latest thing in wonderful chessboard checks is called for, but whatever suit is offered to him the prince is sure to reject if it has been worn five times before. His royal highness never wears a pair of trousers more than six times. The cast offs become the property of his man, who, it may be judged, has an enviable post.

As soon as he is arrayed in purple and fine linen, the prince has Sir Francis Knollys in, and over the first cigar of the day instructs him as to the proper treatment of the pile of opened letters. Then he makes his way to his wife's morning room, where he is sure to find the princess in the daintiest of morning toilets hard at work on "crewels," with two of her daughters making wonderful garments for the Sandringham poor, while the third little maid is reading aloud, either from The Times or Morning Post. The papers and the crewel work are both laid aside when the prince enters, and when his youngest daughter has brought him the weight carryingest chair in the room, half an hour's chat follows.

During the season this is all the home life the Marlborough house people have together. Unless he has a dinner party at home or some function to attend which entails the presence of his wife and daughters, the prince sees them no more till next morning. He may look in during the latter hours of the afternoon to get into evening dress, but the 5 o'clock tea which he honors at Sandringham by accounting for four cups of strong Bonea and innumerable sandwiches is honored in the breach at Marlborough house. At the witching hour when suburban dames are busy with their neighbors' character over the teapot, Albert Edward is fulfilling his mission in the park or finishing his lunch somewhere, or on rare occasions doing penance in the house of lords.—London Cor. Kansas City Journal.

Steamship Nomenclature.

A study of steamship nomenclature discloses some rather interesting facts. The Guion line boats favor the names of territories, and hence we have the Alaska and the Arizona. The names of the Cunard liners all end in "ia"—for example, the Servia and the Etruria. The Oregon was built, with the Alaska and Arizona, to be leased to the Guion line, but she was acquired by the Cunard line, and broke the spell so far as both name and record were concerned. The White Star boats include the Republic, the Britannic and the Celtic—all the names terminating with "ic." The Anchor line favors the "ia" terminal, and most of the steamship companies follow a hard and fast rule in selecting names for their boats, any exception being accounted for by the purchase of a particular vessel from another line.—Globe-Democrat.

Toothache Superstitions.

Theodore Hook's Servant.

Theodore Hook said of his servant that for the first three years he was as good a servant as ever came into a house, for the next two a kind and considerate friend, and afterward an abominably bad master.—Chicago Tribune.

THE FIRST RELIGIOUS PAPER.

Now there is a new "first religious newspaper published in the world." Its name was Herald of Gospel Liberty; its promoter, Elias Smith; its birthplace, Essex, Mass., and its birthday, 1st September, 1808. The last "Magazine of American History" tells us all about it. Its page was twelve by sixteen inches; it was issued once a fortnight; it was not very religious in its tone; and it was not a newspaper—so that the vexed old question, which was the first religious newspaper in the present sense, long since settled in favor of the Boston Recorder, is not even reopened by this revelation.—Congregationalist.

The Herald of Gospel Liberty was published in Portsmouth by Elias Smith, who was a preacher here, in 1808. The religious paper of that day was not, as now, devoted to news and to advertising chances for clergymen to make money by means of "Western investments," but it was intensely "religious" for that time, when Christians were taught to fear God rather than to love him. Mr. Smith was the minister of the First Baptist society in Portsmouth, which was organized Oct. 12, 1802, and held its meetings first in Jefferson hall, and subsequently in the old Court House which formerly stood in front of the North church on the Parade. The lot on Chestnut street, now the site of Music hall, was purchased in 1806, and a meeting house built thereon, where the society worshipped until 1839, when the brick meeting house at corner of Pleasant street and Livermore place was purchased. In 1840 the name was changed to the Pleasant street Christian society, and its successor is now the Court street Christian society. Rev. A. P. Peabody, in his oration delivered Oct. 6, 1856, in this city, at the celebration of the centennial anniversary of the introduction of the art of printing into New Hampshire, being 100 years after the first copy of the New Hampshire Gazette was printed,—which then, as now, contained the "freshest advices foreign and domestic"—said (and the good Doctor always was sure of his facts):

"This town can claim the distinction of having issued the first religious newspaper in the country, and I am inclined to think in the world. The editor was none other than that divine of Protean reputation, whom at least as many sects could claim as there were cities that contended for the honor of Homer's birth—Elias Smith. The paper has not proved so fickle as its founder; but with its name very slightly modified, and its theological position unchanged, it is now printed at Newburyport as the organ of the Christian denomination."

This would seem to establish the fact that the first religious paper was published in Portsmouth. It may not have been a newspaper of the modern style, but it was a religious journal, such as would be in those days considered safe reading for Sundays after meeting. But we can go further back than this in the history of religious publications in Portsmouth. In July, 1804, the Piscataqua Association of Ministers proposed to establish an evangelical magazine. Eight ministers were chosen with "power to establish the magazine and consider themselves as editors." These were James Multimore of Stratham, Huntington Porter of Rye, Jem Appleton of Hampton, Jacob Abbott of Hampton Falls, Peter Holt of Epping, Daniel Dana of Londonderry, and Joseph Buckminster and Timothy Alden of Portsmouth. Under this management the Piscataqua Evangelical Magazine was published, an 8vo monthly. The first volume, for 1805, was published in Portsmouth by W. & D. Treadwell; price per number, 12 1-2 cents. It was subsequently published at Amherst. In the second year of the life of the magazine, Rev. Jonathan French of North Hampton was chosen one of the editors. Mr. Buckminster was pastor of the North church from 1779 for thirty-three years, until his death in 1812. Timothy Alden was a colleague with Dr. Samuel Haven of the South church from 1799 to 1805, when the society worshipped in the Old South church, the division of the first church in Portsmouth having occurred in 1713.

The Piscataqua Evangelical Magazine was of course not a newspaper, but was in the shape and size of a magazine. The Herald of Gospel Liberty was a religious "newspaper," and its tidings were gladly perused by its denominational readers. The size of the early New Hampshire Gazette was not much more than seventeen by ten inches when laid open, about one-sixth of its size when it had reached its centennial year. In fact, those were not the days of blanket sheets and large circulation. The Herald of Gospel Liberty was, it would seem, in size very well up to the average paper of the day, and if the Congregationalist can place the Boston Recorder in the fore front of religious journals, by simply asserting that because Elias Smith's paper was not "very religious in tone," and did not like the Gazette give the freshest advices in the way of news, then it may be regarded that the Herald was not a "religious newspaper." But the facts are entirely against this late Boston notion.

The Authorities Disagree.

Gen. Wolseley, the eminent British general who was elevated to the peerage for his ability in escaping unharmed every time his armies got whipped by the Soudanese, has had his "Life of General Lee" reviewed by Jefferson Davis. Davis takes exceptions to many of the English general's statements, and, while not finding fault with the superlative opinion of Lee's military ability expressed in the book, he shows very plainly that he considers Wolseley's criticisms of other southern leaders unjust and unwarrantable. This dispute is all right. Davis and Wolseley are both failures, but Davis' pen is a good deal sharper than Wolseley's sword.

The work of laying bricks for the walls of the new printery at Dover began on Saturday.

Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston.

Gen. Johnston would have made a good deal of a statesman had he received the proper training. His mind was quick to grasp a subject and his opinion on most matters sound and enlightened. He had been educated in the Calhoun school of politics, and his convictions were deep and conscientious in that direction. When called upon to command in Utah during the Mormon difficulties, he had a full understanding of the situation, and asked no favors from those people, although greatly deficient in some of his supplies, especially salt. He had no hesitation about sending into New Mexico in the dead of the winter of 1857-8 for the articles needed, and showed the Mormons how readily he could get on without their assistance.

Nothing daunted him, and when the Mormons sent him a present of salt for his own use he immediately returned it to them, although there was not a pound in his command, remarking at the same time that "he had not come there to be conciliated or bribed by them in any way whatever." He was determined that they should obey the laws and take no advantage of their having been in possession for years before. He acquitted himself to the satisfaction of the authorities, and was the only officer brevetted during the Utah expedition. He was made a brevet brigadier general Nov. 18, 1857, for "meritorious conduct and ability, zeal, energy and prudence displayed by him in command of the army in Utah."—Col. Brackett, Third U. S. Cavalry.

Locomotive Driving Wheels.

The diameter of locomotive driving wheels has been greatly increased to produce augmented speed. The largest yet noted are for a mammoth engine on one of the French roads. This locomotive has six coupled wheels eight and a quarter feet in diameter, and the tender and cars are to have wheels of the same dimensions, the calculation being that with such a train a speed of about seventy-eight miles an hour can be obtained. The cars will be swung inside and between several pairs of wheels.—Frank Leslie's.

The World from an Egg.

The ancient Finns believed that the world itself was developed from an egg, which a mystic bird laid in the lap of Vaimounou, who attempted to hatch it in his bosom. Accidentally, however, he let it fall into the water; when it was broken; the lower portion of the shell became the earth, the upper part the sky, the liquid white was transformed into the sun and the yolk into the moon, while the small fragments of scattered shell were changed into bright and glittering stars.—New York Journal.

ANOTHER SUDDEN DEATH.

Hardly a week passes without the mention by the newspapers of sudden deaths, and of late the alarming frequency of the statement that death was caused by rheumatism or neuralgia of the heart cannot fail to have been noticed. In all probability many deaths attributed to heart disease are caused by these terrible diseases, which are far more dangerous than is generally considered. Is there any positive cure? The best answer to such a question is given by those who have been cured by the use of Athlophoros.

Dover, N. H., March 23, 1886.

I have for years suffered with muscular rheumatism in back of my head, neck and arms; the pain was intense and seemed to grow steadily worse. I used two bottles of Athlophoros and it brought relief almost immediately. I believe Athlophoros to be a pure, honest medicine, and there is no question it will certainly cure rheumatism.

MRS. F. KENNEDY, Orchard Street.

Chicopee, Mass., May 23, 1886.

I have suffered for over five years with muscular rheumatism, being treated by several physicians, besides taking numberless remedies; the doctors could not cure me and the different medicines gave me no relief. There was one remedy I had not tried—Athlophoros. I bought three bottles of it, taking them according to directions. I commenced at night before retiring. The next morning, after a good night's rest, I was perfectly free from pain. My rheumatism went and has never returned. Athlophoros effected a cure in my obstinate case and I believe it will in that of any one suffering with rheumatism or neuralgia.

G. E. LEWIS.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

CORPORATION ELECTIONS.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Electric Light Co. was held on Monday, and the directors of last year were re-elected, viz.: Marcellus Eldredge, Edw. S. Fay, H. Fisher Eldredge, Calvin Page and Mercer Goodrich. Marcellus Eldredge was re-elected president, H. F. Eldredge vice president, Ed. S. Fay treasurer, and Calvin Page clerk.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Shoe Co. was held on Monday, when Frank Jones, Charles A. Sinclair, C. P. Berry, Charles H. Mendum and Calvin Page were elected directors. The organization is the same as last year. The meeting was characterized throughout with much harmony, the election of officers being by unanimous vote. The company has discarded all the old machinery purchased of the former corporation, and it is succeeded by new and improved machines capable of improved results.

MARITIME NOTES.

A letter received in this city on the 9th inst. by the agents of the schooner Active, from Capt. Frisbee, commanding that vessel, reported her as having completed her repairs and got her sails bent, and as being all ready to sail from Hyannis on the 10th, should the weather be favorable. The Nantucket wreckers who aided in getting the schooner to Hyannis when in distress recently, demanded $1500 for their services, but finally settled for $230.

A line of packet schooners is to be established between Boston and Bangor, to carry freight. Each schooner will lie at the packet pier in Boston two days, to receive freight; four packets a week are proposed.

The schooner Clara E. Simpson, Hontvet master, arrived at Windsor, N. S., May 9th, from Baltimore, to load plaster for Georgetown, D. C.

The fifth three-masted schooner to discharge her cargo into the Boston & Maine railroad coal-pocket at Noble's island is now at the wharf. The arrangements for distributing the coal through the length of the building are very ingenious, and attract a good deal of attention among those interested in such improvements. A picked gang of stevedores, many quite young, are employed there. Another Nova Scotia schooner arrived on Sunday with ties for the Boston & Maine road, which are being unloaded on the wharf to be put through the preserving process; she also brought five female immigrants.

The schooner James Nichols, of Boothbay, on Saturday finished discharging a cargo of superphosphate to Philbrick & Co.

MATTERS IN YORK.

YORK CORNER, ME., May 9th.

We were agreeably and very much surprised on Thursday last, to receive a call from Mr. Eastman, who is yet numbered among the living. He has had 146 pounds of water taken from him during his sickness. Also saw him at the baptism yesterday. He is gaining strength, and is really a walking miracle.

Mr. Mitchell is again around as usual, and will soon be at the forge again.

Everett Freeman has gone to Boston to learn telegraphy.

The day yesterday was one of the most beautiful we have had this season, and the writer, with fully four hundred more, "gathered at the river" near Mr. Bradbury's house to witness the solemn ordinance of baptism. The services were: Reading of the Gospel by Rev. Mr. Mugridge; singing by a quartette; prayer by Rev. Mr. Mugridge. Elder Maben officiated in the immersion of the twenty candidates, in the order as follows: J. Albion Littlefield, Edward E. E. Mitchell, Allen C. Moulton, G. Everett Moulton, Mrs. G. Everett Moulton, Mrs. Charles W. Junkins, Charles H. Young, Mrs. Charles H. Young, Geo. H. Young, Mrs. George H. Young, Walter G. Moulton, William H. Gowen, Samuel D. Booker, Willie O. Leavitt, Miss Mary O. Kimball, Miss Carrie Littlefield, Bernard A. Moulton, Clarence E. Gowen, Miss Edith Moulton, Miss Bessie Littlefield.

This was, we are confident, the first time Eld. Maben ever officiated in this capacity, and he truly did remarkably well. The services closed with prayer and the benediction by Eld. Maben. The members who were baptized were given the right hand of fellowship at the church in the afternoon by the pastor. This makes a great and valued addition to the church, as many of them are worthy and honored people, and will be a help to the church in point of talent as well as financially; others are rather young to prognosticate on. We wish the old church well, as we have a pew in the building; don't use it much, though; there's no cushion on the seat!

To-day is town-meeting day, to see if the town will accept the doings of the selectmen in laying out a road from a point near Mrs. Emerson's house to the proposed Y. H. & B. R. R. station site. We opine the verdict will be an emphatic "No." The expense would be $1500 to $2000, and the town "don't feel that way" just now.

Fine line of Harnesses at Plaisted's; prices $9.00 to $30.00. P.

AROUND HOME.

Loring Smith is building a brush weir in Sagamore creek, above the bridge.

Several butts in the plank sidewalk of the north bridge need spiking down; otherwise somebody will break a toe or sprain an ankle there some day.

"Rev." Authur A. Waite, of Glad Tidings tent and temperance chalk-talk fame in this city some years ago, and later of very damaged fame in Lynn and other cities of Massachusetts, and in other states, after being out of sight for a time has turned up again, this time as "Dr." Waite, manager of Donald McKay's Warm Springs Indian troupe. The troup was exhibiting in Kentucky last month, and the following was the "Doctor's" notice of the show: "Notice—Clergymen, teachers, parents and husbands are respectfully informed that this entertainment is pure, moral and instructive. The hall is open to visitors, free every day, (Sunday excepted), and all are welcome to come in and see the Indians and their curiosities. Dr. A. A. Waite, manager in charge." The fellow is a fraud of the first water, way through, but it cannot be denied that he is as smart as a steel trap in his particular line—or lines, for he has a good many of them, to suit all circumstances.

Alnerman Howell C. Russell is having work done on his wharf on Water street, with the intention of engaging in the coal trade.

The granite posts on Market street, near Russell, which have been leaning at all angles for many years, have been straightened up—not a costly job, but one that much improves the look of the street.

Mr. George W. Guppy is reported to have received an appointment on Monday evening, as clerk at the navy yard to take the place of Mr. Wm. A. Ashe, removed.

The laying of the foundations of the new Jones brewery was commenced last week.

The street commissioner has commenced repairing Creek street near the Eldredge brewery, and re-opening the drains which were cut off there several years ago.

Civil Service Reform---Cleveland Brand.

An examination of the records of the New York custom house shows that since Mr. Magone has been collector the offices of three confidential clerks and deputy collectors and thirteen experts have been created, and filled without reference to the civil service law. Further, that there has been an increase of $32,150 in the monthly pay rolls, and 107 in the number of employes, as compared with a year ago. In the surveyor's department sixty republican inspectors have been got rid of, but the civil service recommendations have been so manipulated that sixty county democrats have taken their places.

Mr. Joseph B. Stott of Newmarket was instantly killed on Saturday last, by falling from the roof of a coal shed and striking on a pile of lumber. He was about sixty years old, and leaves a wife and several children.

Work has commenced on Market street at taking up the cobble-stone paving, which is to be replaced with crushed stone, much to the satisfaction of those who have to drive teams on that street.

Capt. David R. Grogan, keeper of White island light, and Capt. David Burke, second assistant keeper at Boon island, have returned to their respective stations after spending a week or so on shore.

At the urgent solicitation of a number of my patrons I shall continue for a few months after May 1st to make those fine Cabinet Photos for $2.00 a dozen.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Combines, in a proportion peculiar to itself, the active medicinal properties of the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. It will positively cure—when in the power of medicine—Spring Debility, Headache, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, and all Diseases caused by a low state of the blood.

"I suffered three years with blood poison. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and think I am cured." MRS. M. J. DAVIS, Brockport, N. Y.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

Is so vastly superior to any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier, that one has well said: "Its health-giving effects upon the blood and entire human organism, are as much more positive than the remedies of a quarter or a century ago, as the steam-power of to-day is in advance of the slow and laborious drudgery of years ago."

"While suffering from a severe bilious attack in March, 1883, a friend in Peoria, Ill., recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried the remedy, and was permanently cured." J. A. SHEPARD, travelling agent for Devoe & Co., Fulton Street, N. Y.

Purifies the Blood

"I tried a dozen articles to cleanse my blood, but never found anything that did me any good till I began using Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. H. PEER, Rochester, N. Y.

"My wife was troubled with dizziness and constipation, and her blood has been in a bad order—in fact she has been all run down. Hood's Sarsaparilla is doing her a wonderful amount of good." F. M. BALDWIN, druggist, Blanchester, Ohio.

"I was for five years a sufferer with boils, all run down, and was at one time obliged to give up work. Before taking all of two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, was entirely cured." R. M. LANE, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

A LEAP FOR LIFE.

A Bostonian, who failed by a fortunate mischance to get a room in the burned hotel in Buffalo on the night of the fire, returns to this city with shaken nerves. Amid all the horrors of the ghastly giare one scene stands out above all others, fixing the eyes and stopping the breath for a moment of the lookers on. When the flames wrapped the building a man was seen crawling out through a window of the fifth story. For an instant he stood on the outer ledge of the window, dimly seen from below through the smoke and looking around for help. None was at hand for the instant and fire behind him surged over his head, scorching the fingers which clasped the window frame.

A gasp of pity and horror arose from the street below. Death by fire or by the stones of the street seemed the only choice left him. The Bostonian closed his eyes. He could not bear to see the end. A murmur beside him made him open them nervously. The end had come. No; through the shooting flames and bursts of smoke the man began to move sideways on the narrow ledge, scarce five inches wide, facing the crowd. Every instant it seemed that he must sway over, totter and fall. There was no hold for his hands or nails on the smooth wall. Still he glided along, with body flattened against the wall and hands extended fly like, as if trying to suck the surface. Though the fire and smoke rose scorching about him he must move unfaltering, slow, rigid, or he would be dashed to pieces.

The feat seemed incredible, impossible. The crowd strained their eyes upward, drawn irresistibly by the frightful fascination of the sight. Every instant they feared to hear a despairing shriek and see the convulsed body with vainly clutching hands hurtle through the air against the street stones. Near the end of the building was a jointed line of firemen's ladders. If the man could reach it he could save himself. Slowly he draws nearer and nearer. Now his hand has almost clutched the top rope. The instant of suspense was awful.

But just as his fingers almost touched the top some firemen below, running up quickly and ignorant of the desperate venture above their heads, grasped the ladder from the ground and were about to drag it to another part of the building. The top swayed away from within the very hands of the escaping man. A low, groaning cry came from the open mouths of the watchers below. Then they saw the man spring through the air and grip the moving ladder with a sort of fury born of despair. The ladder top shook with the shock of the springing body, which clung to its dizzy perch like a sea bird resting on the trunk of a pitching mast. But it did not snap, and the man who had gone through the very jaws of death soon slid and ran backward down the rounds to the street. But he who saw the sight cannot forget it, and wakes at night in a cold sweat, seeing again in dreams the fire and the figure tottering to its fall.—Boston Record.

The American exhibition in London was opened May 9th.

Nathan Brown of Rochester, aged seventy-four, died last week from injuries received by being struck by a team.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders, syringes, astringents, or any similar application, because they are all irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who have for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can afflict, testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm.

Sad Fatality.

At New Orleans last Saturday morning a number of colored people belonging to the Congregation of Mount Zion Baptist church assembled on the wharf at the head of Ligardi street to be baptized by immersion. A large number of persons followed the baptismal party to the wharf to witness the ceremony. They leaned on the wharf railing, which gave way under the great strain, and about fifty persons were precipitated into the river. Eleven persons are known to have been drowned. In two instances babies were saved and their nurses were drowned.

It is alleged that the pope and the czar are negotiating for the union of the Greek and Latin churches.

"COMBINES" FOR LUCK.

East Buffalo Excited Over the Capture of Several Lottery Prizes—How the Combines Work—A Lottery Fever.

East Buffalo is perspiring with the Louisiana Lottery fever, the announcement having made that one-tenth of the $150,000 first capital prize in the drawing of the 15th inst. is owned by a "combine" on William street. The news was received on Sunday, and on Monday night the lucky bit was celebrated by the syndicate holders of the winning coupon, at the "combine" headquarters, in Matt Metzger's saloon at 457 William street.

Before the jubilation was over another combination was started which numbers over twenty already and will probably be increased to fifty. Three other "combines," having thousands of shares elsewhere, and also being formed for the next drawing in the hope and expectation that the lightning will strike East Buffalo again—this time in several places.

The members of the Metzger "combine," which captured one tenth of the $150,000 prize, or $15,000, are Matt Metzger, holding three shares; Joseph Ludwig, John Dittman, Alex. Roy and Ed. Vandenzder, each holding two shares, and Fred. Swager, A. C. Roth, Joseph Britts, John Waldruff, Joseph Loar, Andrew Winters, George Dittman, Christ Gerber, Christ Atz, B. J. Moriarty, John Fisher, Henry Snyder, Joseph Syndle, and five others who are friends of Alex. Roy residing in Kansas City, who held one share each. There were 30 in the "combine," and each share is entitled to $500. The lucky ticket, of which the syndicate hold a one-tenth coupon, was numbered 66,551, and this has been sent on for collection.

The plan of these lottery syndicates is as follows: A number of parties get together, form a club, elect a treasurer, and each buys one or more shares, paying one dollar for each share. When the money is all collected the treasurer forwards it to the Louisiana Lottery managers with instructions to invest it in tenth or fifth number, so as to secure a different number for every dollar invested. Frequently none of the numbers held by the syndicate draw anything. But once in a while one of them strikes a prize, and this is afterward divided pro-rata among the unlucky members, sharing equally with the holder of the lucky coupon. Those who hold two or more tickets are, of course, entitled to as many shares in the prize. The lucky number in the Metzger combine was held by Ludwig. He has been investing in the Louisiana Lottery for two years and only once during that time managed to hit a fortunate number. This was about a year ago when he scooped in $200 with an investment of one dollar.

One-tenth of the First Capital Prize of $150,000 in the February drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery was won in Buffalo by a combine of three. These gentlemen were Anton A. Velders, Tony Schwers, and Jos. Lehmah. All these are employed in Bettinger's dry goods store at 831 Main street. Their share in the prize was $5,000 each. The lucky ticket was No. 73,987. They received the money three weeks ago. The coupon was collected for them by one of the Bettinger brothers, and another combine has been made for the April drawing in which almost every employee in the store is said to be enlisted. It is claimed that enough syndicates have already been organized here for the April event to secure a stake in the capital number beyond a doubt, and hundreds of venturesome hearts are already fluttering with wild expectations.—Buffalo (N. Y.) Sunday News, March 27.

Agony is Courted

By persons who, attacked by a mild form of rheumatism, neglect to seek prompt relief. Subsequent torture is prevented by an immediate resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Slight exposure, an occasional draught, will beget this painful malady, where there is a predisposition to it in the blood. It is not difficult to arrest the trouble at the outset, but well nigh impossible to eradicate it when matured. No evidence in relation to this superb blood depurent is more positive than that which establishes its efficacy as a preventive and remedy for rheumatism. Not only is it thorough, but safe, which the vegetable and mineral poisons, often taken as curatives of the disease, are not. Besides expelling the rheumatic virus from the system, it overcomes fever and ague, biliousness, constipation and dyspepsia.

Mrs. James Brown Potter will leave the London Haymarket theater on the 14th inst., and in October begins an American tour in Delpit's play, "Mille. De Bressier."

All disorders caused by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping or discomfort attending their use. Try them.

A Montreal dispatch says; "The French press, without regard to politics, is unanimous in denouncing William O'Brien's proposed visit to Canada to agitate the removal of Lord Lansdowne. This unanimity of opinion is somewhat surprising, unless, indeed, they have received instructions from the church."

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness and give strength and rest. Try them.

Mary and Her Lamb.

Most of our young readers will be surprised to hear that the well known nursery song of "Mary Had a Little Lamb" is a true story, and that "Mary" is still living. About seventy years ago she was a little girl, the daughter of a farmer in Worcester county, Massachusetts. She was very fond of going with her father to the fields to see the sheep, and one day they found a baby lamb which was thought to be dead. Kind hearted little Mary, however, lifted it up into her arms, and as it seemed to breathe she carried it home, made it a warm bed near the stove and nursed it tenderly. Great was her delight when, after weeks of careful feeding and watching, her little patient began to grow well and strong, and soon after it was able to run about. It knew its young mistress perfectly, always came at her call and was happy only when at her side. One day it followed her to the village school, and, not knowing what else to do with it, she put it under her desk and covered it with her shawl. There it staid until Mary was called up to the teacher's desk to say her lesson, and then the lamb walked quietly after her, and the other children burst out laughing. So the teacher had to shut the little girl's pet in the woodshed until school was out.

Soon after this a young student, named John Rollstone, wrote a little poem about Mary and her lamb and presented it to her. The lamb grew to be a sheep and lived for many years, and when at last it died, Mary grieved so much for it that her mother took some of its wool, which was "as white as snow," and knitted a pair of stockings for her to wear in remembrance of her darling. Some years after the lamb's death, Mrs. Sarah Hall, a celebrated woman who wrote books, composed some verses about Mary's lamb and added them to those written by John Rollstone, making the complete poem as we know it. Mary took such good care of the stockings made of her lamb fleece that when she was a grown up woman she gave one of them to a church fair in Boston. As soon as it became known that the stocking was made from the fleece of "Mary's little lamb," every one wanted a piece of it; so the stocking was raveled and the yarn cut into short pieces. Each piece was tied to a card on which "Mary" wrote her full name, and those cards sold so well that they brought the large sum of $140 in the Old South church.—American Agriculturist.

The Streets of Pompeii.

The city is of an irregular oval form, about two miles in circumference, and was walled except on the side nearest the sea. It had at least eight gates, probably more, of which the best preserved and probably the most ancient is the Nola. The streets are narrow, from twelve to fourteen feet wide, including the trottoirs Some are even less, and the widest only about thirty feet. Rows of high stepping stones cross the street from side to side between the trottoirs for the convenience of pedestrians in rainy weather. These stepping stones must have greatly impeded the passage of vehicles. The walls, as before mentioned, are low, and there is little left but the lower stories. There is reason to suppose that upper floors were slightly built, perhaps of wood, containing small rooms for the use of slaves. The walls facing on the streets are blank, in most instances, the windows of the houses opening on the open square in the center. In some cases small shops filled the front of houses without communicating with any other part of them, unless perhaps a room at the back, and signs still remain showing the particular business carried on in them.—Foreign Letter.

Cautions Concerning Bathing.

How often is it necessary to bathe? This depends both on the individual and the nature of the bath. Some people, who perspire freely, find it necessary to bathe daily, others require a bath only three or four times a week. Taken indiscriminately the Turkish and Russian baths are unsafe, and may in certain conditions be positively dangerous. In cases of heart disease, a tendency to apoplexy or congestion of the brain Russian or Turkish baths are exceedingly unsafe, and as a general rule it may be stated that this class of bath should never be indulged in without the advice of a physician. The tub bath suits most of us, but the temperature in every case should be high enough to prevent chills, and this remark applies also to sponge baths, which are the safest, and may, with advantage, be taken every day.—Philadelphia Times.

Quartets at the Funeral.

Male quartets are the latest things in Gotham funeral services. Upon reading an obituary advertisement a member of a quartet calls upon the family and suggests an engagement. At a recent funeral service, "Shall We Know Each Other There?" "Angels Ever Bright and Fair," "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and "Jesus Lover of My Soul," were sung by these professionals with impressive effect, the choristers standing at the head of the main hall stairway, while the friends were assembled in the parlor, and the family gathered on the floor next above. When required, the singers go to the grave. The pay is generally left to the consideration of the family or else referred to the undertaker.—Chicago Times.

Science in Japan.

The journal of the science college of the Imperial university of Japan, the first part of which has just made its appearance, may be regarded as a continuation of the scientific memoirs which have been from time to time published by the Tokyo university. This journal is intended to be the journal through which the world at large may receive Japan's own contributions to the progress of science.—Public Opinion.

A CHILD'S SKIN

Ears and Scalp Covered with Eczematous Scabs and Sores Cured by Cuticura.

MY little son, aged eight years, has been afflicted with Eczema of the scalp, and at times a great portion of the body, ever since he was two years old. It began in his ears, and extended to his scalp, which became covered with scabs and sores, and from which a sticky fluid poured out, causing intense itching and distress, and leaving his hair matted and lifeless. Underneath these scabs the skin was raw, like a piece of beefsteak. Gradually the hair came out and was destroyed, until he had a small patch was left at the back of the head. My friends in Peabody know how my little boy has suffered. At night he would scratch his head until his pillow was covered with blood. I used to tie his hands behind him, and in many ways tried to prevent his scratching; but it was no use, he would scratch. I took him to the hospital and to the best physicians in Peabody without success. About this time, some friends, who had been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, prevailed upon me to try them. I began to use them on the 15th of January last. In seven months every particle of the disease was removed. Not a spot or scab remains on his scalp to tell the story of his suffering. His hair has now returned, and is thick and strong, and his scalp as sweet and clean as any child's in the world. I cannot say enough to express my gratitude nor the wonderful cure by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and wish all similarly afflicted to know that statements to true and without exaggeration. CHARLES McKAY,
Oct. 6, 1885. Peabody, Mass.

I have seen Mr McKay's boy when badly affected with the Eczema. He was a pitiful sight to look at. I know that he has tried our best physicians, and did all a father could do for a suffering child, but availed nothing. I know that the statements he has made you as regards the curing of his boy by your CUTICURA REMEDIES are true in every particular.
WILLIAM J. McCARTHY,
33 Foster St., Peabody, Mass.

I do not know of any instance in which the Cuticura Remedies have failed to produce satisfactory results. I believe I have sold more of them than of any other skin remedies I have ever handled during the thirty-three years of my experience as a druggist.

A Word About Catarrh.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, transmitting the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelops the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, coughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives and simply palliative agents fail, leading to a fatal termination. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, by Inhalation and by Internal administration, has never failed; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out."

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRH SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, all wrapped in one package, with full directions, price, $1.00.

A Great Battle

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

The wholesale clothing manufacturers of Philadelphia, who in May, 1886, agreed to thereafter exclude cutters belonging to the Knights of Labor from their cutting rooms, on the 9th inst., after maintaining the lockout two years, declared it "off," and announced that they will not longer discriminate against members of the order. The lockout was caused by the union cutters attempting to drive out all workmen not belonging to their order.

Great Fires in New Hampshire.

The most disastrous fire that ever occurred in the northern part of this state started in Mead & Mason's furniture factory at Lebanon at one o'clock A. M. on the 10th inst., and burned over about ten acres of the town, on both sides of the Mascoma river, and both sides of Mechanic, Mascoma, High, Mill and Hanover streets. Every manufacturing establishment in the village except Kendrick's woollen mill was destroyed, including Kendrick & Davis' watch-key factory, Baxter's and Soule & Son's machine shops and foundries, Rogers' woollen mill, Tilden's large wood-working shop, and Shaw's grist mill. The Free Press office, Pulsifer's block, Baldwin's block, the Mascoma hotel, old Lafayette hotel, and dwellings and warehouses, to the number of eighty in all, were also burned. Loss $300,000 to $400,000; insurance $110,000. The New Hampshire Ins. Co. loses $12,000, the People's Co. $12,000, and the Granite State $9,000. Engines were sent from Hanover, Enfield and Concord.

A telegram from Suncook about four o'clock P. M. on the 10th, announced a terrible fire to be raging there; it commenced in or near the great freight house, which was destroyed, with extensive coal yards near by; and many buildings on both sides of Glass street were then burning. Appeals for aid had been sent to Concord and Manchester.

The Waumbek Mills boarding house and outbuildings at Bethlehem junction were burned May 10th; loss $6000.

Another Hero Gone.

Gen. Aaron F. Stevens, who was colonel of the 18th N. H. Regiment during the war, and was brevetted brigadier general for gallant service, died in Nashua on the 10th inst., in his 68th year. He was eminent as a lawyer, and as brave a soldier as ever lived. He held many elective offices, and served two terms in Congress as representative from New Hampshire.

MATTERS IN YORK.

YORK CORNER, ME., May 10th.

Yesterday at town meeting, forces sufficiently large to have defeated the road question were in attendance, but upon some well chosen remarks by Mr. H. E. Evans, classed with his offer to give bonds to build the road, to the acceptance of the selectmen, for five hundred dollars, the town voted to accept the doings of the selectmen.

Another lion is now in the way. The selectmen require a culvert in the road where it is absolutely needed, and we learn that Mr. Evans objects thereto.

Of course it will devolve upon Mr. Evans to comply with the specifications which the selectmen will offer, else the meeting and all action thereunder will become void and of no effect. P.

In the absence of frequent conflagations, the city horses are worked in carts on the streets. The consequence is that when an alarm of fire is sounded in the daytime there is a rush of the teams back, so that the horses can be attached to the fire engines. In the hurry consequent on the alarm of fire last Saturday, Councilman Griffin's team came very near being run over on the Parade by one of the heavy double-teams, and Michael, who seldom hurries, got out of his wagon with uncommon celerity. There was no collision, however.

Some of the jurors summoned to attend the present session of the Circuit court from Lebanon and Enfield were prevented from coming by the great fire in the first-named town.

The windows of an unoccupied house in Rye, belonging to Warren Keen of this city, were broken on Monday last by boys attending the east school in Rye, during the recess, and damage caused to the amount of about $25. Last winter the doors of the house were broken open, it is said by the same mischievous parties. An officer armed with warrants went to Rye from this city on Tuesday, with intent to capture the young marauders and bring them before the police court of this city for trial.

The Pepperell Manufacturing Co., of Biddeford, has declared an extra dividend of $200 per share, which is forty per cent on $500, the par value of the stock, the market price of which is now $1135 per share. In 1863 the company made two regular dividends of twenty per cent each, and one extra dividend of fifty per cent; in 1864, fifty per cent was paid; in 1865, twenty per cent; in 1866, forty-five per cent; in 1867, twenty-two per cent. In 1871 only one dividend of five per cent was paid, owing to the loss of $530,000 by a failure in Boston the previous year; but ever since, the yearly dividends have ranged from ten to fourteen per cent.

On Thursday evening of last week a musical comedy called Mouser, Crummy & Co. was given in S. S. S. hall at York village by a party of young ladies and gentlemen from Portsmouth, with the Music hall orchestra, and Mr. A. N. LaBrie as musical director. The entertainment was given for the benefit of the Gorgeanna Histrionic Society, and drew a very large audience, who were greatly pleased with the performance, Miss Grace L. Varrell receiving especial marks of favor. A cornet solo by Mr. Ayers, and a clarionet solo by Mr. Seymour, were also greatly admired. The affair was a brilliant success.

ANOTHER SUDDEN DEATH.

Hardly a week passes without the mention by the newspapers of sudden deaths, and of late the alarming frequency of the statement that death was caused by rheumatism or neuralgia of the heart cannot fail to have been noticed. In all probability many deaths attributed to heart disease are caused by these terrible diseases, which are far more dangerous than is generally considered. Is there any positive cure? The best answer to such a question is given by those who have been cured by the use of Athlophoros.

Dover, N. H., March 23, 1886.

I have for years suffered with muscular rheumatism in back of my head, neck and arms; the pain was intense and seemed to grow steadily worse. I used two bottles of Athlophoros and it brought relief almost immediately. I believe Athlophoros to be a pure, honest medicine, and there is no question it will certainly cure rheumatism.
MRS. F. KENNEDY, Orchard Street.

Chicopee, Mass., May 23, 1886.

I have suffered for over five years with muscular rheumatism, being treated by several physicians, besides taking numberless remedies; the doctors could not cure me and the different medicines gave me no relief. There was one remedy I had not tried—Athlophoros. I bought three bottles of it, taking them according to directions. I commenced at night before retiring. The next morning, after a good night's rest, I was perfectly free from pain. My rheumatism went and has never returned. Athlophoros effected a cure in my obstinate case and I believe it will in that of any one suffering with rheumatism or neuralgia.
G. E. LEWIS.

PETIT JURORS--Joseph Annis, Albany; Milton M. Parks, Keene; Lund Barrett, Stoddard; Lorenzo Stebbins, Hinsdale; Henry D. Learned, Dublin; Charles L. Forristall, Fitzwilliam; Levi B. Tilton, Kensington; John T. Perry, Exeter; Charles S. George, Barnstead; Alfred Thompson, Westmoreland; William P. Spencer, Lebanon, excused; John G. Brick, Lebanon; J. G. Currier, Hanover; John D. Lovering, Canaan; George M. Flanders, Grafton; N. S. Wheeler, Enfield.

Monday, May 9.—The court came in, Judge Colt being in attendance at three p. m. In case Milliken vs. Mount Washington Hotel Co. and others, the defendant's counsel urged that other parties besides the defendant, who were stockholders, namely the Boston, Concord & Montreal R. R., and the Boston & Lowell R. R., lessees of the B. C. & M. R. R., who were the actual stockholders, the individuals named as defendants holding the stock in trust for these corporations. The court ordered the railroad corporations to be made parties. Frink for compl't; Barnard for def'ts.

Tuesday, May 10.—In Norton v. City of Portsmouth, the defendant having filed a motion to sever their issue, the question was argued whether defendant can have a separate hearing on each defence set up. Mr. Hadlock read from the pleas of the defendant; Ex-Judge Foster very briefly replied.

The grand jury having been empaneled, Wm. P. Moulton of Exeter was appointed foreman. The jury were briefly charged by the court.

Frank C. Livingston of Manchester was admitted to practice as an attorney.

Joseph G. Cann of Hanover and Wm. P. Spencer of Lebanon were excused as jurors.

Wm. S. Gibson of Charlestown, N. H. v. Randolph Dodge; suit for enticing pliff. into Vermont and causing him to be arrested on a debt. Chas. S. George of Barnstead was appointed foreman of the jury. The plaintiff gave an account of the inter-state haul from New Hampshire into Vermont, his arrest there and confinement in irons for four and a half hours, sleeping in the attic of the deputy sheriff, locked in a room, and put in irons the next day to nearly noon, when he was bailed by Livingston Stone of Charlestown. The plaintiff's evidence was closed and the case was opened on the part of the defendant, at the adjournment. Parker & Colby, of Claremont, for plaintiff; Waite of Newport for deft.

The grand jury reported two bills of indictment and were discharged.

Case N. H. Land Co. vs. James E. Henry was continued, case to be ready and to be tried at October term, pleadings to close by Sept. 1st.

In case Dudley vs. Boston & Lowell railroad, an action by a former employe for damages received to his person while an employe, counsel for the railroad moved to dismiss because the writ was not served on the defendant. Mitchell for plaintiff; Burns for defendant.

BODY FOUND.

A navy yard workman named Blake, while coming up to his work from Kittery Point on Tuesday morning, discovered the dead body of a man on the rocks off Lawrence's point, and towed it ashore. Coroner E. B. Nealley of Kittery was notified, and called Dr. A. W. Johnson to view the body with him; no indications of foul play were found, and it being surmised that the remains were those of Warren Billings of Dover, a war veteran aged about sixty years, who disappeared on the evening of March 7th from a Portsmouth & Dover railroad train between this city and Dover, and was then supposed to have jumped into the river from the train while it was crossing the trestle of the Dover point bridge, notice was sent to his friends, and his son and a Dover policeman drove down at once. The son positively identified the remains, which though much decomposed were but slightly mutilated, by the clothing, and by a knife, pair of spectacles, and a key attached to a ring, which were found in the pockets. A formal inquest was deemed unnecessary, and the body was handed over to Mr. Billings' son to be taken to Dover. The deceased was a stone mason by trade, and a reputable citizen; he leaves a wife, a daughter and three sons.

A REMINISCENCE.

The lively voting on the "baby question" at the glass blowers' exhibition here last week reminded me of a case somewhat similar at a Universalist fair in the old Temple, nearly a score of years since. The prize was a nice set of jewelry, for the handsomest or most popular young lady in the parish. In this matter the right to vote was acquired only by purchase, and the society netted a very handsome sum by the interest shown therein. The contest quickly narrowed down to two names: Miss Annie M. Carr and Miss Annie L. Fitts. The prize was awarded the latter, (a graduate of the Chronicle office,) after a well-fought struggle. Now comes the sequel to this scheme to despoil outside barbarians. The two Annies were afterward joined in marriage, each with a gentleman by the name of Benjamin. As we are told by inspired writers of the naughty actions of Benjamin when he went down to Egypt to buy corn, we are not surprised to be obliged to state that the two Benjamins who took these treasures carried them far away from their land of birth,—to the wilds of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Grand Rapids, Mich. M.

HAVE SOME?

The warm weather reminds us that Mr. C. E. Boynton, now in his sixteenth year as a manufacturer and bottler of tonic, ginger, birch and other non-intoxicating beers, lemonade, soda water and other light summer drinks, is under full headway at his establishment on Bow street, and ready to supply all orders, for hotels, saloons and private houses. He does not claim to make the only good drinks in his line, but that no manufacturer in or out of this city makes better; and in this his many patrons in this city will sustain him.

JUVENILE TEMPLARS' ELECTION.

Geo. W. Pettigrew, C. T.;
Grace Rand, V. T.;
Arthur Green, F. S.;
Barbara Vogler, S.;
Arthur Gordon, Treas.;
Bennie Hayford, Chaplain;
Everett Cox, A. S.;
Bennie Mugridge, M.;
Minnie Green, D. M.;
Percy Haley, Guard;
Joseph Ross, Sentinel;
Harry Mortimer, P. C. T.;
Ella Lowd, R. S.;
Annie DeCourcy, L. S.

The order is alive and prosperous, numbering nearly one hundred members.

L. H. FISHER, Supt.

BASE BALL.

It is reported that the game of base ball between the Electric club of this city and the Dover high school nine, played in Dover last Saturday, resulted in favor of the former by a score of seventeen to eleven.

The Riverside base ball club will play a match game at the Plains on Wednesday, the 25th inst., with the Exeter academy nine. The Riversides also expect to play with the Athletics on the Portsmouth cricket club's grounds, Memorial day.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Wm. H. Russell, Drowne master, sailed for Boston on Tuesday with the rigging and junk saved from the schooner Flying Dart, wrecked at Rye beach last fall.

Mr. Andrew P. Wendell left this city for Boston on Tuesday, to sail from that city the latter part of the week as supercargo of a brig bound for Morocco and the Canary isles. The voyage is taken by Mr. Wendell mainly on account of his health, and will probably consume about five months.

The Riverside rowing club will hold their first annual picnic within a week, at Chauncy's creek, Kittery.

A bird supposed by the spectators to be a white parrot, but probably a cockatoo, held quite a reception on Richards avenue Tuesday afternoon, the bird being on the topmost branch of a lofty tree, and the visitors grouped all around it on the ground.

Major Otis C. Wyatt of Tilton, department commander of the Grand Army, was in this city on Tuesday in consultation with Judge Advocate George E. Hodgdon, previous to going to Seabrook in the evening to organize John A. Logan post in that town.

Among the prominent members of the bar who were in town this week were Ex-Congressmen Marston, Hall, Parker and Ray, Hon. Jno. Colby of Claremont, A. S. Waite of Newport, Ex-Judge Smith of Dover, Ex-Judge Foster of Concord and Att'y Gen'l Barnard.

Mr. Lowell Jenness, of the firm of Jenness & Dowd, has been for the last few weeks engaged in placing memorial tablets and monuments in the cemeteries of the adjoining towns. The firm have fifty orders ahead, and are constantly receiving marble and granite for all sorts of ornamental work. Visitors are very frequently calling at their store on Market street to examine their stock and designs. Mr. Dowd is a skillful and talented artiste of much experience.

At the urgent solicitation of a number of my patrons I shall continue for a few months after May 1st to make those fine Cabinet Photos for $2.00 a dozen.

That Tired Feeling

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

The Fur Seal Asleep.

The sleep of the fur seal, seen on land, is always accompanied by an involuntary nervous, muscular twitching and slight shifting of the flippers, together with ever and anon quivering and uneasy rollings of the body, followed by a quick folding anew of the fore flippers, all of which may be signs, as it were, of their simply having a nightmare, or of sporting in a visionary way in some far off dreamland sea.

I have studied hundreds of such somnolent examples. Stealing softly up so close that I could lay my hands upon them from the point where I was sitting and watching the sleeping seals, I have always found their sleep to be of this nervous description. The respiration is short and rapid, but with no sound of breathing unless the ear is brought very close.—Our Arctic Products.

Onions as a Nervine.

Those who are in the habit of indulging in raw onions may be consoled for the social disadvantages which ensue by the fact that onions are about the best nervine known. No medicine is really so efficacious in cases of nervous prostration, and they tone up a worn out system in a very short time. Their absorbent powers are also most valuable, especially in times of epidemic.—Medical Journal.

A character in one of Mr. Cable's latest books is made to remark that he will "progress forwardly with rapiditive celeritude."

"I have used your Athlophoros for rheumatism and will say that less than a bottle entirely cured me, taken as soon as I began to feel the pain," is the testimony of John S. Sampson, of Taunton, Mass., to Athlophoros' many virtues.

Disastrous fires are reported in Hungary, owing to an intensely hot wind which blew all last week. In one town 300 houses were burned; in another 400 houses, 5000 persons being rendered homeless; and in many other places from fifty to 150 buildings were destroyed. Many lives were lost, and the pecuniary damage is estimated at $2,500,000.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving way to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them, they will certainly please you.

The ships Seminole and Charmer sailed on Tuesday from New York for San Francisco, 8,000 miles, and heavy wagers have been laid on the result. That is something like an ocean race.

Six English detectives are said to be attending Irish anti-coercion meetings in this country.

If you had taken two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring you would not have had that coated tongue or bad taste in the mouth this morning. Keep a vial with you for occasional use.

The great earthquake which shook Arizona and New Mexico on the 3d inst. was terribly destructive in Sonora, Mexico. At Banispe 150 persons were killed, and at Oputa twenty-seven; Grenada and Gusarbar were destroyed, with some loss of life; and volcanic activity exists from one end of Mexico to the other, down to the Guatemalan border.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders, syringes, astringents, or any similar application, because they are all irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who have for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can afflict, testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm.

Mrs. Susie C. Long, a widow with three small children, was found in a fainishing condition at Nashua a day or two since. Her eldest daughter, who supported the family by working in the mills, was drowned in the canal a few days before.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Seize the Opportunity Ere it is Too Late.

What we consider the uncertainty of every event of life, let us remember that the 25th Grand Monthly Drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery took place at New Orleans, on Tuesday (always Tuesday), April 12th, 1887, under the sole supervision and control of Gen'ls G. T. Beauregard of La., and Jubal A. Early of Va., when $522,500 was sent flying around the world where it would probably do the most good. Thusly: No. 67,060 drew the First Capital Prize of $150,000, which was sold in fractional parts of tenths at $1 each, sent to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La.; one was held by Geo. P. Stackhouse, for himself and fifteen partners in the establishment of Goodell & Waters, Philadelphia, Pa.; one to Ambrose Gilliland of Mowequa, Ill., collected through Decatur Nat'l Bank, Decatur, Ill.; one by Mrs. M. H. Newberry, Cheboygan, Mich.; one was paid through the London, Paris and American Bank, limited; one through the Anglo-California Bank, limited; two through Wells, Fargo & Co., all the latter of San Francisco, Cal.; the others elsewhere, the publication of whose names is objected to. No. 23,809 drew the $5,000 Prize of $500, also sold in tenths at $1 each; one to J. M. Stotts, Doe, Ark.; one to Roy J. Bour, Canton, O.; one to W. C. Hammock, Griffin, Ga.; one to C. W. Tweedy, Augusta, Ga.; one to A. L. Robb, Atchison, Kansas, and others went elsewhere. No. 67,901 drew the Third of $20,000, also sold in tenths at $1 each; one to H. F. Davis and R. S. Webber, Portland, Me.; one to P. H. Dwyer, Boston, Mass.; one to G. Ragin, Clarksville, Texas; the rest elsewhere. Nos. 22,735 and 50,839 drew each one of the Fourth Prizes of $10,000 and were scattered hither and yon, everywhere over the world, and now it soon will be the 30th monthly and Grand Extraordinary Drawing on Tuesday, June 14th, 1887, when $1,005,000 will be scattered in sums from $500,000 down to $100. Whole tickets are $20; and fractional parts from halves at $10, to twentieths at $1. Any information can be had of M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. It is well to seize the opportunity ere it is too late.

Chinese Knights of Labor.

District Assembly Forty-nine, Knights of Labor, of New York city, through its organizer, Timothy Quinn, has formed two Chinese local assemblies. The first was organized four months ago, and called the Victor Hugo labor club. It consists of cigarmakers, laundrymen and opium-joint keepers. The second, the Patrick Henry labor club, of which Lee Sah is master workman, is composed of the same elements. Many of the Mongolian knights are Sunday school scholars, and the two assemblies have 600 members. A third will soon be organized.

Col. George F. Towle, U. S. A., son of the late Capt. George W. Towle of Newcastle, has deposited $500 in one of the banks in this city to be held in trust, the income of which is to be expended by St. Andrew's Masonic lodge of this city, of which the late Capt. Towle was the last surviving charter member, in keeping the family lot in Harmony Grove cemetery in perpetual repair.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too. White Plains, N. Y., April 10, 1886.—I have received many letters in reference to my testimonial, lately published, commending Allcock's Porous Plasters.

I cannot spare the time to answer them in writing, therefore would again say, through the press, that I have found Allcock's Porous Plasters invaluable as chest protectors and shields against coughs and colds. Furthermore, I have found Allcock's Plasters unequaled for pains in the side, back and chest.

Agony is Courted

By persons who, attacked by a mild form of rheumatism, neglect to seek prompt relief. Subsequent torture is prevented by an immediate resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Slight exposure, an occasional draught, will beget this painful malady, where there is a predisposition to it in the blood. It is not difficult to arrest the trouble at the outset, but well nigh impossible to eradicate it when matured. No evidence in relation to this superb blood depurent is more positive than that which establishes its efficacy as a preventive and remedy for rheumatism. Not only is it thorough, but safe, which the vegetable and mineral poisons, often taken as curatives of the disease, are not. Besides expelling the rheumatic virus from the system, it overcomes fever and ague, biliousness, constipation and dyspepsia.

We feel we must write something of the success of Hop Bitters. Their sale is thribble that of any other article of medicine. So we feel it but justice to you and your Bitters to say that it is a medicine of real merit and virtue, and doing much good and effecting great cures. Yours, J. F. & H. B. UTLEY.

I am very glad to say I have tried Hop Bitters, and never took anything that did me as much good. I only took two bottles and I would not take $100 for the good they did me. I recommend them to my patients, and get the best of results from their use.

In the literature of to-day, all roads seem to lead to the novel. The historian and biographer, the scientist and the essayist, are all likely to turn to fiction at some time or other, either for mental relaxation or for the opportunity of addressing a larger circle of readers than mere research can hope to attract. Does the eminent mathematician find his work grow monotonous, forthwith he sets his pen to the composition of romances of thwarted love. Does the scholar erudite in classical lore and the myths of savage races become weary of his labors, he straightway invents tales of ingenious villainy and his mind is refreshed.—William Morton Payne in The Dial.

The "Blocks" in London.

"Blocks" in Australia seems to have the same meaning that it has in America. I don't think the term is used in England to any great extent. I never was directed in London to "go down three blocks," or to "go round to the next block." It is always "take the third turning," or something of that sort.—Luke Sharp in Detroit Free Press.

The largest table ever made from a single plank belongs to the Illinois club, of Chicago. The plank is fifteen feet long and six wide, and was cut from a California redwood tree.

Triumphs of Modern Journalism.

While anæsthetics have rendered the gravest surgical operations well nigh painless, other still more recent improvements have rendered them comparatively safe. It is important that this should be understood, because dread of the surgeon's knife, once reasonable, causes many operations to be put off until the increase of the trouble and its effect on the general health may have rendered the system unable to rally from the shock. In all cases the earlier the operation the safer it will be.

The changes in surgical methods within a single decade amount to a revolution. The surgeon himself looks back with horror on the surgery of ten years ago. Then the danger—and it was a great and ever present one—was from suppuration and consequent blood poisoning. Suppuration was looked on as inevitable. Bio-science now shows that no suppuration is possible unless the germs of it are introduced from without. The germs were formerly introduced with the hand of the operator or those of his assistants or by his instruments, his threads, his sponges, his plaster or his bandages, or they floated in with the infected air with which every hospital was specially charged.

Now it is known that various solutions destroy all such germs. The operating room is therefore kept disinfected. So are the surgeons and attendants, especially their hands and nails. Instruments and sponges are taken, at using, directly from the carbolic solution. Plasters and bandages, and all ligatures for tying blood vessels or sewing up wounds, are rendered asceptic. The skin of the patient is scrubbed with soap and water, and the parts adjacent to the wound covered with disinfecting towels.

"Pus is a thing of the past," says the Medical Record. "The wound is now dressed with no expectation that fever will arise, or that suppuration will occur, or that the dressings will require renewal. The patient eats and sleeps well from the first, and the surgeon removes the dressing only to find the wound "united"—and this, too, though the largest wounds are fully sewed up, and without drainage tubes.

Formerly, the simplest cases of compound fracture were treated with many misgivings; now the worst cases give no special trouble. Formerly, the larger amputations were terribly fatal; now, even in amputations of the thigh, death by suppuration and its results does not occur. Formerly, after tying a blood vessel, there was great danger of its bursting out again, through the effect of suppuration; this danger has ceased to exist. Enormous abscesses are now freely opened, cleansed with a disinfecting solution, and their walls—sometimes having many square feet of surface—being pressed together, promptly unite with uniform success.—Youth's Companion.

Bad Breeding in Public.

The display of jewels and of personal attractions in public has long been deprecated by those of good taste, but it still continues in a remarkable manner. Of course in the boxes of the opera house there is the little gulf of distance between the public and the full dress, which gives it reasonless sufficient to excuse it in some degree, while the added brilliancy which the display gives to the auditorium is not undesirable. But it is nobody's business to add brilliancy to a restaurant or to the dinner table of an inn, in however grand a manner the inn may be conducted.

We lately saw a lady at a public table whose gown, scintillating with jewels, was cut open and square over a snowy bust, where, reposed a string of diamonds and a string of pearls, with a large brooch and pendant of diamonds; in her hair a bandeau of brilliants glittered in the shape of a comb; huge solitaires depended from her ears; diamonds sparkled on her wrists, while her hands were literally loaded with sapphires and rubies and emeralds and opals and diamonds; she glittered all over like the night; she reminded one of some rare show, and attracted almost as much attention. Yet this same glittering individual used her handkerchief vigorously and for a long time together on her nostrils, scratched herself without reserve and picked bones with her jeweled fingers, making as much display of her bad breeding in one direction as another. Our young people cannot too early be taught that simplicity of dress in public is as important and as evident a mark of good breeding as quiet behavior is.—Harper's Bazar.

The Great Fires in New Hampshire.

The fire at Bethlehem Junction on the 10th inst. not only destroyed the Waumbek mills boarding house, but the extensive lumber mill and a tenement house, and a large amount of lumber in the mill yard. The loss will reach $20,000; insured.

The losses by the Suncook fire on the 10th inst. aggregated $45,000, on which there was insurance of $17,000. There were in reality two fires, the first catching in the Concord railroad freight house, which with a large coal and wood shed, and five houses, were destroyed. Sparks from the fire caught on a house quarter of a mile away across the river and well up on a hillside, and it and four other houses were burned, and others much damaged.

Miss Edith Amee of Kittery Point is teaching the spring term of school in district No. 4, north.

The scholars in district No. 1, assisted by their teacher, Miss Florence E. Sanderson, celebrated Arbor day last week with appropriate exercises, and planted a thrifty young maple tree in the schoolhouse grounds.

Rev. Alexander Hamilton, formerly pastor of the 1st Methodist church at North Kittery, was elected to the Elder's order, at the session of the Maine Methodist conference, held in Waterville last week.

Mr. William F. Bartlett, who has been employed by the Portsmouth Machine company for some time past, left town Saturday last for Boston, to accept a like position with a company there.

Capt. Samuel H. Pillsbury returned from Biddeford on Wednesday last, and has launched his new cutter yacht, the Vera.

Mrs. Nancy Wilson, widow of Hon. Gowen Wilson, died in North Kittery on the 5th inst., aged ninety-two years, one month and eight days. Two of her five children, Albert S. and Ann Augusta, wife of James W. Brooks, Esq., five grandchildren and several great-grandchildren, survive her; also two younger sisters, Mrs. Alsira Johnson, widow of James Johnson and mother of Dr. A. W. Johnson, and Mrs. Julia Morrill, widow of Rev. Paschal P. Morrill. Mrs. Wilson and her husband were among the earliest members of the 1st Methodist church here. The families bereft have the sympathy of their numerous friends, but nothing on earth can compensate them for the loss of a mother.

A general interest in Arbor day is manifest throughout town, particularly in school districts one, nine and seven. Our clergymen too are in hearty accord with this refining movement.

The entertainment in Trefethen hall on Friday evening last by the X. L. C. R. club was well attended, and very successful in all its parts.

Farmers are as busy as bees, practically solving the labor question. Even the interstate commission and new clerks on the navy yard sink into utter nothingness when compared with their interest in the "Beauty of Hebron," "Champion of England," "White Spine" cucumbers, and the longest kind of string beans.

The new hotel at the Point, nearly or quite completed, is most delightfully located. The proprietor and probable manager is one of our well known and respected business men, and will no doubt have a goodly share of patronage. Much credit is due mine host of ye Pepperell for opening the way in genuine pioneer fashion. We hope the near approach of the new railroad will not disturb the orthodox repose for which this spot has long been prized by people seeking healthful quiet.

Edward G. Parker Post, No. 99, G. A. R., will observe Memorial day by appropriate services. The several societies and Sabbath schools have been invited to participate. Rev. Francis Grovenor, pastor of the 1st and 2nd Methodist churches, will deliver the address at the cemetery. A drum corps has been engaged to furnish music for the occasion. On Sunday, the 29th, special services will be held at the 2nd Christian church; the pastor, Rev. Eugene E. Colburn, will preach an appropriate sermon. Several of the societies have signified their intention to join in the exercises.

SUB ROSA.

Messrs. Edward F. Furbish, John Parkins and Walter H. Staples, three young and energetic men who were formerly employes of the late William A. Plaisted in his grain, flour and grocery store on Market street, have associated themselves under the firm name of Portsmouth Grain & Grocery Co., and will continue the business at the same place. Being well acquainted with the methods of conducting the business, there is no reason why they should not be entirely successful.

The weekly pay-roll of the Portsmouth Shoe Co. now amounts to over $4000 a week, and is all the time increasing in consequence of the steady increase of the company's business. As much the larger part of this $700 a day paid out in wages goes immediately into general circulation, the benefit the shoe factory is to the city must be very great.

ANOTHER SUDDEN DEATH.

Hardly a week passes without the mention by the newspapers of sudden deaths, and of late the alarming frequency of the statement that death was caused by rheumatism or neuralgia of the heart cannot fail to have been noticed. In all probability many deaths attributed to heart disease are caused by these terrible diseases, which are far more dangerous than is generally considered. Is there any positive cure? The best answer to such a question is given by those who have been cured by the use of Athlophoros.

Dover, N. H., March 23, 1886.

I have for years suffered with muscular rheumatism in back of my head, neck and arms; the pain was intense and seemed to grow steadily worse. I used two bottles of Athlophoros and it brought relief almost immediately. I believe Athlophoros to be a pure, honest medicine, and there is no question it will certainly cure rheumatism.

MRS. F. KENNEDY, Orchard Street.

Chicopee, Mass., May 23, 1886.

I have suffered for over five years with muscular rheumatism, being treated by several physicians, besides taking numberless remedies; the doctors could not cure me and the different medicines gave me no relief. There was one remedy I had not tried—Athlophoros. I bought three bottles of it, taking them according to directions. I commenced at night before retiring. The next morning, after a good night's rest, I was perfectly free from pain. My rheumatism went and has never returned. Athlophoros effected a cure in my obstinate case and I believe it will in that of any one suffering with rheumatism or neuralgia.

G. E. LEWIS.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

THIS EVENING.

The grand minstrel and athletic entertainment by the Portsmouth Athletic club takes place at Music hall this evening, and all who attend will see a big show and the biggest house of the season.

HOODMAN BLIND.

On Saturday evening, at Music hall, B. F. Horning's company will present the great scenic and dramatic success by Wilson Barrett and Henry A. Jones, "Hoodman Blind," a melo-drama which had a run of 300 nights at Princess theatre, London, and has drawn immense audiences in the large American cities. Tickets now on sale at Goodrich's; see advertisement.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Wednesday, May 11th.—U. S. vs. Horace B. Rand. The defendant's counsel filed a demurrer to the indictment. The case was continued to await the decision of a case in the supreme court of the United States, when a question of law is to be passed upon similar to one likely to be raised in this case. Mr. Thomas Rand surety was examined as to the sufficiency of his property already offered as surety. The bail was fixed at same sum as that required by the commissioner—namely $1500. Frink, U. S. attorney, for the government; Samuel W. Emery for respondent.

U. S. vs. Kelley. Mr. Kelly waived reading the indictment, pleaded not guilty and his case was continued as there were no funds with which jurors could be paid.

U. S. vs. John A. Greenwood. Respondent was allowed to enter into a personal recognizance to appear at the next term. Recognized in $1000. John P. Bartlett for respondent.

U. S. vs. Geo. S. Leavitt. Case continued also to the October term.

The testimony of the defendant in the case of Wm. S. Gibson vs. Randolph Dodge, the trial of which was commenced Tuesday, was all in at the adjournment at one o'clock. At two o'clock the court came in and the arguments were heard which consumed a large portion of the afternoon session.

The case was given to the jury after a charge by the court, in which the judge explained that the plaintiff relied upon proving what was contained in his amended count. This was read by the court. It set forth the complaint of the plaintiff. If the jury believes that this was a conspiracy as claimed, then the plaintiff has suffered damages and is entitled to recover. The defendant denies this, and says he had nothing to do with the arrest and imprisonment of the plaintiff. The case turns largely upon whether the jury believe the plaintiff or the defendant. The entire evidence must be taken into consideration in all its bearings. The court recapitulated some of the evidence, referring to the letter addressed to the plaintiff signed by defendant, and the necessity of connecting the defendant with the conspiracy before the recovery by the plaintiff was shown, and his connection with the acts complained of. The damages which plaintiff may have suffered by the loss of his daughter's services by reason of the conduct of the son of the defendant, are not to be considered in this case. The suit is not to recover for such damages. There is no dispute that there were differences between the plff. and the son of the deft. The plaintiff must make out his case by a preponderance of evidence. On the question of damages explanation was given.

The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff, assessing damages at $500.

Cases U. S. vs. A. T. Worthen, and U. S. vs. Moore & Fletcher were dismissed. Civil action, U. S. vs. Kelly, was continued. In U. S. vs. Jones judgment was ordered.

Albion R. Simmons was admitted to practice as an attorney.

IRREGULAR TRADING.

On Tuesday evening of this week Mr. Thomas Lees, a fisherman, left his dory at Dixon's wharf, and went ashore to sell his fare of 600 lbs. of fish. Returning in a short time he found his dory gone, and in her place a double dory, said to belong to a Gloucester fishing schooner then in the lower harbor. The thieves also took from her moorings a dory belonging to Mr. William M. Randall. As Mr. Randall a little later was coming up the river in his whaleboat, he saw two dories pulling down, and recognized one of them as Mr. Lee's, but did not recognize his own! Early next morning the dories were discovered by men in one of the weir boats, anchored between Gerrish's and Wood islands; and it is supposed the captain of the schooner, on the stolen dories being brought alongside, refused to allow them on board, and forced the traders to anchor them where they were found.

ANOTHER CONTRIBUTION.

At the regular meeting of Rockingham Lodge, I. O. G. T., on the evening of the 11th inst., it was voted to donate twenty dollars to the soldiers' monument fund.

Voted also to visit Morrill Lodge of North Kittery on Friday evening, 13th inst., if pleasant. Barges leave the hall at seven o'clock.

SLIGHT FIRE.

A fire took place in an upper room of Mr. Horace S. Hatch's residence on the corner of Daniel and Chapel streets, on the forenoon of the 11 inst., owing to a curtain blowing against a lighted gas jet. Owing to house cleaning being under way there was more furniture than usual in the room, and it was all badly damaged, the loss being about $100. The fire was put out by some painters who were working near by, without a general alarm being given.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

Abbey's Double Uncle Tom's Cabin Co., with two brass bands, (white and colored,) the original South Carolina Jubilee singers, two Topsys, and two lawyers Marks, will play in Music hall next Wednesday evening.

BASE BALL.

The Dover high school nine will play a game with the Portsmouth high school nine in this city to-morrow.

The base ball club of the Walker school challenge any club in the city whose members are not over sixteen years of age.

National League games May 11th: Philadelphia 9, Boston 4; New York 9, Washington 8; Detroit 19, Pittsburg 2; Chicago 11, Indianapolis 6.

THE CHERRY BLOSSOMS.

This season is not so very backward, if we may judge by the cherry trees, the hot sun of the past few days having brought forward the blossoms in great profusion.

The following is the record of the first appearance of cherry blossoms on the same tree in a garden in this city, for the past few years: In 1879, May 13th; 1880, May 11th; 1881, May 10th; 1882, May 25th; 1883, May 18th; 1884, May 16th; 1885, May 15th; 1886, May 16th; 1887, May 10th.

Tuesday, May 10th, was a warm day for the New Hampshire insurance companies.

In the great fire at Suncook on the 10th inst., Mrs. Potter, wife of Dr. F. E. Potter of this city, had two houses burned; loss $6000; insured.

The Universalist Parish Meeting takes place to-night in the vestry. Let nothing keep those away who wish us well. Come early, and then go to Music hall.

A delegation from New Hampshire Lodge, I. O. O. F., of this city, will visit the Odd Fellows of Dover on Friday evening of this week, by invitation, going up in barges and returning by the same means of conveyance.

Three Ex-United States Attorneys were in town on Tuesday of this week, namely, Hon. J. G. Hall, Hon. Ossian Ray and Hon. Charles H. Burns.

Congressman-elect McKinney was in town last evening.

The city drinking fountains were receiving a coat of paint on the 11th inst. When the water would be turned on no one seemed to know.

Samuel W. Emery, Esq., who has been Portsmouth correspondent of the Manchester Union, and associated press agent here, for the past four years, has severed his connection with the Union, and Mr. Daniel N. Pickering of Newington has taken his place as correspondent. Mr. Emery will also retire from the associated press agency shortly, his law business demanding all his time and attention.

John A. Logan Post, G. A. R., was instituted on the evening of May 10th, with thirty-two charter members. John W. Locke is commander of the new post, and William A. Rand, formerly of this city, is chaplain.

The new building for the Electric Light Co.'s station is so nearly completed that an engine and several dynamos have been moved into it; and the rest of the plant in the brick building at first erected, and which was at the time considered ample in size to accommodate all the apparatus that would be required for many years, will be transferred to the new building as speedily as possible. The original building will be used as a boiler house, and a new and larger boiler will be put in to supplement the one already there.

GREAT FIRE IN NEWTON.

About twelve o'clock on the night of the 10th inst. a horse kicked over a lantern in the stable of Hoyt's hotel at Newton, this county, and the building instantly took fire and was destroyed, together with the hotel, Wilder's store, Hayford's large carriage manufactory, the town hall, post-office and telephone exchange, and many dwellings, to the number of twenty-three buildings in all. The total loss is stated at $60,000, with small insurance in New Hampshire and Massachusetts companies.

You may pluck the man from his place in the moon,
Or tear the clouds from the azure sky,
But you can't find goods that are better than ours,
Or catch us asking a price that's high.

The ladies' parlor in the Revere House, Boston, is especially attractive, its many windows looking directly out on Bowdoin Square; while the handsome furniture and generally comfortable appearance of the room make it very inviting.

At the urgent solicitation of a number of my patrons I shall continue for a few months after May 1st to make those fine Cabinet Photos for $2.00 a dozen.

That Tired Feeling

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Mo.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N.Y.

A Modern California Mining Camp.

The cuts and ears and gullies left by the early prospector have been long since filled up, and over them now stands the neat residence and green lawns of the miners' families. Shade trees, in profuse abundance, line the public thoroughfares, while the gardens yield abundance of fruit and vegetables. In the evening the sidewalks become a miniature Kearny street during business hours, while the subsequent night time is still enough to satisfy the most fastidious. Neither dance house nor dive is known. If a gambling den is in operation, it is kept away from the public gaze. The streets are deserted long before midnight, and seldom any sound greets the ear save the heavy, champing "chow-ow" of the neighboring quartz mills, in their ceaseless grinding of the yellow ore.—Overland Monthly.

Paintings for the Public.

Works of art are intrinsically valuable. It is far easier to find a man who has $100,000 to spare than a man who has $100,000 worth of pictures of high merit. The man who gives money to a public use gives indeed something which may be turned to excellent account. But the man who places fine paintings where the public may see them perhaps gives what money could not buy.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Mr. Ruskin's net profits from his peculiar system of publishing his own books are stated at $20,000 for the past year.

THE FIRST ORDER RENEWED.

Nineteen years ago General John A. Logan, then commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, set apart May 30th as a Memorial day, and since that time the surviving veterans have faithfully observed it until it has become a national day of consecration. This year the first observance of the day since the death of General Logan will occur, and the present commander-in-chief, General Lucius Fairchild, uses General Logan's general order for the initial observance, and asks the Grand Army to take the utterances of the now dead leader as an inspiration and guidance for May 30, 1887.

A PROPOSITION.

To the Honorable Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Portsmouth:

Gentlemen: Having had experience all my life with all kinds of soil, I do not feel satisfied with the report I saw in the paper that my farm was a sandy one. There must have been some prejudice to cause such a report. Now I will pay the expenses of three competent persons to be chosen by you or by me to examine and report whether the soil of my farm is sand or gravel. If the choice of persons be left to me I would suggest Mr. Joseph R. Holmes and Mr. William F. Ham, both ex-street commissioners, and Mr. Andrew Sherburne, highway surveyor. I remain, etc., WM. S. WILLEY.

The extension of the Concord railroad wharf is so nearly completed that one elevated stage for a hoisting engine has been built, and a lofty spar set up to serve as a derrick for discharging coal, similar to those which have been found to work so well on the older parts of the wharf.

I suffered terribly from neuralgia in the head and face. After taking two doses of Athlophoros the pain all left me, and not a particle have I had since. I shall always keep Athlophoros in the house. Mrs. Dietrich, 16 Hudson street, New Haven, Conn.

Bert Smith, twenty years old, son of Alonzo Smith, of Orneville, Me., committed suicide by shooting himself in the head and in the region of the heart. He was found in a dying condition in the woods, near his home.

for the care of the sick. How to cure disease, its symptoms and causes, and other information of great value will be found in old Dr. Kaufmann's great book; 100 pages, fine colored plates. Send three two-cent stamps to pay postage to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy free.

Shoe manufacturing is becoming quite brisk in the Lynn, Mass., factories, and a large trade is anticipated for the next four months. Orders are coming in in large numbers, and there is no labor trouble in the way of a successful season.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders, syringes, astringents, or any similar application, because they are all irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who have for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict, testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm.

Charles R. Brayton, chief of the Rhode Island state police, has resigned, the resignation to take effect May 20th.

William Austin, a man forty years old, while painting a building in Suncook on the 10th inst. fell from a ladder, and was instantly killed.

At Stafford Court house, Md., during a thunder storm on the 7th inst., four persons—three children and a man—were killed by lightning which struck their house.

If you had taken two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring you would not have had that coated tongue or bad taste in the mouth this morning. Keep a vial with you for occasional use.

I was a terrible sufferer with Salt Rheum—preferring death to life. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me.—Chas. Owen, Ironville, N. Y. I acknowledge Dr Kennedy's Favorite Remedy to be a cure for Gravel, and, so far as I know, the only cure.—J. M. Allen, Charlotte, N. Y. Send 2-cent stamp to Dr. Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., for a book on Kidney, Liver and Blood disorders. Mention this paper

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. 'A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness and give strength and rest. Try them.

The Heppner (Oregon) Gazette gives the following educational intelligence: "Miss Carrie Dillion will teach the schooi up Ram Gulch this spring. Carrie is now developing her muscle with a pair of dumb-bells, and proposes to subjugate old Tom Carter's freckle-faced boy if she has to break his back, and horsewhip old Tom if he interferes."

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders, syringes, astringents, or any similar application, because they are all irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who have for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can afflict, testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm.

Says the New York World: "Within the past few days the telegraph has recounted certain items of interest to the gentler sex. A woman has become mayor of a Kansas city, another clerk of a police court in New Hampshire, and still another pilot of a Lake Champlain steamboat. Verily, the regeneration of woman is going on apace."

Seemingly Eradicated

With repeated and powerful doses of quinine, chills and fever, in some one of its various forms, springs into active existence again, often without the slightest apparent provocation. To extinguish the smoldering embers of this obstinate and recondite malady, no less than to subdue it when it rages fiercely in the system, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is all sufficient. When every resource of the pharmacopœia has been exhausted against it in vain, the Bitters conquer it—will remove every lingering vestige of it. Nay, more, the Bitters will protect those brought within the influence of the atmospheric poison that begets malarial disease, from its attacks. Disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, are among the complaints to be apprehended from the use of miasma-tainted water. These are both cured and prevented by the Bitters. Rheumatism, constipation and renal complaints, yield to its action.

LOVE'S SEASONS.

For all who bow before love's tyrant throne,
Love changes every season to her own.

With me are now love's seasons; and the year,
With its dull seasons, cannot grieve nor cheer;
Love's autumn from care all my spirits chill;
My heart her winter cold can freeze and kill;
In her spring smile it wakes to joy anew;
And in her summer, when she's fond and true,
My heart, surrounded by its bliss intense,

—George Birdseye in Godey's Lady's Book.

Superstitions of Striking Significance. Funeral Processions in Ireland.

Superstitions concerning the dead are very numerous in all parts of Ireland, and several are of striking significance. The hand of the dead has great power when procured according to certain prescribed formula. For instance the most powerful mystic charm known in Irish magic is the hand of an unbaptized infant, taken from the grave in the name of the evil one, while the next in virtue is the hand of a murderer. When a candle is placed in the dead hand, no wind or rain can extinguish it, and if it be carried into a house at night, all the occupants will sleep the sleep of the dead as long as it is burning. Few diseases can withstand the potency of the dead hand as a remedy, its virtue being shared even by garments and articles which have touched the corpse or have been used in the funeral ceremonies. A piece of the sheet in which a corpse has been wrapped is good for the headache, and candle ends used at a wake will cure burns.

The dead greatly desire to rest near the places where they lived, an instance being cited of a farmer's daughter who went to Cork and there died of a fever. It was judged best to bury her there, but the night after her father returned home he heard the voice of his child crying, "I am alone." Waking, he prayed she might rest in peace till morning, when he at once set out and brought the body from Cork to Mayo, where he buried it with the girl's own people. If you hear steps at night following you, it is very dangerous to turn around, for the steps are those of the dead, and their glance is fatal. Every twelfth night the dead walk, and on every tile of the house sits a soul waiting for prayer to free it from purgatory. The dead consort with fairies, and mothers have sometimes heard the voices of their children singing the old Irish songs far down beneath the raths or funeral mounds where the fairies dwell.

On the west coast, when a funeral procession is halfway to the churchyard, a halt is made and a mound of stones erected to deceive the evil one, who halts there and searches the mound for the dead, while the procession hurriedly goes to the graveyard. The dead are often sent to earth with messages, generally announcing another death, and are always glad to be so employed, for their own relief from purgatory has come. The last buried in a churchyard is compelled to do menial service in the spirit world until another comes to take his place; hence, when two funerals meet, every spadeful of earth is turned at the same moment and the two bodies are interred at the same time. Every one who meets a funeral must turn back and walk at least four steps with it to secure his own good luck and prevent resentment from the dead.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Druukard's Curious Experience.

Freedom from restraint is a hard thing for a man who drinks to excess. I have been in the Washingtonian home, at Chicago, for three months at a time, and came out feeling well, with my head clear and a determination not to taste liquor again. One curious thing which I cannot explain to my own satisfaction is that while in the home, after the first week, I seemed to have no desire for intoxicants at all, but the very next morning after I had been at liberty, though I had not been near a saloon, nor been in any way brought into contact with liquor, yet the old feeling of "goneness" in the stomach, and an intense desire for something to "brace up" on returned with almost irresistible force.

I wish I could account for it, for in every other respect I felt just as well as when confined in the institution. I have tried drinking coffee, have taken various specifics, and kept tobacco, gum and different kinds of herbs and roots in my mouth, but all in vain. I cannot conquer the intense desire for liquor which has blasted my life and made my once happy home a scene of wretchedness and misery. My only safety seems to be in being locked up. When I once taste whisky or beer, then nothing can keep me from getting drunk, and sooner than go without a drink I would part with the clothes on my back. The feeling of weakness of which I spoke is regular and persistent, coming on every morning about 10 o'clock, and if I am at work, or on the street, it seems as though I would faint if I did not get the stimulant. But this feeling does not exist when I know that I cannot get out to obtain it. I believe the desire is more a mental than a physical disease.—Globe-Democrat.

The German Pickpocket.

The German pickpocket differs materially in his methods from his English brother. He is master of what is called "Taschenspielerei," which consists in the old trick of colliding violently with the victim and profiting by the latter's confusion to relieve him of his watch or pocket-book. He frequents the race courses and large shops, and he is frequently met with in large financial establishments, where people go to deposit or draw money, where he watches for the right person to come along. The Germans are more skillful at this method of pocket picking than any other nation.—New York Graphic.

More Fires in New Hampshire.

The house and farm buildings of James McFarley at Canterbury were burned on the 9th inst.; loss $2500; insurance $1300, in Hartford Fire Ins. Co.

Lamprey & Knapp's sawmill in Tilton was burned May 10th; loss $2,000; no insurance.

The farm buildings of Chas. C. Cleveland at Peterboro' were burned by an incendiary fire on the morning of the 11th, the family escaping in their night clothes. Loss not stated; insurance $800.

At New Boston, on the afternoon of the 11th, fire started in the barn of S. D. Atwood, and it and Atwood's house and store were soon destroyed. The Baptist church and chapel, a schoolhouse, the townhouse, the Presbyterian chapel and parsonage, a blacksmith shop and many dwellings, to the number of twenty-one buildings in all, were burned before the conflagration spent itself, the total loss being about $40,000, with $15,000 insurance, mostly in the town mutual company.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Grace Choate, Capt. Charles Allen, sailed on the 9th inst. on a salt fishing trip. The Mary S. Hontvet, Capt. Johnson, arrived here on the 10th for a spring overhaul, and after being refitted and painted up in good style will go salt fishing. The Agnes E. Downs, Capt. Levi Downs, has fitted out for mackereling, and sails south next week; if she does not find mackerel abundant on the shore, will go to the bay.

The schooner Franklin S. Schenck, Capt. Thomas Jameson, fresh fishing out of Gloucester, on the 10th inst. took 40,000 lbs. of fish in Ipswich bay, and the captain reported that he never knew fish so plentiful in the bay before. The whaleboats (carrying two men each) fishing in the bay out of this port are bringing in from 1000 to 4000 lbs. of fish per day, each, and several 5000-lb. fares have been landed by them; it is the best spring fishing ever known, and the catch finds ready sale at fair prices to the Commercial wharf dealers and others.

The Mitchell weir at Pocahontas point is taking good quantities of bait just now, mostly half-sized herring. On the 10th inst. several mackerel were found in the weir,—the first of the season taken in these waters. The weir at Little harbor is also doing well, averaging seven or eight barrels of bait a day. There is a ready sale for all that is caught, most of it being bought by the local fishermen, and others fishing in Ipswich bay.

There is good hand-line fishing now at the railroad wharf at Noble's island; three dozen fine cunners were taken there by one of the fishermen one day this week, and a number of nice pollock have been caught.

One of the newly-appointed democratic clerks at the navy yard was so eager to get to work that he "went on" the first morning without taking his notice of appointment with him, and had to go home after it.

The York railroad will pass through Rice's hollow, Kittery, beneath the highway, which is to be raised at that point and carried across the tracks on an overhead bridge, thereby avoiding the necessity for a flagman being stationed there. Travel through the hollow is stopped at present, while the bridge and its approaches are being constructed, and a temporary road around the obstructed section of the street has been made through a field.

About one-third of the piling for the new railroad bridge across Spruce creek at Kittery Point is done, work being pushed as rapidly as possible from both sides of the stream. Farmers in Kittery say it is very difficult to get farm help enough, so many of the working men are engaged in the construction of the railroad. Nearly all the spare hay along the line of the road has been sold to the contractors, at $16 to $17 a ton, which accounts in part for the somewhat scanty arrivals of hay teams on Portsmouth Parade this spring.

The Park Field hotel at Kittery Point is receiving its finishing touches at the hands of the painters. The furniture is expected to arrive in a few days, and the proprietor, Capt. Jesse Frisbee, is confident of being able to open the house to guests early in June.

A bush fire started on the 9th inst. in Kennebunk, about four miles from the village on the road to Sanford, and spread over the dry timber and wood land with great speed. On the morning of the 10th the farmers of the vicinity turned out in force to fight the flames, and many buildings were saved by plowing wide trenches around them, and then fighting the fire from the inside. A set of unoccupied buildings about a mile above the Wells branch station on the Eastern division of the Boston & Maine road were burned, and also a schoolhouse in Wells; with these exceptions the fire was confined to the timber land. All day on the 10th the farmers near the burning district had their hayracks backed up to their doors, ready to move their household goods at short notice, but the fire ceased to spread much after the wind went down in the evening.

The Boston & Providence railroad, owing to some new blue law in Connecticut, has given notice that after the 29th inst. the 10:00 A. M. train from Boston to New York, and the 10:00 A. M. train from New York to Boston, will be discontinued. We infer this applies to Sunday trains, as the B. & P. managers run a Sunday train at 10:00 A. M. from New York, and do not run it week days. The Shore Line train from New York to Boston will leave New York at one P. M. after the 30th inst., instead of at two P. M. as at present. Alas! the poor railways! Between the laws of Congress and the laws of the different states, what difficulties they encounter.

Robert W. Jacobs, principal of the Unadilla, N. Y., academy, on the afternoon of the 5th inst. went to the bank, drew out about $800, and started for Albany. He missed the train, however, and went to a hotel to get supper. To while away the hours waiting for another train he started and walked up the track, and that was the last seen of him. He was engaged to be married to Miss Kate Lovergage of Unadilla, and was a highly connected man. Sunday morning, the 8th, his pocketbook, covered with blood stains and containing some worthless papers, was found.

Burglars got about $400 from the safe of the depot office in Hinsdale on the night of the 9th inst.

The Canadian government, in giving permission to the Maine schooner Boothbay to purchase some fishing lines, stated that "it was not to be regarded as a precedent, but as an act of courtesy." Perhapes the fishhooks will be granted later on.

ANOTHER SUDDEN DEATH.

Hardly a week passes without the mention by the newspapers of sudden deaths, and of late the alarming frequency of the statement that death was caused by rheumatism or neuralgia of the heart cannot fail to have been noticed. In all probability many deaths attributed to heart disease are caused by these terrible diseases, which are far more dangerous than is generally considered. Is there any positive cure? The best answer to such a question is given by those who have been cured by the use of Athlophoros.

Dover, N. H., March 28, 1886.

I have for years suffered with muscular rheumatism in back of my head, neck and arms; the pain was intense and seemed to grow steadily worse. I used two bottles of Athlophoros and it brought relief almost immediately. I believe Athlophoros to be a pure, honest medicine, and there is no question it will certainly cure rheumatism.

MRS. F. KENNEDY, Orchard Street.

Chicopee, Mass., May 23, 1886.

I have suffered for over five years with muscular rheumatism, being treated by several physicians, besides taking numberless remedies; the doctors could not cure me and the different medicines gave me no relief. There was none remedy I had not tried—Athlophoros. I bought three bottles of it, taking them according to directions. I commenced at night before retiring. The next morning, after a good night's rest, I was perfectly free from pain. My rheumatism went and has never returned. Athlophoros effected a cure in my obstinate case and I believe it will in that of any one suffering with rheumatism or neuralgia.

THE WEATHER.

For New England to-day:—

Sky Clear

A FLOATING WRECK.

The steamer Lancaster, Capt. Robinson, arrived at this port at five o'clock P. M. on the 12th inst. from Philadelphia, with 1662 tons coal to J. Albert Walker. Reports that about five o'clock in the morning of the same day, nine miles northeast of Cape Cod, passed a large three-masted schooner on her beam ends, and full of water; had evidently been in collision, being cut down nearly to her keel on the port side, near the main rigging; had main and mizzen topsails set; the rest of her sails, if set, were under water; saw neither persons nor boats, and could not make out the derelict's name.

This was undoubtedly the schooner Gen'l S. E. Merwin, of New Haven, Conn., Capt. O'Brien, which was run down at 11:10 o'clock P. M. on the 11th inst. thirteen miles north of Cape Cod by the British steamer Iowa, the night being dark but clear. When the collision occurred part of the schooner's crew jumped on board the steamer, and the remainder got away in their own boat before the schooner went over, which she did in a few minutes after being struck; the entire crew, consisting of nine men all told, and the captain's wife, were taken on board the steamer and carried into Boston, to which port the steamer was bound from Liverpool with 229 passengers and a large cargo. A hole twenty feet long and six feet wide was made in the steamer's bow, and she leaked considerably in the fore peak, but she got safely in. The schooner's gross tonnage was 732.96; she was built in 1884, and was bound from Boston to Baltimore in ballast.

HOODMAN BLIND.

To-morrow evening, in Music hall, will be presented for the first time in this city a play which has been received with great favor in the large cities, the melo-drama "Hoodman Blind." The Chicago Inter-Ocean says of it that "There is not a moment when the play is unimpressive. The vitalizing thing within this play is the nature of its emotions; the characters are set in from life." The New York Times says it "abounds in affecting situations and magnificent scenery," and the World that "From the rise of the curtain until its fall the audience were in entire sympathy with the hero and heroine in their trials, and at the end of each act they were called before the curtain."

Grand Chief Templar George A. Bailey, assisted by Grand Secretary Fred Scadding and Grand Marshal Charles H. Clough, at a late meeting of Strawberry Bank Lodge, I. O. G. T., installed the following officers:

Rev. Lee H. Fisher, C. T.;
Mrs. Katie Wilson, V. T.;
Miss Katie Fritz, Secretary;
William McCallin, Dep. Sec.;
Jesse Wilson, Treasurer;
Andrew Anderson, Chaplain;
Fred Webber, Marshal;
Miss Vira McCollin, D. M.;
Joseph Pettigrew, Guard;
Frank Horrocks, Sentinel;
Mrs. Mary C. Taylor, R. S.;
Mrs. Helen Grover, L. S.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

The lighthouse department gives notice that the buoys in Kennebec and Back rivers, Maine, have been put in place for the summer season. Also that the color of the light towers at Portland breakwater, Cape Elizabeth, the Nubble, and Portsmouth harbor (Fort Constitution,) has been changed from white to brown, the lanterns remaining black.

BASE BALL.

The Invincibles, Capt. Foote, on Wednesday afternoon of this week played a game with the Red Stockings, Capt. Dyson, the latter winning by a score of twenty-two to ten.

At the National League game of base ball in Detroit on the 19th inst., when Miller of the Pittsburg club was at the bat he struck a foul and sent it up like a flash. A sparrow was flying over the field, and the ball struck the bird and brought it to the ground dead. Miller was afterward retired at first.

COLLEGE CLASSMATES MEET.

Hon. Ira Colby of Claremont, who came to Portsmouth to try a case in the Circuit court this week, has served for several terms in the legislature, and was the member who introduced the famous "Colby bill," which gave a new direction to our laws relating to railways. Mr. Colby met at the Rockingham his college classmate, Medical Inspector John H. Clark of the navy; the "boys" had not seen each other for twenty-seven years, and the friendship of college days was renewed with a keen zest by both graduates.

TELEPHONE CHANGE.

The Dover Democrat of the 11th inst. said: "Lizzie Grant, the telephone operator here, has been offered the position of manager of the Portsmouth exchange, which she will accept."

We understand that Miss Emma Manent of this city, who for several years has been the day operator at the telephone office in this city, has been removed from her position by the new manager of this division of the company to make room for another lady. If this report is true we trust that something may be done to reinstate her. Miss Manent is one of the most efficient operators in the service, it is said. We know that she is the best we ever had in this city, and is always obliging and painstaking for those who have called her up. Should she not be retained we feel sure that the interests of the company will suffer much. We do not think there is one subscriber in the city who does not feel that the manager has made a mistake. All hope that he may be induced to change his mind.—Times.

It is announced that the losses of the Granite State Ins. Co. by the recent disastrous fires in this state will not exceed $10,000.

The Dr. White place in Greenland, comprising six acres of land and good buildings thereon, in one of the most desirable locations of that beautiful town, has been purchased for $2500 by Alexander Junkins, Esq., of Eliot, father of Dr. Junkins of Greenland. Mr. Junkins will move to Greenland to live.

The Boston Herald of the 12th inst., in an account of the dinner of the New Hampshire club at the Vendome the previous day, says that among the guests present were Hon. Horace Kent of Exeter and Col. J. Albert Walker of Portsmouth.

The Music hall plan for the Athlethic club entertainment was taken from Mr. Goodrich's store on Thursday morning, every seat having been sold except the few in the gallery reserved for sale at the door of the hall. The evening audience was an immense one, and the performance as a whole was even more successful than the excellent one given by the club in Music hall in February.

The race of one of the steam fire engines, a hose carriage and the supply wagon up Market street just before six o'clock on Thursday evening, was not caused by a fire, but by some sort of an alarm sounded on the steam gong.

A marble monument has just been set up at Rye for the late Capt. Albert Dow, by Hon. John S. Treat of this city; the inscriptions on the plinth and die are the handiwork of the ex-mayor himself.

The big Deer street ditch cost something, but it seems to be doing the work it was hoped to do: the ancient north pond nuisance has not been heard from yet this spring, to our knowledge.

Rev. Lyman E. Hall was installed as pastor of the Free Baptist church at Kittery Point on the evening of the 10th inst., the exercises being as follows: Singing of anthem, "How beautiful upon the mountains;" prayer by Rev. E. E. Colburn of the 2d Christian church, Kittery Foreside; reading of Scriptures by Rev. B. S. Maben, of the Christian church, York; prayer by Rev. H. S. Ives, of the 1st Christian church; hymn by the choir; installation sermon by Rev. J. D. Waldron, of Portsmouth; singing of hymn; installing prayer, charge to the pastor, and right hand of fellowship, by Rev. J. C. Osgood of South Berwick; charge to the people, by Rev. J. D. Waldron; welcome of pastor to the community, by Rev. H. S. Ives; anthem by the choir; benediction by the pastor. Rev. Mr. Hall is about twenty-five years of age, married, and has three children.

The easterly abutment of the Boston & Maine railroad overhead bridge at the Creek is being put up three feet back from the site of the former one; the westerly abutment, which also is to be rebuilt, will in like manner be set back three feet, making the roadway six feet wider than formerly, instead of ten feet, as was at one time suggested.

Capt. Ewd. D. Coffin, sheriff-elect of Rockingham county, has not yet been made so proud by official honors as to refuse to do anything in the house, sign and ornamental painting line, or at papering, glazing, etc., for a fair remuneration. The quality of his work is well known, and his advertisement can be found in another column

Mr. Charles H. Tucker of this city will open a store for the sale of confectionery, cake, etc., at Long beach, York, having leased a place there for the season.

You may pluck the man from his place in the moon,
Or tear the clouds from the azure sky,
But you can't find goods that are better than ours,
Or catch us asking a price that's high.

That Tired Feeling

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectually combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N. Y.

How Rothschild Made Money.

When Rothschild was in Paris in 1812 he possessed $20,000. At his death his private fortune amounted to $50,000,000 and that of the firm to over $500,000,000. He owed his success to his happy knack of always "taking fortune at the flood," and to his careful observation of all political events that might tend to make or mar his prosperity. Once he was suffering from some cerebral complaint and had to undergo a difficult and dangerous operation. His surgeon, Dr. Dupuytren, had strictly forbidden all mental excitement as likely to have fatal consequences. Rothschild lay half conscious on his bed when tidings were brought of the assassination of the Duke of Berry. The patient immediately jumped up, though the blood was streaming over his face, the bandage having come undone during the excitement, and, dragging himself across the room, rang the bell with great violence. "The Duke of Berry is murdered! Sell out! sell out!" he cried out to his alarmed attendants, as they rushed into the room, and then he fell back in a swoon. By this transaction he saved considerable sums of money.—La Chronique du Temps.

The Cyclone in Mechanics.

Erastus Wiman, of New York, has purchased from Raymond Brothers, the inventors, all the improvements upon the pulverizer, some time ago investigated at Montreal, and which, it is said, illustrates an entirely new principle in mechanics, growing out of the application of the natural principle developed in a cyclone. The results show that iron slag can be reduced to impalpable powder, and that other refractory substances can be treated with equal facility. Tests are at once to be made with machines ready for the purpose in various parts of the country on ores, fertilizers and various other articles of commerce, which, if successful, it is said, will revolutionize the present mode of grinding and pulverizing. A test made with a half barrel of nails showed the iron ground into the finest powder without the aid of tooth, stamp or roller, and with nothing but air.—New York Tribune.

When the Queen Was Married.

Queen Victoria's presents to her royal bridesmaids when she was married was a brooch in the shape of a bird, the body being formed entirely of turquoises, the eyes of rubies, while the beak was a diamond and the claws of pure gold, resting on pearls of great size and value. A very good collection to pull apart and have set sensibly.—New York Graphic.

Longfellow's Unmarried Daughter.

Of the three daughters whom Longfellow immortalized in that beautiful poem, "The Twilight Hour," Alice alone remains unmarried. She lives in the old "Craigie House" at Cambridge with her bachelor uncle, Rev. Samuel Longfellow.—Chicago Herald.

A French chemist has noticed that considerable errors in delicate weighings may result from an electrified state of the glass case surrounding the balance.

Chester Cunningham, of Cherryfield, Me., who was committed to the Maine state prison in 1882 for murdering his mistress, has died in prison.

St. Jacobs Oil, best for stiff necks.—A. Fink, Wells, Nevada. All druggists have it.

The body of a woman with a canvas bag drawn over her head was found in East river, New York, on the 10th inst. Probably another murder mystery.

All disorders caused by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping or discomfort attending their use. Try them.

Daniel Chase of Gilford, aged fifty-three, committed suicide by hanging himself in his house Saturday afternoon, May 7th.

If you had taken two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring you would not have had that coated tongue or bad taste in the mouth this morning. Keep a vial with you for occasional use.

The safe in the post-office at Claremont was blown open Monday morning, 9th inst., but the burglars secured but little booty.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too. Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders, syringes, astringents, or any similar application, because they are all irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who have for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can afflict, testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm.

There was a big blast at the Dover city farm on the 12th inst., two ten-foot holes charged with dynamite displacing 300 tons of rock.

The National Complaint.

524 West Sixty-first Street, N. Y., Feb. 8, 1886.—For the last year I have at times had very severe attacks of dyspepsia, accompanied with wind and pains in the side and stomach. Everything I ate disagreed with me, and I lost flesh daily. Internal medicine only afforded me temporary relief. I then commenced applying Allcock's Porous Plasters, on the pit of the stomah and one below, just above the navel. In a few hours my pain very much abated. In two days my food appeared to agree with me. At the end of a week I was nearly well, but I still continue wearing the plasters as a precaution. I have used altogether six Plasters, and must say they are the cheapest and best medicine ever invented.

Seemingly Eradicated

With repeated and powerful doses of quinine, chills and fever, in some one of its various forms, springs into active existence again, often without the slightest apparent provocation. To extinguish the smoldering embers of this obstinate and recondite malady, no less than to subdue it when it rages fiercely in the system, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is all sufficient. When every resource of the pharmacopœia has been exhausted against it in vain, the Bitters conquer it—will remove every lingering vestige of it. Nay, more, the Bitters will protect those brought within the influence of the atmospheric poison that begets malarial disease, from its attacks. Disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, are among the complaints to be apprehended from the use of miasma-tainted water. These are both cured and prevented by the Bitters. Rheumatism, constipation and renal complaints, yield to its action.

The Garfield statue at Washington was formally unveiled on the 12th inst.; addresses were made by President Cleveland and Hon. J. W. Keifer.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving way to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them, they will certainly please you.

Ditson & Co.'s Sunday School Music

Ranks with the very best, and no Sunday School management should adopt a new Singing Book without carefully examining one of their "tried and true" Sunday School Song Books.

Voices of Praise (40 cts., $4.20 per doz.) Rev. C. L. Hutchins. Music and poetry dignified and classical, but not dull; in fact, bright and enthusiastic. Very large collection for the money.

Singing on the Way (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.) by Mrs. Jewett, able assisted by Dr. Holbrook, whose noble compositions are known and loved in all the churches. This, like the book above mentioned, does excellently well for a Vestry Singing Book for prayer and praise meetings.

Songs of Promise (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.) J. H. Tenney and Rev. E. A. Hoffman—the first highly gifted, musically, and the second the author of many hymns of refined and beautiful quality. One of the newest books.

Song Worship (35 cts., $3.60 per doz.) L. O. Emerson and W. F. Sherwin, both celebrated compilers, composers and leaders, and the latter well-known as having had charge of the music at many Chatauqua meetings.

LAZY LIFE IN EGYPT.

Cairo, with its strange history and stranger streets, its mosques and bazars, is a charming study. All nations meet here; all languages and all customs obtain here, and of wonderful costumes and merchandize there is no end. In this sweetest of winter climates life seems too short to be in a hurry; indeed, it is not worth living unless one can loiter. The donkeys and cats alone would make a lifelong study; when they lift up their voices either singly or in concert, the very stars in heaven quake, and the moon turns pale and trembles. And then there are the people who own the cats and who ride the donkeys—several decades might be devoted to them. An Egyptian woman is an object when on foot; but when she mounts a donkey she is a vision! To begin with, she rides on both sides of the animal, and when her curious black drapery bags out in the wind, and the donkey disappears, save that his big ears and small legs twinkle occasionally into view, sensations fade, words fail and one feels the need of rest and nourishment. Dodging under camels; stepping over dogs and children; pushing aside donkeys and people, one finds a narrow alley leading off the Mouskee, and seeming to wind its tortuous way into strange places. One or two smaller alleys turn off; then before you rises a low arched way. The shadow is very deep; you are evidently under a house, and a keen wind, like that in a narrow mountain defile, nearly takes your hat off. A wide gate stands open; one moment takes you through, past the group of guardian Arabs; you turn a corner, and before you opens the beautiful garden of the hotel.

Sycamores and acacias bend and droop over the flower beds; roses and fleur de lys wave in the wind; great bamboos, more than forty feet high, sway with a long, slow motion; the red hibiscus burns like fire in the green gloom; the shadowy palms whisper softly to the fresh wind coming in from the desert; the little wag tails hop about the path; the doves mourn their hearts out in the tree tops; the cloudless, rainless sky spreads blue above, and the sun comes down between the leaves in a thousand golden streams.

Occasionally the sweet stillness is disturbed by a "personally conducted" mob; but fortunately not often. People who know how to live in Egypt come here and life goes on as it should in the land of the lotus. Excursions are made easily; sights are seen intelligently; there is quiet talk and peaceful thought here in the fragrant garden. An artist paints with his Arab and Fellah models grouped in the sunshine on the piazza; further on an Englishman sits translating an Arab book; still further down the vine draped vista some Arab sheyks are bargaining with knowing Egyptologists for antiques—scarabs and ugly little gods—strange old rings and Coptic embroideries.

Down in the garden the artist's wife and an American woman drum softly on a dabouleh, while on the path in front of them a Fellah girl kneels, trying faithfully to teach them a native song. Strange and wild it is, with an unaccountable measure that can only be caught by ear, not learned by method. Near by a conjuror does his marvelous tricks, his mysterious call of "galla, galla!" now and then rising above the low barbaric song. An East Indian merchant, with his rich stuffs spread over chairs and benches, his gold and silver wares glittering in the sunlight, chaffers persuasively with a group of people, who try vainly to look sufficiently indifferent to make him lower his prices. The noonday sun is blazing overhead; the birds are still, and the roses droop a little, but sitting quietly in the shade is not so bad, and the desert wind coming over the garden of aneighboring sheyk, has a crisp, cool touch to it. Later the scene dissolves, and the company go their different ways, to meet again after dinner under the broad fall of moonlight. Then cigars and talk of the day's doings, stories of odd adventures, stories of "old times," when they first came down into Egypt, and so the pleasant days drift by.—Cairo Cor. Louisville Courier-Journal.

How to Insert a Leaf.

Most men when they want to insert a leaf in a book put mucilage on both sides of the leaf's inner edge, put it in the desired place, shut the book, and let the mucilage dry. Afterward, when they come to use the book, they find it hard to read the words at the very inside of the pages, and later on they wonder why that leaf will not stay stuck in. The trouble is that they went to work in the wrong way. The difficulties can be obviated very easily. When you wish to insert a leaf, turn over a third or a half-inch of the edge of the paper. Put the mucilage only on the outer side of the little flap thus made, taking care to get none on the rest of the paper. Then insert the leaf and shut the book. When it is opened, if the outer edges of the sheet have been trimmed, it will be found to all intents and purposes a new leaf, as flexible and durable as any other in the volume.—"R. I." in The Writer.

Perpetual Copyright.

The great evil, according to my thinking, with regard to literature as a trade, is the expiration of copyrights. Copyrights should never be allowed to expire at all. They should pay a tax on their income, but they should last for ever. If Charles Dickens had been a Guinness, an Allsopp, a Bass or some other great brewer, he would have founded a large fortune for his successors by the labors of other men. As he was simply a man of genius, who gave happiness and amusement to millions by the work of his own brain, his property is eventually distributed broadcast to the world.—London Letter in The Book Buyer.

A CHILD'S SKIN

MY little son, aged eight years, has been afflicted with Eczema of the scalp, and at times a great portion of the body, ever since he was two years old. It began in his ears, and extended to his scalp, which became covered with scabs and sores, and from which a sticky fluid poured out, causing intense itching and distress, and leaving his hair matted and lifeless. Underneath these scabs the skin was raw, like a piece of beefsteak. Gradually the hair came out and was destroyed, until but a small patch was left at the back of the head. My friends in Peabody know how my little boy has suffered. At night he would scratch his head until his pillow was covered with blood. I used to tie his hands behind him, and in many ways tried to prevent his scratching; but it was no use, he would scratch. I took him to the hospital and to the best physicians in Peabody without success. About this time, some friends, who had been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, prevailed upon me to try them. I began to use them on the 15th of January last. In seven months every particle of the disease was removed. Not a spot or scab remains on his scalp to tell the story of his suffering. His hair has returned, and is thick and strong, and his scalp as sweet and clean as any child's in the world. I cannot say enough to express my gratitude for this wonderful cure by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and wish all similarly afflicted to know that statement is true and without exaggeration.
CHARLES MCKAY,
Oct. 5, 1885. Peabody, Mass.

I have seen Mr McKay's boy when badly affected with the Eczema. He was a pitiful sight to look at. I know that he has tried our best physicians, and did all a father could do for a suffering child, but availed nothing. I know that the statements he has made you as regards the cure of his boy by your CUTICURA REMEDIES are true in every particular.
WILLIAM J. MCCARTHY,
35 Foster St., Peabody, Mass.

I do not know of any instance in which the Cuticura Remedies have failed to produce satisfactory results. I believe I have sold more of them than of any other skin remedies I have ever handled during the thirty-three years of my experience as a druggist.

A Word About Catarrh.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissue of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammelling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assails the membranous lining and envelops the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives and simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, by Inhalation and by Internal administration, has never failed; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out."

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.00.

A Sad Affair.

A child two years old, daughter of Mr. George Moore and wife of Sawyer's Mills, Dover, on Thursday evening last fell down stairs at her home, and was strangled to death by her dress catching on a nail and getting twisted around her neck. At the time of the sad accident Mrs. Moore's sister was being married in the parlor below, the child having strayed out of the room unnoticed during the ceremony.

RISE IN REAL ESTATE.

The dwelling of Capt. Charles H. Rollins on Court street was raised about two feet on Friday. The filling of the street had caused the sidewalk to be above the lower part of the sills. New timber was placed for the ground sills, and the raising was carried on under the direction of Mr. Luther E. Martin. The change will greatly improve the building, and afford a high basement.

Mr. James W. Sowersby is having the roof of his bakery on Water street raised four feet, and will have the upper story fitted for a tenement for his own occupancy. Mr. J. Wylie Coleman is doing the work.

PRIZE WINNERS.

RYE'S MILK BUSINESS.

The business of producing milk for Boston and vicinity, which commenced among the farmers of Rye about fifteen years ago, has year by year increased until about four hundred cans (of 8 1-2 quarts each) are collected daily, and delivered at the depots. Mr. French of North Hampton has two teams which collect for him upward of three hundred cans, which are sent to the Boston market. A new route was started through the eastern part of the town last December, which has gradually increased until now nearly a hundred cans are collected daily by Mr. Ernest Trefethen, who delivers it at Portsmouth for the Lynn Milk Co. The producer receives on an average for the year round about twenty-two cents per can. To be successful in the business it is important that deep milkers be secured, as it costs nearly as much to feed an ordinary cow as it does one of the best, and some fine selections have been made from the Holstein and other choice breeds of established milk records. Rev. O. S. Baketel, the new pastor of the Methodist church, has moved into the house No. 10 Summer street, lately occupied by C. V. Carter. Rev. O. H. Jasper, D. D., late pastor of the Methodist society, was, by his own request, not assigned to any pastorate at the recent conference. Dr. Jasper has been a very popular and successful minister during his stay in Portsmouth, the society having cleared up a long standing debt, and being at present in better condition than for a long time past.

At Raymond on the 11th inst. a carload of sleepers belonging to the Concord & Portsmouth railroad were burned by a spark from a locomotive. The station agent telegraphed to Manchester for help, which was sent.

Bids were opened at the treasury department in Washington on the 10th inst. for the construction of a life-saving station and keeper's dwelling at Jerry's point, Newcastle, and the following were the bids: Wing & Co., Oldtown, Me., $5800; Jordan & Bond, Auburn, Me., $5850; F. H. Smith, New York city, $5490; A. F. Blossom, New Bedford, Mass., $7200.

"Yes," remarked a prominent democratic official of Maine, as he stepped from the Pullman train in this city a few evenings since, and wended his way to the restaurant, "Tom Reed will never outlive the congratulations which will be showered upon him for his good sense in opposing this interstate law,"—and the observer of the interstate, with his pard, went in to take a "short haul" of Eldredge's lager, before crossing the line to that commonwealth where Neal Dow maintains that the prohibitory law is or is not enforced, just as his political gun may be aimed.

The great forest fire in Kennebunk on Monday and Tuesday of this week burned over about 1000 acres of woodland, and destroyed hundreds of cords of wood which had been cut ready for market. The Kennebunk fire department and a large number of mill operatives aided in fighting the flames, which was mainly done by kindling back fires. The schoolhouse in Wells reported to have been burned was not injured, but the fire got close up to one of the Kennebunk schoolhouses, which was saved with much difficulty and hard work. The total loss by the fire is estimated at $25,000.

The schooner Alice Montgomery, which arrived at this port on the 13th inst. from Norfolk, Va., brought 1081 tons of coal to J. Albert Walker.

ANOTHER SUDDEN DEATH.

Hardly a week passes without the mention by the newspapers of sudden deaths, and of late the alarming frequency of the statement that death was caused by rheumatism or neuralgia of the heart cannot fail to have been noticed. In all probability many deaths attributed to heart disease are caused by these terrible diseases, which are far more dangerous than is generally considered. Is there any positive cure? The best answer to such a question is given by those who have been cured by the use of Athlophoros.

Dover, N. H., March 23, 1886.

I have for years suffered with muscular rheumatism in back of my head, neck and arms; the pain was intense and seemed to grow steadily worse. I used two bottles of Athlophoros and it brought relief almost immediately. I believe Athlophoros to be a pure, honest medicine, and there is no question it will certainly cure rheumatism.

MRS. F. KENNEDY, Orchard Street.

Chicopee, Mass., May 23, 1886.

I have suffered for over five years with muscular rheumatism, being treated by several physicians, besides taking numberless remedies; the doctors could not cure me and the different medicines gave me no relief. There was one remedy I had not tried—Athlophoros. I bought three bottles of it, taking them according to directions. I commenced at night before retiring. The next morning, after a good night's rest, I was perfectly free from pain. My rheumatism went and has never returned. Athlophoros effected a cure in my obstinate case and I believe it will in that of any one suffering with rheumatism or neuralgia.

G. E. LEWIS.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

HOODMAN BLIND.

The St. Louis Republican, speaking of the melo-drama "Hoodman Blind," which is to be performed at Music hall this evening, says "there is within it almost every element of the tragic and the comic which goes to make the real as well as the mimic world, and in its play upon the varying forces which constitute this life it draws most heavily upon the sympathies." It will be presented by B. F. Horning's dramatic company, with elaborate scenery and mechanical effects. Tickets can be procured at Goodrich's.

"THE SEA SHORE."

The first number of the Sea Shore, a weekly summer-season paper which was published last year, will be issued early in June, to appear weekly for ten weeks from the office of John D. Randall. The publisher will have the advantage of a year's experience and the aid of competent assistants in his second year. The advantage to all interested in the local attractions and means of entertainment between Cape Porpoise and Salisbury beach should contribute to sustain the publication of this sheet. If the residents of our neighboring towns expect to be abreast of the condition of other places, and stem the tide of sea shore visitors who year by year, as restless as the sea beside whose borders they lounge in dog days, seek new regions for rest and recreation, they must see to it that to natural beauties are added the comforts of good roads, pleasant walks and shady retreats, and moreover that their places of resort shall be properly kept before the crowds who pass up and down the coast, and who delight to know as to the guests at hotels and boarding houses, and who occupy the cottages.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

FRIDAY, May 13th.

James Gillen, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90, and paid up. He is a York railroad laborer.

BASE BALL.

The Dover high school nine played a ten-inning game with the Portsmouth high school nine at the Plains on Friday, 13th inst., the score at the close standing fifteen to fourteen in favor of the Dover club.

The Manchester base ball club on Thursday last played a New England League game at Portland with the Portland club, the latter winning, thirty-three to six. The Manchesters arrived in this city by the Flying Yankee on Thursday evening, and remained over night at the Webster house, leaving for Manchester by Friday morning's train on the Concord & Portsmouth railroad.

The Exeter academy base ball team went to Dover on the 11th inst., and played a game with the Dover club, the latter winning, nineteen to four.

The Dartmouth college nine will play the Dover club on the grounds of the latter at Dover, on Monday, May 23d.

National League games, May 13th: Boston 8, Washington 5; Indianapolis 3, Pittsburg 2; Philadelphia 6, New York 1; Detroit 17, Chicago 7.

SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' MONUMENT.

It is now desirable to have all subscriptions to the Soldiers' & Sailors' Monument paid as soon as possible. Subscribers will greatly facilitate the work of the committee if they will pay the amounts subscribed by them either to Mr. D. J. Vaughan, who has been authorized by the committee to receive subscriptions and receipt therefor, or to the treasurer of the fund, Mr. C. M. Gignoux. Mr. Vaughan will within a few days call upon those who cannot make it convenient to hand their subscriptions to the treasurer.

THAT FALSE ALARM.

The partial alarm of fire sounded by the steam gong on Thursday afternoon last, which sent part of the fire department apparatus on a fruitless errand up Market street, was not due to any derangement of the alarm, nor to any mismanagement by the superintendent, as many persons seemed to think. A telephone lineman in making some repairs dropped the end of a telephone wire on the wire which works the gong; the contact of the wires caused the gong to give a very distinct hoot, and after a short pause it gave forth four more while the lineman was endeavoring to clear the wires, thus sounding the number fourteen, which is the number of the alarm box at the corner of Market and Russell streets.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

The Boston Globe of April 18th had the following in regard to the company advertised to appear at Music hall next Wednesday evening: "Abbey's Double Manmoth Uncle Tom's Cabin company opened their week's engagement last evening at the Globe theatre to an overflowing house, standing-room not being available after eight o'clock. The larger portion of the audience was composed of ladies and children, who, as usual, cried over the death of Eva. But the comicalities of the two Topsys and the eccentricities of the two lawyers, Marks, Sr. and Jr. brought forth screams of delight. The remarkable sagacity exhibited by the trained Russian bloodhounds was a complete surprise and elicited a storm of applause."

At the adjourned parish meeting of the Universalist society, on Thursday evening last, Messrs. Daniel J. Vaughan, Henry M. Clark and George M. Ayers were elected wardens for the ensuing year. The new choir consists of Miss Lizzie Blaisdell, soprano, Miss Foss, alto, Mr. C. P. Garvin, tenor, and Mr. N. H. Shannon, base; organist, Miss Flora Dimick.

Mr. Norris Wentworth, proprietor of the beef refrigerator at Dover, it is said will establish a branch of his business in this city, and intends erecting a building for the purpose somewhere near the railroad station.

The Concord & Portsmouth railroad places its tickets from this city to the Sunday School convention at Epping on Tuesday, the 17th inst., at seventy-five cents for the round trip; tickets must be purchased at the station.

Those wool worsted suitings in plain and mixed colorings, are the very best. No. 6 Market street. J. W. Moses.

The gentlemen's cafe added to the Revere House, Boston, during the recent remodelling, has become a great favorite. Its elegant appearance is in keeping with the renowned excellence of the Revere cuisine.

At the urgent solicitation of a number of my patrons I shall continue for a few months after May 1st to make those fine Cabinet Photos for $2.00 a dozen.

In reference to the removal of Miss Emma Manent from the position of telephone operator in this city, and the appointment of another lady, we are requested by the district manager to state that the change has been made under the orders of the general management, the place having been long intended for the new appointee, who is one of the most efficient operators in the company's service, and who, the district manager is confident, the public will find fully as capable and obliging as Miss Manent, whose removal is in no way due to any dissatisfaction with her service on the part of the company.

There was a slight frost on low grounds in this vicinity, Friday morning, but not enough to do any damage to vegetation.

A delegation of New Hampshire Lodge of Odd Fellows went from city to Dover on Friday evening, by invitation of the Dover lodge, and Rockingham Lodge of Good Templars went to Kittery the same evening to visit Morrill Lodge of that place, barges being used by both parties to go and return.

"While suffering from a severe bilious attack in March, 1883, a friend in Peoria, Ill., recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried the remedy, and was permanently cured." J. A. SHEPARD, travelling agent for Devoe & Co., Fulton Street, N. Y.

It seems about impossible to prevent men from indulging their appetite for alcoholic drink. In Augusta, Me., dealers sell "Hayseed" beer. It is brewed from hops, molasses and yeast cake, and it is a powerful intoxicant,—stronger far than lager beer. Only a few years ago an impecunious fellow began its manufacture in a flourishing York county town on the banks of the Ossipee, where the prohibitory law is strictly enforced, and now he owns a fine house, a fine shop, and is worth about $10,000 besides. The Augusta Journal says that in that city Jamaica ginger is mixed with the beer. The combination must make an intoxicant stronger than brandy. Jamaica ginger is in itself a powerful stimulant.—Dover Democrat.

The brewery men employed by John Roessle of Boston went out on a strike last week, because the proprietor refused to accept a scale of wages prepared by them, and to sign an agreement not to hire or discharge any man without the consent of the brewers' union. Mr. Roessle instructed his foreman not to take any of the strikers back under any circumstances. The men in Pfaff's brewery also went out because their demand that only union men should be employed was not acceded to; none of them will be allowed to return to work.

A Word About Catarrh.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammelling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelops the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives and simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, by Inhalation and by Internal administration, has never failed; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out."

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.00.

POTTER DRUG & CHEMICAL CO., BOSTON.

Seemingly Eradicated

With repeated and powerful doses of quinine, chills and fever, in some one of its various forms, springs into active existence again, often without the slightest apparent provocation. To extinguish the smoldering embers of this obstinate and recondite malady, no less than to subdue it when it rages fiercely in the system, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is all sufficient. When every resource of the pharmacopœia has been exhausted against it in vain, the Bitters conquer it—will remove every lingering vestige of it. Nay, more, the Bitters will protect those brought within the influence of the atmospheric poison that begets malarial disease, from its attacks. Disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, are among the complaints to be apprehended from the use of miasma-tainted water. These are both cured and prevented by the Bitters. Rheumatism, constipation and renal complaints, yield to its action.

STERLING, ILL., August 22, 1885.

We feel we must write something of the success of Hop Bitters. Their sale is thribble that of any other article of medicine. So we feel it but justice to you and your Bitters to say that it is a medicine of real merit and virtue, and doing much good and effecting great cures. Yours, J. F. & H. B. UTLEY,

HAYESVILLE, OHIO, Feb. 11, 1884.

I am very glad to say I have tried Hop Bitters, and never took anything that did me as much good. I only took two bottles and I would not take $100 for the good they did me. I recommend them to my patients, and get the best of results from their use.

I know Hop Bitters will bear recommendation honestly. All who use them confer upon them the highest encomiums and give them credit for making cures—all the proprietors claim for them. I have kept them since they were first offered to the public. They rank high rank from the first, and maintained it, and are more called for than all others combined. So long as they keep up their high reputation for purity and usefulness I shall continue to recommend them—something I have never done before with any patent medicine.

THE MOST WONDERFUL FAMILY REMEDY EVER KNOWN.

THE FIGHTING PROPENSITY.

An Amusement for Which Men and Animals Have a Great Liking.

Men and animals are born with a propensity to fight. Is there in the whole range of the animal creation one animal that does not fight, if it has sense enough and powers of locomotion?

Oysters and clams cannot fight. If their organ of combativeness is not wanting, they have no use for it. Lobsters fight and are wonderfully voracious. They even devour each other, and may be said to eat themselves; for, changing their shell and stomach every year, these remains are generally the first morsel to glut their new system. The life of all fishes is one of perpetual warfare. The carnage of the sea exceeds that on dry land. Bees fight savagely, both in swarms and singly. Two bees, having a quarrel, go out armed with their deadly stings—more formidable than ten inch Bowie knives—go out of the hive and fight a duel. Ants fight with great ferocity. Armies of ants meet other armies in deadly battle and cover the field with killed and wounded. They also fight duels. This is the case with many other insects. Spiders not only fight, but eat each other like human cannibals. From the elephant to the mouse the quadrupeds fight, even the gentlest, under sufficient provocation.

Cats swear and spit at each other, fur pulling and blood letting being their great delight. A long time ago, one summer night, all the cats in the city and county of Kilkenny were absent from their homes, and the next morning a plain near the city was strewed with thousands of slain cats, and it was supposed that almost all the cats in Ireland joined in the fight, as was shown by collars on the necks of some of the dead bearing the names of places in all quarters of Ireland. There are men alive who knew persons, since dead, who actually inspected the field.

A monkey has been known to whip a large bulldog. We believe the whole monkey tribe as it approaches humanity increases in pugnacity.

Most all birds, from the ostrich to the humming bird, are fighters. The male ostrich frequently administers a chastisement to the female by kicking her heartily around the paddock until she is under control. Whenever it happens that two humming birds meet among the flowers they signal the encounter with a shrill war cry, and dash at each other in fierce antagonism. For an instant they close together, then give each other chase, and with the speed of meteors are lost to view. Shortly after the return of one alone announces that the victory has been quick and decisive. Diminutive as are the puny sprites, they are heavily charged with combativeness. The entire race are pugnacious and quarrelsome, imprudently assaulting each other and birds of much greater size. Even the hawk is not safe from their attacks, and has been seen whipped by them. So excessive is the pugnacity which characterizes the game cock that broods scarcely feathered are occasionally found to have reduced themselves to utter blindness by their combats. When two game cocks meet they have a way of crouching and "pointing" at each other; then they advance with heads erect and fury in every movement, fly at one another, each endeavoring to drive his spur into the head or breast of his adversary. In heraldry the cock is the emblem of strife, of haughtiness, of quarrels and of victory.

As to man—do we not know that his history is a history of war? In the savage state tribes are in continual warfare. In barbarous nations these fierce contests are prosecuted on a larger scale. How seldom were the tribes of Greece at peace! How seldom closed the doors of the temple of Janus in ancient Rome! Read the history of modern nations, and how frequent are the wars, how brief the intervals of peace! It is estimated that nearly 7,000,000,000 of human beings have perished in the battles which man has waged against his fellow creature—man; but there is scarcely a battle of the last three centuries which can at all rival in destructiveness many ancient struggles.

From a rough calculation taken from the returns of those left dead on the fields of battle in which Napoleon commanded, from Montenotte to Waterloo, we find the amount 1,811,500. The Crimean war caused the destruction of 784,900 lives; the war in Italy in 1857, 45,000; in Schleswig-Holstein, 3,500; our own war, 800,000; the Prussian and Austrian war, 45,000; the war in Mexico and China by the English and French, 65,000, and the Prussian and French war, 100,000—a grand total between 1853 and 1860 of 1,850,000 lives.

What do people not fight and quarrel about? Is there anything that has not been the germ of a "row?" Nothing under the sun, we believe, from a pin to a new baby's name. There was a European contest of twelve years arising out of the mischance of a politician having spilled a cup of coffee on the silk gown of one Mrs. Marsham, who was a sort of genteel waiting maid to Queen Anne, with very great influence over the not very sensible mind of her majesty. In a moment of irritation—and a spoiled brocade would try any woman's temper—she gave advice, which her royal mistress followed, contrary to the pacific predilections of the awkward coffee spiller, and the result was the involvement of England in a long and costly war.—Troy Times.

Our Total Mineral Output.

The total mineral output of the United States is valued at $428,521,358, being an increase of $15,506,608 over that of 1884. Of the seventy important minerals coal is the most valuable, with its enormous aggregate of $159,019,516. The production of coke, natural gas, gold, silver, copper, zinc, mercury, nickel, aluminum, lime, salt, cement, phosphate rock, manganese and cobalt showed an increase, while coal, petroleum, pig iron, lead, precious stones and mineral waters showed a decrease.—Chicago Tribune.

"You May Lose Him in the Lobby,"

Wrote Shakespeare, and as to just what he was driving at, the critics are not agreed, though Jean Paul assumes that it should read "You may know him in the lobby." But be that as it may, the party in the lobby gets there all the same.

Certain virtuous newspapers printed in the time-honored commonwealth of Massachusetts, — called commonwealth because its component parts are of better clay than that of the adjoining states, and because the early inhabitants did not appreciate the answer to Sir William Jones' conundrum "What constitutes a state?"—have waxed indignant at the disclosure of the sums paid to the lobby of the legislature of the Bay state, and insist that this ancient institution which so guards, guides and governs all legislation, state and national, must go.

These people do not speak by the card. They mean well enough, but what do they know of the rise, progress and power of the lobby? What would legislative sessions amount to with the lobby gone? It is a well known fact, except perhaps to the benighted editor in simple Massachusetts, that the lobby in a great measure is the father of the legislature. Its prominent men are often ex-members of legislative bodies. They are the manipulators of local politics, who control the nominations and decide upon candidates for the house of representatives, and preside at conventions which nominate senators. By these are first "mentioned" the names of coming candidates, and by their aid these are nominated and elected. Is to be presumed their interest in the law maker ceases at this point?

In New Hampshire the lobby may have at times been ostracised, but it has never quailed before a fire, either from the State House or from the newspapers. It is older than the most veteran survivor in political life, more potent than politics, and more general in its ramifications than the uninitiated may be led to suppose. In the days of democratic ascendency in our state, the lobby had first to overcome the hostility toward corporations insisted upon by the radical democrats. The advocates for charters made a sally into the democratic camp, captured a goodly number of its leaders, and had things their own way after that. What survivor of early legislatures does not recall "Old Seaweed" of Hampton as he rallied the democratic cohorts to respond "aye" to the roll call on votes for bills creating corporations in direct antagonism to the pronounced principles of the party platform?

To leave the legislature without the guardian care of the lobby would tend to protract sessions, fill the halls of legislation with crude and inferior law-makers, and expose corporations and individuals to the annoyance of at times oppressive and ill-timed enactments. It may be well enough to talk about dispensing with the lobby, but it is an old-timed element of legislation, often employed by those who most eloquently deplore its necessity. Condemned in the abstract, it is cajoled in the concrete. Its members may at times prove unscrupulous and be over-paid. It may raise bugbears only to be employed to strangle them. It may terrify only to be appeased,—but as long as special legislation seeks enactments, so long will flourish the lobby of whatever state, and whichever party has control in its legislative halls.

How the "Democratic House" Economized on the Marines' Rations.

The chief quartermaster of the marine corps and the authorities of the navy department are in a sad quandary. It appears that the average cost of the ration issued to enlisted men in the marine corps last year was sixteen cents, and that fact was stated incidentally by Quartermaster Lowry in his estimate for the next fiscal year. As a matter of course the contract price of the rations varies at the different stations, some ten or twelve in number. For example, the contractor at Boston can furnish the required ration for a less sum than the contractor at Mare Island, Cal. As there is necessarily a different contractor at each station, it follows that the "average" cost of the ration has nothing to do with the actual cost at each station. Moreover, the cost of the ration must vary somewhat from year to year. The ration itself is a constant quantity, but its price varies not only in different places, but at the same place in different years.

But the sapient economists of the house naval committee who framed the appropriation law took none of these matters into account. Their vigilance discovered that the "average" cost of last year's rations was sixteen cents, and to prevent any waste or extravagance they put in the law a provision limiting the use of the appropriation to the purchase of rations at sixteen cents each.

All went smoothly until Quartermaster Lowry made up his schedules of bills at the different navy yards. He then discovered that the lowest bid received at Pensacola was 23.5 cents per ration; at Mare Island, Cal., 22.74 cents, and at Portsmouth, N. H., 17.43 cents, while the average for all the stations was 16.99 cents. Now what is Quartermaster Lowry to do? That is a question which is puzzling Secretary Whitney and his legal adviser, and they find it a knotty one. Major Lowry might perhaps make up the deficiency from his own pocket, although that would be an act of doubtful legality. He cannot cut down the ration itself; he cannot discharge the marines at Mare Island, Pensacola and Portsmouth, although Secretary Whitney might transfer them to stations where the ration can be bought for sixteen cents or less. One thing only is certain—the rations must be provided and the men must be fed.

The incident is an excellent illustration of the annoyances and embarrassments caused in the public service by the tinkering of sham economists in the democratic house of representatives.

IT IS WONDERFUL

how easily rheumatism begins, and how insidiously it grows in the system, until one is startled to find himself its victim in either the acute or chronic form. He then learns the fearful tenacity of its grip and the utter powerlessness of the ordinary remedies to give relief.

Probably no disease have physicians given more study, and none has more completely baffled their efforts to provide a specific; and until Athlophoros was discovered there was no medicine which would surely cure rheumatism, neuralgia and nervous or sick headache. Thousands of testimonials like the following prove beyond question that Athlophoros is the only reliable remedy, and that it will do all that is claimed for it.

Manchester, N. H., March 15, 1886.

One year ago while suffering with a rheumatic difficulty I was induced by friends of mine to try a bottle of Athlophoros, although I had little belief in anything of the kind, but, contrary to my expectations, it gave me immediate relief, and it is with pleasure that I can now recommend it to my acquaintances, feeling sure that they will find it the remedy of the age for such difficulties, as I had tried everything else with little or no relief.

PARK H. KELLY.

Northampton, Mass., May 21, 1886.

For relief from rhenmatic pains and trouble, I believe your Athlophoros is infallible. For many years I have been subject to rheumatism in its worst forms. During my last siege of sickness I was induced to try Athlophoros and found it to be all it claimed to be, a cure for rheumatism.

LEVI I. CLARK.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

Three Peculiarities

1st: The combination of the various remedial agents used.

2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

DEATH OF R. H. EDDY.

Mr. R. H. Eddy of Boston, the widely known solicitor of patents, died suddenly on the 13th inst. of heart disease. He was the first person in the country to engage in that business, and held the most prominent place in it up to the time of his death. His age was about seventy-five years. He leaves a wife, who was the elder daughter of the late John Knight Pickering of this city.

TO YOUNG MEN.

"I write unto you young men because ye are strong."—I John, 2:14.

Such were the subject and text in the Universalist church yesterday.

Youth is the synonym of strength and action as Age is of weakness and repose. Youth in its strength decides what old age shall be,—hale and crisp, or decrepit and whining. So strength is responsibility. The strong young men of the Portsmouth Athletic club hold this city in their power. Not entirely by strength of muscle, but by that coupled with strength of spirit. They represent the future of Portsmouth. Now this idea should not repress, fetter or gag, but should inspire that caution with which we rein a thoroughbred horse, not to check the speed, or derive from his grace, but to make them contribute to the surest speed. God does not want stagnation, but business and life.

Now the church is the normal school of life; the six days work are the practice school. The church must be equal to the practice, and therefore the church needs young men. Older people are the trunk, young people are the leaves that breathe in the oxygen of the new day and the ozone of advanced thought.

Thus the church and young men keep each other strong. We are not strong when we are held and shaken like a reed in the clutch of some base appetite. He is not strong who allows a beast to seize him by the throat, and only relax to fling him aside a blackened corpse. Nothing is more admirable than to see a well knit fellow handle five times his own weight, yet that same young man can do more wonderfully and be more majestic yet,—rise Godlike with the weight of a temptation and a fool's taunt upon him.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

The Glen Falls Morning Star of Oct. 6th last says:

Uncle Tom's Cabin has been thoroughly remodeled by Abbey's company, and, as treated at the Opera house last night, afforded a high degree of interest even for those who have seen the play regularly for the past twenty years. The audience was large and the performance pleasing.

THE ELECTRIC STREET-LIGHTS.

If any one is desirous of arriving at a correct estimate of how effective the electric street-lights are, let him take a walk about town some dark night from twelve to one o'clock, when the lights in houses and shops are all extinguished or hidden, and note the change—he will not have to watch for it, as it will make itself manifest—when the electric lights suddenly disappear all at once, the same as the democratic national administration will do a couple of years from now. We presume there will be some growling one of these days, particularly on the part of those who only pay a poll tax, over the expense of lighting the streets by electricity, though we do not know just what that expense amounts to. The growler very often carries his point, and has a good time all to himself besides. It is the growler at the boarding-house table who invariably gets the warmest seat in winter and the coolest one in summer, who gets the juiciest inner-cut of the roast beef and the crisp part of the chicken; while the good-tempered man who never growls is favored with india-rubber steak and lukewarm coffee. True, everybody hates the growler while he is alive, and when he dies they are so glad of it that they do violence to their consciences in order not to say anything bad about him, for fear he might came back again out of sheer contrariness; but he to a greater extent than other men has what he wants while he is here. However, we do not think the electric street lighting could be killed by him, for a few nights of semi-darkness would cause a much louder growl for its return.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Golden Gate, Amee master, sailed from this port for Gloucester, Mass., on the afternoon of the 12th inst., and arrived back on the 13th with 100 hogsheads of salt for Elvin Newton & Co.

The schooner Fred Smith arrived at this port on Saturday from Port Johnson, with coal to E. F. Sise & Co.

The ship Ocean King, the largest sailing-ship of the American merchant fleet, was burned off the coast of Oregon on the 8th inst.; crew all saved, and landed at Port Townsend, Washington territory. The Ocean King was owned by J. H. Sears & Co. of Boston; registered 2510 tons, and was built at Kennebunk, Me., in 1874.

The steamer Empire State, the largest excursion steamer in the world, was destroyed by fire at Bristol, R. I., last Saturday morning; loss $106,000, insurance $40,000. She was a side-wheel boat of 1579 tons, built in 1848, and during the past two or three years made many summer excursion trips from Boston to the Isles of Shoals.

The telephone wires and fixtures attached to the ridge of the North church have been ordered removed, in consequence of which the telephone company will run a cable from a large pole on High street to the central office.

Col. Charles A. Sinclair, who took an option to purchase a majority of the capital stock of the Manchester & Lawrence railroad at 225, called for the stock last week. Holders of 144 shares in this city received $32,400 for their certificates on Saturday; some of these shares when purchased about twenty-five years ago cost less than par.

A good job is being done on Market street by the street commissioner. A waterway about three feet wide is being paved with boulders, on each side of the street, and the roadway between is being rounded up with crushed stone, which with the old cobble-stone paving (which is not being taken up) for a bed will make a splendid track for wheels and hoofs.

Mr. Thomas Stirling had the forefinger of his right hand taken off and flung away by a circular saw in Mason's saw mill, Saturday forenoon. The finger was found in a pile of shavings some distance from the saw, on the afternoon of the same day.

There was a very thin audience to witness "Hoodman Blind" at Music hall on Saturday evening, but the show was a good deal thinner than the audience.

Thursday, the 19th inst., being Ascension day, there will be services with holy communion at Christ church at half past ten in the forenoon.

Mrs. R. Frank Nealley of Dover sang in the choir of the Unitarian church in this city on Sunday.

Hon. John Laighton has gone on a trip to Kansas City, Mo.

The Athletic club was very well represented at the Universalist church on Sunday forenoon, when Rev. Lee H. Fisher preached a sermon for the especial benefit of the members of the club.

The vesper service at the Unitarian church was omitted yesterday, the pastor preaching in the Court street Christian church in the afternoon.

Mr. Thomas J. Donovan has been appointed weigher and receiver under the general storekeeper at the navy yard, to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Mr. John E. Leavitt of Rye. Mr. Donovan was formerly secretary of the Nonpareil Associates' club, and at one time received the regular caucus nomination of his party for alderman from ward two, but was shouldered off the edge of the ticket by the party rulers before election day, when that ticket prevailed in that ward for the first time. For some time past he has been in the employ of the Lorillards of New York.

Miss Abby S. Clark of Rye has taught the school in New Boston nineteen terms, in the schoolhouse which was destroyed by the great fire in that town last week, and was under engagement to teach the next term.

Those wool worsted suitings in plain and mixed colorings, are the very best. No. 6 Market street. J. W. Moses.

The gentlemen's cafe added to the Revere House, Boston, during the recent remodelling, has become a great favorite. Its elegant appearance is in keeping with the renowned excellence of the Revere cuisine.

At the urgent solicitation of a number of my patrons I shall continue for a few months after May 1st to make those fine Cabinet Photos for $2.00 a dozen.

COOK, 5 Congress St., Portsmouth.

The town of Earlville, Ont., was obliterated by fire May 12th, twenty business houses, a church and four dwellings being destroyed; loss $150,000.

Governor Beaver, of Pennsylvania, draws a pension of $45 a month for the loss of a leg in the war, and scrupulously devotes every cent of it to charity.

Dr. Hostetter, of Pittsburg, Pa., carries $1,000,000 insurance on his life.

The taint of scrofula in the blood. With many it is hereditary; but it may also be acquired from want of air or lack of exercise, from improper food, or any cause which brings about weakness of the body and impurity of the blood. The disease is characterized by running sores, abscesses, swellings, enlarged joints, sore eyes, etc. No medicine has been so successful in curing scrofula as Hood's Sarsaparilla. The most terrible running sores gradually disappear under the purifying influences of this great medicine. JOHN S. TREAT, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 31, 1887.

I have suffered with the rheumatism for the last four years, and now from the use of Athlophoros am comparatively free from it. I consider Athlophoros a wonderful medicine, and have recommended it to every one. Mrs L. F. Jones, Barnstable, Mass.

At Deerfield, on the 3d inst., the youngest child of Washington Tilton was so badly burned by its clothes taking fire that he died the next morning.

Mrs. Henry Barrett was found dead at her residence in Lake Village on the 5th inst. She was about fifty years old. She died of heart disease.

Their gentle action and good effect on the system really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "perfection."

Henry Varrell of Rye, while plowing recently, turned up a metal buckle in a good state of preservation, and on one side of which is engraved the letters "G. S." An investigation proved that the buckle was solid silver, and heavier than a silver dollar.

No one knows better than those who have used Carter's Little Liver Pills what relief they have given when taken for dyspepsia, dizziness, pain in the side, constipation, and disordered stomach.

Arthur Colum, aged twelve years, son of George Colum of Hampton, shot himself while handling a pistol April 29th, the ball entering the chin and passing through the tongue into the head, where it remains. He has a fair chance for recovery.

James Pyle's Pearline. This preparation, advertised elsewhere, is really an excellent article for saving labor in washing. It takes the place of soap, sal-soda and other chemical preparations.

New York has a rum famine every Sunday now, owing to the enforcement of what the saloon men call a "blue law."

Cure of Typhoid Fever.

Charles Hartford, of New Castle, New York, testifies that he was cured of typhoid fever by Brandreth's Pills. Read his letter.

About a year ago I was attacked with typhoid fever. My physician treated me for some days, and I was so weak I thought I must die. Although at times delirious and suffering intense pain in the head and back, and parched up with fever, I still had sense enough to remember my box of Brandreth's Pills. I managed to get them and swallowed six, and then took a bowl of hot tea. My doctor had been afraid to give me a purge, I was so weak, but Brandreth's Pills made me stronger. As soon as they acted freely, my head cleared, fever abated, and I slept for ten hours. I continued taking three or four pills every night for a week and entirely recovered, although my doctor had given me up. Undoubtedly Brandreth's Pills saved my life.

Beware of Swindlers.

We have exposed, during the last year, many swindlers who advertise, under the name of medicine, vile compounds which only increase human suffering. To all who need a pure medicine and blood purifier, we can honestly recommend Sulphur Bitters.—Editor Sun.

A Specific for Malaria, Rheumatism, Nervous Prostration, Dyspepsia, and all Germ Diseases.

A powerful Tonic that the most delicate stomach will bear. The most Scientific and Successful Blood Purifier.

I make the following statement in simple justice to you, and to the public at large. I look upon the facts I am about to relate as among the most remarkable since the age of miracles. Had I heard them from any other I should have asked for proof, yet every word may be relied upon as absolutely true.

For many years my wife had been the victim of nervous dyspepsia, of the chronic, distressing and apparently incurable type from which so many of her sex suffer, languish and die. It was all the worse because the tendency to it was inherited. She had been under the systematic treatment of many of the best physicians in New York and Brooklyn and elsewhere for twenty years with only temporary relief. Although had enough at all times, she was always worse in the autumn—and the eating of fruits (often recommended to dyspeptics) in her case produced flatulency and excessive pain. In fact there were few, if any, kinds of food that did not distress her, and diseased, sensitive and torpid were all the organs of digestion. The usual symptoms of dyspepsia, with its concomitant ailments, were all present—bad taste in the mouth, dull eyes, cold feet and hands, the sense of a load upon the stomach, tenderness on pressure, indigestion, giddiness, great weakness and prostration, and fugitive pains in the sides, chest and back. If there was ever a case of dyspepsia which to all intents and purposes, seemed altogether hopeless it was hers. I have often risen in the night and administered stimulants merely for the sake of the slight and transient relief they gave. What her aggregate experience was I may safely leave to the imagination of those who have suffered in a similar way. Certainly no one else can begin to understand it.

After she had undergone about five years of this apparently endless misery, did she take a turn for the better? Far from it. She grew worse if anything could be worse. Intermittent malarial fever set in, complicating the case and making every symptom more pronounced and intense. By this time the pneumo-gastric nerves had become very seriously involved, and she had chronic Gastritis, and also what I may be allowed to call chronic intermittent malarial fever all at once. For the latter the physicians prescribed the good, old-fashioned, sheet-anchor remedy, Quinine, gradually increasing the doses, until—incredible as it may seem—she actually took THIRTY GRAINS A DAY FOR DAYS IN SUCCESSION. This could not last. The effect of the quinine was, if possible, almost as bad as the two-fold disease which was wearing away her strength and her life. Quinine poisoning was painfully evident, but the fewer was there still. Almost every day there came on the characteristic chill and racking headache, followed by the usual weakness and collapse.

Need I tell you I despaired—not merely of her recovery—but of any appreciable rest in this long and dreary experience? Somewhat less than a year ago my wife showed signs of such utter exhaustion that her friends indulged in the most serious apprehensions. About this time I met socially my friend Mr. Norton, a member of the firm of Chauncy Titus & Co., brokers, of Albany, who, on hearing from me these facts, said: "Why, I have been through almost the same thing, and have got over it." "What cured you?" I asked eagerly. "Kaskine," he said, "try it for your wife." I had seen Kaskine advertised, but had no more faith in it than I had in sawdust, for such a case as hers. Mrs. Hall had no higher opinion, yet on the strength of my friend's recommendation I got a bottle and began its use as directed.

Now recall what I have already said as to her then condition, and then read what follows: Under the Kaskine treatment all the dyspeptic symptoms showed instant improvement, and the daily fever grew less and soon ceased altogether. Side by side these diseases vanished, as side by side they had tortured their victim for ten years—the dyspepsia alone having, as I have said, existed for twenty years. Her appetite improved from week to week until she could eat and digest the average food that any well person takes, without any suffering or inconvenience. With renewed assimilation of food came, of course, a steady increase in flesh, until she now looks like her original self. She still takes Kaskine occasionally, but with no real need of it, for she is well. I consider this result a scientific miracle, and the "New Quinine is entitled to the credit of it, for from the time she began with Kaskine she used no other medicine whatever.

If you think a recital of these facts calculated to do good you are welcome to make them public.

Women with Bad Figures.

Mrs. Jenness Miller, who is trying to reform woman's dress, is very handsome and a perfect specimen of the healthfulness of the system she advocates. In conversation with a reporter the other day she told some curious facts about the physical deformity of her sex, caused by the corset and other methods that the Nineteenth century calls fashion. She said:

"I was in a Turkish bathroom not long ago and noticed the physical appearance of some forty or fifty fashionable women—young, middle aged and old. Out of that number I did not see a perfect shaped figure. Those who were young doubtless inherited their physical deficiencies, and were assisting to further mar their unnatural proportions by wearing corsets. Men do not dream that such malformation exists among the women, but picture them from the illusive idea conveyed by seeing them dressed in the extreme of fashion. Some of these women had small waists, others had cramped, pinched feet, and the majority were suffering from the torturing practice of tight lacing. None of them moved around with a free and easy tread and buoyant elasticity. They were slow and sluggish in their movements and evidently averse to any kind of exertion beyond the mere necessity of walking. I was surprised, for I thought that some women were so strong and robust that naturally they would escape the curse of fashion's decrees. Reclining on a couch after the bath I heard a young lady next to me exclaim in conversation to a third lady that she would not marry Mr. So-and-so because he was not robust. Then in the next sentence she said she suffered from asthma and was somewhat subject to hysteria. I turned over and gazed at the woman who didn't want to marry a man because he was not apparently strong. She was pale, thin and delicate looking, the very woman a man would not care to select for a wife, unless he wanted to start a hospital at home."—New York Mail and Express.

The Art of War.

The command of a large army tasks the resources of the greatest mind. It is one of the highest of human achievements, and by common consent the first rank of fame is accorded to the great generals. To move an army and to feed it on the march requires a higher order of generalship than to fight it. Thirty hours without supplies would reduce the best army to a helpless mass of disorganized humanity. Food for the men, forage for the animals must not only be provided, but must be at the precise spot when wanted. Napoleon, the great master of the art of war, had a score of marshals, any one of whom could fight a great battle, and scarce one of whom could lead an army on the march. An army on the march resembles nothing so much as an enormous serpent, stretched out mile upon mile, and moving, alert and watchful, with steady and irresistible force. Let danger threaten and it hastily coils itself together and prepares to avert or overcome the danger. Shrunk to a fraction of its former dimensions, it shows its fangs and is ready for attack or defense. The danger overpast, the great mass unfolds its coils again and stretches out its huge proportions in progressive movement. The brain of this mighty animal, the supreme mind that controls its every motion, is the general in chief.—Chicago Herald.

Something About Big Canals.

A British engineer named Boyd, who has visited the Panama canal, and since his return has read a paper before the Engineers' society at London, reports that the excavation will go slower in the future than in the past. He thinks for the rest of the work 2,200,000,000f. and twelve years of time will be required—that is to say, $440,000,000, in addition to what has already been sunk. Long before that time the Nicaragua canal ought to overtake De Lesseps' enterprise, to say nothing of bankruptcy. Admiral Ammen, in a pamphlet recently issued, cites the case of the Caledonia canal of Scotland, which is 60 miles from sea to sea, 37 miles by lake and 23 by canalization, and reaches a summit level of 103 feet, or only 8 feet less than that of the Nicaragua canal. Yet the owners of vessels are glad to save a short sea voyage of only 400 miles by locking over this height. The cost of the Caledonia, which is 120 feet wide and 20 feet deep, was only $600,000. The Nicaragua passage is 170 miles long, 64 by river and 56 by lake, leaving only 50 for canal, the original cost of which is estimated at less than $50,000,000, including railroad and seven locks.—Scientific Journal.

Patrons of the Turkish Baths.

One would think from the effect which Turkish baths are generally supposed to have that they would be taken chiefly by stout men, but it is a remarkable fact that the greatest number of bathers are anything but obese, and that some of them are even cadaverously lean. The use of the baths has become very general in the past few years, and they are now regarded as a necessity rather than a luxury by a large class of people. Most of the patrons are men in perfect health, though some few are treated for specific ailments. The shampooers know a rheumatic man as soon as they lay their hands on him, and find themselves unusually fatigued after rubbing him, while the effect of working on one who has a great deal of electricity in him is to refresh them, even after they have done a hard day's work.—Globe-Democrat.

A Big Price.

Wilkie Collins wrote "Armadale" and took it to his publishers to read. They took the manuscript, and before a line of it was read they wrote out a check for $20,000 and sent it to Mr. Collins, so great was their faith in his ability.

Mr. JOHN W. FURBUSH,

who has probably suffered more than any man or woman in America to-day. Taken sick while in the Army, he has endured untold agonies since. Describing his first symptoms he said: "My head ached and my appetite was poor. I felt a faintness at the pit of the stomach, and a bad taste in my mouth, while my skin was sometimes hot and sometimes cold. I next felt pains in my back and around the lower portion of my body, and noticed a peculiar odor and color in the water I passed, which was scanty at one time and free at others. Sometimes it pained me to void it, and again it was almost impossible to do so at all. Finally I began to pass clear blood accompanied with the greatest strain and agony."

No less than 249 eminent physicians attended Mr. Furbush at various times, but not one of them could help him. He was near death's door. And yet he says: "I am alive and well to-day, wholly through the wonderful power of Hunt's Remedy, which took me from the verge of the grave."

Labor Troubles.

At Amsterdam, N. Y., on the 13th inst., the Knights of Labor formally declared the strike of knit-goods operatives at an end. The strike was begun seven months ago, and was mainly directed against non-union workingmen and women. Many of the strikers are now in very destitute circumstances; they have been idle so long that whatever means they may have had were long ago exhausted, they cannot get back to work as their places have been filled by operatives who think more of their families than of the walking delegate, and as the strike has been officially declared off they can get no further relief from the Knights of Labor.

The hand-loom carpet weavers of Philadelphia struck last week against a reduction of pay; there are between three and four hundred of them, and about 1000 other operatives will be thrown out of work by the strike. Many of the strikers it is said could make but $6 or $7 a week at the old rates, so a strike against a reduction is nothing to wonder at.

The most extensive strik and lockout ever known in the building trades of Chicago is now existing. It commenced with the masons. The masons' union voted that the employers should pay on Saturday instead of on Monday; the employers refused, and a strike was ordered to bring them to terms. The master builders in all the branches then voted a general lockout, to be kept up until the power of the unions to dictate in all matters was broken. Said one veteran builder, "The laboring men of the unions have built a wall around the city of Chicago, and are determined to let only such men through the gates as they deem fit. We are going to tear down that wall and make this a free city—free to any workingman of any trade who may care to enter it." Both sides are determined on a hard fight—the trades unions to retain their power of dictation and to prevent workingmen not of their unions from getting employment, and the employers to destroy the wall built by the unions against the great body of workingmen of the country. Over 50,000 men were out of employment on Saturday night.

At Pittsburg, Pa., a union roller employed at Clark Brothers' solar iron works was discharged, and the Clarks refusing to reinstate him as ordered by the union, a general strike was ordered, and took effect on the 14th, about 750 men leaving work.

ELIOT ITEMS.

ELIOT, ME., May 17th.

James K. P. Rogers and wife returned home last Thursday evening from the west, where they have resided for nine months past, and where Mr. Rogers has been engaged in teaching. He is now to continue his work, as teacher of the Eliot free high school, which commenced its first session on Monday, May 16th.

Rev. K. A. Atkinson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal churches at Eliot and South Eliot, returned from conference on Wednesday, May 4th, to commence his labor with the people of both societies for the coming year. He will spend a part of the year with the people of South Eliot, which we hope will be very pleasant for both pastor and people.

Joseph B. Remick is painting his house.

George T. Hall is visiting his sister in Boston, and will spend a week or so with her and other friends. He has not visited his sister before for nearly seven years.

Mrs. William A. Lydston and son returned home from Charlestown, Mass., last Thursday, the 12th. They have spent the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Linville S. Remick.

Walter H. Staples has renewed his lease of the Samuel Tobey cottage on Eliot neck, close to the new Advent church,—a very pretty place, with a nice view of the river. HARRY.

"Natural Law in the Business World," by Henry Wood. Boston; Lee & Shepard. Portsmouth, for sale by Mercer Goodrich, price seventy-five cents.

This little book is a reprint, in substance, of articles heretofore contributed to the public press by the author, who discusses in a practical manner, and as he claims, divested of all prejudices, pet theories and predelictions, topics concerning the law of supply and demand, labor and production, combination of labor, dependance and poverty, employes, legislation, wealth, centralization, railway consolidation, corporations, etc. The subjects treated are timely. True, we have numerous works on Political Economy to which we may refer with confidence that their celebrated authors have given profound thought and honest judgment to the questions discussed. But the world moves. New phases of these vital topics are constantly developing, to be examined not upon any general theory from however learned sources, but to be treated practically. The laws which govern in these cases are, to be sure, immutable; but how to apply them,—what are the true relations, for example, between employer and employed in the constantly growing wealth of nations and changes wrought by inventions, new modes of transportation, etc., is the problem of to-day. These in an era of progress, cannot be too carefully considered, nor perhaps too frequently discussed, from a standpoint deaf to popular clamor, but alive to the true issue of the hour.

The author treats in a comprehensive view the question of railroad consolidation. He regards the consolidation of short lines to be controlled by natural laws of supply and demand, and required by competition. He suggests enactments making it illegal for any railroad official or manager to buy and sell the stock of his road except as an investment, and then only on public notice! This would be impracticable, and such a law would be of course easily evaded. It is hardly to be presumed that a man would better manage the affairs of a corporation in which he was not a shareholder, and that an investor would proclaim his plans and purposes upon the housetops.

There is much to be studied in this book in its many subjects, all treated with no little ability. The book will be read by many who will be interested in its perusal not only by reason of the topics discussed, but from the attractive and readable manner in which they are presented. The publishers will send it post paid on receipt of price.

According to Mr. Geo. Wm. Curtis—and what Mr. Curtis will admit that he does not know is not worth mentioning—the "Prohibitionists as a body have gone out of the republican party," and the Labor movement on the other hand causes great concern to democratic politicians. According to other men's estimates, the exchange of the prohibitionists who are ever willing to bolt and trade, from the republican party to the democratic, is not likely to strengthen the democracy, while Mr. Henry George, the Labor party's chief joy, is an out-and-out free trader. It looks as if things political were getting somewhat mixed, especially when the advocates of free-rum and prohibition occupy the same bed-chamber.

IT IS WONDERFUL

how easily rheumatism begins, and how insidiously it grows in the system, until one is startled to find himself its victim in either the acute or chronic form. He then learns the fearful tenacity of its grip and the utter powerlessness of the ordinary remedies to give relief.

Probably to no disease have physicians given more study, and none has more completely baffled their efforts to provide a specific; and until Athlophoros was discovered there was no medicine which would surely cure rheumatism, neuralgia and nervous or sick headache. Thousands of testimonials like the following prove beyond question that Athlophoros is the only reliable remedy, and that it will do all that is claimed for it.

Manchester, N. H., March 15, 1886.

One year ago while suffering with a rheumatic difficulty I was induced by friends of mine to try a bottle of Athlophoros, although I had little belief in anything of the kind, but, contrary to my expectations, it gave me immediate relief, and it is with pleasure that I can now recommend it to my acquaintances, feeling sure that they will find it the remedy of the age for such difficulties, as I had tried everything else with little or no relief.

PARK H. KELLY.

Northampton, Mass., May 21, 1886.

For relief from rheumatic pains and trouble, I believe your Athlophoros is infallible. For many years I have been subject to rheumatism in its worst forms. During my last siege of sickness I was induced to try Athlophoros and found it to be all it claimed to be, a cure for rheumatism. LEVI I. CLARK.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills.

Three Peculiarities

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

1st: The combination of the various remedial agents used.
2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.
3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

HOW ABOUT NEW HAMPSHIRE'S CAPITAL?

It is said that Albany is the only capital of the original thirteen states which was not captured during the revolutionary war.—Chicago Times.

The wild western historian had better read up on the history of the revolution. New Hampshire was one of the original thirteen states, and was in rebellion as early as any of the colonies; and Portsmouth was at that time, and for many years afterward, the capital of New Hampshire. There is no record, so far as we know, that Portsmouth was captured during the revolution, or at any other time; in fact, the boast is made that no armed enemy (excepting the Indians) ever openly trod the soil of the Granite state, the nearest approach to an invasion that ever occurred being the threatened landing on Rye beach of an expedition from a British man-of-war which was blockading the harbor during the war of 1812, when the famous Gilman Blues, Capt. Joshua W. Peirce, marched from this city to Rye on belligerent thought intent, and, not finding the enemy, marched back again to Portsmouth plains and went into encampment for several days. The Chicago paper should revise its list of uncaptured capitals.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

To-morrow evening, at Music hall, Uncle Tom's Cabin will be presented by Abbey's great company. The Boston Herald of April 18th says of this show:

An immense audience witnessed a very creditable rendition of Uncle Tom's Cabin, by Abbey's Double Mammoth company at the Globe theatre last night. The introduction of two Topsys and two Marks is a decided novelty, and kept the spectators in one continual roar of laughter. But no small share of praise was awarded to Eva's pony, "Prince," and the æsthetic donkey, "Oscar," the latter animal being ridden by Marks, Sr. The scenic effects were perfectly magnificent.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

MONDAY, May 16th.

Patrick Sheehan, drunk, thirty days at Brentwood, costs $6.90.

Frank Sheegan, Edward Ryan and John Keefe, laborers on the York beach railroad, were each assessed $9.90 for drunkenness; county farm in default of payment.

BASE BALL.

A very interesting game was played at Newmarket on Saturday afternoon last between the Southend club of this city and a Newmarket club, the Portsmouth boys winning by a score of thirteen to twelve. The pitching and catching of W. Smith and R. Trefethen were excellent.

The Riverside ball club of this city will play a game at the Plains on Wednesday, with either the South Newmarket or Great Falls club.

National League games, May 16th: Boston 6, Pittsburg 2; New York 11, Indianapolis 8; Washington 8, Chicago 2; Detroit 10, Philadelphia 8.

The choral club of the North church will give a concert at the Congregational chapel on Middle street this evening.

The colored ladies of this city will give an assembly in Franklin upper hall on Wednesday evening, the 18th inst.; tickets twenty-five cents; to be had of Mr. Peter Williams.

The romantic American drama "On the Rio Grande," will be played in Music hall next Friday evening, as will be seen by advertisement elsewhere.

PERSONAL.

Col. George F. Towle, U. S. A., left this city Monday on his return to Chicago, to resume his duties on the staff of Gen. Terry, commanding the department of the Missouri.

A. J. Hoyt, Esq., of the Exeter Protest, was in this city on Monday.

Col. James I. Christie of Dover was in town on Monday, driving a very handsome pair of horses.

Frank W. Hackett, Esq., will sail for Europe on the 9th of June, for an extended visit on important business matters, and for recreation. It is his purpose to be present at the queen's jubilee, on which occasion, we have no doubt, the honor of the Granite state will be sustained in its integrity. Mrs. Hackett will spend the summer at Bar Harbor.—Penny Post.

MARITIME NOTES.

The United States lighthouse steamer Myrtle on the 14th inst. put in place on Anderson's rock, the outermost danger of the Isles of Shoals, off Star island, a spindle of good height surmounted by a cage. Something of the kind should have been put there many years ago, but late is better than never.

The boat Mascotte, with a number of the Athletic boat club on board, pulled out beyond Kittu's rock on the 15th inst., returning by the Little harbor channel; the boys had a chowder before they came up river in the evening. On the same day the Arbutus fished off Clark's island, and took a large fare of good-sized cod; in the absence of Coxswain Crowley the helm was taken by Mr. Joseph Hutton, the young stevedore of the northend.

Lobster fishing is being carried on now from the Piscataqua by boats; for baiting the nets sculpins are the favorite material, and many of them are speared for that purpose near the old Spring market, at the right time of tide.

On Saturday afternoon a very handsome tablet to the memory of the late Mrs. Daniel Crowley was set up in the Catholic cemetery at the Plains by Hon. John S. Treat, the tasteful scrollwork and lettering having been done by him personally.

The aldermanic committee on streets, with the mayor added, on Saturday last had a hearing on the petition for widening a portion of Water street between Salter street and Newcastle avenue; the hearing was had at the spot described, and it was voted to grant the prayer of the petition.

The new engine just set up at the electric light station, was built at the Portsmouth Machine shop from designs made by Mr. John W. Hayes, foreman machinist at the navy yard. The engine was started up last Friday for the first time.

The National Mechanics & Traders' bank of this city has declared a semi-annual dividend of three and one-half per cent.

Mr. J. W. Young, whose reputation for promptness and skill in repairing boots and shoes is first-class, and who has constantly on hand at his establishment in the rear of the city building a large stock of shoe findings of the best quality, has recently displayed a unique sign, which directs the passer-by to his place of business in a pointed manner. A prominent professional gentleman describes it as a very "hand-some sign." Mr. Young is certainly always on hand, attentive and courteous, and is bound to keep up with the times.

As Mr. J. Albert Walker was alighting from his carriage on Monday afternoon he was tripped by the reins, and fell so heavily on his left hand as to break the wrist.

Mr. Asa Ham, who has charge of the estate of the late Hon. Levi Woodbury at the Creek, has corn and all the varieties of early vegetables already showing above ground.

The first serious accident reported in the construction of the York Harbor & Beach railroad took place on Friday last at Kittery Point. The charge of powder in a two-inch hole drilled to the depth of three feet in a ledge at Crockett's neck failed to explode, and James Conley of Chelsea, Mass., foreman for Trumbull & Cheney, contractors for building that section of the road, ordered the charge to be drawn; but the job was only half done, and on a drill being dropped into the hole there was an explosion which sent the drill high in the air, badly burned and shattered one of Conley's hands, and much more seriously injured a laborer named Patrick O'Donald, who had only been at work on the road two days; one of the latter's eyes was at first thought to be destroyed, (which however is probably not the case,) and he was otherwise so badly hurt that he was taken to the hospital at Portland. Conley was able to go to his home at Chelsea on Monday, unattended.

Landlord Charles A. Grant, of the Sea Cottage at Long sands, York, who last fall bought the Dover house at the sands, next eastward of the Sea Cottage, on Monday sold it to Mr. James W. Goodwin of this city, proprietor of the Kearsarge house.

The following are among the traverse jurors summoned to appear at Alfred to serve at the May term of the supreme judicial court of Maine for York county: Isaac H. Lambert and Jefferson T. Lewis, Kittery; Andrew P. Fernald, Eliot; Alvah Trafton, York; Lothoctus F. Wadleigh, South Berwick; J. G. Wilkerson, Sanford; Albert Weeman, Limington; Joseph H. Downs, Berwick; Charles S. Fogg, Limerick; Samuel M. Chick, Wells; Nathaniel C. Bragdon, Stillman F. Rice, Kennebunk; Jason Lunt, Kennebunkport.
